All entries in the annual publications contest will be classed according to the size of the school which they represent. In the respective fields will be five groups. There is also an award to be made to the author of the best news story giving advance publicity concerning the convention and contest.

All awards will be made at the convention in March. Prize-winning material will be published in the April issue of "The School Press Review", official publication of the C. S. P. A.

Col. William L. Reed, Inf. (D. O. L.), 4th Corps Area R. O. T. C. officer, has recommended to Major General Edward L. King, Corps Area Commander, that Knoxville High school be rated as an Honor High School for 1933. This recommendation is not final until approved by Major General King. Major Seeds, Sgt. Pratt, Sgt. Rotchford were very much gratified at the splendid response of the R. O. T. C. for the inspection.

Seek Subscriptions In B&W Campaign

The semi-annual subscription campaign of the Blue and White was opened in upper class chapel yesterday.

Oscar Sams, faculty member, and Ralph Wilson, editor of the Blue and White, made short talks urging students to subscribe. A similar chapel will be held today for all lower class groups.

Copies of this issue have been given only to those who have subscribed to the paper.

SENIOR A's SPONSOR SKATING PARTY MON.

Monday night the graduating senior class had a skating party at the Sterchi Park skating rink.

C. L. Northcutt, class faculty adviser, said that both the crowd and the gate receipts were unusually large.

Notice that the R. O. T. C. would be recommended for honor rating was received by Major Seeds from Colonel Reed Wednesday evening immediately after the inspection.

The battalion was to be reviewed in formation, but on account of the rain the inspection was held inside with only one company being inspected at a time. This is the second year that these conditions have existed.

Col. Reed inspected the organizations in this order: Band, "A", "B", "C", and "D" companies. Band inspection was held in the practice hall. The companies were inspected in the gymnasium. At one o'clock the senior members of the battalion were called to the lecture room in the attic for an oral quiz on military drill, discipline, marksmanship, musketry and other subjects.

Last year Col. Reed, the same inspector, rated the K. H. S. Band one of the best in the South. This year he stated that the band is the best so far inspected in the Fourth Corps Area.

Sad Fate Of Illustrious Forebear Casts Shadow Over Feature Writer

By ALFORD ORR

The youth sits motionless, despondency written on his features; a tear rolls down his cheek. For weeks—yea, months—this shadow of what was once a robust lad, has brooded and sighed.

Mutterings are heard from the slumped figure in the chair: "A blighted life, a blighted life; oh, woe is me, the dark days are come upon me!"

Listlessly and with an air of utter hopelessness, he rises and slouches over to the mirror of the dresser. There in the glass his haggard face is reflected, drawn and lined with untold mental suffering.

As one detached he scrutinizes his face and what he sees contorts his features into a horrible grimace of self-loathing and detestation. His spirit evidently broken, his last measure of reserve lets down and he gives way to uncontrolled and piteous sobbing. At last his wracked body is quiet; he gains control over his emotion and raises his head to face his wan reflection. A look of infinite and irrepressible longing creeps into his blood-shot eyes.

"Oh," he wails, and tears his hair, "I'll be sixteen tomorrow and still I have no beard, not even a vestige of embryo facial foliage!"

This, dear readers, is just an illustration of the sad, sad plight of many a hopeless youth. In fact, that is the dreadful condition that the writer found himself in some two years ago, and take it from him, it is indeed something to make one prematurely gray, to be the last one in your bunch to sprout ambush!

All of which reminds the writer of the deplorable fate of an ancestor of his who met his reward early in life at the hands of a skulking and treacherous razor.

It seems that young Angus Alford was quite a precocious lad—to the nth degree, in fact—so much so that upon his twelfth birthday he was blessed with a very healthy sprouting of fuzz. Seemingly overnight this miracle had sprung, from whence he knew not. The joy and justifiable pride of Angus A. was a thing to be barely tolerated—it knew no bounds.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN!

Approximately three hundred twenty-five new students entered K. H. S. this week to start the last three and a half years of their secondary school life. Every one of them is expected to contribute to Knoxville High school as have all the others who have completed their work here and gone to higher institutions of learning. Several that come are among those who have been outstanding leaders in their previous school work. Very often the prominent members of the junior high schools become the leaders in senior high school because of their ability and the desire to lead rather than follow.

The entire school is here for you to profit by. The faculty is an able body of instructors to guide you. Their association with the student body goes to make your education complete. And all the clubs, organizations, and activities in which participation makes better citizens are at hand.

K. H. S. welcomes you and trusts that the class as a whole and each individual will take Knoxville High as an institution of learning that is made possible for him and others and make the best of it.

THE SPRING TERM

Today marks the end of the first week of the new semester. By this time all schedule problems have been solved, and the freshmen are gradually becoming accustomed to their new routine.

All seniors should strive to make their last term in Knoxville High a period of benefit to themselves and to the school. The incoming freshmen should endeavor to make a good start on their journey through K. H. S., so that they will not have scholastic handicaps to overcome in the future terms. But no student should think that, because he is neither freshman nor senior, he is justified in merely "getting by."

At the present time the world is going through a series of readjustments. The reckless and careless have realized that it is necessary for them to return to a life based upon the fundamentals of civilization. Many people have seen the dreams and plans of a lifetime crumbled at their feet, and yet they have the courage to start anew in the effort to realize their ambitions.

So should high school students readjust their habits. Indifferent and shirking pupils should realize that their present course will lead them nowhere. The fact that one has failed should not kill ambition. Instead one should have the courage to determine that he will do his best in every activity and line of endeavor.

Will this term be, to you, just another term, or will it influence favorably your life and the life of Knoxville High?

Is My Face Red?

Hello, fellow inmates:

Don't the little freshmen look cute? All of the little girls seem to think Georgie Ruble, the new Cadet Major, is cute too. Let's jump a thought, shall we? O. K., here we go.

Sidney—Mr. Licht to you—I thank you very much for heading my column. Very nice. At least every one seems to think so. It makes me want to go away somewhere when folks say my column is the bunk, but I feel great when some exceptional person says it's G-O-O-D.

Let's say something about somebody in this paragraph. Who'll it be? Oh, I know! Go ahead Brown, you can fish very well with a rusty hook if the bait you use is tempting enough. But you might strengthen your line, you know it is getting weak. And Martha, you may tell dear, departed Collins that Bus and Turk don't have to venture into the wilds of West Knoxville to find a pretty ear for their sweet nothings.

"Cynicism is merely sentimentalism turned sour." Many times I have heard Bill McDonald repeat that bit of philosophy. I can't help but wonder if that is why he makes such sarcastic remarks to Frances Cour. Shine on, Cour. Make them beg.

So while that witless wit gets wittier and wittier, I'll slip away until next week. We'll get together and talk things over in the next issue, with the dear editor's permission. Cheerio and good-bye.

There might be some coffee as good—but RICHELIEU Coffee is better.

Shadowy figures, screams in the dark, stifled groans and all the usual artifices used in creating an eerie atmosphere are employed liberally in "Murder at Dawn," the Booth's offering today and tomorrow. An old favorite, Jack Mulhall, and Josephine Dunn are the principals.

BIJOU

The cinema version of the escape of Mrs. W's little son, Walter, is showing the rest of today and tomorrow. Mr. Winchell declined the leading part in the picture, "Okay America," so it fell to Lew Ayres, hero of "All Quiet On the Western Front." This film dramatizes the very day life of the transom-peering, keyhole-peeping, dirt-gathering columnist.

TENNESSEE

"Frisco Jenny," a picture presenting the famed San Francisco earthquake with stark realism, is the Tennessee's bill today. Ruth Chatterton, great emotional actress, has the leading role, that of a tough girl who goes far.

Saturday through Tuesday, Fredric March and Claudette Colbert are co-starred in a romance with the appealing title of "Tonight Is Ours". It is a story of modern unconventional life and should be good.

Welcome, freshmen; may your sojourn here in old K. H. S. be a long and merry one (the "long" we can predict with fair prospects of certainty).

Speaking of that speed test in typing we witnessed at chapel the other day: Cecil Stansberry is rather bitter about it. He claims that he had the prize cinched with a speed of sixty-six words a minute, but says they disqualified him for using only one hand.

Today's adage (heard over the radio): Shapely limbs have enabled many a girl to branch out.

Lament:

Another bank has passed away.

Papa was due at the business men's luncheon and had no way to go! He was really "burned up". Sonny had the Cadillac roadster and Junior the Packard. Aunt Betty had borrowed the Buick,—Mamma had gone shopping in the Hupmobile, and Mary had taken the Ford to a swimming party. So that left poor Pa with the Dodge which had a run-down battery, and he ended up by walking. That is the awful curse of owning a second-hand car agency!

8 Lettermen To Greet Jones On Track Mon.

Veteran Outfit Returning To Encourage the Gentleman—Cottrell Captain.

With eight lettermen returning, regular track practice for K. H. S. will get under way Monday. After a week's warm-up session in the gym, Coach Sam Jones will begin strenuous preparation for the coming season.

Despite the fact that he has eight lettermen returning, Coach Jones is not overly optimistic.

"Finding a man to replace Jack Luttrell will be the biggest job," he said worriedly. "If someone can be developed who is as versatile as Luttrell, prospects will be much brighter."

Led by Capt. Charles Cottrell, star pole-vaulter, the lettermen are Jones and Roberts, dash men; Hendricks, half miler; Badgett, miler; Long and Leach, 440 yard dash men; and Jeffries, hurdler.

Coach Jones, who has been track mentor at Knoxville High since 1928, has turned out four championship teams in five years. The first year of his regime, Jones' team was beaten for the East Tennessee title by one point, but since then his teams have captured the championship decisively for four straight years.

"In direct contrast to teams of the past," declared Mr. Jones, "there is a veteran outfit returning. In former years when we had winning teams there were not many lettermen coming back from the year before. This season, with eight veterans back, it looks like Fate may turn against us."

No definite schedule has been worked out yet, but the usual meets with the U. T. freshmen, Kingsport, and Morristown, and participation in the East Tennessee meet, will be retained on the program. Jones, at present, is attempting to secure a dual meet with Asheville High school and entrance in the annual state meet at Vanderbilt in Nashville.

Bobcats Sink Under Last Minute Trojan Attack, 17-16

By Doug. Bean

It happened a week ago last night. The scene was Gresham Hall, Fountain City. The time was the last quarter of the Knoxville-Central basketball game—twenty seconds to play, and the Bobcats one point ahead!

Then came a typical story-book finish—a dazzling climax to a whirlwind battle. After a fierce scuffle for the ball under Knoxville's goal, Trojan Clinton Johnson sped the ball out to a mate. This same Trojan-mate was none other than Captain Bill Tharp. After Bill unleashed his shot, the ball arched through the air—unerringly it swished through the basket, giving K. H. S. a 17-16 margin. In a few seconds the final whistle sounded and the "Triumphant Trojans" were possessors of the first half crown in the Knox County basketball league race. Thanks to Tharp's winning shot, the Trojans avenged the football defeat by the Bobcats last fall.

Besides the Bobcat victory, four more victories have been chalked up by the "Touncing Trojans". Two weeks ago Coach Wilson Collins journeyed his squad out to Farragut High and led them back possessing a 25-13 victory. On January 25, the Trojans submerged Carter High under a 38-11 score and the following Friday overwhelmed the same team, 43-16. The triumph over Hall's last Tuesday rounded out the five wins for Knoxville High.

Luke Foster, for three years a loyal Blue and White star, has played his last game for Knoxville High. Displaying a sparkling defensive game, scoring four points, and battling furiously, Luke climaxed a colorful career as a Trojan athlete against the Bobcats last week in the K. H. S.-C. H. S. basketball game.

Luck to you, Luke, in university and future life, from all of Knoxville High school!

Red Sharpe, the Trojan with the fiery auburn locks, will battle once again for Knoxville High on the football field next year. Although he is a veteran of four's service, Sharpe will be eligible to play next year, since he played his first season for K. H. S. while in the eighth grade at Park Junior.

According to the T. S. S. A. A. rules, one is eligible to play four years in high school. "Red" has been a member of the Trojan team for only three years while at Knoxville High, and so is eligible for next year.

Coming to Knoxville High in 1930, the red-head was awarded the Trent trophy for his brilliant work on the Blue and White team. He led the team as captain in 1931 and 1932. Next year, his fourth in K. H. S. since he entered in the ninth grade, Sharpe will be a senior and will complete his work as a Trojan, both on the gridiron and in the school room. After his graduation in June, 1934, it is Red's hope that he will be able to enter U. T. and play football for Major Bob Neyland.

Needless to say, all Trojan fans are overjoyed at the news of Sharpe's eligibility for next year. Also, the news of his return is bad tidings to Trojan opponents of next fall.

Trojans First Half League Champs

Defeat Central To Gain Title —Share Second Half Lead With Bobcats.

After capturing first place honors in the initial half of the Knox County Basketball League race, the conquering Trojans of Knoxville High are marching triumphantly onward toward second half laurels. At present, they are in the lead for the pennant race with five victories against no defeats, sharing this honor with the CHS Bobcats, who boast a similar record.

Tuesday night, Hall's High crumbled under the swift attack of the Trojans, 42-19. The win was the fifth straight for Coach Wilson Collins' team. Leslie Wrifford, the newcomer from New Jersey, set a high scoring record for the Trojans this season as he rung up 17 markers against the Hall's quintet. Clinton Johnson, center, scored 10 points.

The Bobcats kept pace with K. H. S. as they triumphed over Young's High, 22-16. The defeat was the first loss for the Youngs quint in the second half of the league. Lester Dohn, forward on the basketball squad and backfield ace on the football team, led the Bobcats with 11 points.

8 TEAMS TO ENTER GIRLS' TOURNAMENT

With eight strong teams chosen, the girls' annual basketball tournament will begin Wednesday, February 8, in the K. H. S. gym.

The girls will play a three division court, each team using nine girls. Three will be forwards, three guards, and three will play center. Each team will have twelve players with one girl as captain. These are Gladys Agee, Vittie Makres, Louise Childs, Robbie Richmond, Dorothy Hubbard, Helen Wilson, Viola Hunt, and Ethel DeSautelle.

Each team will have one or two practice sessions before the tournament, thus enabling the teams to play fast, furious ball and have good teamwork. The three-division court is new to the K. H. S. girls and will create new interest in the tournament. This new division is played in West Tennessee all the time, using six girls on each team. No teams are favored, as all are strong, even though some of the girls are inexperienced, as this is their first year.

Circle Park and Deery Street will meet in a preliminary game at 6:45 o'clock.

C. Johnson—center.
Sharpe—guard.
Wrifford—guard.

Coach Collins will escort his squad to Maryville next Wednesday to oppose Coach Lewis Veech's team. Maryville comes here for a return contest February 15.

CIRCLE PARK BATTLES DEERY STREET TUES.

With only one game remaining, Circle Park and Deery Street are in a tie for the league leadership of the Independent league.

By reason of their winning all their games the two teams will battle for the championship in a preliminary game to the Trojan-Young battle Tuesday night in the K. H. S. gym at 6:45.

The play of both teams on defense and offense this season has been the highlight of a successful year.

A battle can be expected when the two quintets meet. F. B. Kuhlman and Jimmy Wise have been the offensive stars while "Dusty" Holder has shone on the defense for Circle Park.

The Horner boys have been outstanding for Deery Street.

As a special offer to the students Coach Collins said that tickets, if bought at school, would cost only ten cents but admission at the gate will cost twenty-five cents.

MORE ABOUT

FEATURE

The Ides of March for Angus had arrived; he vowed to shave, and in the worst way—with an old-fashioned beard scraper (shudder)! Meticulously he prepared for the sacred rite hot towels, ancient round bar of shaving soap, and everything. Wetting the hair-splitting instrument of destruction, Angus applied its edge to the stubble of his neck. So absorbed was he that he did not even hear the old cat enter, until too late. The playful sharpening of needle-like claws upon his bare leg was the cue for the demonic blade to slip and split poor Angus' guzzle. He never knew what hit him, noble soul, but merely bled in bucketfuls and passed on to his sainted forebears.

And every time the writer shaves he faces the ordeal of scraping the moss from his grizzly pan with revulsion, for who knows when fate, in the form of a feline, or fiend, will burst in and cut short the bloom of one's youth?
