Commencement Climaxes Course of Class of '59

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Seniors Form E, Portraying Their Everlasting Loyalty To East

Memorable Day Arrives June 2

East High seniors are preparing for their commencement to be held at the University of Tennessee Auditorium on June 2 following a week of festivities.

Commencement speakers have chosen "Progression or Retrogression—Which?" as the main topic for their address. Individual topics include: "In the Field of Educational and Cultural Development," Dianne Cass; "In the Scientific World of Wonder," Danny Davis; "In the Realm of Character Building," Billie Ray Cannon; "In the Sphere of American Government and Politics," Tom Eggleston.

East Choir and Band

The East choir, led by Mrs. Judith N. Okey, will sing "America the Beautiful" and "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works." The band will play the processional, "Land of Hope and Glory," and the recessional, the "Triumphal March" from Aida in addition to "Overture, Mountain Echoes." All band numbers are under the direction of Mr. Fred DeRobertis.

Rev. Donald E. Kribbs, pastor of Park City Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Special Honors

Recognition of special honors is by Mr. L. Gale Gardner, principal, while Mr. C. A. Browning, East science instructor, will recognize awards in scientific accomplishments.

Following the presentation of the class of 1959 by Roy Anderson, Supervisor of Secondary Education, Dr. John Burkart, president of the Board of Education will award the diplomas.

This class has been an outstanding one and boasts numerous achievements to its credit, according to members of the faculty. The students and faculty of East High extend their congratulations and best wishes for a happy and successful future as this class crosses a threshold on its way to higher work and nobler play.

THE CLASS OF '59, THEY REALLY SHINE

Chapel Highlights Class Day Events

One of the most memorable days for the seniors will be Class Day, May 28. The freshmen will look up with awe at the lovely senior girls in their gaily colored and petite dresses.

The main event enjoyed will be the Class Day chapel. Those participating in this program will be Earl Reed, Don Collins, Tom Eggleston, Delano Doyle, Jerry Warren, Gail Evans, Gene Scates, Alice Driver, Judy Wolfe, Ann Sheckles, Joan Layman, Margaret Anne Keith, Sylvia Ward, Sylvia Roberts, Jean Filler, Sue Ella Hankins, Carolyn White, LaVerne Weaver, Eddie Crippen, Becky Foust, Billie Ray Cannon, Janice Doyal, Tommy Cross, Freddie Weaver, and all the band seniors.

During the chapel program the Lord's Prayer, special music, and awards will be presented. To end the program the seniors will sing their class song.

East Students Receive Ratings

The brass sextet, composed of Wayne Looney, Charles Bost, Jimmy Young, Mike Conover, Greg Cartwright, and Richard L. Frye, was given a rating of one at the Carson-Newman Solo and Ensemble Festival held Saturday, April 25.

Richard Frye, Wayne Looney and Don Manley of the trumpet trio, and Paula McKamey and Brenda Hutchison of the clarinet duet were rated two. The clarinet quartet of LaVerne Weaver, Prissy Albright, Charlene Lanier, and Brenda Hutchison were rated three.

The ratings from one to three stand for superior, excellent, and good. Judges rate the groups on performance, intonation, suitability of the number, and ability.

Seniors Plan For Future

The question in every senior's mind concerning his classmates before they graduate is "What are your plans for the future?"

So that all of us may know the answer to this question a survey of the Senior Class was made. Some of your classmates will continue their jobs; others will seek new positions, some will enter colleges, nurse's training, armed forces and cosmetology.

Colleges

Among those who have sent their applications to U.T. are Judy Adcock, Diana Austin, Marsha Barnard, Connie Sue Bell, Charles Bost, Bobby Brooks, Linda Gail Bunch, Billie Ray Cannon, Greg Cartwright, Phyllis Claiborne, Tommy Cross, Alice Driver, Howard Dyer, Judy Edmonds, Jean Filler, Becky Ford, Becky Foust, Richard Frye, Sam Furrow, Ed Gass, Nancy Grove, Judy Harbin, Tommy Haworth, Alice Henry, Steve Humphrey, Barbara Jones, Jimmy Justice, Margaret Keith, Brenda Krauss, Joan Layman, Sammy Levy, Joan Sandberg, Gene Scates, Berel Scheib, Alan Schwartz, Danny Shipe, Norman Slovis, Ludwin Spier, Jimmy Taylor, Sylvia Ward, Jay West, Carolyn White, Howard Williams, Carol Woolf, Noel Cramer, Eleanor Jones, Bob Orrell, LaVerne Weaver, Danny Davis, Tom Eggleston and Brenda Cate.

Attending Carson Newman will be Buddy Cloninger, Sue Drinnen, Tommy Greene, Joe Heatherly, George James, Bill Johnson, Tommy Mellon, Judy Moyers, Rose Marie Sinclair, Steve Wall, Richard Wallace, Freddy Weaver and Gary Coble.

Maryville College has applicants Annette Brobeck and Marjorie King. Armed Forces

Uniforms will be worn by many of our boys in the armed forces. Those entering the services are Lowell Cole, Navy; Eddie Crippen, Army; Wayne Epperson, Army; Richard Veale, Army; Earl Reed, Air Force; Frank Reynolds, Air Force and Elmer Perkins, Air Force.

Working

Those who are planning for future homes and planning to work on are Judy Beesley, Mary Evelyn Brown, Dot Duckett, Linda Boruff, Pat Ely, Linda Glass, Joyce Gregg, Juliatte Jones, Sharon McPherson, Aileen Sliger, Patsy York, Tommy Anderson, Ronnie Brimer, James Crittendem, A. J. Daniels, Richard Dean Frye, Peggy Holbert, Shelby Pollard.

Seniors Earn Scholarships

University of Tennessee Freshman scholarships were awarded to five of East's seniors.

Tommy Cross received a $250.00 scholarship in Engineering. Becky Foust and Sally Fields received $200.00 scholarships in Liberal Arts. Billie Ray Cannon received a $200.00 scholarship in the College of Education. Brenda Krauss won a $200.00 scholarship to the school of Journalism in the College of Business Administration.

Eleanor Jones was presented with $225.00 for a University of Tennessee Art Course, by Dr. Black of the Knox County Book Store. Annette Brobeck won a scholarship to Maryville College for $200.00.

Steve Wall is making plans to accept the scholarship he won at Carson Newman. He also won an alternate scholarship at U. T.

East High has three seniors who have had a perfect attendance since the eight grade. These students are: Sylvia Roberts, Shirley Williams and Howard Dyer.

Furrow Wins Second Place In National Sales Essay Contest

At the Knoxville Sales Executive Club luncheon honoring the first place boy and girl winners of the City and County schools in the "Selling as a Professional Career" essay contest, Mr. George Hall, president, made the surprising announcement to the club members and guests that Sam Furrow, East High, had won second place in the National Contest. Sam attended expecting to receive his award certificate and the $15 local prize, but he did not know he was to be presented with a check for $250 for the second place boys' essay in the United States.

Sam and Brenda Krauss had their essays submitted to the national contest, as both were rated first in the Knoxville area. Both students read their winning essays to the club members and guests, including the high school principals, D.E. teachers, essay winners from all the schools, and the outstanding D.E. students. Each local winner received an award certificate and a check for $15.

Carolyn Walker was chosen as the outstanding D.E. student of the year from East. Her name is engraved on the D.E. plaque. The club sponsors this award which is given in recognition of successful work on the job and in the classroom. Each school presented its honored student for this award.

Diplomas: Passports to Life

The picture on the front of your BLUE AND GRAY is a portrait of the embodiment of the hopes and dreams of all the world. Within the giant "E" are to be found the doctors who will care for your children, the judges who'll sit in your courts, the carpenters and architects who will use their skills to build you the finest house possible, and all the other persons who will do what they can to make your lives more enjoyable.

You may ask how your classmates could possibly do all this for humanity. They will be able to for this one, simple reason: all of them have been engaged, for the last four years, in gaining a liberal education! How many facts they know or how many verbs they can correctly conjugate is relatively unimportant. Although it is well that these facts be understood, it is much more vital that every graduate has a deep and real understanding of how to get along with people and how to do what is right, both physically and morally, no matter what the consequences.

All during our high school experience we have been blessed with two things: willing instructors who were able to guide us through the straight and narrow path, and the opportunity to fulfill the American dream; a free and good education for all persons no matter what particular race or creed to which they happen to belong! This is just one of the many contributing factors which have gone to make the class of 1959 what it is. When we seniors walk off that stage on the evening of June 2, we will be carrying more than just a few pieces of paper neatly and attractively wrapped in a lovely folder. We will be taking it upon ourselves to further the quest of mankind, that all peoples shall live together harmoniously and without fear. These four years of "toil", as we will fully realize after we leave these walls, are our passport to life; a passport which for those who have gained that liberal education will mean a future of endless contentment and enjoyment from just pure living. There is no uneducated man here!

Peeping At The "Pix"

By CHARLENE LANIER

How would you like to say a few words and turn into a shaggy dog? Well, it may not sound like such a pleasant prospect, but it surely makes for movie fun. Can you imagine how it would feel to be blissfully dancing along, then to look dreamily into your partner's face and find it completely covered with shaggy white hair? To further complicate matters and add more hilarity, the dog uncovers a spy ring operating from his own neighborhood. He has a hard time making anyone believe him, though. After all, who would listen to the mumblings of a big shaggy dog? Don't miss The Shaggy Dog and all the fun that goes with it.

Curves and law — an unusual combination. But unusual combinations are what make interesting movies, and, in this case, a funny one. It's The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw, starring Kenneth Moore (the law) and Jayne Mansfield (the curves). The story opens in London, England, at the home of a prominent gunsmith (Kenneth Moore). He decides that his business would be more successful in the western part of the U.S., so he departs for Fractured Jaw. Here he meets J.M., the owner of the main hotel and saloon. Moore is unaware of the many dangers of western living, and despite the fact that the coffin maker, minister, and mayor are all looking forward to the event of his death, he manages to disappoint all of them by not accommodating them in this matter, and barely escapes death many times. The whole plot is a riot, and there's a special on this one, too. For the time it plays at the Park Theatre, you can get two tickets for the price of one.

Denton's Dillys

Rockabye, Senior, on the tree top;
As long as you study, your grades will not drop.
Keep up your studies, for if your marks fall,
Then down will come Senior, Diploma, and all.

Little cuts from classes,
Little slips marked late . . .
Make a senior wonder
If he'll graduate.

I want to be a Senior
and with the Seniors stand
A pencil stuck behind my ear,
A notebook in my hand.
No, I wouldn't be a president,
I wouldn't be a King,
I want to be a Senior
And never do a thing!

THEN AND NOW:

1900: All right, children, we will now have our reading lesson.

1959: O.K., you frits, let's get started.

1900: May I have the honor of having the next dance?

1959: Come on, kid, let's dig this jazz.

Mountain Ears

Wal! It's jest bout time to put old Clementine out to pasture for another year.

As I travel up the mountain I think back to the year 1955 when the graduating seniors entered East as scared, lowly, uneducated freshmen. They wasn't so important then, but I seem to remember little events that happened.

Carolyn White was goin' with Richard Kelley. Virginia Finley had short hair. Nobody knew who Joyce Holbert was. Chubby Watts was pint size and played football for the Baby Mountaineers. Joan Layman was vice-president of the Freshman Class, and started dating Richie Hooper. Linda Glass had never heard of Jerry Collins and Jimmy Justice and Sharon weren't going together.

The Recreation Program was introduced and the juke box was worn out playing such popular songs as "My Babe," "Once in a While," "Tutti-Frutti," "Sixteen Tons," "Band of Gold," and "Smokey Joe's Cafe."

Noel Cramer had never dreamed of being a basketball star. Linda Cunningham was dating Don Everence, and Jerry Warren wasn't dreading Miss Neubert's history class.

Judy Beesley had never dreamed of mixing her graduation and her wedding day and Linda McMinn hadn't thought about a full time cooking job.

Janice Doyal was vice-president of Miss McLaurin's Latin class. No Latin student will ever forget the annual Latin Club banquet.

The B - Team Cheerleading Squad was started with Jeanne Dunsmore, Joan Layman, and Margaret Ann Keith. Dianne Cass won a trip to England, and Miss Capps was just returning, with exciting tales, that she was eager to relate to the freshmen.

Who will ever forget taking General Science under Mr. Huling? The freshmen found Mr. Bible and his lovelorn advice.

Peggy Holbert didn't have a house of her own, then, and Tommy Green didn't know he'd be playing on the City-County football team. Linda Bunch never thought of running for City-County football queen, and Linda Boruff was the rage in her orange skirt and sweater set.

Them was the days when love was new, and so was high school. It looks like me and Clementine has finally reached the top of the mountain, and since we's planning to rest all summer, we'd better get started.

This is Willie Williford saying so long for another year.

Thanks Jerry . . .

The seniors wish to express their appreciation to Jerry Duncan for compiling all of their credits and sending them to the various colleges.

EAST MAJORETTES STRIKE FINAL POSE FOR YEAR—Seated: Carolyn White and Christine Moss, Head Majorette. Standing: Sandy Bettis, Jane McBride, and Patsy Combs.

Senior Sports Review

By DICK EASON

Athletic events at East throughout the 1958-59 campaign were very exciting. Although we didn't come up to our expectations in football, we had a most sportsmanlike team.

Eight boys who have been chosen as East High's top senior athletes are: Dickie Long, Chubby Watts, Noel Cramer, Dennis Webb, Tommy Green, Sammy Furrow, Jimmy Taylor and Don Collins.

Dickie Long has participated in sports since his grammar school days. He went to the State meet in his sophomore year and came in fourth in the 100 yard dash. Dickie was hampered by an injury in his junior year, but came back strong in his senior year to go to the State meet again. Although he did not place he is noted to be one of the fastest men in East Tennessee.

He has played basketball for four years and was a top notch guard. Dickie is truly an outstanding athlete.

Chubby Watts who played football for four years and track for three years is going to be missed around here. Not only was Chubby on the Class AA All-Star squad and All-City squad, but he was named the scrappiest lineman in the city. Chubby will represent East in the City-County All-Star game.

He has run track for three years and earned two letters. Chubby is a good Christian boy and envied by all his teammates.

Noel Cramer is laying back trying to decide which scholarship he will take. He has had offers from such well-known schools as the University of Tennessee, Vanderbilt, and Carson-Newman. He was the star performer on our basketball team. He made All-City and will play in the City-County game. Noel had the best shot around this part of Knoxville and one of the best in East Tennessee. He certainly deserves to be one of the top senior athletes.

Dennis Webb, who made all-city catcher in baseball last year did not get to show his skill on the diamond this year because East did not field a team. He has played football three years at East. Dennis did not get a starting role until his senior year but he proved to be great. He made second string All-City. Dennis has a well rounded personality and should do well in life. He also represented East on the All-Scholastic football team.

Tommy Greene has played football for three years. He got himself an assignment to play in the City, County game. The hard work and determination of Tommy made him valuable for the gridders this past fall. Tommy played baseball in his junior year. His hustle and determination will remain in the minds of the Mountaineers in the years to come.

Sam Furrow was the most underated basketballer on the court. He was not used at the first of the season very much but Mr. Bible finally found his power and played him more frequently near the end of the year. Sam had one of the best shots on the team. He is an outstanding boy and can always be found with his head about two feet above everybody else.

Jimmy Taylor did not receive much recognition for his performance on the track team. In the first track meet he won the discus, the 880, and was on the two-mile relay team for a total of 13 points. He was the third top scorer for East. Jimmy deserves all the glory he can get.

Don Collins was an All-City pitcher in baseball last year but did not get to prove his ability this year. He was one of the most publicized pitchers in the league. He also was a guard on the basketball team. Don proved his talent near the last of the year. He is a popular boy at East and is well liked by all.

Majorettes Add Color to Band

The high-stepping beauties have shown their skill throughout the 1958-59 school year. Chris Moss, head majorette, and Carolyn White are the graduating seniors. Patsy Combs, Sandie Bettis, and Jane McBride will be returning to take the leading roles in the band's activities next year.

On May 20, two majorettes will be chosen from the present 10th grade. They will be selected for two years.

Each majorette owns a wardrobe of various uniforms, including a blue and white one to match the cheerleaders' basketball uniforms; a regulation uniform of white satin with a long sleeve jacket and matching skirt and tights trimmed in fur; and a white corduroy leotard with fringe.

The majorettes devote endless hours of their time in practicing for their performances. Two of the many outstanding performances of this year were the hula hoop and a Spanish dance. East High is proud of the majorettes who have well represented it.

They have appeared at all football games, in front of the parades, and at the pep rallies. Thanks to the majorettes for a job well-done.

If it costs you a dollar to make a friend, keep the dollar.

Sports Hunt With Hundley

By Jerry Hundley

JERRY HUNDLEY

The schools in surrounding Knoxville have been divided into three divisions, A, AA, and AAA. There will be a champion from each group and the winner of A will play AA and the winner of this contest will play AAA. These divisions are based on the enrollment of each school. East is in the AA division and has a good chance of winning the AA championship.

East has started spring football again with 23 players, with nine of the varsity players in study hall. This has knocked a hole in our football team defensively and offensively.

Joyce Holbert was elected by the seniors to represent East as a cheerleader in the city-county all-star football game. It will be played during the month of August at Evans Collins stadium. Chubby Watts, guard, and Tommy Greene, end, will represent East in the all-city game. Chubby and Tommy were standouts on our team this year. They both were hard workers on the practice field.

In addition to making all-city, Chubby made the class AA. This has taken hard work on the part of Chubby and the coaches.

All persons earning letters in sports were honored in a chapel program, May 14. There were 53 lettermen in football, basketball, and track. There were 28 football lettermen including four managers. Basketball had 13 including two managers and track had 12 including one manager.

East was also honored by receiving the Optimist Club Sportsmanship trophy for the last year's athletic season. This trophy is awarded each year to the school who shows the best sportsmanship throughout the entire year. The officials that referee the games turn in score cards that are tabulated and the school showing the highest score receives the trophy.

This is the first time East has ever won it and we hope to keep it as long as possible.

Club News

ANCHOR CLUB

Anchor Club officers elected for the coming year are Prissy Albright, president; Carole Webster, vice-president; Brenda McCoy, secretary; Janie McBride, treasurer. Ginger Watts and Pam Dalton were elected to head "The Ways and Means Committee."

These officers were installed at a mother-daughter banquet at the S&W Cafeteria, Tuesday, May 12. The mothers were presented corsages. Rev. Gordon Goodgame, assistant pastor of Magnolia Methodist Church, was the speaker at the banquet.

KEY CLUB

New members of the Key Club were inducted during the chapel on May 14. The boys chosen for this honor are Nolan Gilley, Tommy Harbin, Eddie McEyea, Zack Bolt, John Clark, Norman Curtis, Mickey Shelton, David Jack, and Bill Black from the ninth grade. Sophomores were Teddy Shelton, Tommy Mitchell, Lynn Brewer, Norman Busch, Ted Lane, Jerell Killian, and George Courtney. The new members from the junior class are Bob Beard, H. R. Twitty, Ted Pearson, and Allen Coleman.

Mr. Hyde Harper, president of the Eastside Kiwanis, gave a short talk on the duties of the officers and the aims of the Key Club. This was the formal installation for next year's officers.

The club selected Dee Rockwell as next year's sweetheart. Dee was chosen because of her character and her willingness to work.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Officers for the 1959-'60 National Honor Society are Larry Ventis, president; Sally Hunter, vice-president; Eunice Truan, secretary; Herman Saatkamp, treasurer and Andy Radar, reporter.

Nominees for the different offices were presented to the society at a recent meeting and were voted on at that time.

New officers were installed at the annual picnic at Tyson Park.

F. T. A.

The W. E. Evans Future Teachers of America Club held a banquet on May 8, at Weaver's Cafeteria, to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the club.

Past members of the club were invited to attend the banquet. Among the guests were Ester Ann Craig and her husband, Rodger Luebki; Sarah Hensley and her husband, Bob Johnson; and Phyllis Alder and her husband Bob Chambers. Mrs. Leubki, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Chambers were members of the F.T.A. in 1956.

Barbara Parkhurst, president and Mary Alice Money, vice president and Sally Phyllips were the representatives of the class of 1957-1958. They are now attending the University of Tennessee.

Anita Wagner was called to Park Lowry School this year to substitute for a first grade teacher and discovered she had substituted for Mildred Atkins, a charter member of the Evans Club.

Esposito is Honored

Mr. John Esposito has been selected to be a participant in the University of Virginia Academic Year Institute for teachers of Sciences and Mathematics for the school year beginning September, 1959. The National Science Foundation provides tuition, university fees, books, and family allowances.

Mr. Esposito will work toward his Master's Degree and take mathematics courses. Mrs. Esposito and their children will join him to live in Charlottesville.

One of the objectives of the Foundation is to consider the roles of the individual sciences and mathematics in the national interest. The National Science Foundation itself does not have a voice in the selection of participants for the institutes. The criteria and selection processes are controlled entirely by the university or college offering an institute. The Foundation has suggested that only candidates be considered primarily on the basis of professional competence and promise as teachers of the sciences and mathematics.

Council Members Wage Campaigns For Office

Student Council officers for the year 1959-60 are David McMahan, president; Dee Rockwell, vice-president; Julie Bean, secretary; and Pam Dalton for treasurer.

A chapel program followed by posters in the halls kicked off the campaign. Duke Sharp played for them in the halls to arouse interest for their party. The Mountaineers' Echo had Jerry Warren playing his accordion for the benefit of freshmen and sophomores. For advertisement of the third party, the Jerbs, had girls wearing posters on their backs.

You can always tell a Yankee
You can always tell a Dutch
You can always tell a Senior
But you cannot tell him much!

Blue and Gray Fills Positions

Carole Webster was appointed editor of the Blue and Gray for the coming year. Her experience as news and feature writer this year enabled Carole to fill this important post.

Position of business manager will be filled by Jerry Atkins. Jerry being business manager for this year is well qualified for this job.

News editor for the year of 1959-60 Blue and Gray is Roger Henry.

Senior Styles

Senior girls will look radiant in their class day frocks in pastel colors of spring. The joy of graduation makes the girls forget the agony of walking around all day in high heels.

Phyllis Claiborne and Dorothy Duckett will each wear a dress of embroidered organdy. Phyllis's dress is white organdy over blue taffeta. It will be set off by a large bow in the back. Dorothy's is pink embroidered organdy over pink taffeta. Her dress is made more appealing by scalloped neckline, sleeves and hem.

Linda Gail Bunch is wearing a full white dress with lace bodice and bow in front; also lace around the bottom.

Janice Doyal has a pink batiste dress with pleated skirt. It is embroidered across the bodice and skirt in pink and green.

Arriving in a straight yellow dress with nylon over skirt is Linda Glass. Martha Deck has white nylon over taffeta with puffed sleeves.

Sally Fields will be decked out in a V neck pale lavender silk dress.
