KHS To Observe 'Drama Week'; Miller To Speak

February 1-7 to be Observed With Chapel Programs and Thespian Dinner.

National Drama Week will be celebrated next week by the Thespians and Masquers of Knoxville high school by chapel programs, posters, and a special meeting of those interested in dramatics.

Malcolm Miller, a leader in the field of dramatics in Knoxville, will speak in upper class chapel Thursday. Two Thespians will discuss the dramatic activities in K. H. S. so far this year, the plans for the rest of this term, and the value of an interest in dramatics in high school whether in the Masquers club or the Thespian organization.

In both chapels special music will be arranged through the help of Edward E. Hamilton, music instructor.

In lower class chapel next week, a play will be presented as if it were being given over the radio. This will illustrate the sound effects and not stress the action as if it were being given in chapel.

Several art students who are interested in dramatics are making posters.

Tentative plans are being made for a Thespian dinner next Friday night. Alumni Thespians, members of the Masquers club, and others interested in dramatics, will be invited. Definite plans will be announced next week.

Miss Chesnutt Joins Home Ec Department

Miss Mary Lynch Chesnutt has the distinction of being Knoxville high school's only addition to the faculty this term. Miss Chesnutt teaches costume designing and advanced clothing, taking the place of Miss Lula Tunnison, who is working on her Master's degree at the University of Tennessee.

Miss Chesnutt graduated from Knoxville high in 1929 and graduated from the University of Tennessee four years later. She then did social work for the government for two years.

Miss Chesnutt taught home economics at the Ducktown high school before coming to Knoxville high.

Begin Term As 12A Class Advisers

Newly Elected ROTC Officials Take Posts

Knoxville high school's R. O. T. C. battalion will be headed by Cadet Lt. Col. Alvin Smith and Cadet Major Billy King during the spring term. The battalion sponsors elected last week were Honorary Lt. Col. Margaret Betty Gillespie and Honorary Major Esther Alexander.

The crack K. H. S. R. O. T. C. band elected Ruth Long as its sponsor amid a great show of enthusiasm, as a large number of students jammed the door. Gene Tate is band captain.

Bill Thomas, A company captain, with Laverne Self as sponsor, will lead that company during the spring term.

Martha Jean Osbourne was chosen by B company. Captain Weston Hyde is company commander.

C company will look to Honorary Captain Beverly Fisher and Captain Bob Walker as company heads.

Betty Jane Morrison promised D company that "Company D will be all that matters", immediately after she was elected to the sponsorship of that company. Captain Joe Brown will be company commander.

The roster of commissioned officers of the staff and the companies are:

Staff

Lt. Col. Alvin Smith, Major Billy King, Capt. Adj. Charles Trentham, 1st Lt. Ed Anderson, 1st Lt. John Burkart, 2nd Lt. Harry Elmore, 2nd Lt. Charles Elmore.

Band

One Hundred Fifty-Five New Students Enrolled At K H S

Many Outstanding Pupils Received from Park and Christenberry.

Breaking all recent enrollment records, only 155 new students were enrolled in K. H. S. this term from the junior high schools. These 10B's came from Park and Christenberry junior high.

Quality seems to have made up for quantity, however, as outstanding achievements have been acquired by these at their respective junior high schools.

Virginia Bibb presents a record which few of her older friends can excel. Last term she was president of her senior class at Park, editor of the Parkette, and band sponsor. As a reward for these and other achievements she was awarded a silver loving cup as "Honor Student" of her class.

Others from Park who are promising as future school leaders are R. C. Smith, vice-president of last term's senior class, and Helen Ammons, secretary-treasurer.

The young citizens' club, a civic organization at Christenberry, has made its contribution to the future leadership of K. H. S. in the persons of Harry Williams, ex-president, and Elton Nelson and William Moffett, prominent cabinet members of the club.

The Beacon, Christenberry's school paper, has given its share of talent when sending last term's editor, Virginia Huskey, to join the K. H. S. student body.

Among the many attractive 10B girls, in addition to Miss Bibb and Miss Huskey, are Virginia Lewis and Helen Petty.

New Courses Offered To Instrumentalists

Among the new courses offered K. H. S. students are the instrumental classes, affiliated with the orchestra and band.

At the second period, three days a week, there is a class for strings for tenth year students preparing for orchestra or those who wish to learn to play a string instrument. Two basses, two violas, and cellos are furnished students.

The other two days offer a class for all students who have had some lessons in strings, but need more fundamentals in playing. This class will be required of all who cannot pass examination for senior orchestra.

Senior orchestra and band are open to advanced sophomore players, juniors, and seniors who have had previous training. Examinations are required of all new members.

A class in wind instruments is given the fifth period every day. This class is required of all new applicants for the senior band, who cannot pass entrance examination.

Choir Will Give Concert February 5

The assist the Lonsdale M. E. church in buying robes and new music, the K.H.S. A Cappella choir will give a concert Friday evening, February 5, at the church.

The Lonsdale choir is directed by Charles Martin, a member of the K. H. S. faculty. He is also a member of the night school Opera club.

Herbert Turner will be featured as vocal soloist. The program will include the following:

Part I.

Jesu Priceless Treasure .....Bach
Beautiful Savior,
.....A 12th Century Melody
O Sacred Head,
.....Arranged by Christianson

Part II.

Ezekiel Sou do Wheel,
..... Negro Spiritual
Deep River .....Negro Spiritual
O Lord Send the Fire....Noble Cain

Part III.

Finlandia .....Sibellius
As Torrents In Summer.....Elgar

Part IV.

The Horn .....Flegier
Herbert Turner

Selections by the K. H. S. quartet, composed of G. E. Francis, first tenor; William Chamberlain, first tenor; Scott Walker, second tenor; William Chamberlain, baritone; Herbert Turner, bass, will conclude the concert.

The concert will start at 7:30. Twenty-five cents admission will be charged. This will be divided between the two choirs.

Blue & White Asks More Subscriptions

Again the staff is taking subscriptions for the school paper, the Blue and White. Subscriptions were taken in both lower and upper class chapels, but the goal of 1,000 has not yet been reached.

All group teachers and class representatives are urged to boost the paper and aid in securing more subscriptions.

The paper is published each Friday and costs only seventy-five cents per term. The seventy-five cents used need not be paid all at once but may be paid in three twenty-five cent payments at any time convenient for the pupil.

The paper is put out for the benefit of the students and all students are urged to support it.

As is the usual case, the 12A senior groups have netted the largest number of subscriptions. Each of these lacked only a few of going 100 per cent.

399 On K H S Term Honor Roll; 122 Make First, While 277 Attain Second

K H S Students Become Active In Flood Crisis

Food, Clothes, Money Contributed—National Guard Students go to Scene.

Knoxville high school has cooperated in every way with the Knoxville chapter of the American Red Cross. Food, clothes, and money have been liberally contributed by all the students.

Members of the Junior Red Cross, Blue and White staff, and graduating class sold the News-Sentinel on the streets Tuesday and the proceeds were donated to the Red Cross.

The band accompanied by Ruth Long, new band sponsor, all of last year's sponsors, and twenty Boy Scouts dressed in their uniforms, paraded from the high school to the new post-office, carrying a large flag eighteen by thirty feet. Donations of money were thrown out of the windows by store employees and by persons on the street into the flag.

Home room classes brought a large quantity of old clothes and contributed money. A total of $106.67 was given by the high school students.

Several high school boys have been even more actively engaged. Those students and graduates who are members of the National Guard left late Monday night to go to the flood area. Among them

P.T.A. Has Exchange For Books At Bank

To enable the high school students to obtain their books and school supplies, the P. T. A. of Knoxville high school is sponsoring a book exchange in the high school bank. The exchange has been open all week and will be open until 3:30 today.

Considering the fact that all the books had to be bought new last term, a considerable number of books have been turned in. However, there are not nearly so many as in former terms. Many calls for books have been made.

The exchange has been open each day from 8 in the morning until 3:30. Mrs. Gordon Powers, president of the P. T. A., requests that all students who have books in the exchange to call for the money or the book sometime today.

Those helping in the bank are Mrs. Gordon Powers, Mrs. A. V. Acuff, Katherine Carl, and Noreene Powers.

FLOOD! — ACTION!

In the Ohio Valley and other sections of the United States, flood waters have caused devasting circumstances. Property damages amount to millions of dollars and hundreds of lives are being lost.

The spirit shown during this catastrophe by the people of Knox County and other areas of the country is typical to the spirit which was the foundation of this nation.

Commercial activities have been forgotten, and business men, workmen, housewives, and children have placed the needs of humanity first.

This flood is a good test of the national spirit which prevails, and the test shows that this spirit is of the remarkable type.

However, in the midst of all this good will and service to humanity there are those exceptions who refuse to willingly aid those less fortunate than themselves in a time of need.

Usually there is very little that can be done about people who refuse to aid charity. We are told that although they are able to give but don't feel like doing it; it is their business.

For these selfish few who operate businesses or reside in the flood area at the present, it is a different story, however. This is one time when charity does not ask; it demands! Even as this editorial is being written, the announcer for the WHAS Broadcasting Station is repeating the following words: "Order to all police; order to all police. There is a hardware store on the corner of Frankfort and Rathsceter streets which has flashlights and batteries. The store refuses to open for the American Red Cross. You are authorized to break in the store and take all supplies needed. Order to all police; order to all police. There is a hardware store at——."

Soon horrible circumstances will return to normal ones, the homeless will be rehoused, and those who offered a hand to remedy will feel satisfaction.

The flood water will rush on, so will America.

CONSTITUTIONAL HEADACHE

In Washington, a committee is preparing to bring a bill before Congress, which if passed, will make it illegal for the Supreme Court to abolish measures created by Congress on the grounds that the measure is unconstitutional.

Here's a pleasant thought: Suppose after the bill is passed by Congress, if it is passed, the Supreme Court rules that it is unconstitutional for Congress to pass a bill which forbids the Supreme Court to abolish national measures on the grounds of unconstitutionality.

We'll bet Elvin Bryant could dope this one out.

A BREAK FOR THE STUDENTS

A few days before the students of Knoxville high school stood their final examinations, Principal W. E. Evans issued an order which stated that the instructors would give examinations on one day only and that day would be the day prescribed by the office.

We feel that Principal Evans' integrity in issuing this order should be commended, and hope that it will be his practice to issue such instructions at the time of all future final examinations.

At previous examination times, some teachers gave two or more final exams during the final week. A student was never at rest with the satisfaction that he had completed his work for one subject and could concentrate his time on the completion of another.

The completing of term papers, preparing for one final for each subject, and terminating the term's work in general is burdensome enough for the student without the added worry of "surprise quizzes".

We believe that under the new rule, students will prove their ability in a subject to as great or even a greater degree and also will have more time to apply in participating in and improving activities which take place at the end of each term.

Thanks a million, Mr. Evans.

The KHS Poll Of Opinion

(Compiled by the Editor)

DO YOU THINK THAT THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT SHOULD HAVE THE POWER TO ABOLISH MEASURES MADE BY CONGRESS, ON THE GROUNDS THAT THE MEASURES ARE UNCONSTITUTIONAL, AS IN THE CASE OF THE NRA, AAA, ETC.?

C. R. SCHMID: Yes, I th'nk that the Supreme Court should have the power, but the President should have the power, or have a law passed that would make a member of the Supreme Court retire after he reaches a certain age. By this the older member's place would be taken by a younger man.

LESTER ELGIN: It wouldn't be going exactly by our law, but I think things that are helping our country should be practiced instead of being ruled out on the grounds of being unconstitutional.

JOSEPHINE COFFIN: In my opinion Congress is well enough informed and exper'enced to know what is best for the good of the public. Even if the Constitution doesn't provide for such measures as they see fit, the Supreme Court should not be allowed to stop progress by calling them unconstitutional. The needs of today are different from those in the days when the Constitution was written.

AGNES HUFFSTEDLER: The people elect Congress to carry out their will. The Supreme Court is not elected by the people. The most democratic situation to prevail is to allow the publicly elected body to be the more powerful.

The Spectator

Welcome, freshmen, to our "Spectator" column. If you happen to know any scandal that I haven't picked up on my rounds, just write it on a piece of paper and drop it in the little box in the B. and W. room.

——o——

Margaret Moore seems to be doing O. K. There were ten boys at her house Sunday night.

——o——

Bill Thomas is very much in love with his sponsor, La Verne Self.

——o——

Frances Van Hoosier's latest is the blond Viking, Larry Partridge, from California.

——o——

Horace King likes his history class much better now that Louise Galloway is in it.

——o——

Wonder what makes Luther Stapleton so bashful?

——o——

Jonnie Bacon has added his name to the long list of the Boyd band sponsored dates.

——o——

"Shave-tail" Fry is really and truly in love with "Ting" Newby.

——o——

Tony Randles and Margaret Boone. What, again!

——o——

Joe Brown is mighty proud of his new sponsor. Well, wouldn't we all be?

——o——

Who is this Lois Weisman that Bill Broome continually raves about?

Come on, Bill Luttrell, tell us why you stopped going with Inez for a whole month just before Christmas.

——o——

And Bill King declares he is not in love. Heavens, why don't you give a poor gal a break!

——o——

Have you heard about the romance that has been carried over from Park junior? It's that of Jewell Lady and Chambliss Pierce.

——o——

And here's a break for some of you girls who are tired of the old K. H. S. boys. R. C. Smith and John Higdon have just come to high school.

And another break for the boys-Ruth Rinearson, Sarah Clements, and Ruth Collins from Boyd.

5 W'S

Listed here are five questions which the average high school student should be capable of answering. The answers are below the questions.
How do you rate?

1—Who was "Billy the Kid"?
2—What name is given the strong garment put on a maniac to confine his arms?
3—Where are the Pyrenees mountains?
4—What country is famous for the quality of its manufacture of watches and watch movements?
5—Who said: "Go West, young man, go West"?

Answers

1—A New Mexican "bad man" of the eighties who killed, according to a legend, "twenty-one men not counting Indians", before reaching his majority.
2—Straight jacket.
3—In northern Spain.
4—Switzerland.
5—Horace Greeley.

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

Boy, these officers certainly know how to pick their sponsors. They are really "doggie". The lucky ones are MARGARET GILLESPIE, ESTHER ALEXANDER, RUTH LONG, LAVERNE SELF, JUNIE OSBORNE, BEVERLY FISCHER, and B. J. MORRISON. Boys, these heah gals am counting on you.

At the semi-annual banquet given by the staff of the Blue and White, I noticed that MARGARET PORTWOOD was stunning in black velvet trimmed with white satin. JEAN ALLEN, the editor's date, wore black chiffon, BARBARA RULE was in pink satin, DOROTHY DUGGAN in blue satin, and THELMA MCGHEE in rose satin. Among new members of the staff that attended the banquet were HELEN EVANS in pale blue net, EILEEN LEAKE in dark blue satin and AGNES HUFFSTEDLER in pale green satin.

Next on the list of social functions was the senior dance given at the Cherokee Country club. Among the graceful dancers I noticed RUTH LONG in silver dazzling the stags that were forever rushing her. BEVERLY FISCHER, C company's new sponsor, was dressed in white chiffon cut on Grecian lines. BETTY CHAMBERS and JUNIE OSBORNE looked demure in satin.

The Knoxville Chapter Order of DeMolay, honored the graduating seniors with a dance. JULIA EARLY, sweetheart of the chapter, seemed to be enjoying the last no break, which was especially dedicated to her. She wore creme satin.

The Knights of Odin, a recently organized club of boys, gave a wenier roast at JIMMIE WITT'S farm Tuesday night. Among the girls taking part in the fun were KATHERINE STARKEY, ESTHER YOUNG, ANNA MAE ALLEN, and JOAN COILE.

School Daze

I was a reporter 'in calico',
You were the column I wanted so,
And now that I've got you—where to go?!
We're just a couple of jokes!

Honest and truly, all kidding aside, I'am glad to have this column to work with, and I hope I can live up to it and do half as well as 'Daffy' did. She was a wonder with it, and I heard many wafted bits of conversation complimenting her and the improvement of the column. While I don't claim to be a wonder or anything like that, I hope to compile jokes that I hear or see or read, and also something of originality—and write "School Daze" for the next few months as best I can.

At The Theatres

Best bets for this week are at the Tennessee, Riviera, and Booth theatres. Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Tennessee will be the picture "Stowaway" starring Shirley Temple, Alice Raye, and Robert Young; Wednesday and Thursday, "Adventures in Manhattan", and Friday, Saturday through Tuesday will be "The Champagne Waltz".

The Riviera theatre brings Boris Karloff in another Warren Oland mystery picture, "Charlie Chan at the Opera" today and Saturday. The Booth stars Jane Withers in "Pepper" with Ervin S. Cobb tomorrow, while Monday and Tuesday "Wife vs. Secretary" with Harlow, Powell, and Loy; Wednesday, Virginia Wiedler appears in "Girl of the Ozark".

It's Jean Arthur, the cutest stick of dynamite on the screen, in "Adventure in Manhattan" at the Tennessee, Wednesday and Thursday. She and Joel McCrea are two loose-brained lovers on a mirth and matrimony hunt in the maddest town on earth! They lunch on beans, dine on champagne, solve a murder, and settle on marriage in the craziest cataclysm of chuckles since Mr. Duds played the tuba!

Major Teams Invade City Next Week

Kingsport and Morristown are Opponents for Monday and Tuesday Night.

BOTH DEFEATED

Trojans Hold Victories Over Both Visiting Teams—Big Crowds are Expected.

Knoxville high school fans are in for plenty of thrills next week as two of the finest basketball machines in East Tennessee, Morristown and Kingsport, make their appearance on the K. H. S. court. Both will be seeking revenge as the Trojans have defeated both by very close scores this year.

The Kingsport Indians defeated by the Trojans, 22-19, will be played Monday night, and the Morristown Roosters also defeated by the Trojans, 32-31, in two extra periods, will be the cheif attraction in the K. H. S. gym Tuesday night.

Both teams possess very brilliant records with the exception of the Trojan contests, and record crowds are expected both Monday and Tuesday nights for the games.

Vols Take Early Lead In League

The intra-mural basketball season with both a non-military league and a military league has started. The leagues are playing the round-robin type of tournament. The winners of the two leagues will clash for the championship at the end of the season.

The non-military league meets every Wednesday night at 6:30, and the military league meets every Monday night at the same time.

Coach Sam Jones has also announced that intra-mural sports for spring are now being organized.

Following is the standing of the non-company league:

Teams	Won	Lost	Pct.
Vols	2	0	.1000
Park City	2	0	.1000
Footballers	2	0	.1000
Tigers	0	2	.0000
All Stars	0	2	.0000
Yuds	0	2	.0000

Art Classes Enjoy Much Outside Work

K. H. S. art department has had a busy and successful year. Besides all art work that has been done for school projects and programs the art students under the supervision of Miss Virginia Parker and Miss Rebecca Cole have done much outside work.

Among the outside jobs was the designing of a metal bracelet that will be manufactured. This was offered as a contest to the students and prizes were won by Dorothy Barber and Roscoe Cartwright.

The stage setting for the commencement exercises were designed by Felicia Parker.

Joe Howard has been working on the setting of the senior class play.

Betty Dafferner, senior, created the design for Joyland this year.

For the Christmas programs Martha King decorated the stage.

SPORT DOPE

Blue And White Five Possess Remarkable Record; Subs Shine

By Fred Owens

Little by little—or from the writer's viewpoint, game by game—the Knoxville high school Trojans continue to improve in both passing and handling of the ball and in shooting or basket making. Possessing a team at the start of the season of much experience and many capable reserves, the Trojans find themselves picked by officials and fans alike to finish well among the leading contenders for the state crown.

Fred Owens

In the three hard games thus far on the schedule, the Trojans defeated Kingsport in her own backyard by the score of 22-19; a few days later they trounced the weak University of Tennessee freshmen, 22-10, and last Friday night in one of the most thrilling games ever played in the sporting Rooster city, the Trojans overpowered the strong Morristown five, 32-31, in two very interesting and exciting periods.

Too much credit cannot be given Captain Hodge, Gaines, Remine, Luttrell, and Higdon for these splendid and outstanding victories, but in doing so, Trojan supporters must not overlook the fine work of such capable reserves as John 'Doc' Clark, Marvin Hunt, Elwood Powers, and Ralph Stair. Only Powers of the reserves has had previous experience with the Blue and White machine.

BOXING SCENE

The boxing game, so well-loved by Knoxville sporting spectators, may regain its important place in the city this summer. Promoter Joe (Tex Ricard) McDonald has come forth with the announcement that he plans to match Jack Torrance, fast climbing the boxing ladder, and well known for his football feats with the Louisiana state eleven, against the popular and former University of Tennessee athlete, Eddie Crawford.

While Torrance has about three professional victories to his credit, Crawford has not yet encountered his first professional foe. He was forced to leave his training site in New York and hurry to the bedside of his father during a serious illness last month. According to a card received by this department last week, he has returned to New York and is looking forward with much interest to his first match.

A match of this sort would create much interest among Knoxville fans, and the credit for this splendid event, if held, would go to the outstanding local sportsman, Joe McDonald.

ODDS AND ENDS

Fast and dangerous Captain Puss Hodge leads Knoxville high scorers thus far in the season. He is a very fine leader for the basketball team. . . . Notre Dame's invasion of the South to battle the Kentucky Wildcats drew a record paying crowd of 10,268 in Louisville, Kentucky. . . . Pinky Young, outstanding star of the great Purdue basketball team, made eleven baskets against Wisconsin the other night, seven of which were made from thirty feet out from the basket. . . . Whew, what an eye for the basket! . . . Well, so long, fans, until next week.

Open Forum Closes Very Successful Year

Open Forum, under the direction of C. S. Montgomery and Charles Martin, has had a very successful term. This is not the most successful period of the Open Forum's history but much has been accomplished.

Many interesting programs have been given at the regular meetings and the Forum has sponsored the regular high school radio program every other Monday. These programs have been successfully planned by Marianna Allen, Henrietta Bowman, Bill Andrews, and Kyle Shown.

The Forum has been working for some time on the "Public Utility Question" and plans to have debates with other schools concerning it. So far only one debate has been held. Marvin Kreiger and Stuart Maher competed with Athens, Tennessee Wednesday, December 16, at Athens on the question, Resolved: "That the Federal Government should own and operate all electric utilities".

The Open Forum presented a skit, "Major Roll's Amateur Hour", at the annual presentation of Joyland this year, has given several parties and socials, and plans to give many more next term. The Forum also held one night meeting at which W. T. Miller gave a very interesting talk.

Girls Compete In Basketball

Teams Have Been Formed and Captains Elected for Annual Tournament.

After a term of practicing and of interclass contests, the girls' basketball teams have been formed and captains elected for the annual tournament to determine the best girls' basketball team at K. H. S.

Eleven teams, the captains Eugenie Franklin, Janet Martin, Madeline Stahl, Dorothy Young, Frances "Chick" Ogden, Helen Darst, Alice Jean Brehm, Fay Griffin, Ruby Maples, Mable Dye, and Ruth Maples, will start. All but two teams will be eliminated for the final contest. Competition will run high through the whole tournament.

Last year this exciting tournament ended with a hard fought, close scored victory for Hazel Giles' team over Ezelle Ramsey's team. Dorothy Young, who is again competing, led her team to victory by defeating Fay Griffin's team in the battle for third place.

These girls, as well as the others, are more determined than ever to bring home highest honors.

The basketball letters are given for first place only. The tournament is scheduled for next week, although the exact date has not been set. The date will be announced the first of the week.

Radio Program Used By Junior Red Cross

No regular high school radio program was given Monday; the broadcast was given over to the Red Cross for flood relief work. The Junior Red Cross took charge of Tuesday's program. Friday's broadcast is also being held open for the Red Cross.

Marvin Kreiger is the chief announcer for this term's work.

Miss Lucile Evans, of the language department, conducted Wednesday's broadcast.

Asheville High Maroons Meet Trojans Tonite

Visitors Well Remembered by Local Fans—Again Offer Dangerous Five.

VETERANS START

Capt. Hodge, Gaines, Remine, Higdon, Luttrell Will Defend Perfect Record.

Asheville high's fast and dangerous Maroon five will attempt to shatter Knoxville high school's perfect record tonight as the two meet in the K. H. S. gym. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock. A record crowd is expected for the clash.

The Maroons, so well remembered by Knoxville fans because of their smooth working outfit that defeated the Trojans here last year, will again offer a cage machine that compares with any high school team in the South. They have a marvelous record thus far in the season, and will be out tonight to add the Trojans to their list of victims.

On the other hand, the Trojans with a perfect record and eleven victories to their credit will be out to avenge last year's stunning defeat at the hands of the Maroons.

The Trojan line-up will find Captain Hodge and Gaines at the forward positions. Lincoln Remine at center, and Luttrell and Higdon at the two guard slots.

GOOD Sani-Seal ICE CREAM

Society and Clubs

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

T. N. T. gave a tea at the home of Mildred Polk Tuesday afternoon. A lace cloth covered the table, and four red tapers in silver holders and a silver bowl of red roses formed the centerpiece.

The cakes were in two long rolls, iced in red with a white T. N. T. on them. From each end fuses protrudes, giving the effect of large firecrackers.

Margaret Betty Gillespie, president of the club, headed the receiving line in blue satin with a tiny velvet hat of the same shade.

Mildred wore a sweeping green taffeta, and Barbara Foust wore wine velvet with matching toque.

Mary Allison Frierson had on royal blue taffeta, Martha Jeane Osborne, pink and silver lame, and Fay Griffin orchid chiffon.

The new members are: Ruth Long, Esther Alexander, B. J. Morrison, Mary Woodward, and Margaret Anne Brown.

At a short meeting after the tea the club voted unanimously to contribute ten dollars to the Red Cross to aid flood sufferers.

TWENTY-FIVE members of the Steno Chat staff, together with commercial teachers and invited guests, attended the semi-annual banquet at the Fifth Avenue Tea Room, Monday evening, January 25. A four-course dinner, carrying out the Valentine idea, was served.

Joan Coile, retiring editor-in-chief, presided over the program, which included toasts, limericks by Ruby Kirby, a humorous talk on "Vacations" by Miss Mary E. Champe, and comic valentines by Ruth Layne. Gifts were presented to Dorothy Beaver, the most useful member of the staff, and Aileen Waisman, who graduated at mid-term.

This term, following the precedent set last year, Joan Coile, editor, and Marie Miller, associate, exchange offices for the term. Other members of the staff were announced.

DeMOLAY gave a dance for the seniors Thursday evening, January 21. There were five no-breaks and a special for seniors and DeMolays.

Betty Hilands and Mildred Polk certainly looked sweet in red satin, Louise Featherston had on yellow taffeta trimmed in blue velvet.

Three seniors, Dorothy Cates in green taffeta, Hazel Lewis in torquoise gorgette and Margie Davis in black and white figured satin, did honor to their class.

Margaret Betty Gillespie was another who was lovely in her black and green figured dress, and in her hair was nestled a beautiful green feathered bird.

SENIOR Girl Reserves elected their officers for this term at a meeting January 13. Rachael Patterson was elected president; Beverly Fischer, vice-president; Barbara Foust, secretary; and Gertrude Meyer, treasurer.

Wednesday, January 27, the officers were installed. Eugenia Franklin gave a reading and Charlotte Colby sang, accompanied by Janice Graybeal. All taking part wore robes, and the service was carried out with white candles.

—o—

HIKING club left at eight o'clock Saturday morning, January 23, for Cove Mountain, near Elkmont. Nearly every member of the club participated in this first hike.

The club rented a covered truck and went hayride style, not returning until six o'clock.

The officers are Ed Manning, president; Herman Silva, vice-president; Vivian Creech, secretary and treasurer; Thelma McGhee, publicity chairman.

There will be a hike once each month, regardless of weather.

—o—

KNIGHTS of Odin, a newly organized club of boys, gave a weiner roast followed by a dance at Jimmie Witt's farm Tuesday night.

The coronation of the queen and the installation of the new members will take place Friday night at the home of Julia Freels and a dance will follow.

Hi-Y Council met at the Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon to make plans for the next six weeks. The council is composed of B. F. Vincent of Y. M. C. A., faculty advisers and the presidents of three clubs, Ben St. Clair, Hugh Wilson, and John Bolinger.

—o—

TOP-HAT club was entertained with a luncheon at the home of Beverly Fischer Friday, January 22.

The table was laid for twelve guests. A lace covering was used with a centerpiece of pink carnations and white tapers.

The guest list included Mary Ruth Bibb, Elois Owens, Dorothy Young, Frances Van Hoosier, Lola Ketner, Frances Caldwell, Helen Moore, Nell Hall, Eve Williams, and Isabell Robinson.

Business was discussed and the following new members voted into the club: Julia Freels, Ruth Long, Agnes Huffstedler, Dorothy Montgomery, LaVerne Self, Felicia Parker, Jeane Miller, Charlotte Tipton, Margaret Holmes, and Dorothy Haynes.

—o—

SOPHOMORE Girl Reserves have elected Bonnie Kate Fielden to serve as president, Margaret Holmes as vice-president, Tony Ford as secretary, and Mable McNeese as treasurer, for the coming term.

Last Thursday, January 21, the girls met for lunch. Boston baked beans and tea were used in the menu to carry out the idea of the Boston Tea party.

—o—

GANAQUE club held its regular meeting at the home of Lillian Newby, January 26. The new members are Helen Moore, Nell Hall, Dorothy Montgomery, Frances Van Hoosier, Wilma Rogers, and Jeanne Miller.

The new officers are Eugenia Franklin, president; Lillian Newby, vice-president; Helen Lane, secretary; Helen Chamberlain, treasurer; Mary Lee Morrison, and Frances Caldwell, publicity chairmen; and Eve Williams, social chairman.

—o—

EL Choclo club will give a benefit bridge party at the Andrew Johnson hotel Saturday, February 20, at two o'clock.

Tickets will be twenty-five cents each and prizes will be given.

Reservations can be made by any member of the club.

Outgoing Seniors Make Last Request Before Bidding Adieu To Alma Mater

At the senior class banquet held at the Cherokee Country club Friday, January 15, Maudell Cates read the will of the outgoing seniors. Maudell composed the will. Here are the requests as made.

By Maudell Cates

We, the members of the 1937A graduating class of Knoxville high school, City of Knoxville, State of Tennessee, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time made.

I, Betty Dafferner, leave my popular "School Dazing" to Barbara Rule.

I, Joe Woodruff, leave my "Southern Accent" to Gertrude Meyer, and I, A. C. Bailey, leave mine to Coach Jones.

We, Mickey Simpson and John Lea, leave our dignity and attitudes to Thelma McGhee and Kenneth Hatcher.

I, Jeane Bourne, leave my love for all the Freds I see to anyone who can take care of them.

I, Mildred Claiborne, bequeath my ability as a talker to Julia Freels.

We, Dot Bell and Helen Gilbert, leave our blonde hair to Beverly Baer and Josephine Coffin who need it badly.

I, Bill Luttrell, leave my captaincy and girls in the capable hands of Red Cross.

We, Charles Jordan and Joe Johnston, leave our "Dating Record" to Bill King and George Coile.

I, Tubby Word, leave my popularity and all my good points, not including my absent-mindedness, to Mary Eleanor Acuff.

I, Fred Rose, leave my reputation as high school's "Best Dressed Boy" to Richard Millen.

I, Bob Cunningham, leave my bright colored socks and red flannels to Walt Burnett.

I, Lorraine Gentry, bequeath my parts in all the class plays and six inches of my height to Martha Cavaleri.

I, Margaret Card, leave my all A record to Ed Mitchell, who is in very desperate need of it.

I, Hazel Lewis, leave my love for Central boys to Sis Ingram.

We, Almena Parker and Wesley Brown, bequeath to Edwine Powers and Bob Walker all of our frankness and opinions.

I, Kenneth Adams, leave the right to miss school every other day to Hazen Hilands, and I, Catherine Daugherty, leave my tardiness every morning to Alvin Smith.

I, Edward Henderson, leave my shyness to Bobby McConnell.

I, Dick Evans, leave my turned up nose to Margaret Moore.

I, Carden Gillenwater, leave my quietness to Bob Johnson.

I, Sarah Brown, leave my red hair to Margaret Sharpe.

I, Barbara Brown, leave my sweet disposition and demureness to Julia Early.

I, Evelyn Hatcher, bequeath to Elaine Mauney my much talked about "boots".

I, Dot Cates, leave my winning smile and love for A company to my successor.

I, French Sutton, leave Mary Ruth only because I cannot take her along, and I, "Smiley" Martin, take Jeane because I wouldn't leave her if I could.

We, Bobby Shepherd and Thelma Woods, leave our athletic abilities to Fay Griffin and Barbara Newman.

I, Freddy Elmore, leave my bright remarks in class to Susan Buchanan.

The foregoing is the legal will of the senior class of '37A, and we do solemnly declare that we published and executed this Will in the presence of lawful witnesses.
