450 See Avon Players Give Dramatization

'Merchant of Venice' Presented Wednesday—Was Only Play Available.

Before a crowd of approximately 450 students the Avon Players, under the direction of Joseph Selman, presented "The Merchant of Venice" in the K. H. S. auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

The presentation of the play had been protested against by a group of Knoxville Jews, but as "The Merchant of Venice" was the only play the troupe was prepared to present, the production had to be given. The protests were based on the fact that Shylock, the villain of the play, is a Jew, and that the presenting of such a play might be embarrassing to the Jewish race.

Mr. Selman, manager of the troupe, who plays the part of Shylock, stated that in all the troupe's experience at presenting "The Merchant of Venice" there had been no such objections before. "I am sorry the situation arose," he sadi, "but our group always presents Shylock in a manner that should be embarrassing to no race."

So "The Merchant of Venice" was given and seemingly thoroughly enjoyed by all who witnessed.

Orders are orders! So, as the

AMENDMENTS MADE IN COUNCIL CHARTER

By a unanimous vote of the present Student Council members, two new amendments have been made to the constitution of the student governing body of K. H. S.

These amendments are:

Art. IV. Officers. Sec. 2a President

Article IV. Officers. Section 2a President:

The President shall be a 12A boy who has had former experience on a major committee either as a 11A or 12B member.

If no such boy is available, a 12B boy who has had successful experience on a major committee as an 11A may be nominated to the presidency.

Section 2b Vice-President:

The Vice-President shall be a 12A girl who has had experience as an 11A or 12B member. A girl who has served two terms on the Council may run a third term as a candidate for the vice-presidency.

Annual Mr. & Miss KHS Election Announced By Blue And White

Anderson To Head KHS Cheer Leaders

Girls To Decorate Stadium Each Friday.

Norman Anderson was elected head cheer leader at a meeting Wednesday morning during group period, with John A. Walker, assistant principal, presiding.

Frank Pate, Frank Winstead, Julia Freels, and Mary Ruth Bibb are the others elected.

Ruth Word, a former cheer leader, will instruct the new leaders in some of the different yells.

Each Friday the girls will decorate the stand in the school colors for the game.

The boys will have new megaphones which will be decorated by an art class.

Thursday night a series of pep meetings was started at Caswell Park. These will be continued if the meeting Thursday seems to be successful. With the band's help, it is hoped that these will become weekly meetings.

Junior Class Play Progresses Rapidly

Dropping by the auditorium Tuesday afternoon, a reporter looked in on the rehearsal of the junior class play, "Remember the Day", which will be given November 2.

As the work progresses, early and late hours are being utilized in addition to the regular after school session. Members of the cast were questioned regarding the play and one and all seemed enthusiastic regarding it.

Eve Williamson is certain that it is going to be "a swell performance". Perry Williams thinks that it will be a "very worth while play", and one that will not be a "waste of time for those attending".

Mention was made of the fact that the play is especially well written. One member made the remark that "a good wine needs no chaser". One may presume from this remark that a full evening's entertainment will be enjoyed by all that attend, and therefore the entire school looks forward with pleasure to remembrance of the day. Dates after the show will not be necessary in order to insure a good time for everyone.

Nominations for Both Honors To Be Made October 28—Rules Changed.

It has been announced by officials of the Blue and White staff that the annual Mr. and Miss K. H. S. election, held to determine who is the most representative girl and boy of high school, will again be sponsored by the Blue and White.

The primary election will be held October 28, and Mr. and Miss K. H. S. will be elected the following Thursday.

Many new rules have been made for the election, and several of the old rules have been changed.

The qualifications for nomination will be announced in the next issue of the Blue and White.

Last year's representative of "Miss K. H. S." was Miss Margaret Wright, while Wendell Tipton was given the honor of being "Mr. K. H. S."

Pictures of both Miss and Mr. K. H. S. will be carried by the Blue and White.

STUDENT COUNCIL INVITED TO MEET

The Student Council of K. H. S. has received an invitation from Bob Forsman of Central high school, Tulsa, Oklahoma, to attend the Southern Association of Student Government convention at the Henry Clay high school in Lexington, Kentucky, October 30-31.

Each group is supposed to be prepared to outline briefly the best project that organization has sponsored recently. A "question box" for puzzling problems will be conducted by C. F. Allen.

A newspaper called The Journal will be published immediately following the convention.

There will be a banquet Friday evening.

The K. H. S. council is planning to send delegates.

JOYLAND PLANS WILL BE STARTED SOON

With three new things in mind, plans for Joyland will start soon. This year a small orchestra may be used instead of the piano accompaniment. There is also to be a vocal chorus, and a ballet group dance. These three selections will be used as continuity throughout all Joyland.

The idea of a minstrel show will predominate the entertainment. Charles Martin, who has charge this year, hopes to have the tryouts in the near future. Each and every club is counted in to cooperate and start plans for their stunts.

Mr. Martin expects a large representation of clubs, and from them a bigger and better Joyland than ever.

This musical show will probably be presented some time in December.

PRINTS REPRESENT KHS STUDENTS WORK

For the past week there has been a collection of block prints in the exhibit case in the hall. Representations of the work of high school students all over the United States, from Maine to California, make up the collection.

These were obtained through exchanges made between members of the Knoxville high school art department, and the art department of other schools.

P.T.A. TEA WILL BE ATTENDED BY DR. CLARK

First Regular Meeting of Year To Be Held October 21, at 3:15 P. M.

Parents, patrons, and teachers are invited to attend a Hallowe'en tea to be given by the P. T. A. Wednesday afternoon, October 21, at 3:15 p. m. This is the first regular meeting of the year and Dr. Harry Clark, superintendent of city schools, will attend the meeting.

All the P. T. A. meetings with the exception of Fathers' night meeting, the second Monday in November, will be held the third Wednesday of each month at 3:15 o'clock.

The meetings are scheduled for November 9, December 16, January 20, February 17, March 19, April 16, and May 21.

Many plans have been made for the programs this term. Some of the program material consists of open discussions, on 'How to Improve Our Boys' and Girls' Codes", "Vocational Tests", and "World Peace".

Other things of interest will be style shows, debates, reports, and a Easter program. Many speakers have been obtained to address the meetings.

A total of 57 members are now enrolled in the P. T. A. membership contest. Twenty-two of these belong to the "Blues" and thirty-five to the "Reds". If one notices the football field this week, he will see the Reds have yielded the ball to the Blues, because they too have failed to convert the break they got this week into a first down. The ball is now on the Blues' 4½ yard line.

The outstanding players for the Reds are Charles Martin's group with a membership of six, and

Comparison Test Held By Students

To compare their speed with that of Miss Remo Poulsen, former world's amateur typing champion who gave a demonstration at Knoxville high school two weeks ago, a speed test was given to each of the more advanced K. H. S. typing classes last week.

Students were allowed five minutes practice and then one minute for the test, which was to write as many times as possible the sentence "It is a duty of a man to do me a turn and if he can he is to do so." Miss Poulsen averaged 240 words per minute on this same test. The highest average made by a student was 132 words per minute. It was made by Mildred Goolsbee, a beginner in typing.

Joan Coile made 130 words per minute; Clayton Naill, 128; Violet McNabb, 127; Ella Jean Woods, 127; Margaret Sharpe, 125; Dorothy Beaver, 124; Bonnie Hutchison, 117; Mildred Romines, 117; Martha Branson, 111; Mary Frances Hogan, 108; and Edna Craven, 107.

Those doing 105 words per minute are Bonita Combs, Mary Evelyn Cooley, Marion Everett, Marie Gentry, Margaret Horner, Bonnie Hutchison, Henen Pate, and Wanda Sherfey.

Considering that the students in typing have had much less experience than those mentioned above, their averages are equally outstanding. Jimmy Yearwood did 92 words per minute; Roma Nichols, 90; Telena Sutton, 89; Calvin Sharp, Christine Irick, and Thelma Hammond, 84.

Four Students Selected To Direct 12B's

Bill Householder, Ruth Long In Run-Off To Determine Fifth Member.

Mary Eleanor Acuff, Martha Cavaleri, Billy King, and Bob Johnson were elected this week to direct the activities of the senior B class. A run off between Bill Householder and Ruth Long this morning will determine the fifth director. The six were chosen by vote of the 12B class from eleven candidates who passed through the first election. Twenty-eight candidates were voted on in the first election last Friday. The newly elected leaders will begin their term of directorship immediately and will hence plan and direct the senior events.

Each of the four selected have been outstanding students, some in scholarship and others in extra curricular activities. Mary Eleanor Acuff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Acuff of Chicamauga avenue, served as a class director in the tenth and eleventh grades, first as secretary and last year as vice-president of her class. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves organization for several years, and has served at various times as an officer. She is now president of Miss Emma Becton's group, and held the same position in her group as a 10A, 11B, and 11A.

Martha Cavaleri has been equally outstanding, starting her extra-curricular work as a Junior Forum member in the 9A. She has been a group officer several times, and served on the Student Council in the 10A and 11A. Martha played the lead in the Junior Class play last fall, and was awarded membership in the Thespian Society for her excellent work. Last spring she was admitted to the National Honor Society. She is the daugh-

MISS BATES LEAVES AFTER FIVE YEARS

Ending five years of faithful service in Knoxville high school, Miss Mary Bates, head of the library, is leaving Saturday for Greensboro, North Carolina.

Miss Bates will be head of the Reference and Circulation department of the library in Greensboro.

"Although I have enjoyed working in the high school library, this is the kind of work I have always wanted to do, and I know I will enjoy it," stated Miss Bates.

Autumn Breeze Carries Class Conversation To Stroller's Ear

By Thelma McGee

Bosko told me and I'll pass it on to you——

At a certain time on a certain floor in a certain school, one may casually stroll down the solemn corridors where the autumn breeze, which is especially "breezy" at the particular time, drifts in through the class room windows, lifts up the conversation of the unsuspecting classes and carries it over the transom—there to gently fall uopn the stroller's eager ear.

Forthwith I obtained all the details and rushed out to see its truth. This is what I heard.

STUDENT TRANSPORTATION

Knoxville is one of the few cities of its size where students do not obtain special street car fare rates.

In most cities of any comparative size the street car companies and the school system have an agreement whereby students, riding the street cars to and from school, buy a ticket which allows them to ride back and forth to school at a reduced rate. Certain restrictions are placed on the use of the ticket, however. The tickets are only good when presented by the owner, and are not accepted for transportation on any days other than school days, or after certain hours in the afternoon.

Aside from the point that this plan would be of economical value to the students of Knoxville, the proposition would have other decided values both to the power company and the citizens of the city.

At the present time there are many school children who would use the street car company's facilities of transportation daily were the rates cheaper. Under the present conditions, however, they either walk or ride in private automobiles. The transporting of these students would be little or no added expense to the company, yet it would bring them a decided increase in income.

As the situation stands now, many students are loafing up town until around 5:30 p. m., and boarding the street cars just when tired business people are going home after a hard day's work. The added load of the students causes very crowded conditions on the cars which proves most inconvenient.

If special rate tickets were sold to school children, the students would have to go home by, say four o'clock in order to ride on the cheaper rate.

MR. BREWER'S PLAN

Paul Brewer, instructor of the Knoxville high school printing classes, has developed a system of student supervision in his classes which, it is believed, is most beneficial to the students of the classes and would prove equally worthy if operated in all manual training shops of this and other schools.

The plan used by Mr. Brewer is as follows: In each class there is a student foreman who is responsible for the discipline in the shop, the quantity and quality of the work produced by the students, the okeying of all jobs and seeing that all equipment is properly cared for and the shop is kept tidy. The foreman is usually a person who has completed three terms of printing and was outstanding in his respective class. He does not complete jobs as do the other students, as his sole job is to superintend the class, just as is the job of any foreman in the industrial plants and business houses of today.

Beneath the foreman are a group of student supervisors who might be termed as 'section bosses". It is the duty of the "section bosses" to oversee the general and orderly upkeep of four desks apiece. If inefficiencies, pertaining to this cleaning up are evident, the section boss responsible for them must answer to the foreman. If inefficiencies are evident pertaining to the work or any condition in the shop, the foreman must answer to the instructor.

The students offer excellent cooperation in promoting the plan and it proves most successful.

We believe that this plan, aside from the reducing the needless work of the instructor so that he may have more time to correct and instruct each individual pupil, helps the pupils to become acquainted with familiar conditions to those which prevail in the office, business house, and factory of today.

One of the factors lacking in the present education system is the experience of working and taking orders from persons of approximately your own age. The student in most cases must take orders from a teacher who is much older than he.

Then too, the four or five persons each term who are good enough workers to be appointed foremen gain the valuable experience of leadership. They will be better fitted to take their places as supervisors and leaders when they enter into the business world.

It is believed that your plan is a big step in the developing of higher and more complete education, Mr. Brewer. A plan in which worthy application and good workmanship merits more than just good grades on a report card.

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

Goodness, but I saw a lot of people at the Morristown game Friday night! Among them were CARL NAVARRE and MURIEL CLARK, J. A. WALLACE and MARGARET MOORE, BETTY JANE MORRISON and JOE BROWN, and JOHN LEA and SUKI COX. I guess FRANK BROWN rates. He took band sponsor MICKEY SIMPSON and didn't she look cute marching with their band? LADY GOODSON and MARGIE ELGIN sat on the Morristown side and yelled for Knoxville (leave it to them to do something like that!). WESTON HYDE and MARGARET BETTY GILLESPIE certainly had a lot of fun ringing a cow bell. Wonder where they swiped it? WESLEY BROWN and FRED FORD were a couple of "dateless wonders" Friday night. I guess they enjoyed the change!

And didn't the cheerleaders look perfectly grand? You can't tell me both blonds and brunettes don't look best in white! JULIA FREELS and MARY RUTH BIBB were knockouts, and as for the boys, NORMAN ANDERSON, FRANK PATE, and RED WINSTEAD didn't look a bit bad!

Well, the TNT freshmen looked wonderful at the progressive dinner given in their honor. You would never have thought they were the same ones who wore the pigtails, white dresses, and black stockings so short a time ago. Darling little FAYE GRIFFIN wore lavender chiffon. MARGARET PORTWOOD and GERTRUDE MEYER seemed to prefer black satin. DOT CATES and EMILY KING were in red. BARBARA BROWN looked lovely in pink satin, and MARIAN THOMPSON was perfectly darling in blue. SUSAN BUCHANAN wore white chiffon and looked quite angelic too. (Imagine Susan looking angelic!) CATHERINE DAUGHERTY served the cocktail and looked the perfect hostess in black and white. MICKEY SIMPSON had the main course and was beautiful in gold taffeta. MARGARET BETTY GILLESPIE, who served the salad, looked so pretty in purple, and TUBBY WORD, dressed in pink lace, climaxed a delightful evening by serving the dessert.

GREEN MARGINS

By E. P. O'Donnell
Houghton Miffin Co., Publishers

"Green Margins", winner of the Houghton Miffin Fellowship prize, introduces a new and good writer, E. P. O'Dowell.

The scene of the plot is laid about ninety miles down the river from New Orleans on the Mississippi delta country.

The story as a whole deals with the immoralities of the chief character, Sister Halavich, a young rebel against church, home, and convention. She goes to live with her grandfather in New Orleans, where for a short time, she is softened by the manners of Lorett a Dabrovich, only to return to the delta to Mitch Holt, powerful and untameable like herself.

THOMASON SPEAKS IN UPPER CHAPEL

Dr. R. F. Thomason, registrar at the University of Tennessee, spoke at upper class chapel Thursday. His address was advice concerning the plans of juniors and seniors after graduation from high school. This included the requirements for entering the University and various other interesting topics.

The R. O. T. C. commissions were given out by Major J. S. [illegible] and Sergeant W. A. Pratt. [illegible] participated in the yells given by the newly elected cheer leaders.

School Daze

By Betty Dafferner

When the Rhea County boys were visiting our high school, they became very much interested in the size of the school. Jeane Bourne, who was showing them around, told them what a large enrollment and how many teachers we had. Looking curiously at the monitors one of the boys exclaimed, "This must be a big school! Look how many people have to sit in the halls."

He: "You aren't well bread or you wouldn't say that."

She: "You haven't had much raisin either."

He: "If you knew how well icing you'd love me more."

She: "I do-nut care because you're not the bun for me. I was thinking of meringue someone else so I can get pie without you."

He: "This is no wafer you to do. I'll get oven with you."

At The Theatres

Two good attractions are being presented at the Tennessee Theater the last of this week.

"Old Hutch", is now playing, and Shirley Temple's latest picture "Dimples", will be on the bill for four great days starting Saturday.

Wallace Beery, "Old Hutch", plays a memorable character as a lazy fisherman who, upon going fishing one day, finds $100,000 in stolen loot. Of course, the robbers come to claim it and there is an exciting chase amid breath-taking rides, ending with the lovable, humorous "Hutch" playing hero and receiving a large amount of money for a reward.

"Dimples", starring Shirley Temple, with Frank Morgan and the unforgettable Step-and-Fetch-it, was originally called "The Bowery Princess". This attraction is somewhat like all of Shirley's pictures. She dances and sings throughout the play, displaying her winsome, vivacious, childish personality.

"The Lone Wolf Returns", featuring Melvyn Douglass and Gail Patrick, will play Friday and Saturday at the Bijou, while the Booth will show "Navy Wife" with Ralph Bellamy and Claire Trevor.

Who is this "Skipper" Jones we hear Ruth Layne talking about every day?

Knoxville Hands Morristown 11 Terrific Licking

Butler Leads Trojans to Fifth Victory—Broome Punts Well With Wet Ball.

LINEMEN OUTSTANDING

Entire Forward Wall Plays Heads-up Football—Tackling, Blocking Feature.

A sparkling and dazzling exhibition of football under the floodlights by Knoxville high school's undefeated Trojans brought them their fifth victory of the season as they defeated a scrappy band of Morristown Roosters, 37-6.

The Morristown squad, overpowered by the Trojans in both weight and experience, were no match for the Blue and White machine, and with one exception, in the second quarter when a punt was blocked and carried across for a Morristown touchdown, the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

Johnny "Flash" Butler, ace ball carrier of the Trojan team, gave one of his finest performances of the season as he raced across the goal line for two touchdowns. Junior Broome gave an excellent kicking performance with the wet football. One of his kicks soared from behind his own goal down to the Morristown twenty yard line, where it was downed by a host of Trojans. Others starring for the Trojans in the backfield were Tony Carper, Randles, Bell, and Martin. Every member of the Trojan forward wall gave an excellent performance and an individual star or stars could not be chosen.

Outstanding on the Morristown eleven were H. Allen and Cossom in the backfield, and Ayers, Paxton, and Shaver, in the line. Ayers, at tackle, paved the way for the only Morristown touchdown by blocking a punt.

Line-ups:

K. H. S.	Pos.	Morristown
Alley	L.E.	Canton
Luttrell (C)	L.T.	Tacker
Tipton	L.G.	Williams
Johnson	C.	Rader
Yon	R.G.	Throbaugh

Partredge	R.E.	Paxton
Broome	Q.B.	E. Allen
Butler	L.H.	Austin
Bell	R.H.	H. Allen
Randles	F.B.	Blackwell

Substitutions: Morristown—Cossom, Allison, Shover, Rader, Birley, and Harmon. Knoxville—Martin, Carper, King, Manning, Coile, Evans, Bolin, Long, Tucker, Cowart, Woodruff, Coffey, W. Broome, Hendricks, Smith, and Cross.

Scoring touchdowns: Morristown—Shaver. K. H. S.—Butler 2, Broome, Bell, Carper, and Martin.

Points after touchdown: Yon (placement).

Non-Company Leading Team In Football

Five Teams In Tournament—Games Played On Tuesday and Thursday.

Having won one game and tied one, the non-company intramural football team leads the company teams. Company A is second, having won two games and lost one.

There are five teams now in the tournament, companies A, B, C, D, and non-company. Twenty men to a team, the total number of team members is one hundred. The games are played on Tuesday and Thursday.

The season is divided into halves. Every team plays each other once the second half of the season. The winners of the first half of the season play the winners of the second half of the season for the championship. The officials are now trying to arrange a game between the team that wins the tournament and Maryville high school.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Percent
N Co.	1	0	1	1.000
A Co.	2	1	0	.667
B Co.	1	1	1	.500
D Co.	1	1	0	.500
C Co.	0	2	0	.000

SPORT DOPE

Trojans Wallop Morristown, 37-6; Battle Kingsport High Today

By Fred Owens

In one of those thrill-studded gridiron contests under the flood-lights, Knoxville high school's mighty Trojans continued their undefeated march by defeating a small but impressive band of Morristown Roosters, 37-6. The story alone cannot tell of the drama, color, thrills, and action that were packed into sixty minutes of fast playing and of the proceedings at the half.

The happenings at the half, when the dedication of new Burke-Toney stadium took place, are hard to describe, and will not be easily forgotten by the 4,000 cheering fans. The lights were turned off and complete darkness surrounded the stadium. A big blue K appeared on the darkened field followed by an orange M. Then the twirling of a lighted baton by the drum major. Both ends had been dipped into kerosene and presented a pretty picture as the baton was twirled in the air.

Fred Owens

But let's get back to the game. The Trojan linemen were tackling unusually hard and allowed only one first down through the line. The backfield gave an outstanding exhibition as they confined their offensive game solely to a running attack. Their failure to pass the slippery ball marked the first time this season that they have failed to pass during a game.

KINGSPORT DANGEROUS

This afternoon Knoxville high faces one of the most dangerous elevens in the state of Tennessee. Their opponents, well remembered for the 7-0 setback handed the Trojans last year, are the undefeated Kingsport Indians. Fresh from a 45-0 licking handed to the Greeneville Dragons last Friday night, the Indians are pointing to their most important classic and are confident of a victory which will place them in the running for the state title.

Kingsport offers a well balanced line and a deceptive passing attack. In Bobby Peters, a Kingsport candidate for Southern honors at quarterback, the visitors offer the most dangerous man to face the Trojans this season.

TROJAN HIGHLIGHTS

Johnny "Flash" Butler brought the spectators to their feet time and time again with his sensational winning. . . . Veo Yon made a beautiful block of Ermal Allen's punt. He came in fast and leaped high into the air to make the block. . . . Bob Alley and Larry Partredge were down to smear the safety man on every punt. . . . Bob Broome Jr. continually kept the Roosters deep in their own territory with his long punts. . . . Bob Johnson backed up in the line in fine style. He came in fast to spill enemy runners. . . . Captain Luttrell, Park Standridge, and Dave Tipton were the defensive gems of the game. . . . Bob Bell played his most convincing game at his halfback position. . . . When better defensive backfield men are found, Tony "Redtop" Randles will be among them. . . . Red Cross is one of the most valuable men on the Trojan squad.

Kingsport Indians Offer Undefeated Eleven For Clash

Possess Record of Having Scored Over 200 Points—Goal Yet Uncrossed.

QUARTERBACK STARS

Peters, Elusive Backfield Star, Passes and Punts—Remembered by Trojan Fans.

A horde of undefeated Kingsport Indians invaded the city this morning determined to keep their record unspoiled by defeating the also undefeated Knoxville high Trojans, at Smithson stadium this afternoon. The game will start a half hour earlier this week, the kick-off scheduled for 2:30 o'clock.

The Indians, paced by Bobby Peters, one of the greatest backfield performers in the South, hold impressive victories over some of the leading high schools in this section, and will be the favorites in today's game. A host of newspapermen have picked the Indians by two touchdowns.

The Trojans, on the other hand, will evidently have something to say concerning the outcome of the game. They have been practicing all week against Kingsport formations, using the ever-obliging Bob Foxx in a Kingsport backfield as Peters.

The same team as that which started against Morristown, with the exception of Cross at center, in place of Johnson, will probably start today's game.

Probable Trojan line-up:
Left end—Alley
Left tackle—Luttrell (C)
Center—Cross
Right guard—Yon
Right tackle—Standridge
Right end—Partredge
Quarterback—Broome
Left half—Butler
Right half—Bell
Fullback—Randles

Society and Clubs

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

GIRL Reserves are in the midst of plans for the conference to be held in Knoxville October 16-18.

At the banquet Saturday night at the Andrew Johnson Hotel, Beverly Baer, Louise Galloway, Norine Powers, Beverly Fischer, Charlotte Colby, and Mary Ruth Bibb will give a hillbilly dance. They will be dressed in overalls, red bandanas, and big straw hats. Janice Smith will sing, accompanied by Mary Ruth Bibb on the violin.

Ruth Word, secretary of the Conference and former president of the senior club, will serve as toastmistress. A toast will be given by Esther Alexander, the invocation by Gertrude Myers, and Margaret Betty Gillespie will welcome the guests. After the banquet, the election of officers for next year's meetings will be held.

—o—

A new Kodak club will be organized Monday afternoon in room 113. C. A. Browning will act as adviser to the club. The plans for the meetings include studying all the steps in good photography. Girls and boys interested are urged to be present.

MEMBERS of the Blue and White are planning to join the Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists. Otis Caldwell, associate editor of the Blue and White, is already a member.

The following are the qualifications for membership:

1. Candidates must be of junior or senior classification, or past-graduates.
2. They must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standings for the current year.
3. They must have done superior work in writing, editing or business management.
4. They must be recommended by the supervisor or by the committee governing publication.
5. They must be approved by the national secretary-treasurer.

A sample of each member's work is sent along with its application, and an initiation fee of two dollars per member is charged.

—o—

KATONAH club had their initiation Tuesday night at the home of Neta Lay, Tazewell pike. The new members are: Evelyn Kennedy, Catherine Starkey, Agnes Hufstedler, Louise Featherston, Virginia Ingram, Elaine Mauney, Elizabeth Ackeridge, and Catherine Hardin.

The dance, October 24, will be in honor of the new members.

—o—

TRIALGEO society's membership continued to swell as six more new members were taken in last Thursday, October 8. The new members that joined Thursday are: Ed Dougherty, Ed Smith, Herman Silva, Ruth Camel, John Clark, and Bob Acken. Miss Gladys Million and Sam Fincannon had charge of the program. There was an old-fashion spelling bee in which the whole club participated. George P. Turley, co-adviser with Miss Million, mysteriously disappeared at the beginning of the meeting, but returned just before refreshments were served.

—o—

NATIONAL Honor society made plans at the last meeting for a reception of the new members who will be elected in the latter part of November.

In selecting the new members, scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school will be taken into consideration by a committee of faculty members.

Five per cent of the 11A class, ten per cent of the 12B class, and fifteen per cent of the 12A class will be asked to join.

The society has had only one meeting this term but will meet the fourth Thursday of every six weeks.

The officers for this term are: Bob Clagett, president; Ruth Word, vice-president; Barbara Brown, secretary; John Lea, treasurer; and Margaret Card, program chairman.

—o—

JUNIOR Hi-Y gathered at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday, October 8, and listened to the report of Wilfred Gillenwater concerning the trip of Hi-Y representatives to Berea, Kentucky, where the National Hi-Y congress was held last June. Wilfred brought out that the candles used in the candlelight services held the last night of the congress were lit by the peace torch used at the International Peace Conference at Geneva, Switzerland.

Others who attended the congress were Henry Lawless, president of the sophomore Hi-Y, J. C. Lowry, and John Walker, representing the faculty.

—o—

OPEN Forum discussed plans for this semester at its last meeting.

Marvin Kreiger, head announcer of the K. H. S. radio programs and a new member of the club, gave an interesting review of 'The Merchant of Death".

—o—

SENIOR Girl Reserves had as speaker at their last meeting John A. Walker, who discussed 'Boy and Girl Relations". No meeting was held last Wednesday as the new members had not been elected, and the girls wishing to be Senior Girl Reserves had been invited to attend three meetings, and if they filled the necessary qualifications they would be asked to join the club. New members will be announced the first of next week.

—o—

EL Choclo, a dance club, will organize at the Y. W. C. A. Monday afternoon. Invitations have been sent to fifteen K. H. S. junior and senior girls.

—o—

OFFICERS of the Home Economics club were elected at a call meeting of the club, Friday, October 9. They were Louise Landess, president; Edna Smith, vice-president; Delta Bates, secretary; Lillian Hompton, treasurer; Reba Carter, publicity chairman; Evadell Seymour, cheer leader; Opal Scott, program chairman.

After the election of officers, initiation week for the club was decided on.

A tea was given at the close of the meeting in honor of the new members.

SHAKSPEAREAN PLAY ATTENDED BY FAIR CROWD

Troupe Members Interviewed After Presentation of 'The Merchant of Venice'.

curtain rang down on the last act of the play, a reporter rushed back stage with high hopes of getting a good interview.

Joseph Selman, the director, was the first person introduced, and, he being a very congenial gentleman, took time out to talk. Since the play was to be given in Maryville at eight o'clock that evening, the much discussed Shylock had left his grease paint on.

When questioned as to the role he liked best, Mr. Selman said, "I have played 700 roles, and I could hardly decide my favorite. When I was younger I preferred Hamlet."

The ladies of the cast, beautiful Miss Mary Downey who played the part of Portia, Miss Annnette Taylor who portrayed Nerissa, and Miss Eugenia Eubois who had the role of a servant, were graciously willing to talk to reporters.

Miss Camille Binkley who played Jessica, suggested to Miss Eubois to tell of her associates on the stage.

Miss Eubois modestly said, "I have played Miss Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" with Edna Mae Oliver. We slept on a bed which we had to pull from under the bathtub. I've also played on the stage with Lionel Atwill, Helen Menken, Robert Armstrong, and Sidney Blackner."

Miss Downey interrupted with, "Mr. Selman has been in plays with Mary Pickford and Jack Vincent has co-starred with Alice White."

The men of the cast were so busy packing scenery that they got a word in now and then between trips to the trucks.

The Avon Players have been together for seven years.

"There are twelve of us," laughingly remarked Mr. Selman. "Well, there are really thirteen but that's an unlucky number, so just say twelve."

Give Me Six Good Worms!

'But I thought This Was a Drug Store I'm In'!

"Do you have any worms?"

This was probably the oddest question asked of a corn-seller along Market Square last week. Not realizing that what he had heard was said, the farmer asked the prospective customer, a high school girl, what she wished. The girl repeated her question.

"Er-r. What did you say?" he asked.

"Do you have any worms,—you know, worms that crawl?"

"Well, I've been asked for many queer things, but this is the first time I've ever been asked for worms. Are you serious?" replied the puzzled farmer.

"Yes, I never was so serious in all of my life. I have to have six worms by 7 o'clock tonight for initiation."

Then the man started going over his corn, looking for worms, while the girl searched diligently along the curbing for any that may have fallen there.

This same procedure occurred and reoccurred for about five or six times until finally three worms were found.

In desperation the girl decided to go to the A. and P. store on Market street. There, the girl approached a young man and the same conversation took place. While he was looking for the worms, the girl, Gertrude Meyer, explained that this queer request came as a result of T. N. T. initiation.

The fellow, being good-natured, replied, as he handed her the needed worms, "Well, I thought you were 'batty' until you explained things."

Laughing, she said, "I could tell that by the expression on your face."

We wonder how the Evelyn Webster - Bob McGill romance is getting along.

Lower Chapel Addressed By C. A. Teetleball

Speaker Talks on Education and the Bible—Good Singing Closes Program.

In lower class chapel Tuesday, C. A. Teetleball, representing the National Young Men's Christian association, gave an interesting talk on education, stressing the knowledge and familiarity of the Bible.

Mr. Teetleball was here a year ago and addressed the student body.

One of the important things that the speaker stressed was the "sticking through" of high school and then going on to college if one is able.

"The best book of rules for the game of Life, I know, is the Bible", said Mr. Teetleball. "And the Y. M. C. A. commends it to you."

Mr. Vincent, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was also present, but did not take part in the program.

Dick Evans, president of the senior class and a Hi-Y officer, introduced the speaker.

In closing the program, songs led by Edward Hamilton, were sung. Among those selected were: "Reuben and Rachael", "You Started Me Dreaming", "Old Macdonald Had A Farm", and "Lights Out". Helen Ledgerwood played the accompaniment.

CLASS DIRECTORS ELECTED TUESDAY

Out of the twelve candidates, the 10B class elected five this week to lead them as class directors. The five are: Martin Black, Charles Easley, Billy Essex, Helen Darst, and Carolyn Huber.
