KHS To Conduct Election Which Will Prove Students' Choice For U. S. President

School Will Cast Ballots During Group Period November 3.

RESULTS TO BE POSTED

Will Be Electoral Vote With Each Group Representing One State.

To enable the Knoxville high school students to become more familiar with the methods of voting, a presidential election will be held Tuesday morning, November 3, during group period.

Ballots will be printed with the names of both the Democrat and Republican nominees. A square will be printed opposite each party and an X marked in the square for the party preferred will be sufficient for voting.

The president will not be elected by popular votes but by the electoral votes. In other words, a candidate may get the most popular votes and yet be defeated by the electoral votes.

During the last Tennessee legislation the state law of voting in Tennessee was changed and instead of voting for 11 electors, one merely votes for the Republican or Democratic party, as the case may be.

The election will be held between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred M. Landon.

The electors for Alfred M. Landon, candidate for President, and for Frank Knox, candidate for vice-president are: E. I. Caraway,

BROADCAST GIVEN BY FRENCH CLASS

An important radio broadcast was given by Mrs. Payne's French class, Wednesday. The Open Forum directed by Mr. Montgomery took charge of the program Monday.

A duet "Parlez-Moi D' Amour" was sung by Ralph Quinn and O. K. Jones, members of the French class, at the beginning of yesterday's program. A scene in Paris, played by Cecil Mynatt, C. F. Fielden, Joe Howard, and C. S. Needham, was presented. Charlotte Colby entertained by singing "Pour un Peu D' Amour". Margery Evans gave a talk on "Why Study Foreign Languages?"

The French club sang several selections including L'Alantte and Frere Jacques. Becky Logan concluded the program by discussing the advantages of the new French books and the Linguaphone, of which the department is very proud.

Annual Military Hop Will Be November 6

On November 6, from nine to 12:30 o'clock, the semi-annual R. O. T. C. hop will be held in the Knoxville high school gymnasium.

The climax of the evening will be a grand march headed by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Dick Evans and honorary Lieutenant Colonel Ruth Word. All officers of the battalion and their dates will participate in the march.

The couples will dance to the music of Skeet Tallent's orchestra. The home economics department under the supervision of Miss Guerrant Tatem will be responsible for refreshments.

The price of admission will be $1.00 per couple and 75 cents per stag. Only cadets in full uniform and their dates will be admitted to the hop.

Chaperones for the dance will be announced later.

'Hay Fever' Will Be Given October 6, 7

"Hay Fever", a three act, fast moving comedy by Noel Coward, will be presented in the K. H. S. auditorium at eight o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights, November 6 and 7, by the Carriage House Theater players.

Tickets will sell for thirty-five cents, and can be purchased from members of the theatre and at the school bank. A special ticket that sells for ten cents will admit one with twenty-five cents paid at the door. Gertrude Meyer, Fred Jenkins, and Thelma McGhee will sell tickets at high school.

"Hay Fever" will be the first production of the Carriage House group, which was recently organized by several of Knoxville's leading amateur dramatic promoters.

John Frantz, who is directing the play, and Dorothy Remine, who has one of the leads, are two of Knoxville's finest actors and are prominent in dramatic circles. Other roles are taken by Charles McMahon, WNOX announcer; Bill Kirkpatrick, of the Journal; Frank Engle of the T. V. A.; Mrs. Edward Hamilton, wife of the K. H. S. music director; Mrs. Janice Session and Mrs. Gladys McCarthy, whose husbands are connected with the T. V. A.; Edward Shaw, also with the T. V. A.; and Thelma McGhee, K. H. S. student.

Final Election To Be Held During Group Period Next Wednesday.

CLOSE RACE EXPECTED

Every Student in High School Eligible to Vote in Final Election.

Following the nominations for Miss and Mr. K. H. S., held in groups yesterday, it has been determined that Ruth Word, Julia Freels, and Ruth Long have been advanced to the final election for the honor of Miss K. H. S., while Bill Luttrell, James Martin, and John Butler will be in the run off for the honor of Mr. K. H. S.

The final election will be held during group period next Wednesday morning, and at that time the student body will vote for their choice for the two honors from the named candidates.

Every student in Knoxville high school is eligible to vote. Ballots bearing the names of the final contestants will be sent to the groups. Each student will merely place a check by the name of his choice. The officers of the group, under the supervision of the group teacher, will compile the results and send them and the ballots to the Blue and White office.

The rules of the election required that each candidate, before being advanced to the final election have attained at least a "C" average on his recent six weeks grade card and have his good character vouched for by the school officials. Each of these finalists have met the requirements.

STAFF MEMBERS JOIN SOCIETY

Ten members of the Blue and White staff have applied for membership to the Quill & Scroll, the International Honorary society for High School Journalists. They are: Barbara Rule, Sam Fincannon, Mary Ruth Bibb, Christine Monday, Edwine Powers, Thelma McGhee, Bowman, and Martha King.

Requirements for membership in this society are: One must be a junior or senior classman, have good scholarship, do superior work in writing, editing or business management, and be recommended by the adviser of the paper. Each entrant must submit a piece of his work which must be checked and approved by the national secretary and treasurer. On the application blank one's position on the staff, number of terms spent while working on the paper, and nature of work performed in news business or art departments is stated.

Prominent Speaker To Address S.I.P.A.

Addresses by men nationally prominent in various fields of journalism will feature the twelfth annual convention of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association which will be held at Washington and Lee university on November 20 and 21.

Raymond Clapper, Scripps-Howard's Washington political columnist, will be one of the featured speakers. Mr. Clapper, who was formerly head of the Washington bureau of the United Press and political columnist for the Washington (D. C.) Post, will speak on the "Confession of a Political Columnist".

A highlight of the convention for the scholastic journalists will be the publications contests, trophies being awarded to the high and preparatory school newspapers, magazines and annuals considered best by a committee of judges from the journalism school.

About two hundred delegates from 13 southern states are expected to attend this year's convention. Last year there were more than 150 in attendance, the largest number registered in the eleven years of the association's existence.

MONTGOMERY'S BOOK COMES OFF PRESS

"A Socialogy", a high school text-book, written by Dr. W. E. Cole of U. T., with C. S. Montgomery, K. H. S. teacher, as co-author, has come off the press.

The book was accepted by Allyn & Bacon, the largest publishing company in the United States. The text-book is of medium size, bound in dark blue, and sells for $1.15.

"It will not be used much in Knoxville high this term because of its late arrival, but we are certain that it will be used here next term," stated Mr. Montgomery.

WHY YOUTH IN CRIME?

Our city, state, and national government continually advocates the instilling of respect for its laws into its citizens, especially the younger generation.

Day after day, we read newspaper articles relating how various judges lay heavy penalties upon convicted youths, claiming that it hurts them to do so, but they must set an example which will encourage thorough respect for the law.

It seems as though the lack of more severe punishment for major crimes has become generally known as one of the leading causes for such a large number of persons of high school age becoming habitual criminals and law-breakers. Blame for this crime streak in youth is also laid to the lack of proper companions and environment, the evils deriving from modern inventions, and the lack of proper training during the rearing of the youth.

We believe that all these conditions have distinctive bearing on the situation; however, it is believed the chief blame for the high percent of crime among persons of the younger, ages and in any other age lies with the law enforcement agencies of our respective government.

We believe the most effective way to instill the fact that the laws must be obeyed is to enforce the law.

In Knoxville it is against the law to operate pin-ball machines on which cash awards are made for making a certain score. Practically every Knoxville citizen knows that this type of gambling is prohibited, yet hundreds of such machines are being operated, and these hundreds of citizens and young folks are witnesses of the fact that it is easy to get away with breaking this law without being punished.

To possess liquor or to be in a state of intoxication is also against the laws of this state and city. And yet, at numerous football games throngs of persons in a state of intoxication and still in the act of indulging, may be seen by both the officers of the law and thousands of citizens, young and old.

These thousands of fans observe that it's easy to violate the state prohibition law and "get by with it".

When persons of the adolescent age are continually observing the ease with which these and other laws may be violated, it is no wonder that there is a tendency for disrespect to laws of greater significance.

'REMEMBER THE DAY'

On November 2, at 8 o'clock, "Remember the Day", the junior class play for 1936, will be presented in the K. H. S. auditorium.

Much time, patience, and money has been spent in preparing a production which will offer a smooth and entertaining performance to the students, parents, relatives, and friends who will turn out to see the presentation.

It has become the tendency of the student body to not support the plays presented in mid-term to the extent which the plays presented at the last of the term are supported. It is hoped that this will not be the case next Monday night.

An interesting and wholesome play in which your fellow students are the actors and actresses, should be much more fun and pleasure to attend than any professional performance.

After all, one may see Clark Gable make love to Jean Harlow, or the like any night in the year, but it's a rare occasion when the "Book-worm" of the English class makes love to the "shy young thing" of the history class.

Let's all bring a friend or somebody else's friend and come down and applaud for the play of plays, "Remember the Day".

The Spectator

Mickey Simpson certainly was thrilled about getting that telegram the other day—from one of the Bolin boys, no doubt!

—o—

Larry Partredge. Good looking, blond "viking" type, dances wonderfully, plays excellent football, and—well what more could you want?

—o—

—o—

—o—

—o—

Hu Evelyn Luttrell is still writing to a Kingsport boy. We thought things like that just blew over, but this one didn't.

Joe Marks is trying to do a little sparking with Jewell Thompson.

—o—

—o—

A certain McCallie boy has Eleanor Martin floating on air!

—o—

Penn Perkinson seems to have made up his mind as to what girl he wants to go with—Dot.

—o—

—o—

Nellie Huskinson, new pianist for the glee club, has all the boys going for her, including the boys' quartet.

Jim McAshan and Eleanor Powers. Is it a new romance?

—o—

Wilfred Gillenwater has a secret love that no one knows about.

—o—

Why did Joe Woodruff punch the name "Ruth" on the punchboard that Norman Anderson had? Could it mean Ruth Word?

—o—

—o—

—o—

H. F. Lawson is a new student in our school. Glad to have you, H. F.!

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

So boys are more independent than girls! (Not so as you can tell it!) There was a whole car full of girls who went to Asheville last Friday , including BOBBY SHEPARD, BARBARA BROWN, JEAN BROTHER, SISSY RINEARSON, TUBBY WORD, and CATHERINE DAUGHERTY. Among the boys and girls who went up together were HARRY ELMORE and EVELYN FREELS, DOROTHY DUGGAN and PENN PERKINSON, KATHERINE BRISCOE and CHARLIE VANCE. MURIEL CLARK was there, of course, with CARL NAVARRE and WESLEY BROWN. BOB WALDER, JIM FRY, and ARTHUR LYONS went up on the train. They've been talking about what a grand time they had ever since they came back!

Gee! I hope the Chattanooga team brings a lot of cute people with it! Won't we have fun if they do! Bring all you can find out to the DeMolay dance and we'll show 'em what we have up here!

My, my, these modern hats! Did you see ex-sponsor SUKI COX'S headdress? Her hat was about the reddest and cutest one I ever hope to see. It had three feathers (red, green and yellow) sticking straight up in the back. This chieftain affair gave me the impression of an Indian!

These absolutely vile shirts the boys are wearing!! STUART MAHER has a lovely one of red and green plaid. CARL NAVARRE'S best number is a green, black, and red calico checked one, LOUIS JOFFE has an entirely different looking shirt affair that is pink and blue in a kind of zig-zag stripe. JACK RODGERS' specialty is that red one. The stripes run diagonally and are wavy. It makes me absolutely dizzy to look at it! (The shirt, not Jack!)

BOOKS

"WHITE BANNERS"
By Lloyd C. Douglass
400 pp.

Boston: Houghton Mefflin Co.

In White Banners the most important character is Hannah Parmelee, who has been a servant all her life. Into the disorganized and drifting household of Paul Ward, an impractical professor, Hannah placed herself, and by her influence and her energy transformed it into a home. The history of the transformation is disclosed in relationship to Hannah's own history which had taught her the wisdom enabling her to light the path of others. She had a faith which was so serene and so immutable that those with less gambled on hers. The world could use an army of Hannah's with banners but one doesn't know where to find them outside of Mr. Douglass' stories.

"White Banners" prescribes the same philosophy and reaffirms the same faith as its predecessors. The symbolism of "Not white flags but white banners" seems too, more in keeping with the Douglass message than traffic signals. Mr. Douglass has presented his characters in "White Banners" more like people than preacher's pets.

P.T.A. Appreciates Services Of Girls

The Knoxville high P. T. A. wishes to thank the following girls for helping them entertain at their tea on Wednesday afternoon, October 21: Hazel McMillian, Dorothy Lockett, Jessie Lou Neubert, Sarah Brabson, Noreene Powers, Joan Coil, Henel Warwick, Virginia Naff, Katherine Briscoe, Elinor Powers, Amelia Pellegrinelli, Elois Owen, Lila Jane Armstrong, Mildred McGimpsey, Jean Astley, and Lillian Crozier.

They also wish to thank Alice Jean Bounds, Russell Hickey, Thelma Armette, Mack Blackburn, and Lillian Friedman for the music that they furnished.

The following firms contributed materials to the success of the party and the P. T. A. would like for them to know that they appreciated their help: S. L. Sallings Co., Tennessee Peanut Co., Standard Brand, and Betty McNutt and Hazel Parker, florists.

It seems that almost everyone in high school made some contribution to the success of the party. The P. T. A. would also like to thank them for their cooperation.

Isn't it remarkable how Clara Cluck has advanced in Movieland? They are even changing the names of some of the pictures for her benefit. For example, there was a movie called "The Case of the Lucky Yeggs", and it has now been changed to (if you noticed the billing at the Gay last week) "The Case of the Lucky Eggs".

At The Theatres

The yearly musical of "The Big Broadcast of 1937" is coming to your Tennessee theater the last of this week! Everyone has been waiting for this great vaudeville show, and here it is. Starting Saturday, the picture will have four great days. An ear full of music, chuckles and laughter, and sympathetic murmurs for the lovers will be heard throughout the theater each and every day. Benny Goodman, swing band favorite, and Leopold Stokowsky with his famous symphony orchestra will give you the thrills in music. And none other than that crazy, popular pair, Gracie Allen and George Burns, will furnish the laughs. (And they can do it!) The romance which predominates throughout the show is given by an orchestra leader, Benny Fields, and a girl announcer, Shirley Ross.

This picture will be just one more big hit, as all the rest have been, therefore no other explanation is needed.

Thursday and Friday at the Tennessee the fast becoming popular Francis Lederer and Ann Sothern, will play in a fast moving, clever production called "My American Wife".

The Riviera has booked Richard Dix in "Devil's Squadron" for Thursday and Friday. Karen Morley will co-star with him. "The Sea Spoilers" with John Wayne and Nan Grey, will start Saturday.

Trojans Smash Asheville High Eleven 13-6

Bell and Johnson Provide Fireworks for Knoxville in Seventh Victory.

BRYSON OUTSTANDING

Two lightning-like thrusts by the undefeated Knoxville high Trojans gave them their seventh victory of the season in defeating a highly plumed and polished Asheville Maroon eleven, 13-6, last Friday in Asheville.

The Trojans' markers came as a result of a weak punt by Clyde Jones immediately after the kick-off and a blocked punt by Captain Luttrell in the final stanza. The Maroons scored their touchdown in the waning minutes of the game. It was on a pass from Branson to Smith to Jones to Bartlett, right tackle, who crossed the goal line standing up.

A third Trojan touchdown was called back. Broome threw a long pass to Alley, who made a daring catch and outraced two Maroons for a touchdown only to have the play called back and the Trojans penalized for the backfield being in motion.

Bob Bell was the chief offensive threat of the Trojans, aided by Broome, Butler, and Carper. Bob Johnson played the greatest game of his career in backing up the line. He was all over the field making tackle after tackle. Captain Luttrell, Alley, and Hendricks were also outstanding on defense.

Laurels for the outstanding player on the field belonged to Captain Bell Bryson fo the Maroons. He was forever a threat to the Trojans on the offensive and a demon on the defense. Bryson was without a doubt the finest player to face the Trojans this season. Others shining for the Maroons were Clyde Jones, Little, and Smith.

SPORT DOPE

Johnson Shines For KHS Against Maroons; Homecoming For Grads

By Fred Owens

Breaks, which usually decide between victory and defeat, along with a high-geared type of play at times, gave the Trojans a hard-earned victory over the powerful undefeated Asheville high Maroons last Friday afternoon and helped them keep their fine record unmarred by defeat or tie.

Fred Owens

Although four touchdowns have been registered against the Knoxville aggregation this season, no enemy rival has been successful in scoring through the forward wall. With the ball resting on the Trojan three yard line in possession of Asheville, last down and a foot to go for a first down, the Trojans stiffened and held Captain Bill Bryson for no gain, amid a tremendous cheer from the Knoxville cheering section.

Bob Johnson, backing up the Trojan forward wall, played the greatest game of his entire career against the Maroons. He was voted the outstanding lineman on the field by A. L. Bannister, sports editor of the Asheville Citizen.

HOMECOMING FOR OLD GRADS

Old grads of Knoxville high school will file out to Smithson Stadium this afternoon to witness 1936 Trojan eleven in action against the Purple warriors of Chattanooga Central high. For many of them it will be their first and last opportunity of watching the boys go through their paces and they will, of course, expect a dazzling exhibition of football from the Blue and White machine.

The Trojans, to celebrate this grand and glorious occasion, will be out on the gridiron fighting every minute in an effort to convince the old timers that the 1936 edition of the Trojans compares with other great teams produced by the institution.

TROJAN HIGHLIGHTS

Jess Hendricks really played bang-up football after entering the game in the third quarter. . . . Bob Bell was the Trojans' chief ground gainer. He seems to improve each week. . . . Bob Alley played a great game at his terminal position. His catch of the touchdown pass that was called back was the best catch of the game. . . . Captain Luttrell not only played his usual good game, but blocked a kick and scooped it up and ran for a touchdown that led to the Trojans' margin of victory. . . . Dave Tipton and Veo Yon were in the thick of every play when the Maroons threatened to score for the first time through the Trojan line. . . . Tony Carper resembled Gene McEver as he crashed through the strong Asheville high line. . . . Johnny Butler's tackle of Bill Bryson after he had passed the line of scrimmage and ran down to the eleven yard line, was the hardest of the game. . . Tony Randles was greatly missed in the last half as evidenced by the long Asheville drive. . . . Smiley Martin, Larry Partredge, and Park Standridge were credited with fine performances along with their team members. . . . Jimmy "Red" Cross inspired the Trojans to their greatest heights with his lusty yells and hard tackling.

Purple Eleven Invades City For Homecoming

K. H. S. READY

The Purple Pounders of Chattanooga Central high will attempt to shatter Knoxville high's dream of an undefeated season this afternoon in the homecoming game for the Trojans at Smithson stadium. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

Chattanooga has been defeated twice this season, but has shown much improvement since the beginning of the season. Kingsport and Baylor have beaten Central, while the Pounders hold victories over such teams as Nashville, Rome, Georgia, and Bradley county.

The Purple offers one of the best passers in high school circles in Dick Bates, long-armed pass slinging ace. Sharing honors with Bates in backfield is Scooter Mallett, one of the finest runners in southern high school football.

The Trojans are in perfect condition for the game, and will be out to show the old grads that the present eleven compares with those of the past.

Right guard—Yon.
Right tackle—Standridge.
Right end—Partredge.
Quarterback—Broome.
Fullback—Randles.

Society and Clubs

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

GIRL Reserve clubs united in having open house in the form of a Hallowe'en party at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday from 6 to 9 o'clock.

Knoxville, Central, and Young high schools, Boyd, Park, Christenberry, and Rule Jr. high schools participated in the entertaining.

Susan Buchanan and Betty Hilands, of the sophomore club, had charge of selling Coca-Cola's, while Mildred Polk, of the junior club, headed the committee which sold hamburgers. Brown cows, hot tamales, homemade candy, peanuts, popcorn, lemonade, and doughnuts were included in the menu.

Barbara Foust and Gertrude Meyer arranged a revue with girls from the senior club. Janice Smith and Myrtle McWhorter sang a duet, "Hallowe'en"; Beverly Baer, Charlotte Colby, Norene Powers and Louise Galloway did a hillbilly dance; Margaret Portwood, a tap dance; and Marjorie Evans gave an appropriate reading.

OPEN Forum, in order to become more acquainted with the Public Utility problem, will have debates for the next few weeks on the utility question.

The Forum's night meeting was held Tuesday in the Knoxville high school building at 7 p. m. in room 231.

Two new members were initiated into the club. Bob Smith spoke on, "Why I think the United States army should be equipped with rocking chairs", and Lillian Kohler gave her reasons for, "Why I think the president of our club would make a good husband".

A debate, Resolved that Roosevelt should be re-elected, was held, Stuart Maher taking the affirmative and Bob Clagett, the negative.

C. S. Montgomery, adviser to the club, gave arguments for and against the question.

—o—

T. N. T. will give a backward dance Hallowe'en night at the home of Gertrude Meyer. All members will call for their dates at 8 o'clock. The boys will be cut in on by the "stagettes", who will be invited by T. N. T. girls. Everyone will be masked.

—o—

KATONAH club gave a backward dance at Julia Freels' Saturday evening, October 24. Many attractive girls moved among the dancers, having a chance to break or their best boy friends. other cities, rated 100 per cent in attendance in 1935.

Teachers will visit the Knoxville schools today. Several schools will present various types of activity work and observation classes. The visiting teachers will be met by the Parent Teachers at the Andrew Johnson hotel and taken to the different schools.

Knoxville high school is well represented this year by the various faculty members. F. C. Lowery is general chairman of the local arrangements committee; Principal W. E. Evans, chairman of the speakers reception committee, and Miss Clara Bewley is secretary of the English section. Miss Lucile Evans has charge of the Latin club, while Miss Helen Galbreath will speak on the Latin newspaper. W. R. Ragsdale is secretary of the science department; Edward Hamilton, chairman of the music committee; and Sam Jones, chairman of the physical education department.

The all East Tennessee orchestra, composed of one hundred students from the different high schools in East Tennessee, will again be directed by Professor Norval Church. Professor Church proved so popular as a director of the orchestra two years ago that he has been asked to return to direct the orchestra this year. He is head of the instrumental department of music in Columbia university and has composed several hand and orchestral books. Other than directing the orchestra Professor Church will conduct a clinic on orchestra directing for teachers.

Thursday evening a concert will be given by the Knoxville high school A capella choir and the University symphontic choir.

'34 CLASS TO HAVE BANQUET AT K. H. S.

The Knoxville high school class of '34, A and B, will have a homecoming banquet November 5, in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Sally Sobolewski, who will serve the dinner, said that a similar gathering was held here by members of the same class.

JUNIOR PLAY

football game, senior class play, Joyland, subscriptions to the Blue and White, and other interesting gifts. Tickets are to sell for twenty cents, and all students selling five will receive a ticket to the play free of charge.

It is thought by the cast and director that this play will be particularly appealing to the student body. The plot has to do with a boy whose hobby is ships and seafaring matters, but whose ideal is his school teacher. Nora Trinell, the teacher, is sympathetic in her interest of his passion for ships. The boy, Dewey, realizes the plane of his teacher's life is far above his reach, and is grievously disappointed. He later learns that she is in love with the school athletic director. His reactions to the place in which he finds himself is built into the play and takes the audience through his trials, and is very very touching and human.

A large crowd is expected to turn out for this first play of the year. There will be four different scenes, and the action of the play is one of continual change and interest. O. E. Sams, the director, seems pleased with the work of his cast, and the development of the production.

"I am hoping especially that we will have a larger crowd this year. The play is costing more and is really worth while," Mr. Sams said.

Norval Church Is To Conduct E. T. Orchestra

Columbia Professor To Train 100 High School Musicians For Concert.

The All East Tennessee Orchestra will again be under the direction of Professor Norval Church, who proved to be so popular as a director of the orchestra two years ago that he has been asked to return to direct the event this year. As head of the Instrumental Department of Music, Teachers College, Columbia University, and director of many large professional and student orchestras, Professor Church has become widely known. He is also author of several band and orchestra books. Professor Church will conduct a clinic on orchestra directing for teachers and will also demonstrate how to start small orchestras in small schools.

About one hundred instrumentalists from high schools of East Tennessee are being selected to receive three days intensive training under Professor Church and to play a symphony concert at the Alumni auditorium on October 30. The concert will include: "First Movement of the Unfinished Symphony", by Schubert; "Prometheus Overture", by Beethoven; "The First and Third Movements of the Suite from Sigurd Jorsalfar and Hjtertesar", by Grieg; and "Minuet from E Flat Symphony", by Mozart.
