ASC Approves Information Day

U-T Officials Would Tell How U-T "Ticks"

A proposed student assembly day met with high approval at the ASC meeting last Tuesday, with several members joining the discussion for a prospective program.

The administration has already approved the meeting, but final plans are yet to be made by the ASC. It was agreed by all members that the meeting should be informative with ample time left to discuss questions with students by top-ranking U-T student officials.

Classes will be dismissed and the entire affair will be to enlighten students and faculty on just how the University "ticks."

The spring election will be held on Tuesday, April 14. ASC President Regas said that this was an excellent date, since it would give enough time for preparation for the ASC Retreat on April 25.

Precinct voting was another matter discussed by the Council. This was brought to their attention by many law students who were unable to vote in the last Fall election since the precinct system was not in effect.

Regas also brought to the attention of the Council that new difficulties would arise with precinct voting this year because completion of new Business Administration building will mean the setting-up of a new 6th precinct.

A report on a student activity fee was made to the Council by Tom Mayo who said that his committee had run into considerable difficulty in deciding just what to put on the activity fee.

Mayo also said that the administration was planning to enact a student center fee on completion of the new Student Center Building, and it might be possible to bring the student fee under this plan.

A new rule that would require five practice sessions for basketball teams participating in intramural sports was presented by the committee on intramural sports and adopted by the Council. This rule was passed in an effort to reduce the number of injuries that occur during the basketball season.

Bob Ewing reported to the Council on the Youth and Racial Unity in Higher Education Conference he attended in Columbia, S. C. Ewing emphasized that the Council should take steps in bringing about racial unity on the U-T campus.

WUOT To Add Broadcasts Of U-T Basketball

Eighteen new programs plus regular broadcasts of the Vols' home basketball games have been added to the schedule of the University of Tennessee's FM radio station, WUOT.

In addition, broadcasting time for the non-commercial station has been expanded one hour daily, according to Jack Westbrook, acting radio director for the U-T extension division.

Westbrook said broadcasting hours are now 3:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Monday through Friday (formerly 4 p. m. to 10 p. m.), having been increased to allow better times for some of the new additions.

This is the first year the U-T station has broadcast home games of the Vol basketball team. For Saturday games the station will sign on at 6 p. m. and broadcast until the end of the game with Westbrook doing the play-by-play.

Late News Available

Late news at 5:00 p. m. can now be broadcast through station WUOT directly from the Journalism Department news rooms in the Business Administration building. A direct line to Ayres Hall, where WUOT is located, has made this possible.

The teletype machine located in the B.A. news room brings a steady flow of latest news throughout the day. The news is supplied by the United Press.

Jack Westbrook, acting director of WUOT, said the addition of the news room facilities will allow extra broadcasts of important late news coming over the teletype.

Students on Staff

Several students are on the WUOT staff this quarter. Albert J. Geia, Chattanooga, is chief engineer. Other engineers are Jim Holly, Nashville; Lurwood Lay, Memphis; and Sam Ragsdale, Franklin.

Announcers include Bruce Barto, Oak Ridge; Bud Brown, Ben Holladay, Bob Wright, Jim Apple, Claude Tomlinson, and Buster Pelletier.

Glen Pruitt, Ken Hanawalt, Bob Horn, and L. B. Murray are control panel operators.

Some of the girls of the WUOT staff are Audrey De Voe, Vera Haile, and Jane King.

Jan. 19 Marks Date Of All-Sing Meeting

Representatives of the ISA and other sorority and fraternity will draw for practice dates and will discuss rules for the coming All-Sing at a meeting to be held 4 p. m. Monday, Jan. 19, in the Student Center.

New appointments in the All-Sing staff place Howard Moss as co-chairman of the stage committee and Harold Ernest, co-chairman of the awards committee.

Moss replaces Rawls Morgan, who did not re-enter school. Ernest is replacing Moss on the awards staff.

Bar Men Elect James C. Lane New President

James C. Lane Jr. of Morristown was named president of the U-T Bar Association at the last meeting of the organization. Other new officers are Howard Jenkins, vice president; David Coker, secretary; and Floyd Culp, treasurer.

Cultural Center Won't Be Razed

Action By Trustees Required For Eviction

By Johnnie White

In keeping with popular demand as to the fate of that most famous of all institutions, the Ellis and Ernest Afternoon Cultural Emporium, this paper feels that it should report that it too knows absolutely nothing about what is going to have to go.

According to H. L. Ernest, master of the fate of this enterprise, it will probably be several years in the future, if ever, that the E & E will have to move. Mr. Ernest also stated that his relations with U-T have been pleasant and profitable, profitable, profitable, (oh, pardon me, the record seems to have gotten stuck).

According to Julian Harris of the U-T Public Relations Department no action will be taken until the Board of Trustees makes some move toward acquiring the property. This also applies to the rest of the buildings in the block.

We are able and happy to report, therefore, that the drugstore cowboys and girls can ride range on the E & E wide open spaces for at least a few more months, so don't send your saddle home yet, John.

Annual Revival To Be Jan. 19-23

The Knoxville District Methodist Youth Revival, one of the main events of the year on the local church calendar, will be held Jan. 19-23 at Central Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. nightly. A pre-revival kick-off rally is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 18 at 3:00 p. m.

The Rev. E. A. Eldridge, prominent Knoxville minister and pastor of Park City Methodist Church, will be the speaker for the revival. The Rev. Harold Harris, pastor of Lincoln Park Methodist Church will be the song leader and direct the special combined youth choir.

This annual revival is planned and sponsored by the Knoxville District MYF Council. President of the council this year and chairman of the revival is U-T campus leader, Binmy Dunsmore.

Other U-T students who are members of the district council or hold important committee posts for the revival are: Jack Lemons, Bobbie Arnhart, Harvey Sproul Jr., Bud Dougherty, Keith Barlow, Ronald Stone, Patsy Huff, and Lynn Johnson.

"Few opportunities to attend a revival are offered to university students during the year," remarked Dunsmore. "We hope that many students will avail themselves of this particular opportunity to hear this consecrated speaker at least once during the revival. Nothing can be lost, an eternity can be gained."

KRIZA, MOYLAN

Sylphides, Swan Lake At Ballet Theatre Monday Night

Two classical and two modern ballets will be presented by the Ballet Theatre at Alumni Memorial Auditorium Monday night at 8:15 under the sponsorship of University Concerts.

The program will consist of "Les Sylphides," a ballet by Michel Kokine; "Rodeo," by Agnes DeMille; "Pas De Deux," from "Swan Lake"; and "Interplay," a ballet by Jerome Robbins.

Prima ballerina for the performances here will be Alicia Alonso, Cuban dancer who started with Ballet Theatre in 1939 and later rose to ballerina status after an operation which saved her eyesight. Other stars will be Igor Youskevitch, John Kriza, and Mary Ellen Moylan.

The downtown box office at Clark and Jones, Inc., will remain open through the day of the performance. Tickets may also be purchased at the University Concerts Office on the U-T campus, phone 4-2461, Ext. 496.

U-T Playhouse Will Produce "The Heiress"

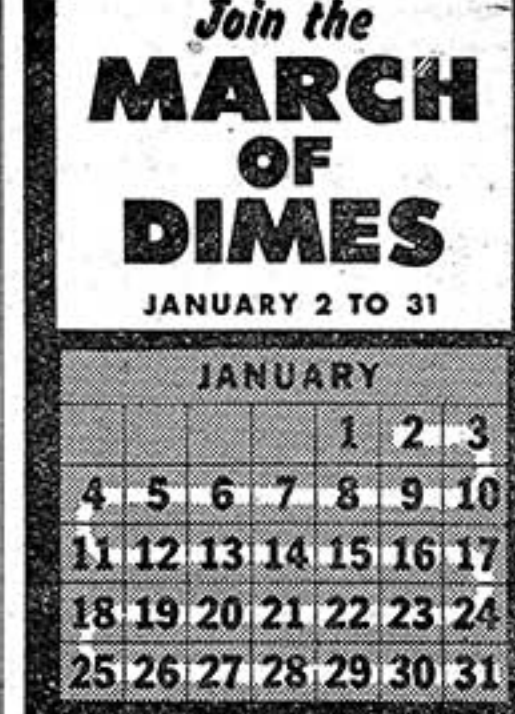

Four veteran U-T actors have leads in the U-T Theatre's winter production, "THE HEIRESS," scheduled for the U-T Theatre, Jan. 28 and 29. Elizabeth Broyles and Catherine Sloper, the heiress of the piece, heads the cast. She is assisted by Virginia Wilcox as Lavinia Pennington, David Mynatt as Morris Townsend, and John Cullum as Dr. Austin Sloper.

"THE HEIRESS," based on Henry James' novel WASHINGTON SQUARE, concerns an awkward, plain-looking girl (Catherine) who falls in love with an attractive fortune hunter (Morris Townsend). Her cold-hearted father (Dr. Sloper), aware of the suitor's motives and unconcerned with his daughter's feelings, forbids the marriage. He threatens to disinherit his daughter if she disobeys him.

Catherine suggests an elopement, but her lover has heard of the disinheriting threat, so he jilts her. Catherine becomes an old maid. The father dies and leaves Catherine his fortune. Morris hears of this and renews his marriage proposal. But Catherine has grown hard and rancorous; she accepts Morris, raises his hopes, and then jilts him.

Some of the newcomers in the play are Bud Brown, Charlene Bell, Patricia Thorpe and Mary Shepperd. Rosemary Sherrod, who was last seen in the Fall Quarter play, Death of a Salesman, plays the part of Mrs. Montgomery.

Student tickets for either performance may be purchased by telephone or mail at the SFOB office.

Drive For Band Funds Successful

U-T To Salute Ike With Unusual Show

The University of Tennessee "Pride of the Southland" band will accord a very unusual salute to President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower from the State of Tennessee during the inaugural parade.

While passing the reviewing stand, the "Pride of the Southland" will spell out the word "Ike" in moving formation, characterizing the informality of the new president. As the band moves down the street in their massive moving letters, it will appropriately be playing the Colossus of Columbia, the song of the University which Eisenhower formerly headed.

Fund-Raising Program

The Knoxville Journal will close out its successful campaign to raise the $3000 necessary to send the band to Washington with a stage-movie program at the Tennessee Theater Saturday night, at 11:30.

Featured on the star-studded program will be the southern premier of the latest Red Skelton laugh riot—"The Clown"—plus the U-T band and a bevy of local radio entertainers. Lowell Blanchard and Archie Campbell, managers of the show, have announced a line of top-notch acts, including Joe Canaday, comedy artist; Betty Beck, recently chosen "Miss Knoxville Beautiful"; Don Gibson, Columbia recording star; and Red Murphy, tap dancer.

The entire 88-man band, in addition to the majorettes, drum major, and sponsor will have a prominent part in the show. The entire aggregation will be on the stage at one time.

Dean of Students Ralph E. Dunford reports that the "Pride of the Southland" will leave for Washington on a special train, arriving early Jan. 20. The bandsmen expect to return to the campus the day after the inauguration.

Guy L. Smith, Tennessee Republican Party Chairman, arranged for the band's appearance by securing an invitation from the National Republican Party Chairman.

U-T May Handle Educational TV

General Assembly Must Okey Funds

One of the four educational television channels allocated to this state will be manned by U-T, if the funds for the construction of broadcast facilities can be secured from the state General Assembly.

That is the situation as reported by Julian Harris, Public Relations head, following a meeting Jan. 10 in Nashville attended by representatives of the four major population areas in Tennessee. President C. E. Brehm and James E. Arnold, co-ordinator of Extension services, represented the Knoxville area at the meeting.

State Must Act

Mr. Harris said that favorable action must be taken by the state legislature before April 14 in order for U-T to secure the channel. The Federal Communications Commission will otherwise give the channel over to commercial purposes.

The request for funds for the construction of broadcasting facilities is incorporated in U-T's budget proposal now before the legislature. Construction costs are estimated as $200,000.

To Serve Area

The proposed T-V channel would serve Knoxville and surrounding counties at all levels of education, planners maintain. The use of television in classroom instruction would parallel the function now filled by U-T's FM station, WUOT. Adult classes of the Extension Service would also be reached via T-V.

Stations are also planned for Nashville, Memphis and Chattanooga. The programs will be free from commercial advertising.

Busy Britisher Foyle Speaks Tonight At 8

Miss Beryl Foyle will speak in the Business Administration Auditorium at 8 p. m. tonight, Jan. 15. "Free Enterprise in Britain Today" is her subject. Her appearance at U-T is sponsored jointly by the English Speaking Union and the University. The public is invited to the lecture.

NAM Director To Speak To U-T Students

University students have been invited to a special meeting to hear Earl Bunting, managing director of the National Association of Manufacturers, speak on "Building A Better America." The speech will be made in the Moot courtroom of the Law Building tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Classes in the College of Business Administration will be dismissed to meet at 10 a. m. will be dismissed so that students might hear Mr. Bunting, one-time NAM president.

The Business Administration Board of the College of Business is sponsoring Mr. Bunting's visit to the U-T campus. George Reeves, head of the Board, will preside at the meeting, and Dean Frank B. Ward and Andrew D. Holt, administrative assistant to the president, will take part in the program.

Mr. Bunting and John Murrian, an NAM director in Knoxville, will be interviewed by Joyce Chambliss and Flavius Passman, members of the Business Administration Board, in a question and answer session which will later be broadcast over WUOT. The topic of the discussion will be "Business Interests In Education."

Orange Basketeers Meet Tech Team Here Saturday

Coach Emmett Lowery's cagers, freshly inspired by their recent victory over Davidson University last Saturday evening, meet favored Georgia Tech in their fourth conference fracas tomorrow night. Game time is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium.

Tech conquered Alabama in a late rally Monday night 69-67 for their first Conference victory. The Yellow Jackets, coached by John (Whack) Hyder, boasts a 6-10 freshman guard, Clark Thacker, from Atlanta and a multiple point maker, 6-6 Billy Cohen who scored 16 points in their victory over the Elephants.

The Jackets other starters are Gene Anderson, 6-2, Howard Sneed, 6-1, and Eric Crake, 5-10. Coach Lowery will be pinning his hopes on center Carl Widseth, Hank Bertelkamp, and Ed Wiener, to earn them their second conference win. Wiener, to date, is setting the hoops afire with his pin point shooting having scored 159 already this season.

The gymnasium will remain open until 4:30 on Saturday afternoons, and all facilities will be available to U-T students during that time. The swimming pool, however, will be open only from 1:30 to 2:30.

Tennessee's probable starting line-up Friday will be Wiener and Bertelkamp, forwards; Bill Hall, Elvin Little at the guard positions and Carl Widseth in the center slot.

Sophomore J. D. Byington is expected to see plenty of action at forward, being switched from center to forward to replace Rex Pitts who is ineligible.

Bengal Tigers Rule SEC Cage Domain

With the 1952-53 SEC basketball season almost half over, the basketball experts are looking better and better. Before the campaign started and after Kentucky's cagers were ruled ineligible, the authorities picked LSU to cop the laurels.

So far, Harry Rabenhorst's Bayou Bengals have lived up to advance notice by leading the league from the start.

Trailing LSU with perfect league records are Florida, Tulane and Auburn. The Gators and Auburn have two wins with no losses, while Auburn has a single victory against no league set-backs.

Tennessee finds itself holding down sixth place at the present time. The Vols hold a win over Ole Miss while losing to Mississippi State and Vanderbilt.

The Vandy game was originally scheduled as only a practice contest, but SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore later ruled the game as a regular conference match.

Bringing up the rear in the standings are Ole Miss, Georgia, and Georgia Tech. Each team has lost two games in two tries.

Golfers Practice With Local Pros

A practice match between Tennessee's golf team and a team composed of Knoxville's top golfers is scheduled for Sunday afternoon over the Whittle Spring's Golf Course at 2 p. m.

This match will feature the best golfing talent in East Tennessee and possibly the South. Coach J. G. Wall's U-T linksmen are Carroll Armstrong, Ed Brantley, Mason Rudolph, and Charles Pehle.

Armstrong was the winner of the North Georgia Amateur Golf Tournament last year and Mason Rudolph is former National Junior Golf champion and Smoky Mountain Invitational Golf champion.

These boys will go against Vernon Thwaites, J. C. Goosie, Tiny Seay, and Danny Berrier. Thwaites' greatest accomplishment last year was runner-up in the Southern Amateur Golf Tourney,

Bill Davis Competes In Dixie Tournament

Bill Davis, outstanding tennis player on the University of Tennessee's tennis team, took part in the Dixie tennis tournament held at Tampa, Florida, last week.

Davis, who has been top man on Tennessee's tennis team for the past two years, was invited to participate along with some of the country's outstanding tennis stars.

In a singles match, Davis was defeated by Gardner Mulloy. Mulloy is considered tops in the nation and is seeded first in the tourney.

In the semifinal doubles, Davis teamed with Grant to beat Mulloy and Jerry Moss. Mulloy and Moss took the match to move into the finals.

losing to Dave Brewer. Goosey was City and Southern Appalachian Champion. Seay and Berrier are both former City Champions and winners of several other tournaments in the past.

Now Here's What To Do, Boys...

Coach Lowery talks it over with his quintet during a timeout in the fourth period of the Davidson contest which the Vols won 84-56.

Georgia Tech defeated Cumberland 221-0 in 1916. This is the highest score ever made in a college football game.

The most one sided pro game on record is the Chicago Bears 1940 victory over the Washington Redskins by a score of 73-0.

Weiner Paces Scoring For Basketball Team

By POWELL LINDSAY
In the season opener, with his club trailing little Wofford College and playing with uncertainty, Tennessee Coach Emmett Lowery called upon an all but unknown forward and dispatched him into the game.

Ed Weiner nailed down a starting berth that night. The dark-thatched sophomore from Brooklyn, exhibiting a sharp one-hand push shot and the poise of a veteran, teamed with Captain Hank Bertelkamp and carried the Vols to a 76-65 victory.

Dubbed the "Brooklyn Bombshell" by the local papers, Weiner has amassed an average of 17.6 points per encounter and is threatening the fabled Paul Walther's all-time Vol scoring average. An off-form eight points in the victory over Mississippi was balanced by a glittering thirty point output against Vanderbilt, establishing a Commodore floor record.

The leading Vol scorer with 159 points played one year of high school ball at Erasmus Hall High in Brooklyn. During his senior year, due to a coach strike in the area, he played no basketball. That spring, however, he lettered in track.

Weiner also leads in the rebounding department with 92 grabs. His field goal average is 39.2 per cent, and his free throw percentage is 55.5. The 6-3, 185 pound forward is a pre-dentistry student.

Only three presidents of the United States have ever been assassinated. Why?

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

HERE'S a sad Lobster tale. Sheedy was really in hot water. His girl kept saying, "The Maine thing I don't like about you is the way you put your hair! Haven't you read about Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic? Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dandruff. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Perfect for you 'claws you need Lanolin on that water-soaked hair." Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he looks slick. In fact, he's in salad with every girl on campus. Korean Stalemate Is Latest Diatribe Topic

The Korean War, in its many ramifications and problems, is perhaps the most formidable riddle of the world today. It cannot be solved with a single stroke, like the Gordian Knot, for even if it were unravelled, its many harmful effects can never be repaired.

For the War has worked a change in the outlook of American youth which is relatively unacknowledged and represents a strong current of our times.

Korea was, supposedly, a "police action", and later evolved into what has been brutally called a "practice war". Under a Democratic administration, it seemed unsolvable, for the Democrats refused to take the great step, fraught with peril, of widening the conflict and increasing the pressure on Communist China.

American youth, in the 2½ years since the beginning of the struggle, has tended increasingly to take the attitude that assignments to Korea are the foul work of a fickle fate, to be avoided if legally possible, the war having about it the taint of being something we were suckered into, and which can do our nation nothing but harm.

It is worse than worthless to condemn this attitude, for it is but the terrible culmination of a relentless and persistent trend which one may trace all the way back to the Carpetbaggers of Reconstruction days.

The trend is that America is no longer viewed as something we, its citizens, should serve and glorify. Rather, the all-too-prevalent concept has arisen that America should give us what we want, without us giving anything in return, and that the only realistic thing to do is to grab as much as you can for yourself, and to hell with the next man.

It is the grasping attitude of the pressure group ("We demand our rights"). It is the harsh, unrelenting, intolerant voice of men whose perspective extends no further than they can reach ("That John L. Lewis is power-mad. He ought to be shot.")

I feel, somehow, that I am not speaking too clearly. I mean to say that pure patriotism is apparently dying and is being replaced by that patriotism which is the "last refuge of scoundrels"

Does Fault Of School Spirit Lie Entirely With Students?

Somebody's always harping about the lousy spirit displayed by U-T students at the various athletic events. The ASC is eternally debating new schemes that will awaken the student's interest and arouse his more inner emotions toward supporting the Vols.

U-T is currently sporting a fast-breaking, young, aggressive basketball squad that lacks only experience to be one of the top teams in the SEC. But anyone who has attended any one home game has noticed that student support is almost nil. The perennial question is still with us: why don't students attend the games? But let us insert a question of our own: Is it entirely the fault of the student body?

Let's look at the conditions a prospective student basketball fan must meet before he can see the game. If he wants to get the special student cut-rate price he must buy a season ticket, cost of which is $5.25 for the six remaining home games. No single-game student tickets are sold. If the student wants to go to a single game it sticks him the regular general admission price of $1.50 per person.

Now let's suppose some more. Suppose a student couldn't attend every home game. Naturally he would not want to buy a season ticket. So he does not buy one. Then when a game comes up that he can attend he will probably go to a movie where he and his date can enter for the paltry sum of $1 — three times less than what it would cost him to see the game.

The fact remains that very, very few student season basketball tickets have been sold. Student tickets were fifty cents a piece for the games just before the fall quarter ended and student attendance was good. Not many students are going to buy basketball tickets in advance.

This is our conclusion: if the Athletic Association (and we have proof that some officials support the students in their plea) would sell single game tickets for fifty cents which would be in range of the average university student, not only would student support of the team be very greatly increased, the AA would make as much, if not more, from the increased volume than they are now.

Athletic Association, we leave this very important question to you.

—Harvey Sprout

Old Problem

As we start a new quarter, that age-old problem of scholarship once again arises to confront the student.

If ever a subject is beaten to death, it is scholarship; however, if ever a subject needs it, it is scholarship.

The college student faces a hard task in proportioning his time between study and play. Yet, it is one which must be made if the student is to get all he can out of every phase of college life.

There are many extra-curricular activities in which students can enter which will benefit them in their college life and in their life after graduation. There are clubs, societies, and publications in every college of the university. A student can enter these activities inside of his college or engage in University-wide activities.

Getting back to the subject at hand—scholarship. To get an education is the primary reason we are here. It is easy to by-pass study for a good movie or party, but this must not be a regular practice. Plan ahead your study time and play time so that you have time for both.

MEET YOURSELF—10 YEARS FROM NOW

Ever wonder what you'll be like when the class of '53 holds its 10th reunion? If you started to work for one of the Bell System telephone companies after graduation, here's a pretty good idea.

POSITION IN THE WORLD: On the way up! A Commercial Manager, the company's representative and spokesman to as many as fifty thousand customers. A Transmission Engineer, helping to provide the telephone needs of an entire state. A Supervisor in the Traffic Department, responsible for the speed and quality of local and long distance service in several cities and for the personnel relations of a large number of employees. In the telephone company, jobs such as these are held by relatively young men and women.

FUTURE: Unlimited! The Bell System continually progresses and expands and its personnel grows with it. In the past 25 years, the number of telephones has almost tripled. In the past 5 years, telephone companies have introduced such things as network television transmission, radiotelephone service and dialing of Long Distance calls. And the best is yet to come.

FRAME OF MIND: Confident and proud! You'll be satisfied because you have a rewarding job...not only in pay and security...but in service. You'll be proud of your share in helping provide and develop a telephone service vital to the country's social and economic life.

Like the picture? For further information see your Placement Officer. He will be glad to give you details regarding the opportunities for employment in the Bell System.

Gay Weekend Parties Liven New Quarter

The first formals of the quarter were held this past weekend—the ZTA and Sigma Chi dances. At the Sigma Chi formal Rosemary Dillon was making her date, Frank Suddoth, "Walk the chalkline" in order to determine whether he was in a state of inebriation. Poor Frank! Didn't have a chance. Nita Johns was having her troubles too.

Her zipper broke and she had to make a quick trip back to the dorm to change dresses. Even the partially sober ones thought they were loaded 'cause they could have sworn she had on a different dress earlier in the evening.

After the Sigma Chi formal everyone gathered at Clark Roberts' for breakfast.

Love In Bloom Belated congratulations to Charlie Williams, PIKA and Pat Waggoner, KD, who were pinned last week. Newly engaged are Bob Price, Kappa Sig, and Marcia Brown, from Midland, Mich., Bob Lyons, former U-T'er, gave his West Point pin to Janie Byington, ADPI.

ATO Fracas The Alpha Tau Omegas were seen at their usual hangout, the Doggie Patch, Friday night. Looked like some sort of celebration—their Beloved Brother, Charlie Hickerson, was back for the weekend after spending a trying week at TPI.

We keep asking Lawson Braswell for details of the Kappa Sig parties, but he won't give out with much info. Makes us wonder! Seems they had quite a party at Earl Good's Saturday night.

Neglected Pair Noel Hardy and Willis Moore say they feel neglected—Haven't had their names in the O&W for some time (they used to be notorious—made the column every week). They subscribe to the O&W even though they're no longer with us. That's loyalty for you!

Seems the SAE's are playing "hard to get"—they were all stag at Highland's Saturday night. If this has anything to do with New Year's resolutions, lets hope it's one of those that get broken quickly. One of the Brothers, Wayne Moore, has already gone astray however, and gotten "ringed" to Bev Thomas.

John Swan, alias "The Black Phantom" was reported to be roaming the deserted streets of Knoxville in his panther-like Chevvie at an early hour Sunday morning. The Phantom explained that he had left something somewhere earlier in the evening, but couldn't remember at which little friend's abode.

The "Young Man About Town" Gordo Polofsky was seen enjoying himself immensely at the cocktail party Al and Natalie Tucker gave for Hank Lauricella and Betty Walker.

Sadness yet! Tom (Desirable) Yokum is flat on his back for a week suffering from mysterious complications. Friends (everyone has 'em) wish him a speedy recovery.
