Junior Class Chooses Officers In "Tight" Election

DAVID LAWSON

DAVID McMAHAN

GINGER WATTS

ROGER HENRY

Out of twenty nominees and through a very "tight" race, the Junior class elected their officers for 1958-59. Roger Henry was selected president; David McMahan, vice-president; David Lawson, treasurer; and Ginger Watts, secretary.

Henry, President

Roger Henry has maintained an "A" average in the fields of science and mathematics; in addition to being vice-president of the Key Club, a probationary member of the National Honor Society; president of the Masquers; president of the second period choir; president of Mrs. McSpadden's home group; forward on the Round-ballers B-team, and a very active member of his church's youth groups. He shows promise and hopes to become a scientist in the future.

Roger feels, "It is a great honor to have been chosen president. I believe we have a very fine Junior class, and we hope to get a lot done, now that we're upper classmen.

McMahan, Vice President

The new vice-president of the Junior class, David McMahan, is active in extra-curricular activities; all the while keeping his goal of "serving mankind by becoming a minister." He is the Key Club's project chairman for this year; a Student Council member; president of Miss Millon's home group; and vice-president of his Latin class. He plays guard on the "B" basketball team and is president of his church youth group.

David says, "I think East High is 'tops.' " It is a well-balanced school, and we of the Junior class hope to do a lot for the school during the rest of the year."

Lawson, Treasurer

David Lawson, treasurer, is considered to be the "best man for the job" by his classmates. He like the other newly-elected officers, is active in school activities. He is a probationary member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Student Council, the Junior class director of the Key Club, and vice-president of his home group. On the varsity football squad he plays left halfback. He says, "I hope to be able to fulfill the obligations of my office well by raising sufficient funds to carry out the plans of our class."

Watts, Secretary

The newly-elected class secretary, Ginger Watts, says, "I guess I like school, but I do know that I like being the class secretary, and I hope to do my best to help better East High in every way." She is the Junior class representative to the Anchor Club, a varsity cheerleader, a Masquer, a member of the fourth period choir, and a feature writer on the Blue and Gray staff.

Mrs. Jessie McSpadden is the new sponsor of the Junior class and says, "I am very happy to be the sponsor of the Junior class. I am impressed with its officers and members, and we hope to accomplish a lot toward the betterment of East High School."

One of the main projects, among others yet undecided, is to stress scholarship in the Junior class; thereby raise the standards of the school as a whole.

Youth Appreciation Week Observed At East High

Bringing honor to the youth of today, Youth Appreciation Week, November 10-16, was observed not only throughout our city, but also here at East High. Sponsored by the Optimist Club of Knoxville, this is the second year this event has taken place.

Beginning the week, many students attended the parade down Gay Street Monday night. All county and city schools participated. Boys and girls from East who were in the parade were Jimmy Justice and Sammy Furrow (most outstanding boys of East), Joyce Holbert and Linda Bunch (most outstanding girls of East), and Rosemarie Sinclair and Jeanette Poore on the church float. East High's band, majorettes, and cheer leaders also marched.

Mr. George R. Dempster, philanthropist and industrial magnate, spoke to the East High School student body on the subject of "The Dignity of Labor" in chapel on Monday, honoring those students who hold outside jobs.

After being introduced by Mr. Paul Brewer. Mr. Dempster told a little about his childhood. He worked on the Panama Canal and then returned to Knoxville to build his business.

"Don't be afraid to get your hands dirty. It pays to know something." These two quotations were the underlying theme of his speech. In closing, Mr. Dempster congratulated the teachers on the fine job they have done, saying, ". . . the nation's future depends on the public school system."

Mr. Cary Mumford, graduate of Wake Forest College and Southern Baptist Seminary, was the speaker of the second chapel program, honoring the religious side of student life. Recognized were those who attend church or Sunday school regularly or who hold church offices.

Mr. Mumford urged young people to realize the fact that everything we do is either right or wrong, productive or destructive. He said that we blame our faults on circumstances and are taking the "I don't care" attitude. "The only kinds of circumstances we are victims of are the ones we have made for ourselves. We can't kid ourselves by saying it doesn't really matter, because it does. It matters because we are human beings."

Ending Youth Appreciation Week, all those students who made honors were recognized in chapel Friday. The National Honor Society presented the program and speaker. Students being honored wore little cards with the torch of knowledge pictured on them. Those making first honors had little blue ribbons attached to their cards. The speaker was Dr. Leroy Graf, who is in the history department at the University of Tennessee. His topic was the "Importance of Education."

FTA Spotlight

The teacher of the month is our hard-working senior English instructor, Miss Ora Dowell.

Miss Dowell graduated from Carson-Newman College with a B.A. degree. She was a versatile student, taking part in sports and scholastic activities. She held student offices such as secretary of the Tennis Club, secretary and treasurer of the Freshman class, vice-president of Knox County Club, president and corresponding secretary of Hypatian Literary Honor Society, secretary and treasurer of Sophomore class. She later received her Master's degree from the University of Tennessee. Before coming to East High, Miss Dowell taught at Rule and Knoxville High.

She lives with her sister and her father, a retired minister, on Fairfax Avenue. They often visit her brother, the Rev. F. M. Dowell, Jr., who is Secretary of Evangelism in the Tennessee Baptist Convention.

In her spare time, Miss Dowell is a Garden Club member who loves to work in her flower garden. She delights in sharing her flowers and sending cards to sick and shut-in friends.

This still leaves time for religious work at Broadway Baptist Church where she has held a number of offices and is at present head of the adult department.

The Board of Directors of Practical English honored Miss Dowell and East High when they chose her as a director for two years. This entitled her to two free trips to New York City.

Miss Dowell's pet peeve is students not having their homework completed.

Follies Present Variety Acts

Singing, dancing, and novelty acts will high-light the 1958 Follies, which will be presented December 4 in the East High auditorium.

The Dramatics Clubs will give a skit from "Seventeen" by Booth Tarkington, using the songs from the original musical comedy which appeared on Broadway a few years ago.

The Anchor Club will do an original act entitled "Hillbilly Hit Parade." Dressed in mountaineer attire, the girls will pantomine and dance to "Thunder Road," "Temptation," "Y'all Come," and "By Heck."

"The Big Story," is the title which the Key Club has given to their portrayal of the story of Tom Dooley. Sammy Furrow will accompany the boys on his ukulele.

Dolls, teddy-bears, and stuffed animals, which normally occupy a shopkeeper's shelf, will come to life as they are touched by the magic wand of a fairy. The toyshop becomes a scene of activity as they dance and sing around the room.

A feature of the Follies will be Nancy Holston's majorettes, who will do a baton twirling routine.

Among the individual performers will be Jerry Warren, playing an accordian solo, and Bertha Walker, doing a song and dance act.

P.T.A. Holds Open House

With the downbeat of "Fess's" baton, the band opened the 1958 P.T.A. open house, on November 6, at 7:30. Mrs. J. M. Carr, president of the Parent Teachers Association, presided and welcomed the parents and guests. After a short business meeting, Rev. D. E. Kribbs gave the devotions.

Each parent followed the schedule of his son's or daughter's classes. During the lunch period the parents went down to the cafeteria and were served punch and cookies. Both teachers and parents had an opportunity to get acquainted.

The library had on display a selection of modern science books which were brought to the attention of the visitors. An outstanding stamp collection, valued at over $500, was loaned to the library for display by Ray Merritt.

Mrs. Jessie McSpadden's room was attractively decorated with pictures of places visited by her family last summer. A picture of the "House of Seven Gables" was especially interesting since it ties in with the literature that the junior English classes are studying. On the blackboard was a drawing by Herman Thompson, which was used in a talk that he gave to the group. Each English class had representatives to give oral presentations so that the visitors would have an idea of what they were doing in class.

Miss Neubert's class presented a group of panelists which gave the parents a better understanding of what the different groups are trying to accomplish.

Knowledge Is Stressed

The BLUE AND GRAY wishes to congratulate the National Honor Society and the Junior Class on their worthy efforts in the field of promoting scholarly achievement. These, among other organizations in the school, fully recognize the fact that we absolutely "have to" set learning first and other, less necessary things, second!

The National Honor Society by its scholarship program and by its achievement roll, and the Junior Class by its project to promote better scholarship throughout the ranks of its members, have both placed another cog in the wheel of the "forward look.'

The "forward look," as referred to here, is not a group of automobiles, but, rather, a feeling or an ideal which should be set firmly in the hearts of us all.

We here at East are very fortunate in having just about the "best" in the fields of English, history, science, and mathematics of any secondary school in this area! We have at our very finger tips the opportunities which mankind has been searching for for countless ages; a free, decent, and public educational system. Although most of us do take some advantages of this opportunity, all of us should take far greater advantages. There are those among us who have never felt the "surge of the power of the 'forward look.' " It is up to the rest of us to end "the dark ages" and bring them to understand that no matter what your goals, keep moving ahead, don't stand still and become stagnant.

Peeping At The "Pix"

By Charlene Lanier

"It's strange, how we are changed
By things that seem so small;
One look can write a book,
One glance can say it all!"

Most of you probably recognize this as a portion of the words from the romantic theme from the movie, "Houseboat." "Houseboat" has everything from Sophia Loren, who gets hired as a housekeeper (can you imagine Sophia, a housekeeper?), to a wistful, blue-eyed, harmonica - playing little boy. At the death of his wife, from whom he has been separated, Cary Grant takes full responsibility of his three children. How they come to understand each other, with help from Sophia, makes for an interesting and enjoyable story. There will be tears of laughter in your eyes, and probably tears of another kind, too. See "Houseboat" at your neighborhood Park Theatre.

A movie of many moods is "In Love and War," starring Robert Wagner, Dana Wynter, and Jeffrey Hunter. It shows the comedy and the tragedy in the personal lives of three young Marines during World War II. It will soon be playing at the Park.

You Mountaineers keep these movies in mind, and if you want to spend a relaxing evening, see a show!

We Give Thanks

We give thanks . . .
For America—
For the sound of the word
For the voices we've heard
Singing the praises of a land born free
And for the special meaning
That it has to you and me.
We give thanks . . .
For Thanksgiving—
For a table set with care
And friendly faces gathered round to share
The blessings of this golden day.
We give thanks
And bow our heads to pray.

TRAFFIC STOPPERS

Lady driver (shutting off motor after trying three times to get her car in a parking place): "That's close enough. We can walk to the curb from here."

Employer: "For this job we want a responsible man."

Applicant: "Then, that's me. Everywhere I've worked, when something went wrong, they told me I was responsible."

Flashes of Fashion

The tapered slim skirt with belt just below the knees has fashion's newest look.

Judy Mills is right in style with her flame-blue skirt with belt just below the knees, and her lighter shade of blue lamb's wool sweater.

Linda Cunningham wears a royal blue skirt with inserted band made into skirt, and a matching chemise sweater. She carries the same color clutchbag. Peggy Holbert strolls the halls in her green and grey checked skirt, which she wears with a grey crew-neck sweater.

Sweaters made of lamb's wool surely make the girls' look "fleecy."

Ginger Sutton catches the eye in her black and grey checked sweater, worn with black skirt and long black socks.

Emphasizing the high school fashions is Deannie Young in her red middy-style weskit and long-sleeve white blouse worn with a black and grey plaid skirt.

Tiny hairbows to match sweaters are one of the popular fads at the present time.

Brenda Gilley and Julie Bean represented East High in a sewing contest sponsored by the Optimist Club, held at Rich's department store, Saturday, November 15. Two entries from each city and county high school modeled their own creations at a fashion show.

Brenda entered an orange and green plaid sheath dress with a tie in the back. She wore black suede opera pumps and carried a black bag as her accessories.

Wearing a low-waisted, multi-colored plaid school dress with a pleated skirt, Julie modeled her entry. She had on black T-strap heels, carried a black bag, and wore short-length white gloves.

What would you do if you had a friend who was a terpsichorean?

Sammy Levy — I'd send him to Eastern State.
Robert Sorah — I'd make him the coolest.
Danny Shipe — I'd see what the lunch room could do with him.
Nancy Grove — I'd send him home quick.
Andy Rader — I'd put him in a zoo.
Frank Reynolds — I'd disintegrate it.
Zafer Roback — I'd put him to bed.
Jay West — Bury him good.
Jerry Warren — I'd send him to Jeanne Dunsmore's house to be cured.
Julie Jones — I'd mop the halls with him.
Fred Weaver — I'd send him to Miss Dowell.
Butch Conover — I'd plant him and watch him grow.
Greg Cartwright — I'd swap it for Alice.
Bill Denton — I'd loan him a Yankee dime.
Mr. Campbell — If it's a woman, I'd really love it.

Howdy!

Wall, I reckon everybody's ready for a big Thanksgiving holiday and also a big dinner. While me and Clementine was in town, we dropped by the turkey farm to get us a turkey. I declare, we felt so doggone sorry for them thar turkeys that I just couldn't bring myself to get us one.

While me and Clementine had a little time we thought we would stop and visit for a spell. I was talkin' to some kids, and they said that Jimmy Christian was callin' everybody "bootlip." If you all are a wonderin' why Jerry Atkins has a big knot on his head, just ask senior, Judy Mills. That's what you get for peeping around corners, Jerry.

Patsy Lindsey been sayin' that all them senior girls better stay away from that cute little 'ole David Lewis. Wonder why?

Who's that good-looking guy that Judy Beesley's been seen sportin' around with in one of them big white chevoletts, think he's an ole mountaineer grad!

Wonder who all them Carter and Young rings belong too that have been seen on Nancy Atherton, Jo Ann Arden, Linda Cunningham, Nancy Gregory, Phoebe Phye. Looks as them country boys really got that certain touch.

Patsy York is really ridin' in style these days, while the rest of us are dragin' along on foot. (Boy, I shore am glad I got Clementine).

My! Dennis Webb sure is cheerful these days. Could that little gal called Kathy have something to do with this.

As I was mosing on down this long hall, I saw Connie Sue Bell talkin' to some boy, I thank they call him Fredo Weaver, or something of the sort.

I wonder if Jerry Collins has anything to do with Linda Glass being late to history class?

Wall, folks its been fun visitin' for a spell, but guess Clementine and me had beter get on up the hollar.

Sincerely yors,
Willie Willifor'

Sports Review With "McGoo"

By Delano Doyal

Now that football season is over, Coaches Clayton Hancock, Bob Polston and Jim Reasonover, are making plans for next year's squad. Skull practices will continue throughout the year. Players will work on blocking assignments and defenses. Coach Reasonover will do all in his power to prevent another bleak season at East.

Football boys are making plans for a football club, which will be separate from the Athletic Club. The coaches will be sponsors.

Statistical Records

These were the leading tacklers as shown by total number of tackles made. "Chubby" Watts, 67; Zafer Roback, 55; Richard Foster, 53; Dennis Webb, 52; Doug Wise, 45; Freddy Weaver, 37; Tommy Greene, 33; Bill White, 28; David Lawson, 26; Dick Easton, 25; Delano Doyal, 24; and Greg Cartwright, 20.

Punting

Doug Wise punted 38 times for 286 yards, for a 34-yard average. Bobby Bently had a 39.8 kick-off average. Following close behind is Dennis Webb with a 36-yard average. Greg Cartwright is third with a 30-yard average.

Passes

John (Star) Browning passes 142 times, completing 61 for 611 yards and two T. D.'s. Doug (Weasle) Wise passes 9 times for one touchdown; completing three for 25 yards.

Tommy Greene caught 11 passes for 126 yards, averaging 11.5 yards per catch. Tommy caught one touchdown pass.

Sponsored by the Optimist Club of Knoxville, this is the second year this event [illegible]. Ed Poore caught four passes, totaling 67 yards for a 16.8 average.

John Browning tried 55 times, gaining 10 yards for an average of 1/3 yard per carry. David Lawson tried 74 times, gaining 361 yards for an average of 5 yards. Doug Wise tried 88 times, gaining 270 yards for an average of 3.1 yards per carry. "Chubby" Watts ran the ball seven times, gaining 35 yards for 5-yd. average. Doyal ran the ball once for nine yards, for an average of nine yards. Wayne

DELANO DOYAL

Taylor ran the ball 19 times for a 3.1 average. Jimmy Moore gained 26 yards in six tries for a 4.3 average. Forest Needham gained 67 yards in 21 tries for a 3.2 average.

This year's squad gained 1,721 yards, averaging 3.9 yards per play. They made 80 first downs and had 245 yards penalties against them.

Coach Reasonover would personally like to thank the cheerleaders for their fine spirit and their help in selling programs; also managers, Kinser Ellenburg, Alvin Edwards, Tommy Witt, and Robert Vandergriff; Mr. DeRobertis and the band for their hard work and excellent playing; and David Gurley and George Tampas for coaching the B-team.

Coach Reasonover has been playing about 25 boys in each game throughout the season. Fifteen to twenty returning lettermen should give East a sound nucleus for a bright season next year.

When asked about next year's team, Coach Reasonover said, "He wanted the East boys to be mean and vicious and to knock both on offense and defense."

Know Your Players

These are the boys who should help East in roundball this year. Most of them will see varsity duty at one time or another.

Jim Justice, guard, 5'9' senior captain, lettered last year as a junior; a real scrapper and asset to the team.

Noel Cramer, forward, 6'1" senior co-captain, two-year letterman, made all-Class AA last year as a junior. A very hard worker who should have one of the best averages in the city.

Bo Minnis, center, 6'3" junior, lettered as a sophomore, seeing much duty as reserve center. Past experience and ability should put the center position into capable hands.

Sam Furrow, 6'4" senior forward, was starter on last year's B team and has developed tremendously since then. Should help the team a great deal.

Dickie Long, 5'8" senior guard, was a regular on the B team last year. A natural athlete, who gives his "all" every minute on the court, is a fine ball-handler, which every team has to have to "go."

Jerry Collins, 6'2" senior forward, was a regular on last year's B team. A fine shot and rebounder who should contribute much to the East cause.

Mike Connover, 6'4" junior forward, transferred from Norris High, should develop as the season goes on and as he grows accustomed to our style of playing.

Doug Wise, 5'8" junior guard, played first string guard on the B team last year. A steady performer and should help East with its guard duties.

Harry Gibbs, 5'9" junior guard, played B team last year. A hard worker who, with game experience, should develop a great deal.

Don Collins, 5'9" senior guard, played on last year's B team. Don is an excellent shot who has improved tremendously since last season and should be a great help to the team.

Alumni Footballers Play Important Game

East High's alumni of 1952-53-54, played against the alumni of 1955-56-57. This game was played at Evans Collins Field on November 21. The proceeds of this game will go to help Park Junior High School get uniforms for their newly-approved football program.

Kyle (Buddy) Cruze, first all-state player from East High and a member of the 1956 Look All-American team as a Tennessee end, played and also coached graduates from 1952-54.

Sam Jones, ex-coach at old Knoxville High, also coached the 1952-54 squad.

Coach Clayton Hancock of East was the coach for the 1955-57 squad.

Coaches, Papers Elect All-Stars

Now is the time of year when coaches, officials, and newspapers are making their all-star football selections.

Knoxville and Knox County are fortunate in having two all-star polls. These are the Journal's All-AA team and the Knoxville News-Sentinel's All-City team. The News-Sentinel has presented silver footballs to members of the first team.

On the All-City first team, East was represented by one player, Chubby Watts. Dennis Webb, center, was on the second team; and Guard Richard Foster, on the third team. Receiving honorable mention for the City squad from East was End Bo Minnis, and Backs David Lawson and John Browning.

Boy and Girl of the Month

STEVE WALL

MARGARET ANN KEITH

Steve Wall, whose capability as a leader has won him the friendship and respect of his fellow students, is the Blue and Gray's selection of boy of the month.

Steve is a hard-working senior who is well-liked by both his classmates and his teachers. He is an honor student in a science and math curriculum.

With a friendly, care-free attitude, Steve gives many valuable hours to various school activities. As a candidate for the most outstanding boy of East High, a delegate to the convention of the Southern Association of Student Councils in Jacksonville, Florida; and sports editor of the annual; the voice of the student body places even further confidence in him as a senior director, vice-president of the senior class, and president of the National Honor Society and Student Council.

He renders service in his community as well as in his school through his work in the Boy Scouts. An Eagle Scout with two Palms and a God and Country Award, he is now working toward his Silver Award.

Putting a finishing touch to his many activities, Steve is a member of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, where he is an officer in Sunday school and in training union and a participant in the youth choir.

Upon graduation, Steve will attend either Carson Newman College or the University of Tennessee for two years, and then take his military training.

"I would be very honored if I were chosen to receive this award, and I hope I could live up to it," was his reply as to how he would feel if chosen as boy of the month.

He lives at 2614 Woodbine Avenue with his parents, his 20-year-old brother, Jimmy; and his 14-year-old brother, Tommy, who is in the ninth grade at Park Junior.

Mix a smile with ability and personality, then add ambition and determination — the result, the Blue and Gray's choice of girl of the month — Margaret Ann Keith.

In accordance with an old saying, "If you want something done, ask a busy person," one of Margaret Anne's hobbies is working. She spent her summer working, and now spends her free time working. She always accepts new responsibilities and finds even more time to enjoy her many friends.

Hard work leads to achievements and honors. As faculty editor and circulation manager of the annual, a member of the Student Council for three years, the National Honor Society, and a charter member of the Anchor Club, she adds to her list of achievements the honors of cheerleader for three years; football, band and homecoming queen candidate, Junior class secretary-treasurer, and candidate for most outstanding girl of East High.

Leaving not even one leaf unturned, Margaret Ann's name can always be found on the honor roll. As a member of the swimming team and the 1957 East High tournament-winning volleyball team, sports complete her well-rounded curriculum.

She likes attractive clothes, reading, letter-writing, and cheerleading; but gossipers and people who don't cooperate in their work remain as her pet peeves.

With a look into the future, Margaret Ann plans to enter the University of Tennessee in the School of Business Administration, obtain work, and eventually get married.

In reply as to how she would feel if she were selected as girl of the month, she said, "I would be very, very honored."

With her parents and her 13-year-old brother, Bobby, who attends Park Junior High; she lives at 2520 Parkview Avenue and attends the First Presbyterian Church where she is an active member.

Horse sense, naturally, dwells in a stable mind.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Using the theme "Have Books, Will Study," the National Honor Society is sponsoring a program to promote scholarship. They will honor the students each six weeks who progress steadily, but do not make the honor roll. Each six weeks every teacher will send in the names of boys and girls who have improved in his class. From these nominations, students will have their names put on the Achievement Roll which will be placed over the front hall case every six weeks.

Dressed in Western attire complete with hats, spurs, and holstered guns, two actors appeared in each home room with a skit stressing their theme.

ANCHOR CLUB

The Anchor Club recently had the oil portrait of Mr. W. E. Evans, former principal of Knoxville High School and East High School, hung by the office door. A gold plaque identifies the picture, and a light will be installed over the picture in the near future.

As a service club the Anchor Club held soc hops, car washes, bake sales, and sold innumerable items last year in order to pay for this portrait.

The long-range project of the Anchor Club is to buy drapes for the school cafeteria. At present time, the money-raising project of the club is selling gummed name labels. The labels cost $1.00 for each box of 300 and are useful for identifying letters, photographs, and records.

Cookie Recipe Places Second

LaVerne Weaver won second prize in the Individual Favorite Recipe Contest sponsored locally by the Knoxville Utilities Board and nationally by "Seventeen" magazine. She received an electric mixer as her award, and her recipe will be submitted to the national contest. The winners were presented their prizes last Saturday morning in the Leisure Kitchen of K.U.B.

Her favorite recipe which won was:

Raisin M-M-Mumbles

2½ c. seedless raisins
½ c. sugar
2 T. cornstarch
¾ c. water
3 T. lemon juice

Cook the above ingredients over low heat, stirring constantly about five minutes until thickened. Cool.

Crumb Mixture

¾ c. soft margarine or butter
1 c. brown sugar (well-packed)
1¾ c. sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. soda
1½ c. rolled oats

Mix butter with sugar; add dry ingredients, then oats. Press one-half mixture into 14x9x2 greased pan. Spread on filling. Pat on remaining crumbs. Bake at 400° from twenty to thirty minutes. Cut into bars.

Seale's Group Leads

Once more contributing to the success of a community project, East High reached its goal of $97 in the United Fund Red Cross Drive. This represents 100% for our school.

This year's campaign was most successful in the freshmen and junior groups, with each one participating at least 100%. Many sophomore and senior groups also reached their goals.

Mrs. Seale's group raised the most money for the sophomore class and also for the entire school. Coming close behind, Mr. Weaver's group led the freshmen; Mr. Brewer's, the juniors; and Mrs. Milburn's, the seniors.

A special chapel opened the campaign, and many students experienced the satisfaction of knowing that they had a part in helping those less fortunate than themselves.

I think, you think, he thinks, all think.
I copy, you copy, he copies, all flunk.

"Your eyes," thrilled the sophisticated senior, "they're beautiful. I see dew in them." "Take it easy bub," drawled his girl. "That's ain't dew. That's don't."
