STORES HOLD STYLE SHOW FOR SENIORS

To help the senior girls to select the type of dress to wear to the banquet and play, George's, Peggy Hale, Seymour's, and Miller's ready-to-wear departments sponsored a fashion show last Tuesday in the assembly hall. The senior girls modeled. Each store showed five different dresses.

Afternoon or dinner dresses in white and pastel shades were shown. The materials featured were plain organdy, embroidered organdy, eyelet organdy, muslin de soil, and crepes. The featured styles were ruffle trimmings, capes, puff sleeves, and full skirts with ruffles or bands.

Class Speakers Study Knoxville Developments

Orators Trace History and Government of City In Preparing Address.

Much hard work and many hours have been spent by the four commencement speakers of the June graduating class on their individual addresses.

The general topic is "Knoxville." Each of the speakers will discuss a different phase of the subject, and when all four are heard collectively, a much better understanding of Knoxville as a whole is assured.

Edwina Lowe will trace the development of the history of Knoxville.

Robert Love will cover the resources, including everything upon which Knoxville draws or may rely upon at some future date.

Charles Hudson will explain the taxation and finance problem. It is hoped that this particular part will give a clearer understanding of the many questions of doubt, including both sources of revenue and expenditures.

Sara Martin will discuss the fu-

Summer School Lists Special Class

Among the features planned for the coming session of the Knoxville Senior High school summer session, there will be a special type physics class in which individual instruction will be given to each student enrolling for the course. Thus, a student can take either the "A" or "B" section of the third year physics course, as he sees fit.

Physics has been a popular subject in summer school for several years and this is also true of the course in general science. More and more, students are endeavoring to get advanced credit, thus insuring themselves of graduation with their class at the proper time. Due to crowded conditions permission for five studies has been granted in only a few cases.

English has also proved a popular summer school subject and courses have been given in 12-A, 12-B, 11-A, 11-B, 10-A, 10-B, and at times, the 9-A course. Usually these classes have the largest enrollment in the school.

M. Qualls, J. Hart Write Class Song

Prominent Seniors Collaborate on "Farewell KHS"

"Farewell, Knoxville High," written by Mildred Qualls and Jimmy Hart, has been chosen winner out of six class songs written by 12-A students.

Mildred Qualls, a member of S. B. Parker's group, wrote the words, while Jimmie, one of Knoxville's promising young musicians and a member of Wayne Longmire's group, composed the music. Both students are members of the National Honor society.

Judges were Misses Edith Horton, Mary K. Tittsworth, Ed Hamilton, and S. B. Parker.

"Farewell, Knoxville High" The time has come, dear Knoxville High,

For us to say adieu
To many friends and classmates,
And our work and play with you.

Our happy years are over,
Life's trials we'll bravely fight,
Our standards to the sky we'll raise

With those of the Blue and White.

CHORUS

Now as we leave you, Knoxville High,

We'll wander far and wide.

We'll ever be united,

With your teachings as our guide.

Here's to our colors, white and blue,

And as the class of thirty-three,

To them forever we'll be true,

And pledge our loyalty.

So dear old Knoxville High school,

With heavy hearts we come

To pledge our love and faith to thee

Debaters Meet Claiborne County

K.H.S. Argues Affirmative on Recognition of Russia.

Tonight Knoxville High meets Claiborne County High school at Tazewell on the question, "Resolved, That the United States Should Recognize Soviet Russia."

The debate is only a one-way debate with K. H. S. upholding the affirmative. H. P. Shelton, Jean Converse, and Fauntleroy Grant will represent K. H. S.

The debate is to start at 7 p. m. Each speaker has ten minutes for constructive speech and three minutes for rejoinder.

Miss Helen Galbreath will take the debaters in her car. They will remain in Tazewell Friday night, since the road is dangerous at night. Lodging is being furnished by the pupils of Claiborne County High school.

Gym Classes Hold Annual Exhibition

Boys' and girls' gym classes, accompanied by the orchestra, put on Knoxville High's annual physical educational demonstration yesterday at 3 p. m. The proceeds from the performance are to be given the Department of Physical Education for the further development of equipment.

Twelve acts, interspersed with numbers by the orchestra, made up the program.

The acts were as follows:
Girls' tumbling club—30 girls.
Rope skipping—20 girls.
Arkansas Travelers—20 girls.
Calisthenics—6 boys.
School days—32 girls.
Games—126 girls.
Little Annie Rooney—36 girls.
Mass tumbling—65 boys.
Skating Schottische—44 girls.
Drill—105 girls.
Pyramids—80 boys.
Scarf dance—24 girls.

The brightly colored costumes of the girls, and the white ducks and shirts of the boys, made the presentation striking and colorful. This is the second annual physical education demonstration sponsored by Misses House and Carroll and Coach Jones.

Faculty To Honor Those Passed On

Quite an interesting custom will be inaugurated by the faculty of Knoxville High school on May 30, Decoration Day, this year. Graves of all departed faculty members in Knoxville cemeteries will be visited by various committees and appropriately decorated with summer flowers.

During recent years, death has entered the ranks of the high school faculty several times. Faculty co-workers feel that the resting places of their fellow members should not be neglected on a day when the entire world pauses to pay a tribute to those who have passed on. So, by graceful floral tributes, the lives and deeds of the teachers of Knoxville High school will be remembered.

Picked By Nominating Committee Composed of Faculty and Students.

ELECTION NEXT WEEK

Scholarship, Efficiency, and Initiative Points Considered In Selection.

Thelma Bauer, Treva Brewer, Lena B. Nichols, Elizabeth Ramsey, Velma Peters, Reva Sorrella, Mildred Stinnett, and Annis Draper were chosen as candidates for the "Miss Commercial" election, which is to be held once each term.

These eight students were selected Wednesday afternoon by a committee composed of all the teachers of the commercial department and a group of five dependable 12-A commercial pupils who were not qualified for entrance in the contest because of scholarship.

The final election will be held at group period some time next week. Only those who are classified as commercial students on their red cards will be allowed to vote. Ballots will be collected by the group teachers and returned to the person in charge of the election, who will tabulate the results of the various groups and give the final election returns.

All 12-A girls who have made at least a "B" average, who were members of the commercial club, and who have been in K. H. S. at least two years were eligible for the "Miss Commercial" contest. (Continued on Page 4)

POWER COMPANY GIVES STOVE TO H. E. CLUB

Knoxville High school's Home Economics club has a new electric stove, presented to it by the Tennessee Public Service company. Miss Geurrant Tatem, Home Ec. teacher, stated that it was the most useful article that could possibly have been given to the department.

Each Friday the girls of the Foods III classes buy, prepare, and serve a meal to various teachers and pupils in the school. Each person pays 15c, and the girls are allowed only this amount of money to prepare the meals.

This work affords the Home Ec. students a great deal of useful experience.

B. & W. SUBSCRIPTIONS

There are only four more weeks of this term—a seemingly long time, yet a comparatively short one considering the many things that remain to be done. Some of these cannot be finished until the last minute, but many can be done now. Among the latter is the payment of Blue and White subscriptions.

When the Blue and White sent out its "death cry" at the beginning of this term, the students as a whole responded nobly. In spite of the depression a fairly large number of subscriptions were secured. This splendid support on the part of the student body undoubtedly kept the paper from "going under". But if this money is to do the paper any good, it must first be collected.

Unlike most schools, Knoxville High allows its students to pay for the school paper on the installment plan—so much now and so much then. The only hitch in the plan is that too many wait till "then". Over $100 still remain to be collected. If you still owe a part or all of your Blue and White subscriptions, pay it today and have it over with. Payments may be made in the lunch room or the Blue and White staff room. Don't wait till the last minute. Pay today!

THE ORCHESTRA OF K. H. S.

The orchestra of K. H. S. scored another great "hit" at the concert given in the auditorium last Tuesday night. For several years the orchestra has brought great renown to Knoxville High, as have our other activities.

The orchestra seems to be just as consistent in receiving fame and popularity in its own world as is the athletic department with its record breaking athletes. This fact is something well worth mentioning because the orchestra or any other part of the music department will never see the day when it gets the support equal to that of the football, basketball, and other athletic teams.

In spite of this fact there are those that participate and those that direct and instruct are capable of getting results that are most praise-worthy.

The orchestra has appeared in several out-of-town concerts and has been well received by the audiences. Several broadcasts on the K. H. S. hour over WROL by the orchestra have constituted some of the best programs of that hour.

POSTPONING

"Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today."

It has been many years since this immortal line was penned by that great American, Benjamin Franklin, but it applies as much today as it did the day it was written. At this season of the year, one is especially tempted to postpone school work till tomorrow or the next day. Don't let this be your attitude. If you let work go till tomorrow, it probably never will be done. There are only four more weeks of school, so it should not be very difficult to settle down and finish the term with flying colors despite the hot weather.

THERE'S EVER SPRING

Spring has come. Flowers are now in bloom in sections of the country where the snow only recently spread its white blanket over the earth. The annual miracle of a world made new has been wrought before our eyes. Much that is old and familiar will be repeated, and we would not want it to be otherwise. Life would lose its meaning if it were not for those renewed experiences which maintain its sense of continuity.

But always tomorrow has its surprises. Man is constantly making fresh discoveries. Only recently an Italian flew 425 miles per hour, and aviation experts say that man's physique will determine the ultimate speed limit. Man has entered the stratosphere, and its exploration is now possible. Millikan and Compton are pursuing the secret of the cosmic ray. The harnessing of mightier forces than even the superpower engineers have conceived is a dream toward the realization of which the race advances.

New materials for man's buildings and garments—floating bricks and creaseless fabrics, paper-thin copper sheeting and dress material lighter, stronger, and more durable than silk or linen—are among recent wonders. Soon an automobile that shifts gears automatically will appear on the market. Remote control of factory processes; machines that type the message of the voice; newspaper type set by wire; such things are on their way. Radio and television have yet to combine forces for the world's greater enlightenment.

It is a wonderful age in which to be alive, and in the heart of him who keeps his capacity for hope and wonder, it is always spring.

TENNESSEE

"Today We Live", with lovely Joan Crawford and handsome Gary Cooper, is the screen attraction opening tomorrow.

BIJOU

The week-end billing at this theatre boasts one of the year's most delightful cinemas, "Dangerously Yours". Warner Baxter as the gentleman crook with the aid of a very beautiful newcomer, Miriam Jordan, makes this show unquestionably one of the season's most enjoyable. Don't miss it.

BOOTH

"The Crooked Circle" with Ben Lyon and Zasu Pitts comes to this Cumberland Avenue theatre today. It is a clever combination of thrills, chills, and laughs, and is well worth your while and money.

What has come between Nina Johnson and a certain Courtesy Drug Co. employee?

Wonder what has come between Melba Jones and Emory Myers?

Someone opened a window in assembly hall the other day and in flew Cupid, lighting right on Mary Frances Forrester and Lones Seiber.

What is brewing between Sara Frances Line and Philip? We hope nothing serious.

Viola Haynes has been given a new name, "Condora," by her Gulf Filling Station friend. What does it mean?

We want to murder the person who showed B. L. Lovingood the way to Katherine Pratt's news-writing class.

Evelyn Pierce has a perpetual smile on her face in English class. You know, Paul Beeler is in there also.

THE SUPREME HERO

We've all heard of heroes brave, Staunch and stalwart to the grave, About whom all the women rave.

Adam, of the Eden matter, Who first endured the female chatter; Here was a man truly a martyr, And of this human race the starter. Deserving as he must have been

To stand without inury Eve's din,

A hero eclipsing him I think Is Hercules, who at the brink Of boundless water used his bean, And, upholding vault and sky serene

With manly strength and ne'er a shirk,

Got Atlas to do his dirty work. Seven labors did this mighty man, But another beats him with one hand;

Ulysses, brave and crafty Greek, Left Troy in flames, his home to seek.

By stratagem he had gained the city.

A versatile man, strong, prudent, witty,

He originated the classic horse-laugh,

But brought on his head the Dieties wrath. Wandering, searching, hither and yon,

But finding fair Ithaca's Island anon,

He outwitted the suitors of his own fair wife

And won back his own through bloodshed and strife.

Considering all, it seems to me By the powers that were, and they that be,

That the deeds of daring and those of valor

All take on somewhat of a pallor Beside that man, the non-panel

Of the whole blooming princely deal;

To him give the laurel, the plaudits, the rose,

Who can stand up and grin at a sore, bleeding nose!

Trojans Engage Morristown, U-T Freshmen Today

Triangular Affair Starts At 3 P. M.—Shields-Watkins Scene of Fray.

Pausing in their bid for tournament laurels, the Trojan tracksters will resume their regular schedule this afternoon in a triangular meet with the U-T freshmen and Morristown High Roosters. The meet will be held on Shields-Watkins field and is due to start at 3 p. m.

After losing to Kingsport by only one point last week, the Blue and White crew will be seeking the win column once more today.

The Trojans rule favorite over Morristown today, having come out ahead of that school on two different occasions, but the Frosh will offer a stiff competition to Coach Sam Jones' squad.

Bill Jones, fleet-footed K. H. S. dashman, and Harry Anderson, Vol yearling short-distance runner, probably will be the centers of attraction in the meet. Both boast a win over the other in the 100-yard dash this season, and they will be out to decide definitely the question of supremacy.

Jones, in the East Tennessee meet, lowered Anderson's state mark in the 220-yard dash, and the former Memphis Messick High boy will seek revenge in that event also.

"The squad will probably show their best form of the season today," said Coach Jones, "and I am expecting each of the boys to do much better in his event."

Mildred Hobbs and Ted Shannon's favorite sport is riding in red "T" model Fords.

Kingsport High Boasts Another Win Over Fighting Trojans

By "Doug" Bean

TOUGH LUCK, TROJANS!

Kingsport High, that conquering Upper East Tennessee school, appears to be a nemesis to our Trojans this year in the athletic program.

Not content with knocking K. H. S. out of the running for the East Tennessee basketball crown, and drubbing them in their dual track meet, the Kingsport crew nosed out the Trojans last week for the East Tennessee track and field title. Only by an eked-out victory, 47-46, were the fighting Trojans robbed of the title.

After breaking six records in the Tri-State meet, the Blue and White crew shattered two more Tennessee state records, lowering the marks in the 220-yard dash and in the half-mile relay.

Bill Jones, the Trojan flyer, knocked .9 second off the state 220-yard dash as he flashed over the course in 22 seconds flat. Jones also won the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds.

The K. H. S. half mile relay team, composed of Red Sharpe, Bill Jones, DeWitt Roberts, and C. A. Henry, smashed the other state mark for the Trojans in the tourney, lowering its own record that was set last year. The time last week was 1:34.9, compared with the 1:36 time of last season.

But, despite the fact that our Blue and White team bowed to Kingsport, Coach Sam Jones is still to be congratulated on developing such a fine track squad. In victory or defeat, the team honors the school, and the words of Coach Jones still ring true—"Those other teams knew that the Blue and White team was entered!"

CHICAGO BOUND?

With the track season fast drawing to a close all over the country, thoughts turn to the National High School Track and Field meet to be held at the World's Fair in Chicago about June 6.

One very significant fact is apparent—two members of Coach Sam Jones' Knoxville High school squad should be there at Chicago ready for the opening whistle of their events.

They are Bill Jones, in the 100-yard dash, and Perry Ward, in the mile run.

"Certainly they should go," stated Mr. Jones emphatically. "Both boys are of championship calibre and both have a good chance, if they go."

The only obstacle is the problem of finances. The Athletic Association cannot sponsor the trip, so if the boys are to represent Knoxville High at Chicago there must be found some other way for them to go.

Seriously speaking, all ideas will be appreciated, so put your thinking cap on and get busy!

KHS Golf Tourney Nearing Last Round

Team Will Meet Morristown on Home and Home Basis.

By winning his first round match and his semi-final match, H. W. Irwin, Jr., advanced to the finals in the golf tournament to determine the five team members.

M. C. James is seeded No. 1 player and Earl O'Fallon seeded No. 2. The three remaining players are to be picked from H. W. Irwin, Jr., Lawrence Berney, Fred Post, and Bob West.

"We are endeavoring to get McCallie to agree to a match the same day their swimming team comes here," Coach Collins said.

Matches have been arranged with Morristown on the home and home basis.

The Trojan team meets the Hurricane team here May 12 before journeying to Morristown May 19 for a return match.

Results of matches played:

Frank Theile lost to H. W. Irwin, Jr., one up; Bob West defeated Robert Lord, one up; Ed Jones defaulted to Lawrence Berney; Fred Post won from Bob White, 5-4. In the semi-final match H. W. Irwin, Jr., defeated Bob West, one up.

Netsters To Meet McCallie, Baylor

The K. H. S. tennis team, after getting off to a slow start, is expected to round into form for next week's trip to Chattanooga, where the Trojans will engage the Baylor and McCallie netters.

The Blue and White racquet-wielders dropped two close matches to Morristown High last week, losing 4-3 at Morristown Thursday, and going down 5-2 on the U-T courts Friday. The outcome of the first meet depended upon the last doubles match, which the Trojans lost after a hard battle.

Summary:

Lloyd Marshall defeated Bob Bogart, 7-5, 7-5, and 2-6, 6-0, 6-3. Floyd Marshall defeated Walter Lavender, 6-3, 6-2, and 6-4, 9-7, while Vernon Grizzard, K. H. S. captain, downed Cantwell of Morristown, 12-10, 6-2, and 6-1, 7-5. Bill Ressler overcame Jimmy Senter, 6-3, 6-4, and 6-1, 6-1. Doug Bean split with Guy Ruffner of Morristown, winning 6-1, 4-6, 6-3 on Thursday, but losing 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 Friday.

In the doubles, the Marshall brothers defeated Bogart and Lavender, 6-2, 6-3, and 6-3, 6-3. Ruffner and Cantwell beat Grizzard and Ressler, 7-5, 2-6, 7-5, and 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

Walt Lavender and Doug Bean, finalists in the boys' tennis tourney, have not yet played off their match for the championship. Darkness halted the match several days ago with Lavender leading Bean two sets to none. They will finish the match this week.

The team has tentative meets with several schools from Kentucky, North Carolina, and other Tennessee schools.

Spring Practice Closes Tuesday With B-W Game

Two Teams Battle After School To Show Results of Sessions.

TROJAN PRACTICE FIELD IS SCENE OF BATTLE

Everybody Invited and Urged To Attend Wind-up of Spring Work.

Another great game is expected Tuesday afternoon when a Blue team battles a White team on the Trojan practice field immediately after school.

For the second straight year team candidates will have a chance to show their pre-season form before reporting for regular work some time in August.

About twenty-five men will be chosen from these two teams to make the squad for next fall.

"We have had a better spring practice and have accomplished more than in the spring practice last year," Coach Collins declared, "and we're expecting great things from the boys."

Every boy will be fighting with the one thought of landing a team berth.

"The spirit of the boys has been unusually high and spectators can expect a mid-year game when the two teams meet on the field," Coach Collins assured the writer.

Everyone is urged to come out and root for his favorite team.

Mr. Collins did not announce the lineups.

Swimmers To Meet McCallie Tonite

Ushering in the swimming season for K. H. S., the Trojan water team will meet McCallie School of Chattanooga tonight in the Y. M. C. A. pool. The dual meet will get under way at 7:30.

The K. H. S. team has been practicing daily for several weeks at the "Y" in preparation for the coming season. The squad met recently and elected Jimmy Wise captain.

"The team is in good shape and ready to go," said Wise. "We hope to have a very successful season."

The following boys will represent Knoxville High in the meet:

Dashes—Fletcher, Crowther, and Chamberlain; breast, Capt. Wise and Keys; 220-yard swim, Waters and Tubbs; dives, Elmore; backstroke, Chaffin, and Gleeson; relay, Fletcher, Crowther, and Chamberlain; medley relay, Wise, Chaffin, and Waters.

There will be no admission to the meet tonight.

The two teams will meet again in Chattanooga the last of this month. Meets with other schools are pending.

Locker Boys Given Credit

To the boys who lock lockers after school a reward of three points will be given just as is given to the regular hall monitors. These boys work in shifts, a different group working each week, and one boy not on duty more than six weeks during one term.

The presidents of upper class groups were given a program at their last meeting by the Student Council chairman. There are only two ways in which the student body can be informed about Student Council achievements: they are through the Blue and White and through the presidents who report to their groups what they learn at this meeting. Therefore reports were given by the Council chairmen.

Big 6 Finalists Enter State Match Today

Edwina Lowe and Sara Martin Represent K. H. S. In Final Meet.

Knoxville High's two Big Six finalists will participate in the final contest today in Ferris Hall at U-T.

All the winners in the district contests which were held about April 1st, will meet today, and, thru elimination, decide the state champions in each of the six events composing the "Big Six."

Edwina Lowe, who represented K. H. S. in extemporaneous speaking, and Sara Martin, who is a dramatic reader, won first places in the East Tennessee district contest and will try to win state honors for K. H. S.

Miss Lowe has been reading extensively on current topics and feels that she has a better knowledge of present-day trends than she did at the time of the preliminary contest. She will probably be asked to discuss "Hitlerism," "The Situation in Russia," or "Muscle Shoals and Cove Creek Projects."

Miss Martin will use the same reading, "The Angelus," with which she won recently. She has been practicing with prominent dramatists of the city and is likewise better prepared than she was for the preliminaries.

"Of course, we have no positive assurance of first place in the state," said W. T. Miller, one of their coaches, "but I feel confident that our entries will win at least one if not both of the contests."

Last year's Miss K. H. S. has changed her title to Mrs. Albert Disney.

CHORUS GIVES PROGRAM AT WEDNESDAY CHAPEL

In observance of annual music week, the Knoxville High school chorus, under the direction of Edward Hamilton, presented a musical program at upper class chapel Wednesday. A similar program will be given in lower class chapel next Tuesday, with Mrs. Martha H. Birchfield of Maryville as guest artist. She will play "Lieberstraum," a well known piano composition by Listz.

The Wednesday chapel program was as follows: "Gloria" by Mozart, sung by the entire chorus; two numbers by the girls' glee club, the "Barcarolle" from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman," and "Lift Up Thine Eyes," by Mendelssohn; "Deep River," by Burleigh; and "Pilgrim's Chorus," by Wagner, both by the chorus; and "Marcheta," by Victor Schertzling, sung by Mr. Hamilton.

At the close of the program, two groups of girls gave a short dancing performance, advertising the Physical Education demonstration which was held in the gym yesterday.

INTERVIEWS TIBBETT

Cub Reporter Finds Famous Baritone Is Nothing Like A Bear.

When Lawrence Tibbett was in town a short time ago, Jack Comer, a high school student, interviewed him. Jack has never quit talking about his reception.

"Lawrence Tibbett is a regular guy. I didn't know whether I had interviewed him, or he had interviewed me when I finished," Jack declares. "Mr. Tibbett told me that he would much rather sing to an audience than over the radio."

Mr. Tibbett said, "I would much rather sing to young people than old. They are a more appreciative audience. When I first tried to get into the glee club in my high school I was turned down, but later I entered the musical organizations of the school."

"Mr. Tibbett was very sympathetic when I told him I just had to get an interview for my school paper, because Mr. Tibbett himself used to write a column for the school paper at his high school," said Jack.

Faculty Picnic To Be Held At Indian Cave

To Meet At K. H. S. Tomorrow At 9 A. M.—Collins In Charge of Trip.

Knoxville High school teachers will have their regular faculty picnic at Indian Cave tomorrow. The picnic, which is an annual event, was held at Elkmont last year.

Teachers who wish to take the trip will meet at the high school at nine o'clock. They will then be assigned to the various cars belonging to members of the faculty and will begin the forty-minute drive. Each teacher will be expected to pay fifty cents toward the expense of the trip.

Instead of the regular admission cost of $1.15, teachers will be admitted to the cave for fifty-five cents. Indian Cave is the third largest cave in the world, and the largest illuminated one.

The lunch will be prepared by Miss Guerrant Tatem and Mrs. Sally Sobolewski, and will consist of fried chicken, sandwiches, potato salad, stuffed eggs, potato chips, pickles, olives, ice cream, butterscotch tarts, and date nut bread, with coffee and fruit punch to drink.

Coach Sam Jones will be responsible for the afternoon entertainment, which will consist of various games and contests.

"The picnic this year should be the best one we have ever had," said Coach Wilson Collins, chairman of the picnic committee. "Indian Cave is an ideal place for a picnic of this kind and I believe everyone who goes will have a good time."

Near the cave are tables on which the picnic lunch may be spread. There are also places for horseshoe pitching and fishing, all of which are free.
