Margaret Wright Elected 'Miss K H S'

Helen Hall, Edna Hixon, Girl Orators 1936 A Commencement; Faye Poore, Capitola Shannon Named Alternates

CHOOSE BOYS MONDAY

Kohler, Davis, Simpson, and Brown Compete with Herbert Bolin in Final.

Instructors in the K. H. S. social science department, with George F. Turley, mathematics department head, have chosen Helen Hall, of J. Clyde Lowery's group, and Edna Hixon, of W. T. Miller's, the girl-speakers on the commencement program in January. The two girls selected as alternates are Capitola Shannon and Faye Poore.

Ben Kohler, R. O. T. C. cadet major, Francis Davis, R. O. T. C. cadet lieutenant, Lester Brown, president of the K. H. S. Open Forum, and Alex Simpson, reporter on the Blue and White staff, will compete with Herbert Bolin, R. O. T. C. cadet lieutenant-colonel and end on the K. H. S. football team, next Monday for the two boys' places on the commencement program. Herbert was injured in the game with Chattanooga Central high school team last Thursday and was unable to compete in the preliminaries of the commencement contests last Friday.

Others who competed for positions of either girls' or boys' places in the graduation exercises were Turner Gates, Jay Beardsley, Jane Cameron, and Evelyn Brenneis.

'LIB' MOORE TAKES HONOR ON UT PAPER

Elizabeth Moore, fomrer girls' sports editor of the Blue and White and a commencement speaker last spring, was named the best reporter on the Orange and White staff at U. T. for the first month.

The basis of the judging was the quality and amount of work written. The winner of the award for several successive months will be given a cash prize.

Holiday Tomorrow

Tomorrow all Knoxville school students will enjoy an annual holiday. For the approximately 600 teachers employed by the city, it will mean a holiday from routine duties, but not complete relaxation. The teachers will attend the East Tennessee Educational Association Convention to be held at U. T. Friday and Saturday. It is for this reason that school is to be suspended Friday.

Wells, Tipton, Slovis, Calloway, Gillespie, 'Mr. K. H. S.' Candidates

TO ELECT BOY MONDAY

19 Receive Nominations—Voting To Be Similar to That of 'Miss K. H. S.'

Official tabulations by the election commission disclose that David Wells, Wendell Tipton, Sam Slovis, Searle Gillespie, and Husson Calloway were winners in the nominations for "Mr. K. H. S." The contest officially closed Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

These boys were selected by the student body because of their popularity, scholarship, character, and representation of the school.

This election will be conducted along similar lines to that of the "Miss K. H. S." election. The same committee, comprised by Miss Emma Becton, Miss Edith Horton, and W. T. Miller of the faculty, and Charles Ewing, Blue and White editor, will supervise the election sponsored by this school publication.

Next week, the winning nominees' names will be placed on ballots for final voting. These ballots will be distributed to the group teachers and the vote will be taken during group period Tuesday. Winner of the "Mr. K. H. S." election will be announced in next week's issue of this paper.

Other boys who received nominations for "Mr. K. H. S." were: Bill Brakebill, Bill Herron, Charles Dobson, Bob Hackney, Herbert Bolin, "Kayo" Robinson, Phil Nelson, Mack McCall, J. R. Butcher, K. B. Stansberry, Sam Wise, Bob Allen, and "Brick" Humphries.

Johnny Walker received a sufficient number of votes to be placed on the list of candidates, but he was ruled ineligible because of his classification as an 11A. Only 12B and 12A boys were qualified.

Annual ROTC Ball Date November 22

The second annual R. O. T. C. military ball will be given this year on the night of November 22, in the K. H. S. gymnasium. Admission will be one dollar for a couple and the same price for stags. Harrell Underwood and his Commanders have been engaged to furnish the music. The affair will be formal for girls, and boys will wear their R. O. T. C. uniforms.

Martha Ijams is chairman of the committee for the decorations. The committee which has charge of the refreshments and tickets is headed by Bill Brakebill. The grand march, which will be the main feature of the ball, is being planned by David Wright and his committee.

ROBERT ANDERSON JOINS KHS FACULTY

Robert Anderson, former teacher at Oakwood elementary school, has been appointed instructor of history and civics at Knoxville high school to succeed Lawrence Edwards who resigned last week. The new teacher is a brother of Roy Anderson who is now supervisor of city elementary schools.

Mr. Anderson assumed his new duties Monday morning, after his predecessor had tendered the resignation effective then.

MOST POPULAR

MARGARET WRIGHT, who has been chosen 'Miss K. H. S.' by the students of Knoxville high school.

Seniors Will Vie For Roles In Play

'After Wimpole Street' Name of Production.

Tryouts for the senior class play, "After Wimpole Street", will be held Tuesday, November 5, according to O. E. Sams, director. Eliminations will be made after the first tryouts and the final tryout will follow in the next two or three days. About twenty will be chosen from the first tryouts to compete in the finals.

The following faculty members expressed their opinion of the play as follows:

Miss Clara Bewley: "After seeing Norma Shearer in the movie and after studying Robert Browning's life and writings, I should think this play very acceptable and interesting. It will also create more enthusiasm in the senior English classes while studying Robert Browning."

Miss Helen Galbreath: "I was so thrilled and excited when I heard that this play had been chosen. I think the seniors are showing more interest in this play than they have in years. I hope the senior class will have the best of casts, because I feel that this will be a most successful play."

A. L. Jobe: "I am very glad to learn that the senior class play is one of a higher type than the comedy, which is usually chosen. I think it will be a success."

E. T. E. A. WILL HEAR ABOUT K.H.S. FORUM

"Knoxville high school's Open Forum" is to be the subject of a talk by C. S. Montgomery, adviser of the Forum, at a social science meeting of the E. T. E. A. this week-end.

Mr. Montgomery was asked to do this by J. P. Dyer, teacher of economics at Central high school, Chattanooga, who is to make a report on "Discussion Groups".

"I feel that your 'Forum' is the best single plan that is being used in East Tennessee," stated Mr. Dyer in his letter.

LIB CHILDS CLOSE RIVAL

Captures Title From Four Other Girls With 455 Out of 1927 Votes.

In a popular vote of the student body, Margaret Wright, 12A, received 445 out of the 1927 votes cast Monday and so captured the title "Miss K. H. S."

Elizabeth Childs was the nearest rival, having received the votes of 420 students. All of the candidates were well supported.

Marguerite Glover, sponsor of the K. H. S. band, was the choice of 366 voters. Helen Brannum polled 353 votes, and Evelyn Freels received 343.

The winner, Margaret, is prominent in social and extra-curricular activities at K. H. S. She has been an officer in her home group for two years. Last year she was elected to the Student Council; she was re-elected this year and is now vice-president of that organization.

Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Wright, 1809 North Hills boulevard.

The "Miss K. H. S." election, sponsored and financed by the Blue and White, was supervised by a committee composed of Miss Edith Horton, Miss Emma Becton, and W. T. Miller, all members of the K. H. S. faculty, and Charles Ewing, editor of the Blue and White.

Commenting on the election, Miss Becton declared that she was well pleased with the fair "politics" of the students.

"We have never had a more accurate return in the election of a 'Miss K. H. S.' This fair play on the part of the students has enabled the committee to announce unquestionably the choice of the student body for this honor," Miss Becton commented.

PUPILS SEE PICTURE ON TAX SPENDING

"Spending Your Tax Dollar", a sound movie, brought from Detroit and shown to the International City Managers Association, was held over so that K. H. S. and U. T. students could see the picture.. C. D. Beardsley, Safety Director Mitchell, and Mr. Orleans of the TVA, were responsible for the picture's being held over.

"Now In November—"

TOMORROW comes November. The grey heavens declare it and the calendar affirms. Outside, in our city-dweller's gardens, the shadow of November is most visible.

The ground-ivy droops a thousand besooted, scalloped leaves above white flagstones grey with smoke. Two tea roses, Betty Uprichard and Radiance, are each venturing one more bud before the frost. One climbing rose thrusts a creamy blossom through the interstices of a trellis, seeming to defy the looming armies of Winter. A few flowers, drooping under the weight of a pretentious and absurd name, "Cosmos" (meaning, "the Universe), make a broken rank of pinkness along a wooden fence. In one circular bed, the regal lilies lift the parched dry throats of their silky stigmae, filled with the fruit of a season's budding, blooming and dying-brown seed, flat and round-like flakes of rolled oats. Against another rose-covered fence, a trio of lingering zinniae and scabiosa stand out.

On a horizontal beam of a sooty white rose arbor, a wary woodpecker is making sharp jabs into the weatherbeaten, smoke-strangled wood. A glowing cardinal flashes across the rose garden and rests on an elm beside the grey stone bib tucked under lily pool's fat, round chin. (We call it a rock-garden.) Writhing vines gaze vainly into the black mirror whose border they form. The lotus stands high but frowzle-headed, and the lily-pads rest limply on the shining, smooth surface of murky waters. The last snaky-stemmed lily bud has disappeared. Everywhere is beauty and quiet. . . .

Tomorrow comes November. The rainy season has ended in Ethiopia. Crafty Mussolini is thrusting Italian troops into Ethiopia from three directions. Crafty Selassie is allowing Italian troops to penetrate Ethiopian wilds; then, he has warned, when the soldiers are weakened by disease, maddened by heat, foul water and insects, long-knived savages will be upon them in dreadful, vengeful hordes.

In America, the governor of South Carolina is using armed military forces against strikers. In the North, the National Guard has been called out to prevent further destruction of milk shipments by impoverished farmers. In California and Louisiana the National Guard is under arms against striking shore-workers. In Knoxville, 32 people have been killed by automobiles since the beginning of this year, and 910 have been injured. All about is death and hate and killing and thieving.

We have peace and yet we have it not. What is the answer? The answer is that we have learned to keep out sense of beauty, and love of peace carefully secreted behind stone walls and ivy-clad fences, just as many of us have learned to keep our religion prisoner in the temple, to be visited for refreshment and comfort in moments of our own need. Deus miseratur!

Halliburton Harassed

AT the reception given Richard Halliburton at the Andrew Johnson hotel Monday night after his lecture at the Lyric theater, the adventurer found himself besieged with what it has been the custom to call "feminine admirers". The young women, boopic and breathless, were introduced to the writer, who gave each a pleasant smile and handshake. The strain, however, was heavy upon him.

After greeting approximately 10,000,000 young ladies (Halliburtonian estimate), Mr. Halliburton saw before him a tall, real-looking young man. The adventurer grasped the hand in a bone-crushing grip and exclaimed, "Ohhh, I'm certainly glad to see a man here". And he held to the young man's hand for several minutes, presumably to gain courage to proceed with the greeting of hero-worshipping women.

Mr. Halliburton can take this punishment with a grin, but memoirs of many other authors are stuffed with pitiable accounts of the horrors of lecture tours and "literary teas". It almost makes one long for a paternal monarch who would pension poor men of letters (Halliburton, by the way, is not poor) and spare their poor splendid wings from the depredation of the mob.

At The Theatres

By Cinemette

Three Good Shows Next Week:

"Special Agent", starring Bette Davis, Ricardo Cortez, and George Brent, Wednesday — Friday, November 6-8, at the Tennessee.

"Love Me Forever", starring Grace Moore, showing Thursday and Friday, November 7-8 at the Strand.

In "Page Miss Glory", nobody is more surprised than Marion Davies, in the title role, to discover that she is the most beautiful girl in America and, in consequence, fast becoming a rich one. In fact, Marion sort of liked it better when she and Patsy Kelly, a couple of happy chambermaids in a big hotel, had a silent crush on Dick Powell, handsome young aviator. The story, as you perceive, is highly imaginative and therefore rather unconvincing. Anyway, Miss Davies is very beautiful and charming and, oh, yes, let's give a couple of loud, British cheers for Patsy Kelly, who supplies the riotous comedy for the picture.

"Special Agent" reminds one of the picture "G-Men". The story has George Brent as a special agent posing as a newspaper man in order to get evidence on Ricardo Cortez, the current Public Enemy No. 1. The fact that Cortez permits Brent openly to court Bette Davis, who keeps the gang chief's books, givees the tale a touch of fantasy. Most of the acting is excellent, particularly that if Ricardo Cortez and Bette Davis.

Two other shows that would be well worth your time are: "Escape Me Never", with Elizabeth Berger, Wednesday, November 6 at the Riviera, and "Shanghai", featuring Charlie Chan, at the Riviera, Friday and Saturday, November 8-9.

FOR THE BENEFIT of those who dash into school at 8:10, hat on one side of the head and locker key extended ready to plunge into the lock (woe is the owner of a combination locker at a time like this!), there are some people who get to school on time; some even before the first bell! The inspection Tuesday was the stiffest held this year, with the cadets being graded in posture as well as neatness.

At these dairies, the cows are bathed and milked three times a day (they are placed on a merry-go-round during this process— it keeps them contented); they are fed fresh June grass with a dash of molasses; men dressed as internes attend them; and music is played for their benefit.

The last time Eugene heard from Beauty, she was madly in love with the young interne who is the second masseur. She also said that she likes the music, but does wish that they'd play "Limehouse Blues" a little oftener.

OFFICES CONNECTED BY BUZZER SYSTEM

To make it possible for the military office to communicate with the athletic office a buzzer system has been connected between the two rooms.

This idea was originated by David Baker and George McGinley, two former physics students, and is a practical problem in electrical wiring, one of the phases of work taught in practical science.

When someone in the gym office is wanted by the R. O. T. C. commandant, he has merely to press a button and a buzzer will ring in the athletic office.

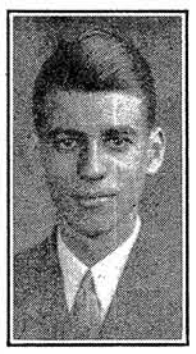
SPORT DOPE

Trojans Upset Chattanooga Team In Homecoming Tilt; Score 26-0

By Bob Allen

Score: 26-0. This little thing alone speaks for the showing of the Knoxville high school Trojans in their overwhelming victory over the highly touted Chattanooga Central team at Caswell Park last Thursday.

A Trojan gridiron machine that brought back memories of last year's powerful aggregation rolled to a decisive victory over the Chattanooga team. Chattanooga Central, judging by last Friday's battle, is the most over-rated team to face the Trojans this season. It is difficult to imagine the team that faced the Trojans last week in a victory of two touchdowns over the powerful Kingsport team, which defeated the crippled Blue and White team by a score of 7-0.



Bob Allen

From the opening whistle to the final gun it was Bob Foxx who was the high-light of the game. Bobby Foxx was directly responsible for the four touchdowns scored by the Trojan eleven. It was Foxx's place-kicking that added two points to the grand total of 26. Truly, Foxx lived up to all expectations.

While the Knoxville high school team was displaying its usual defensive form, it burst loose from the old habit and proceeded to run wild against a sadly bewildered Lookout City aggregation. Trojan passes again clicked in the usual manner, and running plays gained consistently.

Chattanooga kicked off to Knoxville. The kick was short, and the Trojans returned it well up the field. The Trojans kicked on first down, and Henson fumbled when he was tackled hard by Herb Bolin. Luttrell recovered for the home team and the Trojan's march began. With Bob Foxx bearing the brunt of the attack, the Trojans carried the ball over the line for their first tally of the game.

The second touchdown came by virtue of a pass from Foxx to Bob Alley. With the ball on the Chattanooga 31-yard line, Foxx passed to Norman Anderson for a 17-yard gain. However, on the next play the Trojans lost 19 yards. Foxx passed to Alley for the second score. Score 12-0.

The Trojans again scored in the fourth quarter. With the opening of that stanza, Foxx booted one of the prettiest punts seen on the Caswell Park gridiron. The ball sailed 57 yards and rolled out of bounds on the Chattanooga 3-yard line. When the Lookouts returned Foxx's kick, Steve Maglio pulled the most spectacular run of the game, when he ran back the punt 31 yards to the Central 6-yard line. After the Trojans were penalized 15 yards, Foxx again passed to Alley for the Trojan's third tally of the contest. Foxx added the extra point through a perfect place kick. Later in the battle, Searle Gillespie, Trojan quarterback, intercepted a Chattanooga pass at mid-field. Foxx and Coile advanced the ball to the Central 14-yard line. Foxx threw a pass to Norman Anderson to chalk up the final Trojan score and to complete the beautiful shellacking of the Chattanooga Central Lookouts at the hands of a fighting Knoxville high school aggregation. Let me remind you - - the final score - - 26-0.

Since last Friday was "Homecoming" for the old graduates of the school, several of the alumni, who came to the game in a hopeful but doubtful frame of mind, must have gone away happy.

Knoxville To Play Host To Carolinians

TROJAN RESERVES DROP CLOSE GAME

Last Friday the Trojan reserves dropped a close game to Sevierville high school. The contest, played in Sevierville, ended with the score at 8-7 in favor of the home team. The reserves battled the hosts to a standstill, and clearly outplayed them in many departments of the game.

Sevierville defeated the Young high Yellowjackets several weeks ago. However, the Trojan varsity, and later the substitutes trounced the Yellowjackets by a 57-0 score. In view of thi sfact, the Trojan scrubs were the favored team in last Friday's contest. Sevierville scored an upset by defeating the reserves from Knoxville high school.

BOLIN INJURED; WILL NOT PLAY IN GAME

Herbert Bolin, veteran end of the Knoxville high school Trojans, suffered a slight concussion of the brain in the game with Chattanooga-Central high school last Friday. Bolin will not be able to play in today's game with Asheville high school.

Bolin received the injury when making a tackle. He did not recover from the shock of the blow until 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The loss of Herbert Bolin will weigh heavily on the Trojans in the game with Asheville today.

Asheville Furnishes Only Stumbling Block for 1934 Trojan Team.

TROJANS FAVORED

Bolin Out of Contest—Irwin To Start Game—Caswell Park Scene of Fray.

Today, the Knoxville high school Trojans seek to gain revenge for the 2-0 defeat given them at the hands of the Asheville high school grid team last year. The loss of the Asheville game took an undefeated season from the grasp of a strong Knoxville high school team. The game, which is to be held at Caswell Park at 2:30, promises to be one of the season's most interesting games.

Rumors state that the Asheville team is expectant and confident of another victory over the Trojans. However, Asheville suffered the loss of several of their best men by graduation. They are supposed to be decidedly weaker than last year's team.

On the other hand, we find a rejuvenated Trojan aggregation, still wondering about its victory over Chattanooga Central, and determined to offset last year's defeat by Asheville high school. The Trojans seem to have found themselves, and are ready for Asheville, though they will miss the services of Herbert Bolin, who was injured in the Chattanooga game. Notre Irwin will probably start in his old position at halfback. Irwin has been suffering with a broken rib. Steve Maglio, who filled his place in the Chattanooga game, was quite capable, but was not of Irwin's calibre.

The probable starting line-up is: Anderson and Alley, ends; Luttrell and Cook, tackles; W. Tipton and D. Tipton, guards; Flanagan, center; Gillespie, quarterback; Irwin and Foxx, halfbacks; Randles, fullback.

Since the Trojans showed true form in the Chattanooga contest, they will be favored to win over the visiting team from Asheville, North Carolina.

FOOTBALL LEAGUE BEGINS LAST HALF

The Intra-mural football league will begin the second half of its season next week, with C company meeting D company and A company meeting B company.

The season is worked on the Shaughnessy play-off system, with the play-off coming November 21. An admission of 15c will be charged for this game.

LAST Saturday night the TNT girls entertained the new members with a progressive dinner. The cocktail was at Micky Simpson's home on Nadine street. There the freshmen were given yellow roses with the green foliage still on them. The flower symbolized the TNT colors which are green and gold. From Micky's house the girls and their dates progressed to the home of Faye Poore in Island Home park for the main course. Faye was a pretty picture, indeed, serving in her blue velvet dinner dress.

The salad was at Sara Hasson's home on Kingston Pike, and from Sara's everyone went to Louise Hickman's home in Sequoia Hills for dessert. At each house Hallowe'en decorations were used and the napkins had goblins, witches, pumpkins, and other such things on them.

After the dinner Ruth Word invited everyone to her house to dance. She had previously asked "stags", and everyone had a marvelous time.

All of the freshmen girls looked lovely in their dinner dresses with the roses pinned on their shoulder. Pretty little Julia Early looked prettier still in her red velvet dress, and Margie Elgin, whose sister first organized the TNT club, was adorable in green and white.

AT THE HI-Y best date banquet last week, a rollicking good time was had by all. The club carried out alumni day by inviting many of the boys who have graduated but are still interested in the Hi-Y.

Nelson Venable, at one time the president, was present and introduced the alumni. Everyone was glad to see old friends such as "Chappie" Chapelle, Bob Salyer, John Henry, and the girl who never misses a Hi-Y banquet, Lois Whitehead.

YESTERDAY at the Y. W. C. A., the Senior Girl Reserves had a hamburger fry for the girls taken in the club this term.

The club went swimming first, and then cooked the hamburgers in the Girl Reserve room at the Y. W. C. A. They also had cold drinks and the new girls seemed pleased that they had been asked to join a club that had such jolly times.

MACKSIE Lovell gave a Hallowe'en party for the members of the Home Ec club last Tuesday. This is just one of the many socials the club is having this year, and everyone says each time they have a grand time.

THAT THE Open Forum is to have a hamburger fry on Friday, November 8, at the home of Fritz Reeves, Hillsboro Heights, Island Home, for present and former members, was definitely decided at the last meeting.

Members and their dates are to meet in the front of the high school building at 6 o'clock, in order that all may be furnished transportation to the designated place.

A short but interesting program was presented Monday. LaVerne Self gave a reading on "I See By the Newspaper".

Charles Maskall was welcomed into the club and was initiated by giving his view of the most beautiful girl in high school.

If you have lost anything, look in the front case. If it is there, go to room 304 and claim said article.

TO OBSERVE book week, the library is sponsoring a contest. A student or group of students who wish to enter, must take some book that is in the library and, using a shelf in the library as a stage, illustrate a scene from that book. The shelves are thirty-five inches long and nineteen inches wide. The whole shelf need not be used.

The contest closes the Friday before Book Week. For particulars see Miss Bates.

Stephen Foster's Life Story To Be Given By Musicians

'Weep No More My Lady' To Be Given in K. H. S. Auditorium, Nov. 6, 7, 8.

KHS GLEE CLUB TO SING

Under the sponsorship of the Knoxville News-Sentinel Empty Stocking Fund, "Weep No More My Lady", a play written on the life of Stephen Foster, and directed by Earl Hobson Smith, will be given in Knoxville high school auditorium on November 6, 7, and 8.

Student tickets will be twenty-five cents, and other tickets will be fifty cents. The K. H. S. glee club, orchestra, P. T. A., and the music teachers have tickets.

The leading characters are all local singers. They are Bob Faulkner, Miss Frances Elmore, and Mrs. Muriel Parrette Angle. Other well known local actors will be in the play. All the characters are historically accurate in both their emotional and physical lives.

The K. H. S. glee club will do the chorus work under the direction of Edward Hamilton, K. H. S. music teacher. Their instrumental music will be furnished by the K. H. S. orchestra under the direction of Fred de Robertis.

The proceeds will be divided among the different assisting organizations, which are the K. H. S. orchestra, glee club, P. T. A., the Music Teachers' organization, and the Empty Stocking Fund.

The Foster players have the complimentary criticism of My Old Kentucky Home Commission in Kentucky and Foster Hall in Indianapolis.

Cou... as Honor Member Contest; Encourages Work

Winner Will Be Announced at Next Meeting—To Be Awarded Pin.

"A spirit of rivalry is created among the Council members by the honor member contest. It makes each Council member work harder that he may be the one awarded the title of honor member. It surely does renew interest in the doing of all the work of the Student Council," commented Miss Jessie Dempster, one of the faculty advisers of the Student Council, when questioned concerning the feasibility of the honor member contest.

On the rear blackboard in room 304 there is a graph with each Council member's name. Every member's line rises according to the amount of work he accomplishes. Among other points considered are his initiative, accuracy, dependability, and the time he spends in completing his task.

Before the last part of the graph can be filled in, the member must do some special work which proves his initiative. The first to reach the top of the graph wins. The contest lasts the entire second six weeks. The winner will be announced at the next regular meeting. An honor member pin will be given the boy or girl who wins the contest.

Former winners of this honor are Gillis Kidd, Mary A. Swan, Donald Cooley, James Wilson, Jean Smith, Fred Jenkins, and Spence Jones. The contest was first held in the spring term of 1932. It has been a regular event each term since its innovation.

KHS Will Hold Open House During Week Of November 11-18

Departments Are Working on Plans to Make Event Largest of Term.

Knoxville high school will hold open house the week beginning November 11-18. This will occur during Education Week and practically all the departments are working on plans in order to make this one of the outstanding events of the school year.

The Social Science department will have the rooms attractively decorated with posters and exhibits of various kinds in order to indicate the type of work being done in the department. A few students will be in the rooms to represent every day class work and acquaint the parents with the workings of a regular school day. The students will do their best to make it seem as much as possible like an average class in progress.

Mathematics classes will be represented by the Trialgeo club. Posters and exhibits will be on display.

The commercial department will also participate in Open House. Speed tests, business letters, transcriptions, shorthand papers and tests will be on display from the typing and shorthand classes. Working sheets, neat bookkeeping sets and perfect test papers will constitute the display for the bookkeeping classes.

There will be music by the glee clubs and perhaps a few selections from the Night School glee club.

The Home Economics department will have a fashion show given by the girls. Illustrative material used in teaching and experimental work in class will be on display. The applied design class will also present exhibits. The lower first floor hall will be decorated by the Home Ec. and Industrial Arts departments.
