KHS Students Give To Help Poor Children

'Mile Of Pennies' Sponsored By Home Economics Department.

Different student organizations at K. H. S. are doing their best to make Christmas merry for poor children in the city. The Home Economics department is sponsoring the "Mile of Pennies" to buy refreshments for nursery school parties, while the child care class is painting and repairing old toys which cooperating students have brought for that purpose.

Members of the Blue and White staff and the newswriting class have brought money for new dolls, which were dressed by girls of the staff and class. These dolls and trucks, candy, and fruit will be given to little boys and girls in the second grade at Moses school by Harold Simpson, who will impersonate Santa Claus. After donating the gifts, members of the staff will go to Miss Emma Becton's apartment where she will give them a party.

The Red Cross has been dressing dolls and collecting money and toys. Senior Girl Reserves are also dressing dolls. These projects all go to make many little girls and boys happy at Christmas.

Kreiger And Maher Debate In Athens

Marvin Kreiger and Stuart Maher, 12B students, journeyed to Athens Wednesday to represent K. H. S. in a debate on government ownership of electric utilities. Accompanying them were Mrs. R. E. Pemberton and Charles Martin, who coaches the high school debating team, and Eula Pemberton.

The question in full was: Resolved—"That the Federal Government should own and operate all electric utilities." The negative side was taken by the Knoxville debaters.

C. S. Montgomery, one of the advisers of the Open Forum, stated that there would probably be a return meet held at K. H. S. but that the arrangement had not yet been made.

Eula accompanied the team to get pointers for future debates.

Play Contest Won By Christenberry

Christenberry junior high school with the presentation of "The City Slicker", won first place in the initial Knoxville junior high school one-act play contest, sponsored Saturday by the Thespians. Mary Ellen Baker directed this play, and a silver loving cup was presented by Thelma McGhee to the winning school.

The three judges were: Miss Helen Galbreath, chairman; Mrs. Georgia Johnson of Knoxville high school; and John Franz, director of the Carriage House theater.

The other two plays were:: The Three Pills", presented by Boyd junior high school, and directed by Miss Mary Tredwell; and "Just What They Wanted", by Rule junior high school.

"The contest, the first of its kind to be presented here, was a huge success, and will probably be an annual affair. The participants took a great deal of interest, and worked on their plays wholeheartedly," stated O. E. Sams, adviser of the Thespians.

BEST THESPIAN

president of the K. H. S. Thespian troupe, who was awarded the honor of being the best Thespian for 1936-37.

Thelma is the only K. H. S. student who is a member of all three of the National Honorary organizations, the Thespians, Quill and Scroll, and Honor Society.

Thespian Banquet Held Monday Night

New Members Announced and Officers Elected.

New members were initiated and new officers elected at the Thespian's banquet held on Monday night at the Fifth Avenue Tea Room. All of the officers for the past term were reelected. Gertrude Meyer was chosen as corresponding secretary, filling the vacancy made by Lorraine Gentry. Thelma McGhee will again serve as president, C. F. Fielden, vice-president, and Martha Cavaleri, recording secretary.

The new members were brought in court before Clyde Carter, ruler of an ancient kingdom, to present their skit for him.

After the banquet the candlelight service was held, and the chosen members took the pledge, and were then told the various aims of the organization.

Thelma McGhee received one of the highest honors awarded to Thespians by being selected as "Best Thespian" for '36-'37.

New members are as follows: Charlotte Colby, Vivian Creech, Eugenia Franklin, Kenneth Herrill, George McKelvey, Helen Moore, Betty Jane Morrison, Cecil Mynatt, Noreene Powers, John Roberts, Herman Silva, Mary Lee Smith, Jack Waller, and Eve Williams.

Parker Returns From Convention In Washington

Six Hundred and Fifty Attended Meet.

S. B. Parker returned last Monday from his visit in Washington, D. C., where he attended the First National Convention on Educational Broadcasting. Mr. Parker reported a pleasant and profitable trip.

The conference lasted from Thursday noon to Saturday noon. Over 650 delegates from leading cities, colleges, universities, and high schools of the United States were there.

"The radio is increasing in its use and value in every phase of life so rapidly that it is a challenge to educators and schools to keep up," said Mr. Parker.

Speakers at the convention brought out the fact that the radio had more influence on peace movements and the national election than all other agencies combined. To illustrate, the expedition of Admiral Byrd was familiar through the radio to millions of people, young and old. The radio is helping the schools educate children and parents alike. It is the greatest publicity agent the schools have ever known.

Delegates agreed to combine their efforts to cooperate with broadcasters to raise the level of radio programs.

An 8 o'clock breakfast was held at the Mayflower Hotel.

'Mile Of Pennies' Amounts To $18

At the end of a week, the length of the "Mile of Pennies", which has been growing steadily, has reached about 112½ feet, amounting to around eighteen dollars. This is about four dollars a day. So far the pennies would reach about one-fortieth of a mile.

It is estimated that if every student in high school put down one cent there would be about $22.50.

"Students have done fine in cooperating with us in this drive," said Miss Lucy Goddard, home ec teacher and supervisor of the collection of pennies and toys.

These pennies are to be used to buy toys and candy for the nursery school children's Christmas parties.

Absence Of Smoke In Miami Impresses Principal Most After Visit In Florida

"Among the many beautiful things that I saw while on my trip, the absolute cleanliness of Miami was the most impressive. Upon my arrival in the city the first thing I looked for was smoke, but I failed to find the slightest trace of any," were Principal W. E. Evans' comments on his return from Florida. Mr. Evans and Fred Stair, chairman of the School Board, went with the team to Miami, but stayed three days after the team left, to visit schools.

The two school men left here Thursday noon and joined the football team in Jacksonville Thursday night. Contrary to expectations, they found the weather extremely cool there. Catching the morning train, they arrived in Miami late in the afternoon.

At the station students and school officials were on hand to greet the Knoxvillians. Transportation had been taken care of by the Arrangements Committee and the party was taken to Coral Gables which was made the Trojan headquarters. After cleaning up and going to dinner, uniforms were donned and the team rode to Miami stadium. The University of Miami-Georgetown game kept the boys interested for three quarters and then they retired to another part of the field for a short practice session.

Following the game, a dance was held Saturday night with Miami high school girls calling for members of the team in automobiles. Mr. Evans did not attend the dance but was taken by Coaches Yarbrough and Crabtree and their wives to the Royal Palms, Miami's celebrated night club.

Sunday morning the entire Knoxville party was taken through the Long, Hall, Brehm, Franklin, Watts, Peterson, Story, Dougherty, Hines Elected To Council In Primary

COUNCIL LEADERS

Kenneth Hatcher and Ann Mary Able, who were selected to lead the Student Council next term.

Run-Off of Races Too Close for Decision To Be This Morning.

As a result of the Student Council primary election held during group Monday, December 14, Arthur Peterson and Ruth Long were elected to represent the 12A class; Ed Story and Nell Hall, the 11A; Ed Dougherty, Alice Jean Brehm, and Eugenia Franklin, 11B; and George Hines and Doris Watts, the 9A class.

Since the vote in many cases was too close to be called a majority, there will be a run-off between these, Friday during group. This election will include all who wished to run as independents, having had a petition signed by fifty members of their own class, and it will be final.

The run-off will be between Joe Howard, Marshall Perry, Eugene White, Dorothy Barber, Frances Caldwell, Charlotte Colby, Louise Michaels, and Nadine Wilson, of the 11A class; George Phillips, Edward Robbins, and Rhea West of the 11B; Sara Margaret Adkins, Mary Hudson, and Stella Tipton, of the 10A; and Charles Easley, Winston Lucke, Richard Thaler, Mary Margarette Curry, Bonnie Kate Fielden, Marjorie Freels, and Charline Vaughn representing the 10B class.

Contest Sponsored By Jr. Red Cross

Judges To Decide Winners This Afternoon.

Among many other things being done for Christmas by the Junior Red Cross of K. H. S. this year a doll dressing contest is the most popular.

One hundred nine-two dolls have been purchased by the Red Cross and given to the different girls in the school to be dressed. There are three kinds of dolls. The soft bodied dolls, the baby dolls, and the dolls with hair. Instead of the regular first, second, and third prize, a prize of one dollar will be given to the best dressed doll of each type.

The dolls will be judged Friday between the fifth and the sixth periods by one of the home economics teachers.

The Junior Red Cross is donating 109 dolls for girls, 122 toy cars for boys, and 120 pairs of boys' stockings which were donated by the Ashe Hosiery Mills and the Holston Manufacturing Co.

The following schools will receive these toys: Pickle Nursery, Beaumont School, Mynders School, and Perkins School. There will be some outside cases.

Certain members of the Red Cross will go to Mynders School Monday, taking Santa Claus with

Week's Broadcasts By PTA, Open Forum

"Foreign and Diplomatic Relations In Europe Today", was the subject of Monday's broadcast, given by the Open Forum under the direction of C. S. Montgomery. The P. T. A. had the broadcast Wednesday and Friday. Charles Martin, of the social science department, conducted the program. Monday Miss Edith Horton, of the English department, will be in charge.

Bill Andrews, a member of the Open Forum, gave a talk on the "Spanish Situation and England's Foreign Policy". "Results of the President's Trip to South America" was related by Fred Kuhlman. Eula Pemberton told of the "United States Interest in the Spanish Situation", and Kyle Shown spoke on "Important Personalities in Europe Today".

Lucy Wilkes played a piano solo and Russell Hickie gave a flute solo.

Mrs. Wally Luttery of the P. T. A. gave a Christmas story called "The Other Wise Man" on their broadcast Wednesday.

Senior Girls Plan Annual Style Show

The seniors are inviting all the girls in high school to come to see their unusual style show, which will be given after the holidays.

Plans have been made with leading department stores and all will be in readiness soon.

The show this year is to be given in the form of a house-party, and girls will model for everything that takes place during that time. There will be breakfast, then sports, such as bicycling, hiking, skating, skiing, and riding.

After that the girls will have a luncheon, bridge party, tea, dinner, and the whole event will be climaxed by a formal dance. Sometime later all will participate in a pajama party which will finish a perfect day.

Ruth Word, who is in charge of the show said, "We know this is going to be good, and plan to have music, but what it is to be is undecided. The show will be composed of about fifty girls."

ADVERTISING TOBACCO

On the back pages of well known magazines and among the comic sheets of numerous newspapers throughout the United States, last week appeared an advertisement of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company in which the artist has drawn a "Santa Claus" holding forth an opened package of cigarettes.

This type of an advertisement is rather typical of some of the many means tobacco and cigarette manufacturers resort to in advancing upon the American people the use of their products. Here we have Santa Claus, the symbol of Christmas to thousands of American children; the same Santa Claus who is the idol of the younger portion of youth; the Santa Claus whom parents tell their children legends of during their age of infancy. Yes, the same Santa Claus; and now this beloved old gentleman is portrayed offering one of the curses of modern civilization, products of tobacco. What effect will this picture have upon the developing minds of children? Will it lead them to not fear so greatly the dreaded harm of cigarettes?

The American people seem to have lost sight of the fact that products of tobacco contain a habit forming drug which in itself is deadly poison;—Yes, that same product used by farmers in exterminating insects from their crops—nicotine.

Such facts as this, however, are quickly covered up by the advertisement of tobacco concerns, who make such boasts of their products as "they steady your nerves", "they aid digestion", or "they remove throat irritation".

The sad phase of the situation is, however, that many people believe such statements can be true. But we ask you, in the name of common sense, how can any brand of cigarettes steady your nerves, when after becoming a habitual smoker, your nervous system is wrecked without the continual absorbtion of the habit forming drug? And how can any cigarettes aid digestion when it is a container of poison which is continually poisoning the food eaten by the steady smoker?

Doctors tell us the reason for one becoming nauseated while experiencing his first smoke is the poisonous nicotine acting on the stomach; but, we are told, after several encounters of the stomach with the nicotine the resisting glands are totally overcome by the poison and tend no longer to make the smoker sick as a warning of poison in the system.

And how, may we ask, can any product of tobacco remove throat irritation when the smoke inhaled through the throat must pass over such sensitive glands as are contained in the throat? If poisons, gases, and hot smoke will remove any kind of irritation, then medical science has yet something to learn.

Thousands of high school and university students are taking up the smoking habit to be smart or fashionable. But with their fashion act, they are falling victims of a most harmful drug which will decrease their possibilities for good health during their life, set their date of death closer to the present time, and reduce their self respect.

Is it worth it?

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Next Friday is the most significant holiday of the year—Christmas.

It is during the Christmas season that the most charitable programs are carried out, people develop the greatest community spirit, and have the best and happiest hearts.

The Christmas season, although not always good for the pocketbook, is good for everything from a man's soul to the nation's industries. It is the time for everyone to be happy, remember the true significance of Christmas is in God, and have the spirit of giving.

May the Blue and White take this opportunity to wish its readers a MERRY CHRISTMAS AND BEST WISHES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

The KHS Poll Of Opinion

(Compiled by the Editor)

SHOULD A HIGH SCHOOL CONDUCT DRIVES FOR RAISING GIFTS, TOYS, AND MONEY FOR THE POOR AT CHRISTMAS TIME, AS DOES KNOXVILLE HIGH SCHOOL?

JULIA FREELS, Miss K. H. S.: I think it should so that some of the poor children who wouldn't get anything otherwise can be happy on Christmas. Of course, firemen and other people fix up toys and give gifts to the poor, but they can't take care of everybody. It makes Christmas more fun, too.

THOMAS COX: I think it's a good idea. They might as well have such drives in high schools as anywhere else.

BILL HOUSEHOLDER: Yes, they have such drives. There are people in high schools who have a little money to spare and they might as well give it to a good cause.

CLAIBORNE HUNTER: Yes, I think they should. This is a good way to obtain gifts and toys for the poor children. The high school people who have articles they are able to give will cooperate with the drives.

HELEN BALES, Blue and White reporter: I certainly do think that such drives should be conducted. It is good training for high school people to develop the habit of charitable giving.

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

Congratulations to the Hi-Y club and its president JOHN LEA for sponsoring such a perfectly grand dance!

MARY RUTH BIBB came walking in, in an orange plaid dress, but her little sister VIRGINIA BIBB was not to be outdone. She was dressed in a lovely blue taffeta. And another "little sister" was MARY McKINNEY GOODSON. She was dressed in a darling white taffeta trimmed in red. (Sister of the lovely lady, Lady)

Did you see SARAH GREER there? She looked mighty pretty in pink and green. And, of course, you noticed BARBARA FOUST. When I saw her, I just had to catch my breath. She was dressed in pink taffeta that was trimmed in stiff lace.

I'll bet the football boys are glad to be able to go to dances again. I saw quite a few of our heroes shufflin' their dogs around. BOB JOHNSON (despite the fact that he has a broken rib) was stepping quite lively with MARGIN ELGIN. Among the other pigskin players were GEORGE COILE, J. BOLIN, BOB BROOME, LEN BROUGHTON, BILL LUTTRELL, and BOB ALLEY.

Oh, my goodness, only six more days until Christmas. It's hard to believe but some of the girls have already finished their Christmas shopping.

At The Theatres

Best bets for this week's pictures will be at the Tennessee and Booth theatres.

Husky Gary Cooper plays the part of a soldier of fortune in "The General Died At Dawn", starting at the Tennessee Saturday and playing through until Monday. Lovely Madeline Carroll is cast opposite him as an international plotter. The play is a fast moving story of adventure, intrigue, and romance in modern war-torn China.

A new screen team, Joan Bennett and Joel McCrea, delightful in their new comedy-romance, will appear at the Tennessee Wednesday and Thursday. The screen production is called 'Two in a Crowd". It seems that Joel and Joan each find a one-half thousand dollar bill. In joining their fortunes, they also interweave their lives. Such comedians as Henry Armetta, Alison Skipworth, and Andy Clyde support the cast.

"College Holiday" also comes to the Tennessee Friday, Saturday, and Monday, bringing your favorite comedy team, George Burns and Gracie Allen. Jack Benny, Mary Boland, and Martha Raye add to the fun.

MIAMI TRIP

clipper ships of the Pan-American Airways.

"We took many fine pictures which will be put on display as soon as they are developed," promised the principal.

From here the group was conducted to the race track, one of the most noted in the South. Mr. Evans described the ground as being "soft as a thick carpet". Another thing of note in this district was the Royal Palm trees. The branches grow at the very top some fifty or seventy-five feet above the ground. The bark looks like very smooth concrete. Crossing the causeway the party next went to Miami Beach.

"Never before in one place have I ever seen more wealth; not even in the East," stated the high school head. "No two houses were similar in appearance and they were so constructed that it was impossible to determine which was the front door and which was the back."

At the beach the boys went in swimming from twelve to two in the afternoon. They then lunched at one of Miami's newest cafes. In addition to a fine meal, the diners enjoyed the beautifully decorated room which had a large stage at one end.

After seeing the team off at 9 p. m., Mr. Evans and Mr. Stair returned to the hotel. Monday was spent in going through Miami high school. This building was erected in 1925 at a cost of $1,100,000. Added to this $400,000 was spent for the latest of equipment.

"One thing which was almost unbelievable is that there is no heating system of any kind installed in the school," related Mr. Evans. "Once in a great while there is one day out of the year that it is necessary to dismiss school because of adverse weather conditions."

Tuesday, Hinsdale high school of Tampa was visited, and Wednesday the men went through Robert E. Lee high of Jacksonville.

Many things make Miami stand out as one of the most unique cities in the United States. Since no fires are used, the buildings remain as clean as the day they were constructed. Miamian houses have no basements because they have no use for them. Cooking fuel which is used can be bought in tanks. It is compressed gas.

Trojans Drub Halls 30-9 In Opener

Captain Hodge Leads Scorers With Ten Points—Remine and Higdon Stand Out.

HILL LEADS HALL

Center Scores Six Points For Losers — Winners Show Great Form Last Half.

Knoxville's Trojans opened their basketball season Tuesday afternoon by hammering out a 30-9 victory over a scrappy Hall's high five in a game that provided little action for spectators as both teams showed much lack of practice.

The opening Trojan line-up consisting of four lettermen and one newcomer, took a lead at the start of the game and at the half led by a score of 11-7. Following the brief rest period the Trojans came back and displayed their finest play of the game by running up nineteen points while the Hall cagers were able to tally only two points.

Leading the Trojans in the scoring department was Captain Hodge with ten points. He was followed closely by Lincoln Remine and Frank Higdon with eight points each.

The Trojan "B" team also opened its season successfully by swamping the small Hall's high "B" team by a score of 37-2.

Line-ups:

Hall's	Pos.	K. H. S.
Seymour	F	Hodge (C) 10
Craig 1	F	Gaines 2
Hill 6	C	Remine 8
Willings 2	G	Higdon 8

Johnny 'Flash' Butler Honored On All-Star Southern Eleven

By Fred Owens

One of the most honored positions a southern high school player can receive—that of being selected on the All-Southern prep eleven—has just been awarded Johnny "Flash" Butler, Trojan backfield ace, who has run up a total of seventy-two points this season. Knoxville was the only Southern city to place two men on the selected eleven. Captain Bob Suffridge was voted one of the greatest high school linemen the South has ever produced as he made the team for the second straight year.

Fred Owens

Both Butler and Suffridge have been outstanding in every game of the season and without the shadow of a doubt deserve the positions they have received. Butler is extremely dangerous in the open, and combines speed, power, and deception in his effort to get his one hundred and fifty-five pounds past the line of scrimmage. Suffridge is the type of lineman that wrecks the opposing team's offensive machine. In one game alone this year, he blocked three punts in giving a remarkable demonstration of his football ability. Both players will some day be the cherished answer to the prayer of a college coach.

Other players that were nominated from the Knoxville and Central squads for the All-Southern award are Captain Bill Luttrell, tackle, and Bob Broome, back, from Knoxville, and Charlie Selby, back, and Cy Whaley, end, from Central. These six players were the choice of Harold Harris, assistant sports editor of the Knoxville News-Sentinel, who was Knoxville's representative in the selection.

BOWL HOPES SMASHED

The one and only hope of the Sugar Bowl officials—that of seeing Santa Clara enter the Sugar Bowl game the only major undefeated, untied team in the country—faded into the past last Saturday afternoon as "Slinging" Sammy Baugh, All-American from Texas Christian University, passed, kicked, and led his team to a 9-0 victory over the undefeated Coast eleven to the complete satisfaction of the Rose Bowl officials.

The defeat will not hurt the Sugar Bowl gate receipts in the least, but will not add to the prestige of the clash between Louisiana State University and Santa Clara. All in all, no cash will be missed as all seats have been called for, but some of the color that is packed into such gridiron naturals will be missing.

ODDS AND ENDS

George "King-Kong" Gaines, former Trojan lineman, is now a minister in the state of New York. . . . Bill Bolin, former Trojan end, has been switched to the backfield and great things are expected from him in his sophomore year at Davidson where Gene McEver is coaching. . . . Did you know that Frank "Red" Winstead has not missed a Knoxville high game in two years? He has followed the team to Kingsport, Morristown, Asheville, Nashville, Miami, and Louisville. . . . Eligibility rules robbed Norman Anderson, head cheer leader, of the privilege of playing on this year's football team. . . . Gene "Kid" Rose, former Tennessee end, who is now with the New York Giants, broke his arm a couple of weeks ago in a game between the Giants and the Boston Redskins. . . . The management of the Chicago Bears said that each touchdown they scored last year was done so at a cost of six thousand dollars.

CHOIR TO WEAR NEW ROBES FOR PROGRAM

The Knoxville high school A Capella choir directed by Edward Hamilton, will present a Christmas program next Tuesday and Wednesday in chapel.

The program will be as follows: "Break Forth As Beautious Heavenly Light", "Gloria", by Mozart, "Hallelujah Chorus", from the Messiah, and the reading of the Christmas story.

In conclusion the audience will join in singing Christmas carols.

This will be the first appearance of the chorus in their new Westminister robes.

ART CLASSES MAKE CHRISTMAS DISPLAY

For the past two weeks members of the K. H. S. Art department under the direction of Miss Rebecca Cole, have been hard at work on the manger scene to be displayed in the hall case next week.

Sheep, lambs, donkeys, cows, calves, camels, dogs, and even wise men and shepherds, have been molded from wet clay through the diligent efforts of the students. They were transformed through a brilliant coat of paint and shellac into realistic figures.

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CONCERT JANUARY 12

Another of the semi-annual high school orchestra concerts will be given January 12.

The orchestra is working on several pieces by Mozart, Drigo, and Gluck.

Russell Hickey, with his flute, will be featured in one of the numbers.

Professor DeRobertis has called practice several times during the holidays.

The members and their dates will have a party at Ruth Dobbs' home, Wednesday, December 30. There will be games, dancing, and refreshments.

Night Games Scheduled For Next Season

Board of Education Approves Installation of Lighting System for Games.

FIVE GAMES

To Be Played Under Lights—Will Help Trojans In Early Contests.

Knoxville high school's Blue and White gridders, by the decision of the Board of Education late Wednesday afternoon, will play at least five night games under the arc lights next season at Smithson stadium.

The plan is to play the first five games of the season at night. The games to be played are with Young high, the opening game of the season; this is to be followed with the Rockwood contest. A third team to be played has not yet been selected while Morristown will be played in the fourth game, and the fifth team to be played at night has not yet been scheduled.

The adopted plan will not only help the attendance in the opinion of the officials, but will help to speed up the games as the weather will be much cooler at night and will help the players very much in overcoming the heat that is present at all of the early season games.

Coach Wilson Collins is pleased with this decision as he is very much in favor of the Trojans playing night games after an interval of over five years. He believes it will also draw the business people of the city, as well as the students, to the games because most of them are unable to attend the afternoon games due to the arrangement of working hours.

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

Hi-Y met in a combined meeting last Thursday and was entertained by an interesting narrative by Curtis Barber on his experiences in Alaska. He displayed a number of Indian relics.

Alvin Smith, Ben St. Clair, and Gaines Stuart told the assembled clubs of their trip to Morristown to the Older Boys' conference. The boys mentioned how nice the people, especially the Girl Reserves, treated them at Morristown.

JUNIOR Girl Reserves had Patsy Curtis, Eugenia Franklin, Fay Griffin, and Virginia Powers give talks on the ways foreign countries observe Christmas. Between each of these talks Mrs. C. E. Blee led the club in Christmas carols.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party. Everyone is to bring toys to be exchanged among the girls. After the meeting the toys will be rewrapped and distributed to poor children.

—o—

LATIN club met Friday, December 11, in Miss Evans' room. There was a talk on "The Roman Saturnalia (Christmas)" by Eugenia Franklin, and a play on the customs of the Saturnalia.

After two contests, the club went in a body to Miss Galbreath's room to hear David, Duke of Windsor, ex-king of the British domain, and emperor of India, speak.

KATONAH club will have a dance Saturday night, December 26, at Ledgerwood's studio. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged for stags. A dance at the Andrew Johnson hotel is being planned for some time in January.

—o—

Hi-Y had its semi-annual dance last Friday night at Holston Hills.

Louise Calloway wore a wine colored velvet dress with Talisman roses at the neck. Helen Moore wore a figured taffeta in just the shade of blue for her fairness, and Jeane Miller was another in blue taffeta.

—o—

SENIOR Girl Reserves have issued invitations for a dance at 9 o'clock Monday night, December 21, at Holston Hills. Skeet Tallent and his orchestra will furnish the music.

—o—

T. N. T. will sponsor a dance Wednesday night, December 23, at Holston Hills. Skeet Tallent will play and there will be six no-breaks. Everybody come!

—o—

TRIALGEO society had its meeting Thursday, December 10. "Brain-teasers" were given to the members to be solved, and the winner received extra refreshments. Music was supplied by a member of the Glee club.

—o—

DeMOLAY will give a dance tonight at 8:30 o'clock at Whittle's pavilion. This is the last of a series of three dances preceding the Formal, December 29.

—o—

HOME Economic club met Tuesday, December 15. The club sang Christmas carols, and Miss Rebecca Winners gave a talk on "Personality". A member of the club gave a tap dance and everyone drew names for Christmas presents. Refreshments were served.

—o—

STUDENT Council will have a Christmas party Monday, December 28, at the home of Mary Woodward, 1816 Melrose, from 7:30 to 10. Barbara Brown and Gertrude Meyer have been named chairmen for the entertainment.

—o—

GANAQUE club will give a backward dance Wednesday night, December 30 from eight to twelve o'clock at the home of Frances Caldwell. Invitations have been given to girls outside the club to come as stagettes.

them. The same group will go to Pickle Nursery Tuesday.

The Art department and printing classes are making Christmas menu cards to send to the soldiers' hospital. Four smocks are being made for two Mexican girls in a Leprosorium in Corville, Louisiana by Mrs. Tunnison's sewing class.

S. C. Activities Are Explained

As a special feature of Student Council work, members of the K. H. S. organization instructed William Smythe's 9A Civics classes in various departments of the Council during their regular civics class periods Tuesday, December 15.

Each class went to the council room where Joe Woodruff, president, explained the departments in general. Miss Helen Galbreath, adviser, introduced the classes to all council members.

Arthur Peterson, chairman of the monitor department, told how monitors are selected and records are kept for each monitor. Mary Woodward, head of the club schedule committee, told how the monthly school calendar is made out by this committee. Charlotte Colby explained the Point System, of which she is chairman. Jack Saylor, head of the usher squad, explained the Lost and Found department, which he supervised last term. Felicia Parker spoke to the class on the work of the charter groups committee.
