Menu, Theme Add Air of Excitement

Every year as school draws to a close, all seniors look forward to the night of the senior banquet and dance. These are the last two social events of the high school era, and it is always a night of fun and excitement for all.

This year the dance and banquet are to be on Friday, May 30 at the University of Tennessee Student Center Ballroom. The banquet will begin at 6:30 and the dance at 9:00.

Music will be furnished by Dick Jones and his band; and $3 will cover the banquet, dance, and date. Lower classmen may be admitted to the dance if they purchase a ticket for $1.

There is also an air of secretiveness about this evening, for no one knows what the menu for the banquet is nor what the theme of the dance is except the ones who are on the decoration committee.

The members of the School Board will be entertained as guests at the banquet.

Much appreciation goes to Miss Neubert, the Senior Directors, and the decoration committee for the work that is being done in preparation of this evening.

The decoration committee is composed of Sherry Griffin, chairman, nine other seniors, and several parents.

Whedbee Chosen

Don Whedbee has been selected the outstanding member of the Key Club for 1957-58. The award was based upon club service. When the BLUE and GRAY asked a member to list the services Don had performed, the reply was that Don had participated in every project the Key Club had undertaken this year. Also he always held a position of responsibility.

Don is also a member of the Athletic Club and Fifth Avenue Baptist Church. He is state champion shot-putter.

Commencement Climaxes Senior Week

Collins, Hunter Receive Awards

East High Chapter of the National Honor Society awarded two fifty dollar scholarships to Libby Collins and Wayne Hunter in the senior chapel.

Libby and Wayne were chosen because they were the girl and boy having the highest averages in four years of science, four years of English, three years of math, and two years of foreign language.

Other contenders for the scholarships were Eddie Beeler, Steve Cash, Sam Fields, Frank Murphy, Ray Oakes, Anne O'Dell, Mike Oliver, and Don Whedbee.

Patsy Brewer? 'Here'

Patsy Brewer, East High senior, has a record to be proud of—she has had a perfect attendance in school for twelve years.

Pat, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holbert Brewer, is an office assistant, a member of the Pep Club, an active participant in athletic events, and a member of Mountain View Baptist Church. She also spends "half the time" with her niece, Kimberly Kay.

Pat seems to be very proud of the diamond ring which her aunt gave her as a reward for her excellent attendance record.

When asked to comment, Pat said, "I don't want to leave East." After being asked why, she said, "'Cause I'll miss everyone." Pat plans to attend a business college and be a secretary.

Carol Woody has not been absent a day during her high school career; and she missed only one day in junior high. Carol is a member of the Honor Society, Pep Club, and Bell Avenue Baptist Church.

Verlin Webb hadn't missed a day during his high school years until last term when he had the measles.

Wall Is Elected

Steve Wall has been elected president of the 1958-59 student body. Others elected were Joyce Holbert, vice-president; Sylvia Ward, secretary; and Billie Ray Cannon, treasurer.

Other nominees were Tom Eggleston, Dianne Cass, Sally Fields, Brenda Krauss, Linda Phillips, Sue Ella Hankins, and Linda McMinn.

Nominating speeches were given for each candidate in a special chapel on May 20. The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes then voted on one candidate for each office.

This form of Student Council election is unprecedented in East High. Heretofore, these officers have been chosen within the Student Council.

The new president, Steve Wall, is also president elect of the National Honor Society, a member of the Key Club, president of the Fifth Avenue Chapter of the Royal Ambassadors, and receiver of the God and Country award in Boy Scouts. When asked his opinion of the new system of election, he said, "I like this system. This form of election gives the student more voice in the council, and that is what we want next year."

Tribute Given

Anchor Club of East High has given to the school a portrait of the late Mr. W. E. Evans, principal of old Knoxville High for 40 years before coming to East when it was organized seven years ago. The portrait, presented in senior chapel on May 29, was made from Mrs. Evans' favorite picture of her husband. It was enlarged to 20" by 24" painted in oils, hung in a gold frame, and placed in the hall near the auditorium.

Dr. Charles Moffett Will Present Diplomas

East High seniors are preparing for their commencement to be held at the University of Tennessee Auditorium on June 3 following a week of festivities.

Commencement speakers have chosen "Youth Builds for the Future" — scientifically, economically, religiously, educationally — as the main topic for their address. Individual topics include: "Utilizing Scientific Achievements," Samuel Fields; "Stressing Economic Competency," Barbara Zwick; "Re-evaluating America's Dream," Betty Lee; and "Formulating Education Potentials," Ross Greene.

East choir, led by Mrs. Judith N. O'key, will sing "America the Beautiful" and "Almighty God of our Fathers." The band will play the processional, "Land of Hope and Glory" and the recessional "God of Our Fathers," in addition to "Overture, Magnolia." All band numbers are under the direction of Mr. Fred DeRobertis.

Rev. John E. Stauffer, Pastor of Little Brick Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation.

The class song, written by Joanne Riggins and Ann Rose, is to be sung.

Recognition of special honors is by Mr. L. Gale Gardner, principal, while Mr. C. A. Browning, East science instructor, will recognize awards in scientific accomplishments.

Following the presentation of the class of 1958 by Mr. Curtis A. Gentry, Director of Instruction in Knoxville schools, Dr. Charles A. Moffett, treasurer of the Board of Education, will award the diplomas.

This class has been outstanding and boasts numerous achievements to its credit, according to members of the faculty. The students and faculty of East High extend their congratulations and best wishes for a happy and successful future as this class crosses a threshold on its way to higher work and nobler play.

THE CLASS OF '58 —
THEY REALLY RATE.

CLASS OF 1958 poses and takes its last glance at Mr. W. M. Campbell behind his ever-ready camera.

Thanks A Million

It is difficult to express in words my gratitude to a staff which has worked so earnestly and diligently to make this year's BLUE AND GRAY one of the best yet. We had our hard times and little spats, it's true, but with such a great group pulling together we couldn't help but have a terrific paper and a wonderful year.

Some familiar quotes blasting from the staff room as deadline time draws near: "Jimmie, what are we going to do about it?" "Rachel, for the blue millionth time we have to change the lay out!" "Tom, we must have more ads; how do you expect us to pay for this issue?" "David, pleaseeee get the sports' page ready!" "You'll just have to go to the printer, Judy!" "Freida, do you have enough features for your page?" "Miss Ellis, please read these stories." "May we use this?" "How are we going to fill this space?" "Does this sound like a suitable headline?" "How are we going to meet our dealine?" !!!!

All I can say is thanks a million to all of you and the other staff members. May you have success and happiness always.

My appreciation also to the non-staff members who contributed so willingly, to the subscribers and advertisers who make our paper financially possible, to Mr. Gardner for his co-operation and inspiration, and to everyone else who made this a great year for the BLUE AND GRAY.

Till we meet again,
Barbara

Barbara Parkhurst and LaVerne Weaver won first places in shorthand II and typing I tests, respectively. The contests were city-wide and were held at Fulton High.

Words To The Wise

By Alice Henry

MISS BENNETT: A fine group. I hate to see them leave.

MR. BIBLE: Looks like a fine group of young people.

MISS BIRD: This class will leave a void hard to fill. In dramatics we do not too often find great talent. I shall miss all members of my senior class whom I have known, and I wish for all of them a happy and useful life.

MR. BREWER: The seniors that I know are likeable people. They are reliable and co-operative group of people.

MISS CAPPS: The senior girls have been very nice students in gym, and I hope that they will hang on to that figure that they got in my class.

MR. CAMPBELL: This year's class has many outstanding students who are well prepared to earn a living or to advance further in profitable education. It is a pleasure to be associated so eminently with such fine people.

MISS DOWELL: One of the nicest groups we have ever had. We are going to miss them where there were so many accomplishments.

MISS ELLIS: May the life of each of the seniors of 1958 be happy and successful and good.

MR ESPOSITO: I wonder how many of the seniors would change their attitude about going to school if they had to do it over again.

MR. GILLENWATER: The seniors that I have had have been a fine group of people except those who are always grumbling about the questions I ask on tests.

MR. HANCOCK: It stinks! Seriously, a fine group of girls and boys. I hope that the senior class has a lot of success.

MISS HORTON: The majority of the class is most co-operative and most of them will make good citizens.

MRS. KELLY: The seniors will never regret getting their high school education and I hope some will go on for better training.

MISS MILLION: May the seniors have great success and happiness in their further preparation for life, so full of opportunities for youth.

MISS NEUBERT: I have enjoyed working with the senior class as their adviser. I hope that their lives in the future will be happy and useful and that they will always come back to East High School and be loyal to their Alma Mater.

MRS. OKEY: The seniors that I have worked with in the choir have been very interesting, entertaining, and unusual. Never a dull moment!

MISS SCARBROUGH: I'm practicing on my classic references: Let the world take note as the Class of '58 leaves East High (a sibylline remark, q.v.)

MRS. SEEHORN: Best wishes for a successful future.

MR. YATES: It's the most vigorous and capable class I have ever known. Their interest in the extra curriculum subjects is a good omen for their future success. I wish them all a wonderful and promising entry into adulthood.

Bon Voyage

Mr. Thomas Yates, East's exchange teacher from London, has finished his year's teaching assignment at our school. Besides holding students and faculty fascinated with his wonderful English accent and way of expressing himself, Mr. Yates has won the respect of the whole school, both for his scholarly ways and for his enthusiasm of America. Apparently, from some of his comments, Mr. Yates thinks East students are capable and remarkable. Well, Mr. Yates, the feeling is mutual!

The Yates family plans to travel over as much of the United States as they can this summer. All of East High joins the BLUE and GRAY in saying, "Good luck, and best wishes always."

Mountain Ears

Howdy! Now hush your bawlin'. You been alookin' forward to this situation all year, so be quiet and smile.

For the last time that I'll see you this year, I made a few predictions o' my own. Clementine helped tho'.

In the future I see Peggy Wolfe an' Pat Valentine as airline waitresses . . . uh, I think I mean hostesses.

I see Jimmy Ellis and Bill Jeffers a-flyin' like mad all over the place. With their jets, of course.

I see Louis Trivitt, Victor Skalet, Ernie Ault and Hubert Clabough behind bars. Take it any way you want to.

I see June King an' Nancy Tipton married . . . to their husbands.

I can't find Peggy Reed. But more'n likely she's a-doin' somethin'.

I see Freida an' Phil with their sixteen kids a-trailin' along behind them.

I see Bebe Williams. Hi thar, Bebe.

I see Linda Wolfenbarger an' George a-sayin' "I do's."

I see Bill Tonkin an' Bridget Bardot. Only she's on the screen, an' he's a-sittin' a-watchin'.

I see all you graduates a-goin' your own special ways, an' I shore do hope that you make it.

Adios to you who is a-leavin' an' see you next year to those who ain't.

Flashes Of Fashion

By Doris Jean Burkhart

Class Day dresses are often white. In keeping with this tradition, were Sally Bradley, Thelma Browning, Patsy Cardwell, Mary Frances Clodfelter, Betty Coleman, Janice Davenport, Mary Evelyn Mucke, and Sylvia Tipton. Ann Cochran wore a white lace dress with matching accessories. Anne O'Dell was in white trimmed with pink.

Norma Callahan looked nice in her white dress trimmed in blue. Twins Sara and Dorothy Anderson looked almost alike. Sara's dress was blue with a full skirt and a white and blue sash, while Dorothy's was pink set off with a pink and white sash. Wanda Rader's dress in light blue chiffon with a royal blue drape was really different.

Combinations of blue and white were popular this year. Joanne Riggins displayed white organdy over a blue underskirt. Betty Lee was seen in a light blue dress. Rachel Yarnell had a powder blue dress accented with blue lace down the front.

Pink has been a wonderful color this spring. Carol Asquith looked sharp in her full pink dress complemented with white accessories. Sherry Griffin chose pink embroidered organdy over a satin underskirt. Rosemary Buhl selected white embroidered over a pink slip. Anne Lusby and Betty Smith were decked-out in pink and white too.

Mary Alice Money was in an aqua sheath with white accessories. Linda Wolfenbarger chose a pink silk organza dress complemented with white shoes and purse.

Several girls preferred blue, as did Louise Doane with her dress of white eyelet with a blue slip and sash. Margaret Bayne was attired in blue and white. Also in blue were Charlotte Allen, Betty Carper, Roy Mae French, and Lynda Lynch. Patsy Brewer chose a white and yellow dress.

All the grads looked debonaire attired in their finery.

East High Places Second In State Meet

Sports Rave With Dave

I am absolutely positive that everyone is in tears because the end of another school year is in sight, but I have managed to pull myself together and write one last column. All the records have been set, all sports battles have either been won or lost; and I suppose everyone is ready to change his sports diet from the hard fought football battles, tension packed basketball games, and swiftly run trackmeets to the finer sports of life — fishing lazily on some creek bank, swimming and boating on the lake, and driving through the mountains. The participants in these activities can be sure of one thing: no coaches to watch over them, but observe those chaperons!

But seriously I am sure I speak for all the athletes when I thank the coaches for their patience, optimistic views, and work in getting all the boys in condition. Also I wish to thank the principal, faculty, and everyone who made possible all our activities this year.

Tennis Tournament

In the spring a man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of tennis. This is just what has happened here at East the past few weeks. A tennis tournament, composed of all the boys who desired to enter, was waged in the afternoons behind the school. Jim Taylor emerged the victor of the boy's singles by topping Gordy Brown 6-1 and 6-3 in the finals.

The doubles champions are undecided and will remain so until there are enough entries to form a tournament.

Athletes Are Feted

Mr. Ward, the father of Sylvia Ward, sponsored a hamburger fry at Concord, May 23, for the Athletic Club. The Booster Club gave jackets to the senior lettermen of the East High basketball squad as a special award.

Participants had the option of going swimming or just consuming a few burgers. Dates were optional, but of course any red-blooded American male had one. I am sure I speak for everyone when I say that a good time was had by all, and I wish to convey to Mr. Ward our sincere thanks and appreciation.

Clean-Up Day Declared

The Athletic Club, guided by the coach sponsors, declared Saturday, May 24, Athletes-clean-up-the-field Day. All the boys brought their lunch, tools, and accessories to condition the football field, which is situated on Wilson Avenue at Castle Street. The project was tabbed a success, but the coaches had one complaint—there are not enough of them.

Thanks to the Editor

I wish to express publicly my most sincere thanks to Barbara Zwick, Editor of the Blue and Gray, for her unfailing patience, her enduring kindness, and her consistent work in making this year's Blue and Gray a booming success. I have enjoyed working (if that's what you call it) under her, and I want to wish her great success in the future, because there will always be a demand for a worker like her. Good luck, Barbara.

Young Life Sponsors Picnic

Young Life sponsored its yearly feast at Concord, May 22, with all the schools in the city, which have Young Life, participating. This is an event to which everybody looks forward and this one was no exception. Everybody had a wonderful time, and sincere thanks would be in order along about this time, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Young Life Staff for the picnic and also for the Club this past year. This will be Carl's last year here in Knoxville because of his transfer to Chicago, so everybody see him or write to him and tell him what the Club has meant to you.

O. R. Sweeps Regional Meet

The Regional Track meet was held Saturday, May 10, at the Oak Ridge High School Track. The meet was almost completely dominated by Oak Ridge's powerful "Wildcats." The Ridgers won the 100 yd. dash, the 220 yd. dash, the 440 yd. run, the pole vault, the high jump, the broad jump, the shot put, the discus, and the two relays.

Bud Lobetti won both hurdle races and came third in the high jump to amass a total of 12 points, making him high point man for the meet. Don Whedbee placed third in the shot put, to round out the scoring for East at 14 points. This was good enough to place East fourth in the meet.

To qualify for the State meet, a participant had to place either first, second, or third in an event. Oak Ridge qualified a whopping total of 20 participants for the State meet, while East had two. The State meet was held at Evans-Collins Field, May 17.

Women like to gossip because it gives them something to talk about while talking.

THE HI-JACKET

East Closes Baseball Season

By David Lovell

East High School closed their baseball season with a 5-1 victory over South Highs' Rockets. This was a make-up game.

East was never in trouble with the Rockets as they jumped to a five-run lead before the rockets could tally. Glen Frye was credited with the win. This was probably Frye's best game of his high school career, as it was a no-hitter. South's lone run came on three straight errors by the East infield.

Tommy Lawson was East's big stick, getting two hits, on a towering triple.

The Mountaineers enjoyed a fairly successful season by ending up with a 6-4 record and just barely missing getting into the District Tournament. Fulton and Young edged East for the tournament positions. During this three-team struggle for third and fourth place league positions, Fulton and Young lost three straight games, while East lost three straight games. These losses really hurt the Eastsiders.

Fulton edged Young 2-1 for the First District Baseball Crown on May 21 at Bill Meyer Stadium. Fulton automatically qualifies for the Regional Tournament to be held May 28-29 at Kingsport.

Supreme Effort By Two-Man Team

East High's two-man State Track Team, Don Whedbee and Bud Lobetti, pooled their efforts Saturday, May 17, to bring a second-place trophy to adorn our showcase. As anticipated, Oak Ridge High extended its dynasty in the State meet by piling up 39½ points for an unprecedented third straight championship. Knoxville East had 18 points to edge Nashville East (17 points) for second place.

A crowd of about 2000, largest ever to witness a State meet, was on hand for the afternoon session of title races.

Five State records were bettered with Lobetti's 19.5 winning performance in the 180 yd. low hurdles ranking as the most imposing time. The former State mark was 20.2. This also bettered Bud's school record which he set earlier this year.

Though finishing behind Ray Cooper of DuPont in the high hurdles, Lobetti also bettered the 15.2 State mark. He was timed at 15 flat, which is also another school record.

Bud rounded out his day by jumping 6' ¾" in the high jump for first place. This gave him 13 points to become high point man for the meet.

Don Whedbee surprised everybody, even himself, by putting the shot 49' 9" to capture first place and set a new school record. This was his best effort for the year.

Oak Ridge weightman, David Fitchpatrick, had to settle for second in the shot, although he had been East Tennessee's most consistent performer before the State.

Track coach, Charles Lobetti, was by far the happiest man around after the meet. He had the privilege of coaching these two, one of whom is his son, and seeing them give an all-out effort to cop second place in the meet and set one record.

Pep Club Has Fun, Frolics, And Food

The members of the Pep Club entertained invited guests at an outing which consisted of sports, fun, and food on Monday evening, May 12. This was the first social event that the Pep Club has had, and it was enjoyable to everyone who attended.

Picnic lunches were brought, and cold drinks were sold for ten cents each. There was no admission charge.

The evening began with everyone participating in a sport of their choice. They could play tennis, badminton, softball, or ping pong. After this, the picnic lunches were devoured; then everyone settled down to a nice quiet evening of dancing.

The Pep Club has just recently given the girls' gymnasium $30.00 for gym equipment.

This has been a good year for the Pep Club, and everyone is urged to join next year. There are no special qualifications except that you can yell loudly, and most girls have no trouble doing that. Dues are only ten centts a month; and although Miss Capps will not be here as sponsor next year, we are certain that Miss Dalton, the new gym teacher, will do a good job with the club.

Proposed Creed For East High School

As a student of East High School, I will endeavor to be courteous and cheerful in all dealings with students and teachers. I will keep myself clean in thought, word, and deed. Realizing my obligations to my school, myself, and my parents, I will maintain grades within my ability. I will be honest in all dealings with teachers and friends and will neither give nor receive aid on tests. Knowing that others depend upon me, I will fulfill all my responsibilities to the best of my ability. I promise that I will conduct myself properly at all times, knowing that my conduct reflects on me, my school, and my parents. I pledge myself to uphold these ideals in order to give my school my loyal and earnest support.

This creed, prepared by the National Honor Society committee, headed by John Murphy and Ann Rose, was presented to the school during senior chapel, May 29.

19 Compete

By Carol Asquith

East High's Band Queen for 1957-58 is Elizabeth Collins. She was crowned at the Spring Band Concert Friday, May 16. Competition was based on the selling of concert tickets. Libby collected $114.50 of the total $643.32 obtained by the entrants.

With amount given by each band member the quota will be reached. The uniforms have been ordered and are expected to arrive next fall.

In addition to being an active member of the Honor Society, Anchor Club, and Beacon Staff, Libby is an active worker at First Christian Church.

Libby had received many honors at East High this year. She was elected Band Sponsor, Homecoming Queen, and a candidate in the "Miss High School" contest. At the present time she is a candidate for June Dairy Queen and the City-County Basketball Queen.

Although Libby hasn't decided what her future occupation will be, she is going to attend the University of Tennessee next fall.

Other candidates were Sara Barnard, Connie Bell, Sandra Bennett, Jane Brooks, Pam Dalton, Sue Drinnen, Carol Griffin, Cindy Gross, Joyce Holbert, Brenda McCoy, Joy McMahan, Linda McMinn, Sarah Miller, Janie Ragsdale, Dee Rockwell, Joan Sandberg, Ginger Watts, Mary Frances Wise, and Geraldine Young.

A KISS

I ran up the door,
Shut the stair,
Said my shoes,
Took off my prayer,
Jumped in the light—
And all because
You kissed me goodnight!

29 Receive E. C. A. Awards

Seniors who have at least 50 points for extra-curricular activities will be presented an E. C. A. award along with their diploma at the graduation exercises, June 3.

These points are kept for each year the student attended high school. The sponsor of each activity evaluates the number of points to be given according to the value and the time spent in the service rendered. If at the end of the senior year they have the minimum points, or more, they will be given the certificate with their diploma. Their names will also be starred on the commencement program.

Twenty-nine seniors will receive the award this year. They are Eddie Beeler, DeWayne Cole, Libby Collins, Raymond Edmonds, Judy Edwards, James Ellis, Sam Fields, Tommy Lawson, Charles Lobetti, Lynda Lynch, Volena Lynch, Bill McGhee, Rosa Messina, Mary Alice Money, Mary Evelyn Mucke, Frank Murphy, John Murphy, Ann Murray, Mike Oliver, Anne O'Dell, Barbara Parkhurst, Monna Pollard, Richard Ray, Joanne Riggins, Ann Rose, Mickey Wayland, Sue Stevens, Linda Wolfenbarger, Barbara Zwick.

Five Honored

Tribute was paid to East's five retiring teachers at a special chapel and a reception given in their honor by the students, faculty, and parents, May 15.

Leaving their textbooks and chalk behind but taking with them the experiences of a teacher, are Misses Ethel Capps, Esther Ellis, Edith Horton, Emily McLaurin, and Virginia Parker.

Each honoree was presented with a corsage, a travel clock in a monogrammed leather case, and individual guest books.

After a trip to Europe this summer, Miss Capps will go to Berea College in Kentucky to set up recereation programs in that area.

Besides taking care of her aunt, Miss Ellis plans to do some painting, reading, and traveling.

Miss Horton plans to do much reading and extensive traveling.

Having more time for hobbies and another trip to Mexico, Miss McLaurin will work for the Field Enterprises Corporation.

At a cottage in Gatlinburg, Miss Parker will do reading, painting, and creative crafts.

Although these teachers will no longer be at East High, they have cherished memories of their teaching careers.
