Seniors Elect Superlatives

By PATSY CARROLL

Each year all seniors at East look forward to the time of year when nominations will be made for Senior Superlatives.

All Seniors with a C average for their tenth, eleventh, and twelfth years of high school qualified for this honor.

Each senior home group nominated a boy and a girl for each position. Then, after careful screening by the faculty, new lists were made and again voted on by the senior class. The boy and girl receiving the plurality vote won.

Always seen with a friendly smile on their faces, June Hurst and David Gurley won the title of Friendliest.

Because of their high scholastic ability and leadership the Most Intelligent girl and boy in East this year are Karolee Gallop and Bobby Sherwood.

Always seen using their best manners are Mildred Mann and Jimmy Hicks, who deservedly won the name of Most Courteous.

You can always hear Phyllis Bales and Pat Wright singing when you meet them in the hall. Not only in the hall, but also in concerts and programs they show their ability. This is what gave them the title Most Talented.

Many years from now, we will see Katherine Mahon working busily as secretary to "Mr. President" and Tim Warner, a successful businessman. The class voted them Most Likely to Succeed because they trusted their abilities to become successful.

Always busy working to help improve East and participating in many activities, Mary Jane Morgan and Richie Hooper out of the whole senior class were voted the Best All-Around girl and boy.

Teacher Of the Month

One of our fine Algebra teachers, Mr. John Esposito, has been selected by the Future Teachers of America as this month's teacher of the month.

Mr. Esposito, son of the late Fred and Lucy Esposito, was born in Great Neck, New York. He is one of three children.

Mr. Esposito attended Airdale Elementary School and for awhile went to Great Neck High School, then to Preparatory. After serving in the Navy, he finished high school, graduating in 1948, and then attending University of Miami.

In 1946, Mr. Esposito and Miss Ruth Hill were married. They now live at 6107 Arealia Drive with their two children, Martha, five, and Nancy, two.

Before coming to East, Mr. Esposito taught for three years at Young High School and one year at Arthur Murray School of Dancing.

Mr. Esposito is assistant coach of our fine football team.

The Future Teachers wish him much success in his teaching career.

East Football Squad Holds Banquet

Co-Captains Are Elected

The East Knoxville Booster Club sponsored a football banquet January 12 in the East High School lunchroom for all the boys that went out for football at the beginning of the year and remained out. Their parents and dates were invited.

Many celebrities attended, and among those were Buddy Cruze, Sam Jones, Art Metzler, Harold Harris, and Ed Harris.

The main speaker on the program was Sam Venable.

The highlight of the evening was when the 1957-58 football captains were announced. Tommy Lawson and Kyle Finley are the co-captains, and Frank Murphy is the down-field blocking captain.

Mr. Charles Lobetti presented the senior players East High jackets paid for by the Booster Club.

All the players were to receive silver miniature footballs, but they did not arrive on time. They will be presented in a special chapel soon.

After the supper and speakers, a dance was held.

Masquers Present Four 1-Act Plays

Miss Ruby Bird presented the Masquer's 4 one-act plays on January 24. The performance was the climax of many long hours of practice and hard work.

The first play on the program, "The Lost Kiss," was about the mythical characters of love, Pierrette and Pierrot, played by Jeanne Dunsmore and John Murphy. "The Kiss," played by Camelia Kirby, caused a lot of trouble among the other characters; the man, Kent van Buren; the girl, Ann Rose; the boy, Sam Fields; policeman, Mark Reed; the newsy, Ray Carden; grandma, Sherron McPherson, and a maiden lady, Ann Murray. Student director for this production was Jim Davis.

Next came "Why I'm a Bachelor." This interesting one act began peacefully enough; but, toward the end, Henrietta, portrayed by Linda Phillips, gets rather carried away. Algernon, better known as Frank Murphy, faces hard cold facts — usually called dishes. Other characters are the lecturer, Pat Wright; Aunt Emma, Veda Webb; mother, Sally Phillips; Ida Mae, Prissy Albright. The play was directed by Pat Wright.

Third was "Three's a Crowd." Poor Eddie Johnson had a really hard time trying to get Madeline and her little sister to the dance on the bus because his father wouldn't let him have the car. The cast is Eddie Johnson, Bobby Farmer; Madeline, Sandra Swann; Ellen, Mary Alice Money; Elmer, Rodney Tarter; Edward Johnson, Sr., Berle Scheib. This play was directed by Patsy Dunsmore.

Last, but certainly not least, was "Romance Is a Racket," a laughable comedy of several teenagers and their chaperon, Miss Edith, played by Joanne Riggins, who go traveling in Europe. The other characters are Kitty, a romanti-

Key Club News

Click, click, the Key Club keeps clicking along!

Each member of the Key Club had ten packages of light bulbs to sell which netted about $170. The club is striving to complete the school lighting project by the end of the year.

When Key Club members were asked about the party at Bobby Sherwood's house, they said they had hamburgers, cokes, and dates.

A dance after the West basketball game was sponsored by the club. They will take charge of a similar get-together in the cafeteria following the Central game. Refreshments are to be sold and admission is 25c stag or drag.

Plans are in the offing to have two semi-formal dances. They will have one early in March. At this affair the basketball queen will be crowned. There will be twelve candidates for this title, three from each class—senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman—chosen by Key Club members.

The other dance is scheduled for May, when the new Key Club Sweetheart will be presented. Definite plans for both affairs will be announced later.

Thespians To Present

The National Thespian Society of East High School will present "My Sister Eileen" on February 21 and 22. This popular play is the story of two girls who go to New York to earn their fortune.

Patsy Dunsmore as Eileen and Phyllis Bales as Ruth, find that the Admirals of the Brazilian Navy are interested in the Congo. To find why, you'll have to attend the play.

Don't forget the date, February 21 and 22, in the East High School Auditorium. The admission is 50 cents.

Buddy Cruze Visits Alma Mater

East High held a very special chapel on December 20 in honor of Buddy Cruze. Buddy was a member of the senior class at East High in 1953. He made all-city and all-state in football and basketball.

Mr. Evans opened the chapel with the invocation. After the invocation the cheerleaders led the student body in a special yell in honor of Buddy. Two of Buddy's athletic instructors, Coach Sam Jones and Dr. Charles Moffett, gave short talks concerning their association with Buddy.

Buddy gave a short but very inspiring talk, which was made up of three parts: (1) Athletics, (2) Education, (3) Christ in My Life.

Buddy pointed out that athletics had taught him good sportsmanship in winning and losing. He said that education was something one could always fall back on. He urged everyone to study while he had the chance. In talking about Christ in My Life, he said, "You either believe or you don't." He added, "To me Christ means everything."

East High is very proud of having Buddy as a graduate.

Blue and Gray Subscribers To Receive Scholastic ROTO

This year Scholastic Roto has accepted the Blue and Gray into its distribution.

The Scholastic Roto is distributed by the National Scholastic Press Association as a supplement to high school newspapers. The Roto is given to you free with your subscription to the Blue and Gray.

In this newspaper you will find several articles that will be of interest to you. N. S. P. A. has long recognized the need for and realized the value of a publication that would interest all high school students, a publication that would have national coverage—one that would extend the reader's interest beyond the individual school. This is Roto's most important value to the school.

Each month a new Roto will be given to you for your enjoyment.

Letters To The Editor

Are things at East High just the way you want them, or are there changes that you think should be made? Why not write the editor a letter presenting your opinions to the student body? These letters will be published in the Blue and Gray.

Dear Editor:

I would like to know why there are not more competitive sports for girls at East High.

Girls like to compete with other schools just as boys do. Now all the sports girls have are valleyball and swimming.

I think girls should be given more opportunities to show their skills, because many East High girls are very talented in athletics.

BETTY CARPER

Dear Editor:

I don't think there is enough pep and enthusiasm behind activities such as plays, choir concerts, etc.

Most of the athletic contests have very good support. Why don't these other activities? Whose fault is it? And what can be do about it?

I'm perfectly willing to do my share.

Qualities For Future Greatness

The principles of American competition make possible promotions in almost every kind of work. These promotions must be sought after and won by every individual receiving one. The path to success is long and rugged, the stepping-stones to the summit are your promotions.

The first rule to follow in seeking a promotion is to complete every job assigned to you and to do your best at it. No employer could rightfully demand more from a person than that of which the person is capable.

The second rule is never to forego a duty and to act conscientiously in all matters. An upright citizen and church going person has a fine foundation to build upon for success.

Promptness is a habit which is valuable to all who seek promotions. Never be late for an appointment or perhaps you will find you have also missed the boat as far as advancement is concerned.

Personal cleanliness is a necessary aspect of success in the modern business world of today. There is no substitute for good grooming and no place for those lacking in this trait.

To become successful today, one must possess at least these four qualities: promptness, cleanliness, ability, and pleasing manners. Without them, a person is irreparably handicapped; but endowed with them, he becomes a prospect for future greatness. Indeed, he is the future of America.

—Patricia Jackson in The Arsenal Cannon.

Clubs In Review

The Future Teachers of America had a meeting after school January 8 in Miss Million's room. They discussed a coat-hanger sale to raise money. Movies on various phases of teaching were shown.

The first-year Latin clubs sent four dollars to the American Red Cross for Hungarian relief, and the second-year club sent two dollars.

The Spanish clubs added six dollars to a fund for the personal use of a girl from the University of Tennessee who was going to study in Mexico City for the winter quarter.

The National Thespians have made plans for their banquet, which will be February 6 at S&W Cafeteria. New members will be initiated: Mark Reed, Ann Rose, Lynda Lynch, Veda Webb, Mary Jane Morgan, Sandra Swann, Joanne Riggins, Sam Fields, Gary Lawson, and Mary Alice Money.

The Student Council's Christmas project was a great success, thanks to the help of all the students. Because of the support of every class, Christmas was made enjoyable to families that might nave had no Christmas at all.

Personal

When asked how he liked his trip to Texas, John Murphy said that the roses were blooming, trees were budding, and birds were singing. Is that all you can say for Texas, John?

Helen Mason has an unusual great-grandfather, known around Morristown as "Dad Cooter."

When he was about 40, he and some fellow workers were accidentally locked in a cold storage vault. They were rescued next morning. A few months after being rescued, "Dad Cooter's" hair fell out. Thirty-five years later he grew a new head of white hair. He is now 90 years old.

Zipper Satterfield finds time after school to work at Kern's Bakery cutting slice rolls and packing them.

Barbara Zwick spent a few days in New Orleans over the holidays. While she was there, she attended the Sugar Bowl game.

Neal Henderson has a very interesting hobby. He makes model airplanes which he enters in contests. He has won several prizes with them.

Question Of the Month

How long has it been since you had a date?

Mark Hammer: "It hasn't been long. I had to do it for English class."

Richie Hooper: "Before Christmas when I had to do it for Miss Horton's English class. It took me a week."

David Lovell: "I'm having one now—I think."

Helen Mason: "Two months ago for English class. I am slow at this."

Mr. Bible: "I try to have one a month. I do it for enjoyment, not because I have to."

Patsy Newman: "I'm in the middle of one now."

Mike Oliver: "Two weeks ago at Gordie's house."

Judy Pappas: "Just finished one."

Bobby Sherwood: "A long time ago when I had to do it for Miss Dowell's English class."

Judy Wray: "Quite some time. I like to do this but hardly have time."

Oops! Pardon us. Our reporter really asked the question: "How long has it been since you read a good book?"

Mountain Ears

Folkses have been making mighty insultin' cracks about the intelligence of the pore person who writes this hyer story, Wal, all I can say is I'm just tryin' to keep it down on the level of intelligence of most of the students hyar at East High. I want you all to understand it. We all cain't be intelligent, I'm just brighter than I should be.

There's a good lookin' sophomore boy that hangs around the bank during 5th period. Take notice all you gals, his name's Jeffrey Brooks. He's a corker!

That tall, willery basketball player, the one that jumps all the time, seems right smitten with the little girl. Let's see, I believe her name is Gail.

Joanne Riggins saw a good looker with red hair named Paul. She sure used a mighty old approach to meet him. Instead of dropping her handkerchief, she fell flat on her face. At least, it was unusual!

The insperation for this hear example of Joanalistic genius is Willie Willefor. He's a brilliant boy but nobody seems to appreciate him. Nobody knows of whom he is of or what he does has (?).

Duds, Dolls, And Dates

The trend, for the girls, has been to skirts and sweaters for school wear; but while walking through the halls, you will find that dresses are being worn occasionally.

Getting into the Valentine mood, we see red dresses worn by Sarah Roach, Sue Drinnen, and Jean Burkhart. Jean wears a white fur collar with hers, and this gives it a nice contrast.

Dorothy and Sarah Anderson have look-alike dresses which are very pretty. The dresses, one green, and one blue, have empire waistlines, full skirts, and three-quarter length sleeves.

When Mary Jane Morgan wears her purple sheath, she has many admirers.

Have you seen a freshman girl with pretty blonde hair and wondered who she is? Herman tells us her name is Linda Broyles.

Sandra Smith's class ring is so big she has to wear it on a chain. I wonder if it doesn't belong to a certain U.T. student. Mary Lou Walker has a ring, too, but hers is a different kind. Just look on the left hand, third finger.

Jeanne says Albert's black V-neck sweater looks nice (when worn with her necklace).

New couples have been seen at East. They are Bobby and Connie, Tommy and Carol, Tim and Gail, Scotty and Carol Jean, Tommy and Linda, and Gene and Virginia. David Lovell and Gary Lawson wish their names could be on this list.

This is it, kids. Be watching for Duds, Dolls, and Dates.

The students and teachers of East High School sympathize with Miss Edith Horton in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Robert Horton, who died December 17, 1956.

TOO LATE

A professor at a medical school asked a student how much of a certain drug should be administered to a patient. "Five grains," said the student. A few minutes later the student said, "Professor, I'd like to change my answer to that question." The professor, glancing at his watch, replied, "Never mind, young man, your patient has been dead for forty seconds."

LATIN LUNACY

You see a pretty girl walking the street. She is, of course, feminine. If she is singular, you are nominative. You walk across to her and become dative. If she is not objective, you are soon plural. You walk home with her, and her mother becomes accusative. You enter and sit down. Her brother is a definite article. You talk of the future and she changes to the past. You kiss her and her father becomes present. Things are tense, and soon you find yourself a past participle.

Chatter From Afar

I hope you noticed our new heading. This masterpiece is a creation of the brilliant minds of the journalism class.

From the Lenoir City High School paper, The Panther Press, I discovered some well-known company slogans which apply to us as well as to them. Here are a few:

When it rains, it pours—Term tests.

Our accuracy is your protection—Chemistry students.

In Miami, Fla., a new club has been formed by a Miami attorney who is interested in the welfare of boys. This club is called "The Knothole Club" and is for boys who are interested in boxing.

City Day is a big occasion at Dobyns-Bennett High School in Kingsport, Tennessee. A mayor, aldermen, assistant city manager, police chief, fire chief, superintendent of schools, and all other officers are elected from the student body.

City Day begins at 8:00 when the students attend city court, with all student officials participating. The students who were elected on October 22 were prepared beforehand for the big job. Can't you imagine Knoxville after East High students finished with it?

Students of Spartanburg High School, Spartanburg, South Carolina, packed personal packages for Hungarian refugees. They made standup invalid trays. They were richly rewarded by the warm feeling that comes with giving to someone who needs help.

To say goodby, here's a quotation from The Bookstrap, Charleston, West Virginia:

Knock, knock. Who's there? Esdall. Esdall who? Esdall there is. There isn't any more.

Sport Scoop with Hoop

By Richie Hooper

Congratulations to our new football captains for 1957. Kyle Finley and Tom Lawson were unanimously voted co-captains. Frank Murphy was likewise chosen downfield blocking captain. This captain will be in charge of the blocking of all the linemen, keeping them on the ball.

I believe I can speak for all the boys in their thanks to the coaches and Booster Club for the fine banquet the football team was given.

Anyone who follows basketball closely at all has seen a new face in the "B" team starting lineup. I like to point out Bo Minnis because he's only a ninth grader and has already caught the coaches' eye. Bo is 6'3", and after three or four games to learn the system Bo has moved in to play center as if he'd been there all year. Bo has averaged about twelve points a game, and we expect big things from him in the future.

Talking about the "B" team, let's all come out and support them during the Knox County "B" Team Tournament held at the East High Gym on February 18, 20, 21, and the finals on the 23rd. The District 6 Varsity Tournament will be held the first part of March.

The coaches chosen to lead the city team in the City-County football game are in the process of choosing their 25-man squad. East has 11 seniors who are eligible to play in this game. They are Gene Morrell, Richie Hooper, Ronnie Brown, Fred Rice, Perry Byars, John Hellard, David Gurley, Bill Wiser, Herky Simpson, Tom King, and David Graham.

I might add that the baseballers and flyboys on the track team have begun the workouts, and we'll see their talents displayed on the track and our new baseball diamond back of the school.

Bailey Leads 'B' Team Victories

The East "B" squad got its revenge on South by slaughtering them, 85-48. South beat the Hillbillies, 57-54, in a thriller at South. This has been the only game East has lost, and the overwhelming victory can just about overrule this defeat.

The Hillbillies have rolled past Carter, 64-35 and 71-47; Bearden, 48-47 and 56-50; Clinton, 81-61; Catholic, 78-44; South, 85-48; Oak Ridge, 73-62; Rule, 55-43; Young, 71-30 and 68-40; Fulton, 79-61; West 72-38.

Lee Bailey, a varsity sub, has consistently led the "B" squad with the highest individual point total. Bailey has had such highs as 30 against South, 28 against Fulton, 26 against Clinton, 24 against Oak Ridge, and 20 against Bearden. Sometimes only playing one or two quarters, he was the highest point average on the "B" team. Lee has averaged 17 points per game.

East Shows Well In Tourney; Holding 11-6 Overall Record

Home Groups Enter Finals of Tourney

For the past week, East High School has been conducting its annual homegroup basketball tournament.

Clayton Hancock is the director of this tournament. He chooses the boys, usually varsity basketball players, as officials for these games.

Mrs. McSpadden's group will meet Miss Dowell's group for the championship of the upper classes; while the winner of the Capps and Scarbrough game will meet Hancock's group for the championship of the lower classes.

These deciding games will be held from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. in the East High gym Wednesday.

This tournament is held primarily to accommodate any boy in school who wishes to participate in this sport but is unable to play varsity basketball.

First-round play of the lower classes saw Brewer beat Dillow, 40-19; Hancock beat Esposito, 36-27; Capps eke out an 18-13 victory over Seale; and Scarbrough win over Kelly, 27-21.

McSpadden's group took a two-point victory from Neubert, 28-26, in the first-round play of the upper classes. McLaurin lost by 10 points to Ellis, 39-29; and Gillenwater and Dowell won over Browning and McDougall.

In the semi-finals, Ellis lost to McSpadden, 35-25, and Dowell edged out Gillenwater, 45-43.

Volleyball Tops Girls' Sports

By BENNY BOUNDS

Volleyball is the biggest and most competitive sport for the girls here at East. It's a popular game because persons of limited strength, skill, and endurance can play it.

An official volleyball team has six players. The players line up in two rows of three persons each. The server stands on the back line of her court and hits the ball with one hand. She tries to drive it over the net into the opposing team's territory. If she fails, the ball passes to the other side. If she bats it over the net, the opposing team tries to bat the ball back, and the volleying continues back and forth. If the opposing team fails to make a return, the serving side scores.

Recently the girls' gym classes had a volleyball tournament. The sixth period class was declared winner in the upper class, and the fourth period was the lower class winner.

After the tournament an all-star team was picked to represent East in the volleyball tournament at West. The lower class all-stars won third place, and the upper class won second place.

Warner Tops Prep Scorers

By DAVID LOVELL

Harold (Tim) Warner, towering center on the East High School basketball team, continues to lead the Knox Prep League in scoring.

Warner has led the league since the first of the season, for in 17 games he has poured 411 points through the basket for a 24.2 average. He is also twentieth in the state in scoring.

Tim has had some extra successful nights when he hit for extra points. At the first of the season he hit for 42 points against Carter and came back to pour 30 points against Catholic and Fulton. Against West he collected 37 points.

Warner gets most of his points on shots from around the foul circle.

Johnny Houston of Fulton and Earl Wolfenbarger of Young follow closely behind Warner. Houston has a 23.5 average and Wolfenbarger has a 23.2 rate.

East's Glen Worley and Elvin Henry also figure in the top scorers.

Name-School	Games	Pts.	Ave.
Tim Warner, East	17	411	24.2
Johnny Houston, Fulton	15	352	23.5
Earl Wolfenbarger, Young	16	374	23.4
Cliff Thomas, South	19	352	18.5
Harold Haynes, Hall's	16	292	18.3
Wayne Mowery, Carter	19	317	16.8
David Fowler, Rule	15	234	15.6

Young Remains 'AA' Leader

Young High's Yellow Jackets remained the "AA" leader with a 9-0 mark in league play after their victory over East last Friday night. This pushed them far ahead of East, Fulton, and Rule, in that order. East's Mountaineers trail Young with a 7-2 mark. Both losses were dealt by the Yellow Jackets.

Biggest Thrill Comes In Fulton Tilt

The season is now progressing along at a steady pace, and with every game the Mountaineers show improvement. East went to the finals for the third time in the Clinton Invitational Tournament. This time powerful Oak Ridge took a 73-68 decision to earn the first-place trophy.

East had to fight off two strong opponents to reach the finals. West fell before East in a tight game in which West came close to an upset in the last quarter. The game ended with the score 63-60. Lake City, rated well above the Mountaineers, got the surprise of the tournament when they were turned back by the tune of 69-58.

The Oak Ridge ball game was hard fought all the way by both teams. There was rarely a difference of over four points between them throughout the ball game. The end of the third period put both teams in a deadlock, but the last two minutes of the game proved Oak Ridge had the additional power and pulled away for the victory.

Tim Warner played outstanding ball throughout the tournament and ended the final game with a 24-point average.

The biggest thrill of the entire season came when East journeyed to Fulton for their first game with the Falcons. The first quarter was just a preview of things, as it ended in a 14-14 deadlock. Fulton was out ahead six points at half time, but with Tim Warner and Glenn Worley leading the way, the Mountaineers moved out front with a slim lead of 47-46 at the end of the third quarter. Both teams fought down to the last seconds, with the lead changing hands four or five times per minute. The regulation game ended 61-all and with Fulton coming from behind, the first overtime period closed excitedly 66-all. Glen Worley hit a 30-foot jump shot with no hesitation to win the game, 68-66, in the sudden death play-off period.

Jr. Cheerleaders Support 'B' Team

Rooting the basketball "B" team to victory, eight junior cheerleaders made their debut at the Young-East game.

Margaret Keith, sophomore, was chosen head cheerleader. Besides being a popular young lady here at East, Margaret finds time to take an active part in the East High Student Council.

Ninth grader Judy Burrus, who is a member of the swimming team and King's Daughters, attends Young Life.

Carol Day, tenth grader, is also a member of East's swimming team, and of the King's Daughters. She also attends all the basketball games because she likes the sport!

Sophomore Jeanne Dunsmore is a member of the Masquers and was seen in "The Lost Kiss."

Joan Layman, tenth grader, is a member of the King's Daughters, and finds football games most interesting.

One of the most active freshmen is Frances Mahon. In addition to her cheerleading, she is a member of the East swimming team and a member of the King's Daughters.

Susan Stewart, ninth grader, is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Marlin Stewart. Major Stewart is with the R.O.T.C. at the University.

Ginger Watts, freshman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watts, Jr., who are active in the East Boosters' Club.

Moron 1: "Why was the little cooky crying?"

Moron 2: "Because her mother has been a wafer so long."

A kiss is a noun because it's common and proper.
It's a verb because it's active and passive.
It's a pronoun because she stands for it.
It's an adverb because it makes an explantion.
It's a conjunction because it brings together and connects.
It's an interjection because it shows strong feeling.
It's a preposition because it has an object.

Everybody Steps on Him

There's an old fossil over in the State Capitol who has been stepped on more by people than the Democrats who were trod on by the Republicans in the last legislative session. Unlike the Democrats, the old fossil has been taking it lying down.

The old fossil is Genus Palaester, a fossilized starfish. He's been in the Capitol since it was built, and he's been on this earth 400 million years. Comes from Tennessee.

Not many people have seen Palaester; some know of him, particularly students from geology classes who have toured the Capitol.

He's a rare fish on the Capitol and geological scene. A starfish fossil is so unusual that geologists, more interested in such things as fossils than you or I, describe the one in the Capitol as "extremely rare."

* * *

The fossilized starfish may be seen on the fourth step of the west staircase of the second floor grand stairway in the north wing of the Capitol.

The fossil occurs in gray marble from the Holston formation (a geological description of the place where the marble was found) in Tennessee.

When the stone containing the fossil was taken from the Tennessee quarry and polished for the steps, the starfish fossil appeared.

Fossilized starfish are rare, not because they were necessarily a scarce form of life, but because they lack the rigid skeleton necessary for the preservation as fossils, according to State Geologist George F. Hanson. Other ancient fish fossils are common.

The starfish lived in the Middle Ordovician period of the Paleozoic era, 400 million years ago, according to geological description.

The Capitol steps' starfish was at that time crawling around in a primeval sea bottom in Tennessee when the face of the earth was entirely different from what it is today.

Thespians to Install

The East High School National Thespians, Troop 283, headed by Miss Ruby Bird, will induct twelve new members at a banquet to be held on February 6 at

The new members, followed by their most recent play, are Joanne Riggins (If anyone needs a chaperon for a dance, Joanne would make a good one. She had lots of practice from the Masquer's play), "Romance Is a Racket."; Ann Rose, who was recently seen in "The Lost Kiss"; Sandra Swann, who portrayed Madeline in "Three's a Crowd"; Lynda Lynch, Nell in "Romance Is a Racket"; Sam Fields, "The Lost Kiss"; Mark Reed, "The Lost Kiss"; Mary Alice Money, "Three's a Crowd"; Sally Phillips, Linda Phillips, and Veda Webb, all in "Why I'm a Bachelor," and Gary Lawson, stage manager.

The initiation banquet is to be held at the S & W Cafeteria. Officers of the Thespians this year include Patsy Dunsmore, president; Pat Wright, vice-president; Phyllis Bales, secretary; Beverly Stump, treasurer. Other members are John Murphy, Frank Murphy, Jim Davis, Mildred Mann, Frances Brown, Bobby Simerly, Verlin Webb, Raymond Edmonds, Helen Mason, Elizabeth Bell, Karolee Gallop, and Charles Holt.

The banquet follows a Valentine theme and features a solemn candle-lighting ceremony.

A lady walked into a psychiatrist's office with a duck tucked under her arm. The phychiatrist asked her if he could help her. "Oh not I, certainly, but my husband here thinks he's a duck," came the positive reply.

WHO'S WHO

ELIZABETH BELL

A friendly, attractive girl, often seen in the halls at East High, is Elizabeth Bell. Elizabeth is known to most people as "Liz."

Among her many school activities, Liz is copy editor of the BEACON, a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Thespians, and Band sponsor. In her junior year she was a junior director.

Elizabeth works part time at J. C. Penney Company in the shoe department. She also belongs to several social clubs.

Liz attends Asbury Methodist Church, where she is an active member and president of M.Y.F. She is also an officer in the East Sub District.

Liz lives with her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Quinton; her sister, Connie Sue; her stepsister, Jane; and stepbrothers, Cliffy and Leslie. They reside at 1700 Jefferson Avenue. For the boys, her phone number is 3-0619.

Elizabeth likes to play volleyball and basketball, and she loves to watch football. She "just loves" Italian spaghetti, and cherry pie is one of her favorite desserts. In her spare time, she like to play the piano for her own enjoyment.

She plans to attend East Tennessee State College; so far, she plans to study teaching as a vocation. Math or typing are her preferred subjects.

There's the modern couple with the ultra-modern home, where everything is controlled by switches except the children.

TIM WARNER

Have you noticed the cute center who has been playing such a good game of basketball for East this season? If you have been wondering who he is, his name is Tim Warner. He is seventeen years old, six feet and four inches tall, has blond hair and blue eyes.

Tim has always been an outstanding student at East High. He is co-captain of the basketball team, secretary of the Key Club, vice-president of the senior class, member of the National Honor Society and of the Athletic Club.

East has another reason to be proud of Tim. He is the leading scorer in the Knox Prep League and has been since the beginning of the season.

Besides his school activities, Tim is president of the Senior Department at Magnolia Avenue Methodist Church, where he is an active member.

In his spare time (if there is any), Tim likes to play solitaire.

Both students and teachers feel that Tim's greatest asset is his industrious attitude.

Tim plans to attend U.T., but he doesn't know yet what his major will be. Whatever he decides on, Tim is certain to go far, so we wish him lots of luck for a happy and successful career.
