Better Lighting System For KHS Promised By City

Lunchroom, Auditorium, Assembly Hall, Other Rooms To Be Improved.

MODERN SYSTEM USED

Work Will Not Begin Until Summer Vacation—Plans Not Yet Complete.

After many years of strained eyesight, Knoxville high school has received a place in the city school budget for the improving of lighting conditions. However, it will not be possible to start the necessary work until school is out for the summer vacation, according to W. E. Evans, principal. Those rooms to be improved are the lunchroom, auditorium, assembly hall, all one-window rooms and any others that are deemed necessary.

The plans, not yet complete, are being drawn up in the business officies of the city school system. After the plans are completed, estimates for the work will be submitted.

The type of lighting to be installed is of the semi-indirect type. It would be impossible to use indirect lighting, now the most popular type, as the walls and ceilings are too dark, and even if they were repainted, the smoke and soot in this district would soon have them black again.

At the same time the lights are being altered, the lunchroom will be changed to serve as an auxiliary library.

Walker And St. Clair Attend 'Y' Convention

Ben St. Clair, president of the senior Hi-Y, and John A. Walker, assistant principal of Knoxville high school, attended a men's convention of the Y. M. C. A. in Nashville, March 9 and 10.

At the banquet held on the night of the tenth, St. Clair made a speech to the assembly. The topic was "The High School Boy".

Mr. Walker was elected secretary of a state committee.

Vocational Night To Be Held Here Wednesday, 7:30

Y's Men's Club and Vocational Guidance Department Conducts Meeting.

Vocational Guidance night is to be held at Knoxville high school, Wednesday, March 17, at 7:30 p. m. This opportunity has been made possible by the co-sponsorship of the Y's men's club and the Vocational Guidance department of the Knoxville city schools.

High school boys and girls are urged to attend. The general assembly will be addressed briefly by Dean Fred C. Smith of the University of Tennessee. The meeting will then divide into twenty-two separate groups.

The following is a list of the occupational groups: government and civil services, business finance, business administration, office work, social service, educational and personnel work, authorship, artistic work, costume designing, mechanical designing, construction work, civil engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, the artisan, hospitalization, medicine, drugs, scientist, hotel and cafeteria work, beauty culture and cosmetics, and home economics.

All of these classes will be led

$80,000 Contest Is Sponsored By Fisher

Through "The American Boy", the announcement of the annual Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild contest was released. The awards announced by William A. Fisher, Guild president, will total $80,000.

Heretofore only competition for the best Napoleanic coaches was held. This year, however, $47,350 will be awarded to the best automobile models. The remaining $32,650 will go to the winners of the coach competition.

First prize winners in each division will receive $5,000 scholarships. Those eligible to compete are those boys between the ages of twelve and nineteen who are residents of the United States.

The contest closes at midnight, July 1.

Masquers' Play To Have Lavish Sets, Costumes

English Department to Give Credit for Attendance of 'Taming of the Shrew'.

"The production of 'Taming of the Shrew' will be the biggest and most lavish ever attempted in Knoxville high school, according to the amount of money that is being spent on it for scenery sets and costumes," stated O. E. Sams, this week.

Four scenery sets will be used, and thirty different costumes will be rented, some costing as high as three dollars apiece, for this production.

The English department is making a definite study of this play and will give credit for attendance. Special mimeographed study sheets are also being made of it.

"Taming of the Shrew" will be presented in the high school auditorium Wednesday night, March 31, at 8 o'clock and Thursday afternoon, April 1 at 2:15 o'clock. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

When asked how rehearsals were progressing, Mr. Sams answered, "Fine!" without hesitation. He said that, because of the double-girl cast, there were no extra rehearsals. "The girls work it out among themselves as to who practices when, and while one Katharina or Bianca is portraying that role at practice, the other is going over her lines in her mind and is really benefiting by watching how the one acting is interpretating the play," explained Mr. Sams.

Equipment Changed In Broadcast Room

New arrangements of all the radio equipment has brought relief and perhaps a series of sighs to the operators. All equipment used to be kept in the radio room, and when it was needed for chapel purposes it was up to the boys to bring it down from the radio room and set it up behind the stage.

Now, all that is changed. The equipment is kept more compact and there is no need of moving it from the room to the auditorium. It took perhaps four hundred feet of wiring to do it, but the results are fine. The wiring is attached from the radio room to the stage. When everything is ready, an operator presses a button, the signal is given to Mr. Evans, and we're on the air.

There is also a radio in the radio room where the operators may also hear the chapel programs. New cabinets are going to be placed in the room for the equipment.

Marvin Kreiger, announcer, and operator said, "I think it's a very good idea and I'm sure it will increase the efficiency of the radic broadcast".

12B Directors' Election To Be Held On Monday

Students of the 12B class will vote Monday, during group, for their choice of candidates running for the election as 12B-12A class directors.

Miss Nelle Henry, substituting for Miss Horton as election adviser, will receive the ballots from each group and have charge of tabulating the votes.

Smith And Gillespie Will Lead Grand March Tonight

IN GRAND MARCH

who with Margaret Betty Gillespie, will lead the grand march at R. O. T. C. hop tonight.

Semi-Annual Military Hop to be Held in Gym Tonight, From 9 Until 12:30.

'KNIGHTS' TO PLAY

Major Bill King and Honorary Major Esther Alexander to Follow Lt.-Col and Date.

Led by Lieutenant-Colonel Alvin Smith and Honorary Lieutenant-Colonel Margaret Betty Gillespie, the grand march will be the feature of the semi-annual military hop which will be held in the gymnasium from nine o'clock until twelve-thirty tonight. Second in the march will be Cadet Major Bill King and Honorary Major Esther Alexander.

The military ball or "hop", is exclusively for boys in the R. O. T. C. battalion. Commissioned officers and their dates will be those in the grand march.

Among the chaperones will be Major and Mrs. John S. Moore and Sergeant and Mrs. W. A. Pratt of the P. M. S. and T. Other chaperones have been arranged for.

Many Organizations To Represent K H S In H. S. Day At U-T

Many K. H. S. students are planning to enter various activities of the 1937 High School Day, to be held at the University of Tennessee April 17.

Already, invitations have been sent to high schools throughout the state. Students from these schools will compete in athletic, musical, literary, and agricultural contests.

O. E. Sams, dramatics director of K. H. S., plans to enter the one-act play "Heritage" if it wins first place in the county play contest.

Charles H. Martin will advise the K. H. S. students who will compete in the original oratory, extemporaneous public speaking, declamations, and humorous and dramatic readings. The debating teams, Kyle Shown and Marvin Kreiger, Eula Pemberton and Marianna Allen, will oppose other high school debating teams. Twenty-six stu-

KHS Enters One Act Play Contest

K. H. S. will enter the Knox County one-act play contest this year for the third consecutive time. "Heritage", by Sallie Lee Bell and Gus Jaquet, will be the entry in this contest that will take place on or about Saturday, April 10, at Young's high school.

Betty Jane Morrison, Gertrude Meyer, John Roberts, Clyde Carter, Vera Yon, and Thelma McGhee have been chosen to portray the roles.

The winner of the county contest will compete in a district contest. The winner of this district will later contend with other district winners in a state wide contest.

K. H. S. won second place in last year's county contest, when its entry was "The Marriage Proposal", a farce of Russian life by Antal Tchekov. Ellis Mayes, Lillian Wright, and Bob Walker constituted the cast.

Young high has won first place in the county contest for three years and last year was champion of the state.

Broughten And Sally Win Civitan Prizes

The decision of the judges for the annual Civitan essay contest for K. H. S. has awarded the first prizes of $5 to Louise Sally and Len Broughten. Second prizes of $2.50 were given to Beverly Baer and Jack Saylor.

The winners of the first prizes will be eligible to compete with county schools, the winners of which will receive a silver loving cup. The winners of the county will compete in the national contest. The winners of this will receive a scholarship to one of the leading American colleges.

All high school winners are to be luncheon guests of the Civitan club at the Farragut hotel on March 18.

Delegates Leave Amid Ovation; Bosko And Writer Left Behind

By Wilfred Gillenwater

Amid the resounding cheers of almost six well wishers, four members of the Blue and White staff boarded the train Sunday morning, for New York City. The departure was punctuated with early station arrivals of two members of the party.

Even though Ed Mitchell and Gaines Stuart made their appearence at the station before eight o'clock, almost an hour before the arrival of Miss Becton and Martha King, another member of the staff was already on the spot. Sitting patiently on a suitcase by track number one, was Bosko, the Blue and White mascot.

Poor Bosko was left as usual. He takes it like a sport, however, since it's an annual affair.

Ed and the Gaines were making heavy plans for the week in New York, while the writer stood by listening.

'Boy! Oh boy!", said Gaines. "Just wait 'til we hit ole New York. They'll know we've been there."

"Are you telling me?", asked Ed. "There's the burlesque and Harlem. I'll really be Ed Mitchell's boss when I get there."

"What were you saying, my dears?," asked Miss Becton. "Are you making plans Gaines?"

"Er. . .ah. . .well, yes mam. We were just saying how much we plan to gain from the convention."

With a smile, the adviser turned away and resumed her conversation with Bill Browder. Mr. Stuart, his face slightly red, turned to the scribler for consolation. I wondered who was going to be whose "boss."

Martha King seemed afraid that someone would steal her grips and clutched them tightly, running to the track each time a switch engine chugged by. She also refused to give the porter her bags when she got on the steam vehicle.

When the train did arrive, our Blue and White "money man", Gaines Stuart, insisted that Mary Ruth Bibb kiss him good-bye. I can't remember whether she did or not.

HURRAH FOR CONVENTIONS!

New York City, March 10, 1936

Four representatives of K. H. S. are here in New York, a city with a population about fifty times the number of the home town.

A great deal is being accomplished in the way of journalism. This convention leads us to believe that conventions such as these are most beneficial to high school organizations. We are convinced that the high school that can send representatives to such a meet is rendering a service to both the delegates and the school.

More can be learned by sight-seeing here in New York than can be learned in a month of study from school books.

There are hundreds of scholastic journalists here from every corner of America. Consequently, round table discussions, with all of these people taking part, will add more to the high school papers than months of practice at home can add. There are so many opinions and ideas that when they are all boiled down their results are the cream of the crop.

Other conventions accomplish these same purposes. We wish to highly commend and recommend national conventions of high school organizations; they accomplish great things.

EVANS' COOPERATION

We wish to express our appreciation to Principal Evans for his most commendable attitude toward the betterment of all organizations in our school. If discrepancies have not already been corrected, he is most courteous to the student who brings the matter to his attention.

Recently a Blue and White reporter spoke to Mr. Evans about a certain matter concerning a well known K. H. S. organization. Although very busy at the time, the principal discussed the subject for some length. And not only was it discussed, but immediate action was promised.

Such existing relation between principal and student creates a feeling that cannot otherwise be obtained.

DICTATOR! BAWL THE JEALOUS

Dictator! This word has come into most frequent use during the past several months. It seems that on every turn President Roosevelt makes in the interest of recovery and progress for the country, he is met with this accusation.

This is a most ridiculous attitude to be adopted. This expression seems to have originated during the past presidential election campaign, when men of the opposite party to Mr. Roosevelt introduced the expression as a subject of criticism to the president's platform.

Many people took up the cue, and since that time, practically every policy proposed by Mr. Roosevelt has been branded with the mark of "another step toward dictatorship". The progress of the nation is being hindered by false propaganda.

People who are constantly bawling "Dictator!, Dictator!", should take a little time out to sit down and read just what are the policies of dictatorship.

It's a sad plight when a president of a nation can not call for action without the constant cry of "Dictator" from the jealous and evidently uninformed.

If things don't improve, it would be dangerous for the President to go into a cafe and call for soup for breakfast. Politicians might shout, "Dictator, Dictator!, he's trying to radically change the traditional American breakfast menu!"

The KHS Poll Of Opinion

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE NEW PARKING METERS NOW INSTALLED IN KNOXVILLE?

Barbara Ann Newman: In my opinion, the parking meters will prove themselves either good or bad. If that is what the public wants, let them have it.

Llewellyn Queener: The parking meters may help the officers in keeping check on overtime parkers, but the idea of any kind of tax is not very appealing to tourists.

Margaret Adkins: In my opinion, taxpayers pay enough to give motorists the privilege of parking on the street a limited time free.

Bill Browder: I believe that parking meters are good things. They will enable Gay street to be wider, bring prosperity to parking lot owners, and decrease the number of fines. They're O. K., but they won't last.

Mary Ruth Simpson: I do not like them and I think they will be more trouble than they are worth. I hope they do not continue this slot machine idea in parking.

WAGONS WESTWARD
By Armstrong Speery

"The grass is up! The grass is up!" The cry echoed through the town. Wagon-trains were starting westward. And this time Jonathan Starbuck was going too—leaving behind him Independence, Missouri, the last frontier, where he had grown up.

With old Chief Thrower, his father's rifle, under his arm and riding Hawk Eye, this boy of fifteen went to join Black Jack Bannock's wagon-train which the dashing, valiant Pierre Leroux was guiding to Santa Fe. He was headed for all the excitement, the horrors and the dangers of crossing the great untamed plains—for this was 1846. He was soon to hear the whir of Comanche arrows speeding to their mark; Indian war-whoops splitting the air during a Pawenee attack; the swish of waters, the creak of wagon wheels, the shouts of men as wagon-trains forded rushing rivers. And he, himself, was to play an exciting part in the winning of New Mexico for the United States.

ALMENA PARKER honored the Jr. Cotillion Club with a backward tea dance last Saturday night at her home. WESTON HYDE (you know the boy who has "natural" mascara under one eye) was getting a grand rush from the "Cotillioneers", especially from his sister ELSIE—Frame up!! Strolling in rather late I saw BETTY (LUNCH) CHAMBERS with DOUG LOVEJOY. ELOIS OWENS was surely enjoying the "scooter" with CHARLIE VANCE. JOHN POPE and HERBERT MAYS seemed to be enjoying themselves while LAURA HALL BAUMAN, BETTY HILANDS and MARGARET PORTWOOD were busy giving them a "break".

The T. N. T. Club gave a Scavenger Hunt last Friday night, which started at ESTHER ALEXANDER'S house. I saw DUDLEY WILSON with MARGARET PORTWOOD, MARGIE ELGIN with FRANK BROWN, INEZ CLAYTON with BILL LUTTRELL, MARY FRIERSON with C. S. NEEDHAM, BARBARA FOUST with BOB McCLELLAN, JULIA EARLY with BILL SWANN and MARION THOMPSON and LUCIAN TRENT.

At the Engineers' dance, LOIS WHITEHEAD, TODDY BRANNUM, KATHLEEN KING, NORMA SMITH and FAY POORE were chosen queens. All are graduates of Knoxville high.

The A. O. Pi benefit party brought out a number of K. H. S. girls. Among them I saw, RACHAEL PATTERSON, ESTHER YOUNG, BEVERLY BAER and MARY RUTH BIBB.

School Daze

Not long ago I heard of a boy who had gone to hear a well-known minister here, and after he had gotten to the church he found he must sit upstairs. Before the sermon he talked freely with a lady next to him, and also he freely gave his opinions of the preacher. Finally the lady turned to him and asked:

Barbara Rule

"Young man, do you know who I am?"

The boy did not.

"I am the preacher's wife!"

The boy turned to her and asked in turn:

"Lady, do you know who I am?"

The lady did not know.

"Well," sighed the boy rising quickly to his feet, "I'm glad you don't, and I hope you never will!" And with that he was gone. Pretty snappy come-back, huh?

At The Theatres

Alive with vivid drama, "Lloyds of London" a brilliant 20th century Fox hit opens Saturday at the Tennessee. Freddie Bartholomew, Madeline Carroll and Tyrone Powers, a new idol of the screen, have leads in the picture, a story of the love that changed the bonds of an empire.

Some vivid scenes of mountain Indian battles and hardships are in "Daniel Boone", the picture which opened at the Rivera Thursday and will play thru Saturday. George Brent and Heather Angel take the leads.

Owen Beanett's stage show "Parisian Nights Revue" with the French Follies girls and the Rhythm Swingsters is the Bijou's stage offering for today and tomorrow. On the screen will be "Love Begins at 20" with Patricia Ellis and the ever funny Hugh Herbert.

KHS Trackmen Practice Daily In Gymnasium

COILE ABSENT

Injured Knee Hampers Running Star—Several Lettermen Present.

Thirty-five to forty candidates are practicing daily in the Knoxville high gymnasium waiting anxiously for the K. H. S. track schedule to begin. All indications point to a very successful year as several lettermen are returning along with many promising newcomers.

Dave Poston, elected captain of this year's track squad, has dropped out of school, leaving the squad without a captain. George Coile, due to a bad knee, will not be out for the track team. Both are dash men and will prove severe losses to the team's chances.

Lettermen that will return are Adams and Bevins in the quarter-mile; Hunt in the half-mile; Tucker in the hurdles; and Clarence Joslin, undefeated in high school competition and state champion, will again return to compete for the mile. Several other lettermen also return.

The team will participate in the field day at the University of Tennessee April 17. They will also enter the East Tennessee meet at Johnson City and attempt to capture the honors won by Kingsport last year.

There's Something In The Air! Baseball's The Nation's Answer

By Fred Owens

Baseball, that grand and glorious game of the summer months, is back in circulation as major league clubs have opened their respective training camps and are preparing for another interesting season.

The more an observer pries into baseball, the more he is convinced that pitching produces pennants — particularly in the major leagues. Just as hitting produces the gate. The New York Giants, winners in the national league last year, offer the most striking example of the value of pitchers. They got through the entire league race on hurling and great defensive work. An example in the hitting department lies in the hopeless Philadelphia Phillies of a few years ago. They produced the best hitting team in the league and could not get the other side out.

Fred Owens

The only exception to the pitching rule seems to be the unforgetable Babe Ruth. In his heyday, he made punk pitchers out of good ones, not only by the power of his bat, but by the psychological factor in his being in the lineup. He helped the batters on his team by softening up the throwers for them. They threw everything at the Babe and had nothing to throw at the Yanks.

While speaking of the Yankees one may easily note that the actual brilliance of last year's pitchers was not demonstrated too often. But what's the use of pitching when you have a twelve run lead?

SWIMMERS READY

Although Knoxville high has not yet arranged or opened its swimming schedule, the Trojan swimmers are working out daily at the Y, and are members of the Y team. They have defeated such teams as Maryville College, Tusculum, and other strong outfits. There only defeat was suffered at the hands of the undefeated University of Tennessee congregation, the margin of victory being only seven points.

SPORT SHOTS

Milan, scene of this year's state tournament for high schools, has one of the strongest girl quintets in the South. . . . . Luke Appling, who will soon begin to serve his eighth year with the Chicago White Sox, has been hit by a pitched ball only once in the majors. . . . Carl Hubbell, pitching star of the New York Giants, throws left handed and bats right handed. His younger brother, John, now in spring training with the Giants, throws with his right arm and bats from the left side of the plate.

Lower Classmen Hear Orchestral Selections

Knoxville high school orchestra, composed of forty-four students, furnished the program for the lower class chapel Tuesday, under the direction of Professor Fred DeRobertis.

The program was as follows: Knoxville High School March, written by John D. Jones; selections from the opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor", by Donizetti; "Il Bacio Waltz," by Arditi; "Overture Jean De Paris," by Boieldieu.

Easter Vacation To Begin On March 20

Easter holidays for Knoxville high school will begin March 20 and end March 28. Christmas holidays were only one week long to make these holidays possible. This is the second year that the holidays have been divided this way and so far it has proved very successful. It makes a week of holidays occur in each semester.

Winning Squads Are Announced

Leading squads for the first six weeks class inspection have been announced. In the Monday-Thursday classes first period, Helen Hull's and Eugenia Franklin's squads tied for first place. In the second period, Dawn Halburnt's squad was first. Francis Cook and Elizabeth Godfrey had best squads in the third period. Ruby Dallas' squad led fourth period, and in the fifth period class Mary Ruth Bibb's was first. In the Tuesday-Friday classes squad leaders winning first place are: first period, Maxine Moore; second period, Georgia McPhetridge; third period, Mary Penfaree; fourth period, Iva Parsons; fifth period, Martha Brown; sixth period, Louise Landess.

Next week girls in the gym department with perfect records will be announced. A perfect record consists of: first, passing first inspection or second (providing first is made up). Second: To have no absences and no O's unless made up.

S. C. Honor Members Named By Adviser

Arthur Peterson and Nell Hall, with sixty and fifty-eight hours of Student Council work respectively, were named as the honor members for the first six weeks at the regular meeting of the Student Council held Tuesday afternoon at the apartment of Miss Helen Galbreath, faculty adviser.

Ed Dougherty, chairman of the Lost and Found department, reported that approximately $410.41 has been saved K. H. S. students by this department.

Reports were made by chairmen of other major committees and refreshments were served.

N. H. S. Gives Program For Upper Chapel

Members of the National Honor Society had charge of the upperclass chapel Thursday, March 11.

The usual four characteristics of a member of this organization were discussed. Charles Walrath spoke on "Scholarship", Thelma McGhee spoke on "Leadership", Clyde Carter on "Character", and Martha Cavaleri on "Service".

The forty-four new members were presented by Rachael Patterson. Dr. Clark made an address.

Wash. College And Trojans Are Favorites

Strong District Winners Seeded in Regional Tournament in Progress at U-T Gym.

UNIQUE SHOTS

Upper East Tennessee Quintet Employs Dangerous Overhead Shot.

Due to their outstanding work and fine records established during the season, the strong Washington College five and the Knoxville high school Trojans rank the favorites to cop the regional tournament now in progress at the Tennessee Alumni Memorial gymnasium.

Washington had little trouble in their district, bowling over all opposition and trouncing Baileyton by an overwhelming 34-11 score in the finals played last Saturday night. Several of the Washington stars are said to employ that dangerous overhead shot made popular in Knoxville by Wilton Putnam, University of Tennessee shooting star.

Knoxville high's experienced Trojans have a season record of twenty-four victories registered against one lone defeat. They are undefeated within the state and boast of several star players that should prove dangerous to any quintet in the tournament.

Vocational Tests Given To Seniors This Week

Curtis Gentry, vocational guidance director, has been giving tests to the senior class this week.

The tests began Tuesday, for the 1, 2, and 4 period study hall and assembly hall seniors and will be completed today.

The tests are given to enable the seniors to see what field they are most talented in, and to help them select their life work.

Society and Clubs

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

THE Kodak club, with the cooperation of all its members, is doing its largest project of the year as yet. They have finished for the Student Council, a dozen group pictures of them and expect to finish a dozen more shortly.

The new officers elected for the spring term are: Herman Silva, president; W. R. White, vice-president; and Inslee Burnett, secretary.

THESPIANS will have a meeting Monday night, March 15, at the home of Charlotte Colby. It is very important that all Thespians be present.

SENIOR Girl Reserves will present a Style Show at a Silver Tea to be given Wednesday, March 17, at the Y. W. C. A., at four o'clock. Beverly Fischer is in charge, and the following committees have been chosen to make the plans: dress committee, Elois Owens, Margaret Portwood; decoration, Barbara Foust, Margaret Betty Gillespie, and Dorothy Duggan; refreshment committee, Rachael Patterson, Helen Warwick, and Margaret Ann Brown; program committee, Thelma McGhee, Helen Hutchinson, Gertrude Meyer, and Betty Jane Morrison.

Barbara Rule will be in charge of candy sales, and Dorothy Seymour will head the invitation committee.

Everything is to be carried out in oriental style. The public is cordially invited.

—o—

TRIALGEO society will sponsor a skating party at Chilhowee Park Saturday, March 20, at 7:30 p. m. Profits will be used for the publishing of a club handbook.

The price of admission is twenty-five cents and everyone is invited.

—o—

SENIOR Hi-Y boys gave a banquet March 4, at the Y. M. C. A. A few of the couples were: Ruth Long and Gene Tate; Julia Freels and Bob Alley; Muriel Clark and Hugh Jones; Betty Jane Morrison and Jack Boyd; Martha Jean Osbourne and Bob Andridge; Louise Galloway and Ed Knowling; Charline Oakes and Bob Walker; Margaret Betty Gillespie and Alvin Smith; Rachael Patterson and John Cruze; "Ting" Newby and James Frye; Helen Ledgerwood and Ben St. Claire; Emily King and Herman Silva; Beverly Fischer and George Coile.

There was no speaker, but Betty Jane Morrison gave two recitations and J. C. Lowery played the cornet, accompanied by Helen Ledgerwood.

FRENCH club had Mrs. E. B. Williams speak to them Tuesday, March 9. She said that it was necessary to know another language in order to know your own, and when you want to call people names, if you can think in two ways, you have the upper hand.

Besides showing the advantages of the French language, Mrs. Williams told about the various customs. She mentioned how the parents arranged the marriages about the schools and how difficult the French examinations are.

Mrs. Williams once played with the great French actress, Sara Bernhardt. She gave several poems that Miss Bernhardt had taught her, speaking in French, then explaining them in perfect English.

The little auburn-haired lady proved so interesting that the club was not dismissed until five o'clock.

Mrs. Williams has often been here to speak to the French classes and never fails to receive an invitation to return.

EL Choclo used green and white for the decorations at their buffet supper Tuesday night, March 9, at Myrtle McWhorter's.

The officers and their dates were Janice Smith, president; and "Turkey" Smith; Margaret Sharpe, vice-president, and Frank Higdon; Myrtle McWhorter, secretary, and "Dusty" Holder; Dorothy White, treasurer, and Jim Mynatt.

THE K. H. S. model Airplane club has been formed by Ira Stineman, physics teacher in K. H. S. This is a new club and has held only six meetings.

The officers of the club are: Jack Caldwell, president; Joe Phillips, vice-president; Charles Matthews, secretary. The first example of the work of the club is on exhibit in the glass case in the front hall.

Aviation contests and many other activities are planned. These contests will be held in one of the local airports. Practically all of the present members intend to master in aviation.

The club is recognized by the E. C. A. and is managed by the Junior N. A. A. basis.

Any boy wishing to join this club report to room 218 on Wednesday afternoon.

Forum, Science Department, B-W Broadcast

Main radio programs for the week were sponsored by the Open Forum, Monday, and the Science department, under the direction of Mr. Browning.

Kyle Shown, a member of the Open Forum gave a reading, "My Tennessee". Llewellyn Queener gave a report on the "History of Tennessee. "Famous men of Tennessee" was related by Eula Pemberton. Arthur Peterson spoke on "Our Heritage and Our Obligation To Tennessee". The program was announced by Marvin Krieger.

Conducted by the Blue and White the radio program Wednesday was taken up with news-flashes by Wilfred Gillenwater and a poll of opinion by Thelma McGhee. Those who contributed to the poll of opinion were Sam Fincannon, Mary Ruth Bibb, Margaret Betty Gillespie, Gertrude Meyer, Marvin Krieger, and Kyle Shown. Music was furnished by Helen Ledgerwood.

Alcohol Contest Is Sponsored By P. T. A.

In collaboration with the Central Council of Parent Teachers' Associations department for the study of the use and effect of alcohol and other narcotics, the Knoxville high school P. T. A. is sponsoring an essay contest on "Alcohol".

All essays are to be from 300 to 500 words in length and on any topic concerning alcohol. They are due to be in March 22.

The writers of the winning essays in each grade will receive $1.00 each and the second best in each grade will receive fifty cents. These will be entered in the county contest, the winners of which will receive $5, $2, and $1 respectively, for the best three essays. Students of both junior and senior high schools are eligible to compete.

Wallace Arranges White House Visit

Through C. Earl Wallace, former associate editor on the Blue and White, the paper's delegates were taken through the White House Tuesday. The four Knoxvillians, Ed Mitchell, Gaines Stuart, Martha King, and Miss Emma Becton, stopped off in Washington while enroute to New York.

The trip was made possible by the money which was received from the sale of the Knoxville Journal, February 17, and spread ads which appeared in the Blue and White.

The delegates are paying their own personal expenses, exclusive of train fare and hotel bills.

"Louise, I cannot have you reading novels on Sunday."

"But Grandma, this one is all right. It is all about a girl who was engaged to three clergymen, all at once."
