

Seniors Polish Class Play To Be Given Thurs.

Comedy Features the Vain Attempts of Aristocrats To Turn Servants.

SINGLE PERFORMANCE

Cast Includes Helen Mooney, John Byerly, Bill Lichtenwanger, and Others.

"Come Out of the Kitchen," a three-act comedy, written by A. E. Thomas, based on the story by the same name by Alice Duer Miller, will be presented by the senior A class of K. H. S. on Thursday, January 26.

Following is a list of the characters in the play: Olivia Dangerfield, alias Jane Ellen—Helen Mooney; Elizabeth Danderfield, alias Araminta—Laura Rogers; Miss Falkner, Tucker's sister—Frances Clark; Cora Falkner, her daughter—Pauline Kinser; Amanda, Olivia's black mammy—Cecelia Birchfield; Burton Crane, for the North—Johnny Byerly; Thomas Lafferts, statistical poet—Harley Rich; Solon Tucker, Crane's attorney and guest—Bill Adcock; Paul Dangerfield, alias Smithfield—Bill Lichtenwanger; Charles Dangerfield, alias Brindlebury—Jimmy George; Randolph Weeks, agent of the Dangerfields—James Horton.

The Dangerfields are an aristocratic Virginia family, but do not have much money. The father and mother are abroad on account of the father's health. The four children decide to rent the house to a rich Yankee for six weeks for $5,000. The only requirement the Yankee makes is that he have a full staff of four white servants. At the last minute the servants do not arrive, so the Dangerfields play the parts of servants.

The comedy comes out of their mistakes as servants. Mrs. Falkner has the very good character part of a snooty old lady. She is the sister of Crane's attorney.

FRENCH CLUB IS TOLD OF FRENCH HOME LIFE

11 New B. & W. Staff Appointments Announced For Coming School Year

George Ruble Is New Cdt. Major

Appointed By Major Seeds Tuesday Night.

George Ruble, second lieutenant and commander of the second platoon of Company "A," has been appointed Cadet Major to serve in the coming semester. The announcement was made on the KHS hour on the radio Tuesday night. Major E. C. Seeds, P. M. S. & T., telephoned the message to WROL a few minutes before Lieut. Ruble addressed the radio audience on a subject concerning the R. O. T. C. department.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the announcer, "each evening some department of the high school is represented by a brief address. Tonight Lieut. George Ruble will talk on the R. O. T. C. department of K. H. S. And may I announce that a few minutes ago Major E. C. Seeds, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, announced that Lieut. Ruble has been promoted to the rank of Cadet Major, the highest position that can be attained in the military organization. Now may I present Lieutenant or rather Major George Ruble."

The address dealt with the way the Reserve Officers Training Corps is organized, naming the commanding officers of the different companies. The sponsors were also mentioned and named with their respective companies.

Members To Fill Places Left Vacant Thru Mid-term Graduations.

Eleven new Blue and White staff members have been appointed by Miss Emma Becton, faculty adviser, to fill the positions to be left vacant through mid-term graduations. The members were chosen from the newswriting class.

Douglas Bean, present associate sports editor, is to be the new sports editor, taking the post left vacant by "Scoop" Harrington; Bob Akers will be the new associate sports editor.

To fill the places of Jean Shepherd, Ailene Brown, Louise Cate, and Margaret DePue, Miss Becton has appointed Charles Hudson, James Schultz, Charlotte Willson, Frances Cour, and Carolyn Anderson.

Bernice Mynatt will be girls' sports editor, succeeding Frances Benton.

Eloise Wilson, Louise Childs, and Ruth Brannum are to be ad solicitors, filling the places of Emma Maples, who graduates, and Joylette Patrick, who is to be mail and exchange editor in place of Helen Mooney, a senior.

William McDonald, just recently appointed circulation manager, will continue at that post.

With the graduation of Kathleen Russell and Helen Greenlee, the positions of bookkeeper and proof-reader will be abolished.

Morris Bart, Jr., at present associate business manager, will be school correspondent for the two local newspapers, the Journal and News-Sentinel.

Banquet To Be Held Tuesday

Class President, Harley Rich, To Be Toastmaster.

Plans for the senior banquet have been completed. The banquet is to be at the Farragut Hotel, Tuesday, January 24. Harley Rich, president of the class of '33A, will serve as toastmaster.

A musical program has been arranged. William Lichtenwanger and Dorothy Lawhon will play a clarinet and cello duet, "The Rosary"; Sue Andrews will sing a song, as will Jimmy George. Helen Mooney will play a selection on the piano while Millard Warren and Mark Scarbrough will entertain with saxophones. Esther Garstang will dance. The class prophecy will be given by Frances Benton, while the "Will" will be read by John Byerly.

The menu to be served is: Fruit Cocktail, Roast Turkey, Green Beans, Duchess Potatoes, Mexican Slaw, Chocolate Sundae with Cake, Coffee.

The class directors have decided that the popular thing to do regarding the senior banquet expenses will be for everyone to dutch it. This decision was reached after a comprehensive survey was made of both the boys and girls in the class.

All members of the class are requested to abide by this rule, unless especial conditions prevail.

'33-A Seniors Leave Dirty Footprints On Time's Sand

By ALFORD ORR

To you, dear departing Seniors, the Blue and White respectfully and gladly dedicates this issue and the following story (be glad to get it, that's about all the world will ever give you for nothing).

But seriously speaking, I, Professor Alfordius Orpheus, Astrologer, and Prober of the Occult, Extraordinary, see great days ahead of you, days filled with happy memories and crowded with blessings. A few of you departing ones of my acquaintances stand out in my crystal like dirty hand prints on a whitewashed wall. Peering into the great unknown that lies ahead of you, Frances Benton, I see you as the trusted nurse maid of the infant great-grandson of Mark Scarbrough, which resembles nothing more than a half-baked tomato.

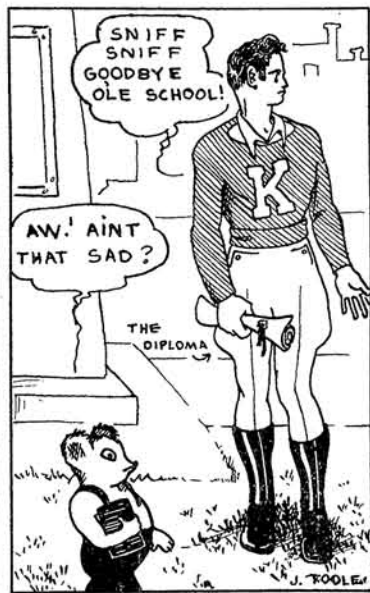

The white-haired but gay old blade (rusty) Mark himself is running a yo-yo factory. Also, I might add, a temperature over his wife's extravagance, but being decidedly hen-pecked, he is loathe to argue with the little woman.

Our mighty major, Keller Smith, is now a buck private (and not a very good one) in the Pandolian army, having been promoted to this exalted rank for his heroism in saving the General's canary bird from a marauding feline.

The former Miss K. H. S. and battalion sponsor, Kathleen Russell, I find doing a torch number in the much talked of Pearl Garrol's Panties of 1944.

Jimmy, now James, George, is the most maligned and envied man of the universe. After five successful years on the radio, 1952 (Continued on Page 6)

SENIORS

Today the graduating seniors will attend their last classes in Knoxville High school. Some may be thankful, while others may not be so thankful.

The remaining students wish them all the success possible in the future in the different lines of endeavor that they will enter, whether they be higher institutions of learning or the business or professional world.

Hoping that the senior week activities will have the greatest of success in every respect, the undergrads propose to support every senior activity.

Senior week is the greatest time of the year in K. H. S., when the older members of the student body are in the activities of the day.

Seniors, the time has come for you to leave your places vacant. The 12-B's are to fill them in the best way possible, and they hope to do the job as well as it has been done in the past. With congratulations, we bid you a fond farewell.

TO THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Blue and White wishes to express to the Board of Education the deep gratitude which the students of K. H. S. and the parents of all Knoxville school children feel toward them because of the stand which they as a board have taken in regard to the proposed cut in the budget of the city schools.

At the present time the public school system of Knoxville ranks on a par with any city school system in the South. But also, classes in all schools are crowded and teachers are carrying the maximum amount of work which they are able to do. Any curtailment of the teaching force would seriously impair the high standard of education in Knoxville.

In the University of Tennessee Knoxville possesses one of the finest universities in the nation. It would be a ridiculous situation if a city with such an excellent institute of learning in its midst possessed a school system which could not adequately prepare the city's children for entrance in the university.

The school children of today are the citizens of tomorrow. It is far better to spare the school child and so build firmly for the days to come than to spare the taxpayer and consequently undermine the very foundations of the Knoxville of tomorrow!

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Comes the highlight of dramatics in K. H. S.; the senior class play comes to the students on Thursday, January 26.

This annual production is generally the best of the year and is certainly so regarded by the student body. The cream of dramatic talent is in this production by the graduating class of '33A.

"Come Out of the Kitchen" promises to be one of the best and merits your patronage. You will agree after you have seen it. Send the grads off with a smile.

The Spectator

Then there's Frank Carpenter and Mildred Clark.

Bill Tharp refused to play basketball last night because he said he had a date with the most beautiful girl in all the world. It was Eleanor Worsham.

Anna B. Vance is so happy since Harry Brooks has come back to school. Harry, she really did miss you.

A few of the Hi-Y dates are: Gordon Garlington — Kathleen King.

Luke Foster—Catherine Roehl. Doug Bean—Virginia Wayland. Tubby Haun—Georgina Jones. Alford Orr—Dot Stephenson. F. G. Denton—Rose Dickson. Harry Carter—Jackie Adcock. Walter Marshall—Frances Benton.

Why are they trying to prove Bruce Long crazy? He is that way already. About who, Bruce?

Jim Leach and Marie Sharp just can't part.

Neither can Hazel Rogers and Jack Hansard.

"Red" Clapp and Bogart had a big row Saturday night. Hope it turns out O. K.

A certain girl at high school says Chappy's line is as long as ever. Be careful, Chap.

Bud Seymour's "one and only" is Jane Roark.

And still there is that old pair—Howard Cox and Sybil Cruze.

Wonder who all of Dunn's new crushes are.

Buddy Bowling thinks Evelyn Whittaker is awfully cute.

You can tell by the look on Helen Bell's face that she and "Red" Brooks made up this past week-end.

When did the affair between Hudson and Frances Abrams start and how long will it last?

Anna Jo Hawkins is terribly disappointed because her Virgin Isles boy friend failed to come.

Martha Brown says, "Ah, but I've learned," since she has broken up with Bus.

And what is the matter with Thelma and Turk?

Alexander and Cates are doing nicely.

How does Jane Wilkinson feel since she and Tot have ended their nice little affair?

Billy Jacob (not Billy Jacobs) says he has never had his name in the column. This is the end of the term, so here it is.

Dot Wellman and Charlie Lawman still appear together.

We are sorry to hear about the misfortune of Frank Lovingood and Ida Kinzel. It looked like such a promising romance.

Nannette Manning is not cradle snatching. She just thinks Wilson Connor and Tommy McMillan are cute.

Felix Massey will be back to school next term, we hear. What are Jane Burgin and Carolyn Anderson going to do about it?

BIJOU

Suave Eastern rajahs, swirling waters, lavish settings, and sky-splitting volcanic eruptions characterize the tense picture to be shown today and tomorrow. Charles Bickford, sturdy and capable as ever, and lovely Rose Hobart lend color and beauty, respectively, to this movie, "East of Borneo." Fast action, treachery and thrills abound throughout. If you like drama in big doses, don't fail to take this one in.

BOOTH

"Are These Our Children?" is not only the sad interrogation of heart-broken parents of modern children, but is also the title of the picture featured at the Booth today and tomorrow. Eric Linden, a youthful star who does not seem to be able to draw anything but bad-boy parts, performs his part in the film admirably. Rochelle Hudson, a beautiful and shapely brunette, furnishes the allure and sex attraction in this story of flaming youth.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Denton for the aid which he tendered to this paper this week and for the excellent and entertaining attractions that he has been billing.

TENNESSEE

"Hold 'Em Jail," a story of the ins and outs of prison football starring Wheeler and Woolsey, is the Tennessee's offering today and tonight. Of course, it is a regular howl with the two inimitable nit-wits playing drawbacks for dear old Jail.

Beginning tomorrow and playing through Tuesday is "No Man of Her Own," with Carole Lombard and Clark Gable. In this picture of life among the sophisticated stars are aided in their very creditable work by the efforts of Dorothy Mackaill and George Barrier.

Is My Face Red?

Editor:

With your kind permission I am submitting my first column for your paper.

Starting out on a new column is not so hot, but here goes. If I seem to ramble, don't mind. . . . But you know the writer thinks that the East is about to have another situation. . . . I can say that here because this is an unsigned column (thank goodness). . . . But that doesn't keep Cour from messing things up—sure the writer knows. It has been heard that a Hi-Y member named Carter rates like the deuce . . . and another thing, the latest Morgan Medal man seemed to be on the little end of an argument in front of the school on the date of 1-12-'33 (the arguer was The Taylor) . . . too tough . . . "Tow Head," are you still rating? . . . From second-hand information Grizzard thinks that Haddon leads among the Whittaker admirers . . . May the writer add, "No doubt" . . . Again you read (thank goodness)—this concerns the anonymous column.

Let's start another paragraph; why not? What is this about Holder and Birchfield? . . . That's what was heard at the Hi-Y on the 12th of this month. And it was in last week's Spectator . . . By the way, the columnist hopes not to invade the Spectator's territory in this new scandal hole. Well, here's stopping for this week. Be back next week if they will allow it. . . . Discuss this and maybe the writer will hear; he'll do what he can about it . . . so long.

Editor's Note: This column has been handed in by a person whose name is not known to the staff. If it meets with the readers' approval, it will be continued as the writer has promised.

Most wives are like angels. They're always harping on something, always up in the air, and never have anything to wear.

TO SENIORS

The time has come to say good-by. We'll miss your faces and noise; But in the future come back to sigh

And bring your girls and boys.

Why do you suppose all the parties come on test week? Probably comes under the heading of "Kismet."

Too bad our departing great will not have the thrill of seeing their mugs emblazoned in an annual with their hoose-gow number underneath and a list of their crimes while doing their four-year stretch here; hope we '33-B's have better luck.

See we're going to have an honor school inspection soon. The year I plodded the streets I missed wearing a red star, but upon my leaving the dear old army, my ex-comrades at arms promptly copped the Fourth Corps excellence award. I wonder if there's a nigger in the wood-pile?

Also notice new members of the B. and W. staff have been appointed and they look good, so don't let your subscriptions lapse or you are sure to miss a bigger and better publication next term.

Alesop Foible—

Once upon a time there lived (part of the time) in the crowded depths of old ivy-covered K. H. S. a meek and modest senior. He was senior '33-A, a member of a great and noble tribe dating way back to 1929, when his breed first migrated to the aforementioned wilderness. Here he settled down to hard study and the ancient game of giving his instructors gray hair. This senior, entering as larva, or freshman, has gone through the various and sundry stages of metamorphosis: cocoon sophomore, and cocoon junior, is now just emerging from his haven into the strange and hurried world called graduation, from whence he will fare forth into the unknown a full-fledged species of homo-sapiens ready to cope with that which lies ahead. So endeth our saga of the gentle senior from larva unto life.

Let's all go out now and get our chapel seat and elevator tickets ready to sell to the new crop of freshies soon to seek entrance into our holy midst.

"Now, William, you must be a good little boy for the next two or three days, because Papa has injured his hand and if you are naughty he won't be able to whip you."

Armistice Day Float Made
By Council—Roll Call
Reaches $67.

During the past term the Junior Red Cross council of K. H. S. has accomplished many things. Buttons for Red Cross headquarters were collected from each group to be used for old clothing. Pickle and Perkins schools received cereals, beans, and sugar that were collected from the various groups of K. H. S. These schools also received a milk fund of $15 each from our school.

As is the custom each year, the students of K. H. S. filled seventy-five baskets at Thanksgiving for needy families of our city. This practice is sponsored by the Junior Red Cross council. Christmas the council took dolls and toys to Pickle school. This, also, is an annual K. H. S. custom.

Armistice Day there was a Red Cross float in the parade, and representatives of the council sold subscriptions in town. The Junior Roll Call brought a total sum of $67.35.

Dresses were provided for girls at Pickle School by the Red Cross.

This week the council members are having a drive to collect coat-hangers. Each representative is to obtain as many from his own group as possible and turn them over to Miss Emily McLaurin, Room 308. The council will receive 35c per hundred for them.

In summary, the Junior Red Cross is one of the most worthy organizations in the school.

Charming Girls Of K.H.S. Deliberate Long And Silently, Then Name Best Looking Boys

After much labor and time spent in chasing down certain popular females who frequent the halls of Knoxville High School, the writer of this article has come to the conclusion that there isn't a single boy who can peacefully claim himself to be the best looking boy attending the aforementioned high school. Female howls and jibes and jeers would assail him.

Few girls picked out the same male, although two boys were mentioned somewhat frequently: in order of their notes, F. B. Kuhlman and Ralph Wilson; and there were even some girls who declared there weren't ANY good looking boys and just picked at random. Among the latter were the charmers Thelma Collins, Kathleen Russell, Catherine Roehl, and Sue Andrews. Mary Louise Clapp was doubtful, as were several others who had to have time to give the problem much thought.

At length this author received the answers and compiled them as carefully as possible.

The sponsors have similar tastes, with the exceptions of Mary Louise Clapp and Kathleen Russell, who named Bud Perrin and Dick McNabb, respectively.

Eleanor Worsham named F. B. Kuhlman.

Thelma Collins and Frances Johnson enjoy the looks of two men each, namely, Jack Sherrod and F. B. Kuhlman; John Byerly and Bus Countiss, respectively.

Frances Benton beats them all by naming three sheiks: Jack Sherrod, John Byerly, and Bus Countiss.

Catherine Roehl thought long and hard, and finally announced, "Luke Foster."

Jean Shepherd merely grinned and a bystander nudged me, whispering, "Ralph Wilson, you sap!"

Katherine Gaston's choice was relayed through several people, and reaches this paper as Clarence Beaman.

Cynthia Cowan, Sue Andrews, Betty King, and Martha Brown at once murmured, nodded, or wrote F. B. Kuhlman.

Helen Burton, young but with an eye for handsomeness, chose Bud Perrin and Doug Lovejoy.

Vivian Gies, winsome charmer of the staff room, after much deliberation, chose Ralph Wilson.

Carmen Linkous, too, had trouble but finally said, "Jack Sherrod."

Some people are so dumb that they think the St. Louis Cardinals are appointed by the Pope.

Where do mothers learn the things they tell their daughters not to do?

Becoming more up to date, these things were noted in the '31 issue of the Christmas Blue and White:

"Is Lois Whitehead still wearing Jack Jennings Hi-Y pin?"

"Who is this girl, 'Zipper'?" Ask Dick McNabb, maybe he knows."

"Teacher (pulling down map): 'Now, John, on your right hand you have the great continent of Asia. What do you have on your left?'"

John B.: "A wart, teacher, but I can't help it."

PARKER PLANS HOURS

Orchestra, Choruses, R.O.T.C.
Band Provide Musical Entertainment.

Knoxville High will have completed two and one-half years on the air at the end of this semester.

Under the direction of the radio committee, composed of S. B. Parker, chairman; Miss Elsie Waddle, Miss Emma Becton, Edward Hamilton, and Fred DeRobertis, a new plan for the program was developed. The three musical organizations of K. H. S., the chorus, orchestra, and band, have furnished the musical entertainment on the broadcasts. One-third of each broadcast has been devoted to explanations of the purposes and accomplishments of the school. Teachers representing the various divisions have prepared and delivered the explanations.

The first program of the present school year was on Tuesday, September 27. Principal W. E. Evans, in his opening message to the parents, expressed the thanks of the entire student body to station WROL for the donation of the time on the air for the K. H. S. program. He afterward discussed the high school curriculum of today and explained the importance of regular and punctual attendance of pupils.

Something entirely new to K. H. S. students was presented on two Knoxville High hours this semester in the form of radio auditions for student singers only.

The contests were similar to the annual Atwater Kent auditions, and the rules which governed the Atwater Kent audition applied to the K. H. S. programs. Identities of singers were kept secret, and judges in the radio audience selected the winners. Miss Virginia Wayland was declared winner of the girls' audition, held October 25, while James Allison was given first place in the boys' contest of November 15.

On December 6 the Knoxville Girl Reserve and Hi-Y clubs were in charge of the program. Miss Helen Tilley and Jimmy George, presidents of the organizations, and Miss Mary Nuchols and George P. Turley, faculty advisers, gave short talks explaining the purposes and ideals of the Girl Reserve and Hi-Y movements.

Teachers who have spoken on the programs, and the departments which they represented are: Miss Clara Bewley, English; Mrs. Emma Rice, mathematics; Miss Helen Galbreath, language; C. S. Montgomery, social science; Miss Mary Grainger, art; C. A. Browning, science department; Miss Guerant Tatem, home economics; A. W. Torresani and Paul Brewer, industrial arts.

Senior Class Comedy Ends Year's Plays

John Byerly, Helen Mooney
Lead In 'Come Out of the Kitchen'.

IS 5-ACT COMEDY
Dramatic Club Presented
'The Rivals'—Joyland
Features S. C.

"Come Out of the Kitchen," the Senior class play, with Helen Mooney and John Byerly taking leading parts, is to climax an unrivaled season in all dramatic productions. This five-act comedy will be presented in the K. H. S. auditorium on the evening of Jan. 26, which is next Thursday.

"The Rivals," the annual dramatic production, was a comedy, with Nona Lee Brown and Ray Adkins taking the leading parts. Josephine McGehee and Alvin Smith will be remembered as the fun raisers.

"Joyland," as usual, was the center of gossip for weeks before and after the "big event." Much talent and energy were expended in order that it might fulfill all expectations. Among the many enjoyable parts were a play sponsored by Student Council, two dance acts, and an act by Jewell Watson, K. H. S. magician.

Many entertaining programs have brightened the year for dramatic club members. Recitations, readings, and skits have made an interesting season's program.

On Wednesday the final meeting of the Masquers' club was held. Election of officers for the spring semester took place during the first part of the meeting. Two skits and music completed the program.

Leading characters of "Come Out of The Kitchen" are William Lichtenwanger, Helen Mooney, and John Byerly.

W.C.T.U. Sponsors Another Contest

Five K. H. S. students wrote excellent essays on the subjects "Why Be A Total Abstinence", and "Total Abstinence in Sports", in a contest sponsored by W. C. T. U. last term. These students were Gillis Kidd, George Carmichael, Grace Chapin, Florence Wardrop, and Edward Stokely. The names of these students were printed in the Knoxville Journal, the Knoxville News-Sentinel, and the Knoxville Times on April 9 and 10, 1932.

A similar contest will be held this year, and the subjects for the junior and senior classes are "Total Abstinence As An Aid to Self Control", and "Alcohol, Servant or Master of Man".

The subject for the freshman and sophomore classes is "What's the Harm in Drinking Alcoholic Drinks Before Driving a Car?" As the contest last year was so successful, all students of Knoxville High school are urged to compete in the one this year.

Mrs. Lem Gilreath, state president of the W. C. T. U. for twenty years, spoke in upper and lower class chapels here this year. Mrs. Gilreath was president of the union at the time the 18th amendment was passed, and has been an active worker since she has been in office.

Seniors Outline Their Post KHS Careers

Outstanding members of the 12-A class have various ways of spending the next few years of their lives.

Harley Rich, the president of the class, is going to the "Hill" next September.

Frances Benton, sponsor of "B" company and vice-president of the 12-A class, said, "I'm going to loaf after school is out."

Frances Johnson, sponsor of "C" company, is going to Florida just after graduation, but will enter U-T next fall.

"I'm going to try to get a job," said James George, president of the Hi-Y class, and a class director.

Johnnie Byerly, captain of Company "B" and class director, is going to work until next fall and then enter the University of Tennessee.

"Why," said Almeda Converse, member of Student Council and commencement speaker, "I'm going to Opportunity School this spring to learn typewriting; next fall I will enter the 'Hill'."

Keller Smith, cadet major of the high school R. O. T. C. battalion, will work until next fall. In September he plans to enter the University of Tennessee.

"To learn to be an undertaker," said T. R. Harrington, sports editor of the Blue and White, "I'm going to Cincinnati to study. Next fall I am going to the 'Hill.'"

"EAST OF BORNEO" SHOWS AT BIJOU

"East of Borneo," with Charles Bickford and Rose Hobart, is to be featured at the weekly Saturday morning "Get together" matinee at the Bijou theatre, along with a stage show, this week.

These shows are given for the school children, including pupils of high school age, at 10:30 a. m.

The stage show consists of tap dancing and orchestral numbers by local amateurs.

Assistant Manager Ben Murphy announced that the prices would be ten cents for children and fifteen cents for students of high school age.

The new theatre is including in this matinee a full bill, feature, news reel, comedy, and the special stage show.

NORTHCUTT COMMENTS

Commends the Discipline and the Students' Practical Attitude.

Many of the members of the Senior "A" class of '33 have made prominent places for themselves in the regular and extra-curricular activities of Knoxville High school.

Mark Scarbrough has served as the president of the student council during this year. Gordon Garlington, John Rowntree, and Margaret DePue have filled the offices of president, vice-president and secretary of the National Honor Society, respectively.

Morris Brackett has been awarded an International Correspondence School scholarship.

The class is well represented in the orchestra, band, and glee club, and contains the majority of the R. O. T. C. higher officers.

Luke Foster did outstanding work in the football games this fall; Billy Tharp served as captain of the basketball quintet.

James Horton remained in the office of president of the Red Cross council.

According to C. L. Northcutt, faculty adviser, "The four groups made a try at united student government, and though little progress has been made, no senior discipline problems have come up and the attitude toward the school and each other has been practically ideal."

He said further, "Though the class may not leave anything fine, it hopes to leave no unpaid debts."

Kathleen Russell has been honorary cadet major of the R. O. T. C. unit; Eleanor Worsham, sponsor of Company "A"; Frances Benton of Company "B"; Frances Johnson of Company "C"; Thelma Collins or Company "D"; and Mary Louise Clapp of the Band. These positions are always held by prominent senior girls with good scholastic standing.

Helen Mooney and John Byerly will take the leading parts in the senior play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," which will be given on January 26.

Harley Rich, the president of the class; Sue Andrews, Frances Benton, John Byerly, and Jimmy George, the class directors, have had charge of the various activities of the class during the year.

The number of staff members will be greatly depleted after graduation, as Louise Cate, Margaret DePue, Helen Mooney, Helen Greenlee, Kathleen Russell, Emma Maples, Frances Benton, Ailene Brown, Jean Shepherd, and T. R. Harrington will finish in the mid-term exercises.

Seniors Call KHS-Carter Tilt Tuesday

Game Will Practically Decide Knox County Championship Team.

As a final act in the line of sports, the senior class Tuesday afternoon will sponsor a basketball game between the K. H. S. Trojans and the Carter High school team.

This game was originally scheduled for an earlier date in the season, but due to bad weather it was indefinitely postponed. The game was recently scheduled after a plan was worked out between the class directors and the K. H. S. coach, Wilson Collins.

Carter Ranks Third

The Carter team, according to the standing of the Knox County League, ranks next to C. H. S. and K. H. S. in power. Their position is third from the top. Tuesday's game will be the first this season between Carter and K. H. S.

Additional importance is placed on the game, since the first half championship of the Knox County League hinges on its result. If K. H. S. wins, the championship will be decided by a game between K. H. S. and C. H. S. If Carter wins, the championship is almost sure to go to the Bobcats.

Tickets are on sale by various members of the senior class.

Trojans Defeat Karns High 37-7

C. Johnson Scores 15 Points; K. H. S. Defense Is Strong.

Another victory was marked down for those fighting Trojans Tuesday afternoon, as they defeated the strong Karns five 37-7.

Clinton Johnson, the lanky Trojan center, led his mates with 15 points. Luke Foster came in second with 8. Wrifford, guard, made 7 points. "Little" Gene Johnson, although he was late in locating the basket, scored 5 of his team's points. Red Sharpe, before being removed in the second quarter, scored the other two points to complete the score.

Trojans Invincible

No Karns man was able to crack the Trojan defense for more than two points. Four Karns points were made in the first half, and three in the second.

JOHNSON IS HIGH

Clinton Leads Trojans With 64 Points—Gene Johnson Follows.

Clinton Johnson, stellar center on the K. H. S. basketball team, is leading the entire squad in individual scoring. Johnson's high scoring drive reached a new peak in the Karns game Tuesday, as he scored 15 points, bringing his total for the season up to 64 points. The other Johnson, Gene, is closely following with 53 points. Red Sharpe, an outstanding scorer in football, has also proved his ability in basketball, scoring 47 points. Foster and Wrifford each have 38 points to their credit. The team's total, although not definitely known, is sure to be something over 200 points.

SPORT DOPE

Announcement Of New KHS Honor Marks Scoop's Adieu

By 'Scoop' Harrington

For the second time this year the K. H. S. Trojans have defeated T. S. D., defeating them Friday night 28-13. Red Sharpe rose to an offensive peak as he scored 10 points. Clinton Johnson, Trojan center, scored 6 points. The game was played on the T. S. D. court.

Three K. H. S. girls, Catherine DeArmond, Bernice My-natt, and Caunita Francis, are prominent on the strong Woodruff independent girls basketball team. This team recently defeated the Athletic House team, which is ranked as East Tennessee champion. Miss DeArmond, who is a guard, played an important part in the 23-18 victory.

In the organization of the intramural sport activities, Coach Sam Jones, no doubt, has promoted a great thing. Nearly two hundred boys will have the opportunity to take part in a sport. Otherwise the only few who make the varsity squad or "B" team squad would have the opportunity to participate. The organization of such a group is no easy job, either; it takes much time and work.

The barker, ladies and gentlemen, who speaks the advertisement for the afternoon basketball games at K. H. S. is Senor Carl Lawson. Carl takes his megaphone to the front steps and shouts the news to the departing students. His object and desire is to make some of the departing ones turn back and see the game.

It is with sincere sadness that the writer works on this, the last issue of the B. & W. that he will help publish as a high school student. The sadness is due, probably, to two reasons: first, the fact that the sport page was not as good as the writer would have liked it to be; second, the fact that the pleasure of working with Miss Becton and the rest of the gang is over. True, on leaving high school one goes on meeting new friends and making new acquaintances, but never again does one meet the congenial friendship and attitude that he is accustomed to in high school. In university one meets people, etc., but, probably the feeling of unity which is felt in high school is not reached because of the difference in the working plan of the university and high school. The writer would like to ask just one thing on leaving; that he may come back occasionally to renew the pleasant thoughts of high school days.

After this issue Douglas Bean will write this column. Doug is a 12A, or at least he hopes to be next term. I am sure you will like him and his writing. Without other flowery words, or more formal ceremony, I introduce Mr. Bean, the 1933 B sports editor (or should I say 1933 sport model?); anyway, here is Mr. Bean. Will you say a few words?

Thank you, Mr. Harrington.

Sports readers, after such an introduction there isn't much room left to say anything. Still, despite the limited space, we want to say a hearty HELLO to EVERYBODY and pledge ourselves to the task of writing this column.

The writer, in looking ahead to the sports for the rest of the year in K. H. S., can visualize great things in store for Knoxville High. For instance:

The attendance at the basketball games booming so greatly that additional seats have to be erected; the Trojans capturing the Knox county basketball championship; the track team winning its fifth straight East Tennessee title; the swimming and tennis teams going over big and enjoying a successful season.

The above mentioned predictions are absolutely possible.

Knoxville High is an A-No. 1 school. We wouldn't hesitate to put the Blue and White against any high school in the U. S., whether the competition be football or debating.

Knoxville High has A-No. 1 athletic coaches—Wilson Collins and Sam Jones.

The student body and faculty of K. H. S. are A-No. 1.

And so, as anything is possible in a school like ours, we predict that, with the aid of all loyal supporters and followers of the Blue and White, Knoxville High will enjoy a banner season, not only in athletics, but in the various other activities, for the coming term and in years to follow.

Thank you, Mr. Bean. Loads of luck to you. Goodbye, everybody. Thanks a lot for your attention, folks.

Trojans Vie With Bobcats Next Thurs.

Battle Decides Winner of First Half Title; Three Others Scheduled.

Tackling four strong foes within a week, the K. H. S. Trojans will open their strenuous campaign tonight as they journey out to Farragut High to oppose the Farragut quintet.

Tuesday afternoon Carter High will invade Trojanville and Friday night will find K. H. S. meeting Powells.

However, Gresham Hall at Fountain City, next Thursday night, will be the scene of the Trojan's biggest game. Meeting together for the first time this year on the hardwood court, the Blue and White of K. H. S. will vie with the Red and Black of C. H. S. in the most important game of the season so far for both teams.

While an easy victory is expected in tonight's game with Farragut, and K. H. S. wins are predicted for the Carter and Powell tilts, nothing but a close game or a possible defeat can be foreseen for the Trojans in the Central game.

A triumph for the Bobcats would give them the first half championship of the Knox County Basketball League, but a Trojan victory would give K. H. S. the title.

The regular line-up of Johnson and Foster, forwards, Johnson, center, and Wrifford and Sharpe, guards, will probably face the opening whistle in all four encounters. Luke Foster, all-around Trojan star, will be fighting for his Alma Mater for the last time in the Central game, but to graduate from the Blue and White, battling the Red and Black, will be a fitting climax to the brilliant career of a Trojan star.

A small admission of ten and twenty cents will be charged for the games.

T.S.S.A.A. Meet Is To Be Held Here

Again the K. H. S. gym will be the scene of the fourteenth district T. S. S. A. A. basketball tournament. The date is set for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the first four days of March.

Thirty-five teams representing nineteen schools will take part in the tournament. Nineteen are boys' teams while sixteen are of the opposite sex. Central High, Knoxville High, and one other school is not represented by girls' teams.

Central High, Carter High, Maryville High, Alcoa High, Everett High, and others are prominent members of the fourteenth district.

The members of the district will meet later and vote on the officials who will handle the games. Applications are to be sent in by the officials who wish to work the games. The applications will be the basis of the vote by the district members.

The positions of official time-keeper and official scorer will probably be held by two representatives of the two uptown papers.

After a drawing for the opening games Coach Wilson Collins will make out a schedule which will be followed in the later rounds of the tournament.

"Much the same plan that was used last year will be used this year," said Coach Collins in discussing the outlook for the meet.

Hi-Y Heads Are Denton, Bogart, Akers, Chamberlain

Best Girls' Banquet Concludes Term Marked By Varied Activities.

A semester's active work by the K. H. S. Hi-Y club was concluded last night with the installation of new officers at the best girls' banquet at the Y. M. C. A. The new officers are F. G. Denton, president; Bob Bogart, vice-president; Bob Akers, secretary; and Bill Chamberlain, treasurer.

The club was one of the first in the school to organize for the new term. The first meeting was held on Thursday, September 15, in the first week of school.

At the next meeting, September 22, twenty-six teachers were elected to membership to fill the places vacated by graduates. These new members were addressed by "Vic" Davis, alumni secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Tennessee, on October 6 at a supper meeting with old members at the Y. M. C. A. The freshmen were duly initiated and inducted into the club at a ceremony held at the Boy Scout camp on Island Home pike on the evening of October 13.

Jimmy George, president; Vernon Grizzard, and Ray Adkins were the three members of the Knoxville High club who attended the Tennessee Valley Older Boys' Conference, which was held at Farragut High school, Concord, Tenn., on Saturday and Sunday, October 1 and 2.

At the various sessions, in which problems that confront Hi-Y clubs of today were discussed, the delegates were addressed by Dr. Fred Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church of Knoxville; Victor Davis, of the U-T "Y"; Howard Hubbell, field secretary of the State Y. M. C. A.; Glenn W. Ellis and B. Frank Vincent, boys' secretaries of the Chattanooga and Knoxville "Y's," respectively; and Dr. Harry Cook, pastor of the First Christian church of Knoxville.

Ray Adkins, of K. H. S., was elected president of the conference and was also chosen to be chairman of the Knox county council of Hi-Y clubs, which position he will

In December, Knoxville High's club was host to the Hi-Y clubs of the sixteenth district at the Tennessee Valley conference. Representatives were present from Farragut, Central, Sevierville, Lenoir City, Alcoa, Maryville, and Knox county Central high schools.

Discussion groups were led by Ben Duff, adult adviser of district sixteen, and Mr. Vincent. A banquet was held in the K. H. S. cafeteria at 5:30 and then the delegates were addressed by Dr. J. Kelly Giffin, president of Knoxville College.

The aims and ideals of the Hi-Y movement were explained to the citizens of Knoxville by George P. Turley, faculty adviser of Knoxville High's club, and Jimmy George, president of the K. H. S. initiated and inducted into the club on the K. H. S. hour over WROL.

The appearance at Knoxville High of S. S. Henry, world famous magician and artist, on January 9, was under the auspices of the K. H. S. club. Mr. Henry ranks among the best purveyors of mystery in the world.

All Types Of Art Covered In KHS

The art courses in the senior high school are planned to meet the different needs of those who come from the junior high schools. They are not only for the talented students, who have special ability along some distinct line, but also for those who elect art because they like it, and because they wish to be able to tune in and enjoy the wonderful legacy of paintings, sculpture, architecture, and the handicrafts that exist. When we have been educated to appreciate them, through conversation, books, prints, films, etc. Even those who are planning to attend the University of Tennessee may get at least two credits by electing courses in art.

All Phases Covered

The general course in art, Art I, II, III, and IV, covers both theory and practice. The technical information covers eight topics: color, design, lettering, still life, figure drawing, illustration, landscape, appreciation. The materials used are pencil, pen and ink, water color, foster paint (tempera), pastel, charcoal, colored chalks and craft materials such as are required for block printing, book binding, clay modeling, etc.

The special classes are for those who are interested in some especial line of work and who wish to stress that. For instance, Art 7 and 8 is a course in pencil and pen and ink. The students in this class are given a thorough training in methods of handling pencil and pen and drawing from nature, life, still life studies, landscape, etc., and in the art of composition—that is, picture making with these mediums.

Art 9 and 10 is called commercial art. That term is commonly used to mean illustration for advertisements such as posters, newspaper cuts, card cards, labels, booklet covers, card writing, etc.

The class in commercial art is more taken up with learning how to manipulate tempera paint and other materials for the many needs of extra curricular activities. It covers poster making, placards, stage sets, linoleum cuts, paper-mache, masks, window displays, arrangement in show cases, etc. It affords practice in meeting artistic emergencies of all kinds, and is a valuable training in the practical application of art principles.

Art History Taught

The class called historic ornament, which comes at the third period, is for those who wish to know something of art history and appreciation of sculpture and architecture as well as painting. It is planned to supplement the work in architectural drawing and man-finds this "nightingale of the ether," as he is heralded, taking the place of Crosby, Columbo, and Vallee as the super crooner of the airways.

Can my eyes deceive me? No, it's none other than our old pal, Sue Andrews, perkily perched behind an enormous mahogany desk in the executive suite of B. V. D.'s, Incorporated. Upon her desk, among manifold buttons, papers, and dictaphones is the gilt engraved nameplate, Honorable Susan Andrews, Pres.!

How she attained the heights in this meteoric fashion I do not know, but sometime around 1965 I'll drop in at the B. V. D. offices and touch her for a fiver.

Those unmentioned in this little divulging seance, feel not downhearted, I am sure that one and all of you have just as bright prospects for the future.

ual training as well as the work in other art classes. The students work out fascinating problems in color and design in all sorts of materials.

The Sketch Club is an organization of art students and those who like to draw from costumed models or from nature. Its object is to afford an opportunity for wholesome organized recreation in which artistic self-expression is the main activity. The members may draw, paint, model, carve soap, or do anything they like so long as they are employed. The outdoor excursions, made when weather permits, are an interesting feature.

The Work of All Committees Wins the Approval of Faculty Adviser.

"Under the leadership of Mark Scarbrough, president, assisted by Almeda Converse, vice-president; Nannette Manning, secretary; and Earl Bradley, treasurer,—one of the strongest groups of officers ever selected to Student Council—this organization has carried on its work during the past term in a very efficient manner," stated Miss Helen Galbreath, adviser of Student Council.

The organization functioned well during the past term in spite of being handicapped by the loss of Kenneth Watson, who was forced to leave school because of sickness. Kenneth was a senior member and one of the most reliable workers on the council.

The term's work began during the summer vacation. Several experienced council members met with Miss Galbreath, and worked out 14 bulletins or about 62 pages of typed directions for council work. These bulletins are all original and provide complete instructions for every committee.

Examinations Given

The council work was explained and examinations were given during a two weeks probation period which included a week-end visit to Lincoln Memorial University. The officers for the term were elected and installed while there.

One of the peaks of achievement for the past term is the revision of the Student Council Constitution. The one formerly in use was very lengthy and because of changes in methods of council work, did not explain the organization as clearly as it should. The revised copy is compact and brief, and much clearer.

The council sponsored the organization of all class directors into one group with Miss Jessie Neubert as faculty chairman.

Councils Organized

It has also promoted the organization of the Upper and the Lower Class group representatives council.
