Debate Team To Make Tour In Kentucky

Charles Martin to Accompany Kreiger and Shown to Lexington.

GIRLS DEBATE TODAY

Debate Coach Seeks Scholarship at Northwestern for One of Debators.

Following the K. H. S. debating team's victory over Jonesboro last Wednesday, it has been announced that the team will make a tour of Kentucky, contesting with teams of Corbin, Pineville, Winchester, Richmond, and Middlesboro.

The destination of the tour will be Lexington where they will meet two schools which are expected to offer the strongest competition of the entire trip. On their return home they will meet with teams of Mt. Sterling, Bristol, Virginia, Tennessee, and Johnson City. The final debate before returning home will be a return engagement with Jonesboro.

Kyle Shown and Marvin Kreiger, accompanied by Charles Martin, K. H. S. debate coach, constitute the group to make the tour.

Dean F. C. Smith Addresses Group

Dean Fred C. Smith, of the University of Tennessee, addressed an assembly of Knoxville school principals Monday afternoon on "The Use of the Home Room for Educational and Vocational Guidance".

Dean Smith suggested a definite project for each semester of high school work.

Principal W. E. Evans later conferred with Curtis Gentry, of the vocational guidance department of the city schools, and plans are being discussed at present for launching a new program for group periods.

Commencement Speakers For Class Of '37B

Kyle Shown, Gertrude Meyer, Margaret B. Gillespie, Marvin Kreiger, who have chosen Horace Mann as the source of material for their speeches to be made at the graduation exercises this spring.

Masquers Club To Give Play

'Taming of the Shrew' to be Given at High School March 31, April 1.

Consisting of a cast of thirty, "Taming of the Shrew", a play sponsored by the Masquers club, will be presented during the first week after the Easter vacation. There will be two performances: Wednesday, March 31, at 8 p. m., and Thursday, April 1, at 2:15 p.m.

Thirty different costumes are being rented for the production, and four scenery sets are to be used.

According to O. E. Sams, "Taming of the Shrew" will be the biggest production ever attempted in K. H. S. in that more money is being spent on it.

After making a definite study of this Shakespearean play, the English department has decided to give credit for attendance.

The leads in the play are: John Burkhart, Betty Sisk, and Rebecca Brown.

A Cappella Choir Will Sing Easter

To Perform for ABC Bible Class at 9 A. M. — Ed Hamilton to Direct.

For its Easter musical feature the K. H. S. A Cappella choir will present a program for the A. B. C. Bible class at nine o'clock Easter Sunday morning.

The program will begin with "Victory", an Easter chorale arranged by Harry B. Gaul. This song describes the break of dawn and the fright of the people when they find that Christ has arisen.

The second number shows the sweet and beautiful part of that morning of all mornings. The song is "Oh Morn of Beauty", arranged from "Finlandia", by Alexander Mathews.

For the concluding number the forty voices burst into the beautiful "Alleluia, Christ is Risen". This song, written by Andre Kapalyoff, expresses the joy of the people when they found that Christ has fulfilled his promise. They are shouting praises unto him.

The chorus will be directed by Edward H. Hamilton.

Wrinkle Wins Prize Offered By Ossoli

J. B. Wrinkle, Jr. 12A, has been awarded first prize for submitting the best poem in the Ossoli club's poetry contest. Sixty-five poems were entered by Knox County students.

His poem entitled "War" also won second place in the district judging which is part of the state contest sponsored annually by the State Federation of Women's clubs.

Honorable mention goes to five other K. H. S. students whose poems will be entered in the state contest. Dorothy Seymour, author of "The Sampler"; Joel Anderson, "Song of the Hikers"; Dorothy Jeanne Gale, "Jungle"; Pat Sublette, "Dreams"; Inez Dyer, "Spring Melody".

Insurance Company Sponsors Contest

To emphasis the value of life insurance the National Association of Life Underwriters is sponsoring a 300 word essay contest on a subject to be announced later. The English department will have charge of this contest in Knoxville high.

The national prizes total $1,525 divided as follows: $200, $150, $100, $75, ten prizes of $50 each, and twenty prizes of $25 each. In addition there will be thirty-five local prizes.

Play Contest Will Be Held For Clubs

Thespians Are Sponsors— Cash Prizes to be Given Winning Societies.

Continuing a practice begun last year, the K. H. S. Thespians will again sponsor an intra-mural one-act play contest for the various organizations of the school. A cash prize of five dollars will be awarded to the group presenting the play considered the best by the judges.

The contest, which will probably occur during the first week of May, may be entered by any K. H. S. club excluding the Thespian society and Masquers club. This exclusion was made since the primary purpose of the undertaking is to stimulate futher interest in dramatics throughout the school.

However, Thespians will be allowed to supervise the selection of a play, cast, and direct the production should the entering club desire his assistance. Masquers may take part in a play representing another club, but the dramatic group itself will not enter into the competition.

The one definite rule to be observed states that the play must be non-royalty, and a suggestion reads that the play should not be over thirty minutes in length. Thespians will furnish stage hands and a simple living room set. Additional properties must be furnished by the individual groups. Drops will be used for background.

Official entry blanks will be given upon request to any club desiring to enter. The blank may be obtained from O. E. sams, Thespian sponsor, or Thelma McGhee president, and should be returned before Friday, April 2.

'Crucifixion' To Be Presented Easter

The "Crucifixion", a canta which is a meditation on the sacred passion of Christ, is being given by the Broadway Baptist church choir, Easter Sunday night at 7:30.

The presentation will be directed by Edward H. Hamilton, head of the music department of Knoxville high school and director of the Broadway choir.

Herbert Turner, a member of the K. H. S. A Cappella choir, who has distinguished himself as an excellent young bass singer, will take the bass lead. Sam Scarborugh, one of Knoxville's best known tenors, will take the tenor lead.

Other members of the K. H. S. choir who sing in the "Crucifixion" are Ruth Jett, Gertrude Garnet, Lythia Boling, Bill Chamberlan, and G. E. Francis.

371 Students Make Honor Roll To Set New Record At KHS

Setting a new height in the scholastic rating of Knoxville high school is the honor roll for the past six weeks. The previous highest record was 348 made in March 1936. This year, however, 371 students made first and second honors. There were 107 first honors and 264 second honors.

Five Elected As Directors Of '38A Class

Helen Chamberlain and Felicia Parker Are Girls Chosen.

2 RUN-OFFS REQUIRED

Mack Blackburn, Wilfred Gillenwater, Hugh Piper Are Boys Named.

Mack Blackburn, Wilfred Gillenwater, Hugh Piper, Helen Chamberlain, and Felicia Parker have been elected as directors for the 12B-12A classes.

The boys were elected in the second run-off Wednesday, while the votes for the girls were so close that a final election was required Thursday.

Mack plays a violin in the K. H. S. orchestra and is a member of the DeMolay.

Wilfred is a Blue and White reporter, a member of the National Honor Society, Senior Hi-Y, K. H. S. band, an ex-Student Council member, and was president of the Junior Hi-Y. He will soon be admitted to the Quill and Scroll journalistic association.

Hugh, or "Pete" as perhaps he is better known, is a member of the Senior Hi-Y and the Hiking club.

Felicia is a member of the Masquers, Sketch, Hiking, Archery, and Girl Reserve clubs, the National Honor society. She has also been a Student Council member and now draws "Bosko" for the Blue and White.

Helen is a member of the Top Hat and Ganaque clubs.

Gildard Draws Plan For Six Room House

Stewart Gildard, a member of P. O. Coyner's second semester architectural drawing class, has completed full plans for a six room home to be built for William T. Raulston, a teacher at Christenberry high. Mr. Raulston will use the complete plans for his home in Forrest Dale Addition.

Mr. Coyner states, "Although ordinarily we do not try to make this a vocational course, we do try to make it practical and this is the best type of practical subject".

Other plans made through this department and later used for buildings were a double garage, and a church addition.

NO 'LIFE POLICIES'

In the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. there appears a newspaper report of a lecture by Miss Susan B. Anthony, famous political leader of the days during the struggle for Woman Suffrage. The speech was made on Saturday evening, March 5, 1870, at Rouse's Opera House.

The opening words of Miss Anthony's lecture were these: "The time has come when both political parties must adopt a 'Life Policy' to sustain themselves".

Although Susan B. Anthony repeated these words exactly 67 years ago, back in the days when a newspaper consisted of one small sheet, printed only on one side, the moral of this thought is most appliable to the present day political situation.

A study of the famous Susan Anthony's policies and convictions, lead us to believe that if she were alive today and were to address the students of Knoxville high school this afternoon on the subject of "American Politics Today", a portion of her speech text would be something similiar to the following:

"The policy of the two great American political parties today is practically any policy which the party can depend upon to be the drawing card for votes during an election. During the administration of a president of one party, the policy of the other party is usually exactly the opposite to the policy of the man in power. This is a medium of continual criticism of the administration.

During the campaign, however, the party which has continually criticised a policy often adopts the same policy and advertises it as a part of its platform, if observed that the policy has vote gathering power.

Such a practice decreases the value of political parties. During the forming of this great democracy it was intended that the two parties should have specific "Life Policies" so that the nation might not entirely slip into one type of a one sided government.

While the parties think only of the votes they can obtain from a policy and not the stability nor value of the policy this aim can never be accomplished. The parties should and strongly believe in its policy and stick to it, through the thick and the fast, of course altering and making improvements as the change of time and custom requires. But instead, the parties have made their policy as elastic as is necessary to gain power. It is a question of power, not policy, with them.

Many Americans look on with great dread as Communism gains steadily in this nation, and more and more people become supporters of this type of government. How can so impractical a policy as Communism gain popularity in a nation like the United States? The party leaders of Communism are hanging on to their ideals in spite of the fact that they are repeatedly defeated at election time. The people who have already become supporters remain so, the policy is never changed so a supporter gained is usually kept.

Yes, "The time has come when both political parties must adopt a 'Life Policy' to sustain themselves".

Then Miss Anthony would bow courteously as she always did and take her seat. Everybody would applaud most audibly. So would we. We would entirely agree!

GIRLS MORE INTELLIGENT?

Girls are better students, as far as scholarship is concerned, than boys in Knoxville high school. This fact is evident when checking the names on the past six weeks honor roll and the members of the National Honor Society.

This should not be the case. In business, men as a rule, hold more responsible positions than women. With this in mind we feel that the boys should be equally capable in comparing with the girls along scholarship lines.

Come on, boys! Let's snap out of it!

The KHS Poll Of Opinion

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THE MOVIES HELD IN THE ASSEMBLY HALL EACH MONDAY?

Joe Marland: The idea of having movies is fine, but the movies themselves are not so good. Of course, they are educational, but I think most of us go for entertainment.

Knic Knoph: I think the idea is good, but we should have pictures such as "Popular Science" shorts instead of the type we are now having.

Herbert Morgan: It has proved a success in other city schools, but the pictures should be more modern to suit every high school student.

Leon Ruckert: I think they are very dry. They should be of later issue.

Alvin Askew: I think the Monday movies are very educational, and if they were discontinued there would be plenty of squawks from the students.

Mack Blackburn: I think the movies would be fine if the pictures were of a different type. It would be much better if we could have pictures like the ones used in theatres.

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

You all know the old saying that says something about "girls falling for brass buttons" If you were at the semi-annual MILITARY BALL last Friday night held in the K. H. S. gym, you saw a reason for that statement. These boys really put on a show in their uniforms, especially those officers! Among the couples, I saw LT.-COL. ALVIN SMITH strutting in with HON. LT.-COL. MARGARET BETTY GILLESPIE, CADET MAJOR BILL KING with HON. CADET MAJOR ESTHER ALEXANDER, CAPT. ADJ. CHARLES TRENTHAM with MYRTLE McWHORTER, CAPT. GENE TATE with HON. CAPT. RUTH LONG, CAPT. BILL THOMAS with HON. CAPT. LaVERNE SELF (the inseparable), CAPT. WESTON HYDE with HON. CAPT. MARTHA JEAN OSBORNE, CAPT. BOB WALKER with CHARLEENE OAKS, CAPT. JOE BROWN with HON. CAPT. B. J. MORRISON, and FIRST LT. GEORGE COILE with HON. CAPT. BEVERLY FISCHER.

The SENIOR GIRL RESERVE club of K. H. S. gave a combination style show and silver tea last Wednesday. Among the models I saw MARY FRIERSON, ELOIS OWENS, AMELIA PELLEGRENELLI, VIRGINIA NAFF, RUTH LONG, JUNIE OSBORNE, JANE ADAMS, ESTHER ALEXANDER, MARGARET BETTY GILLESPIE, JOSEPHINE COFFIN, JOAN COILE, and RACHEL PATTERSON.

You can bet the DeMOLAY dance will be good tonight. So you better come out and join in the fun. Look who's going . . . MARGARET PORTWOOD with BOB McCLELLAN (goodness! this is getting serious), INEZ CLAYTON with BOB CLAGETT, JANE ADAMS with RED MIDDLEMAS, JOSEPHINE COFFIN with CHARLIE JORDAN, and ELOIS OWENS with CARL McCOY.

School Daze

The first day back after their exciting trip to the press convention in New York, Miss Becton, Ed Mitchell, Martha King, and Gaines Stuart were telling their experiences to a group of thrilled, as well as envious, Blue and White reporters. Miss Becton had the floor at the time. "The evening wore on," she continued, being interrupted at this time by a would-be witty reporter who said: "Oh, do tell us what the evening wore on that occasion."

Barbara Rule

Dear Miss Becton, always equal to the situation, immediatly replied: "Well I don't think that it's really very important, but if you must know, I believe it was the close of a cool spring day."

Dr. C. S. Adams Addresses P. T. A.

At the regular monthly P. T. A. meeting Wednesday, the K. H. S. Bible department had charge of the program under the direction of Mrs. Clarice Groh.

The K. H. S. Glee club opened the program with several musical numbers including "Oh Beauteous Moon", "Victory", and "Alleluia".

Dr. C. S. Adams gave a lecture on the "Life of Christ", illustrated by colored slides. He placed especial emphasis on Passion Week, the crucifiixion, and the resurrection.

"If any man," an Easter play written by Ann Wray, was presented by Ann Wray, Charlie Lawson, William Thomas, Vernon Bonham, and Nadine Wilson.

Trojans Defeat Bristol Outfit To Win Crown

Capt. Puss Hodge Leads Blues to First E-T Championship in Ten Years.

WIN TRIP

Trojans to Represent Section of State in Tournament at Milan, Tennessee.

Playing championship ball in a championship way, Knoxville's strong Trojans trounced Bristol high, 28-19, Saturday night to win the East Tennessee championship. It was the first regional tournament that the Trojans have won since 1927.

Securing an early lead, the Blue and White basketeers rolled up an 18-5 lead at the intermission. Midway the final quarter with Knoxville leading 24-12, Bristol scored seven points in quick order to bring the score down to 24-19 and give the Blues their score of the night. But at this point the Trojans tallied two quick baskets and froze the ball the remainder of the game.

Captain Bert Hodge led the Knoxville offensive attack with thirteen points. He was followed by Timber Luttrell with seven tallies. Bristol was led by Buddy Ingram, tall all-tournament center, who scored eleven of the upper East Tennessean's total of nineteen points.

Line-up:

K.H.S. (28)	Pos.	Bristol (19)
Hodge 13	F	Vance 1
Gaines 3	F	McClister 1
Remine 3	C	Ingram 11
Luttrell 7	G	Phipps 3
Higdon 2	G	Furlow 2

Subs: Knoxville—Hunt; Bristol—Messerole and Morrell.

High School Grads To Be In Operetta

Bedrich Smetana's operetta, "The Bartered Bride", will be given by the Knoxville high school night school chorus sometime in April.

The cast of characters: Krushrina, Herbert Turner; Ludmila, Agnes DeRieux; Marie, Roberta McReynolds; Micha, Charles Martin, teacher of Knoxville high school; Hata, Annora Parsons; Vashek, Sam Scarbrough; Jenik, Oren Tucker; Kezal, James Allison; Indian, Gene Monday; Esmerelda, Margaret Glenn; and principal comedian, Ellis Mays.

SPORT DOPE

State Championship Destination Of Colorful KHS Basketeers

By Fred Owens

Displaying the fine cooperative work that has marked their play throughout the entire season, Knoxville high school's champion Trojans breezed through the regional tournament last week to give Knoxville its first regional championship since 1927. By virtue of winning the championship, Knoxville, along with Bristol, runners-up in the tournament, will represent East Tennessee in the state tournament to be held at Milan, Tennessee, March 25-27. Milan is approximately 353 miles from Knoxville and the trip will serve as a fine reward for the Blue and White basketeers for their outstanding work.

Fred Owens

The Trojans trounced Chattanooga Central, Erwin, and Bradley in a row to capture the East Tennessee tourney and cause sports writers, officials, and coaches of the teams in the tournament to praise their rapid passing, expert and smooth handling of the ball.

Chosen on the all-tournament team were Captain Bert Hodge and Walter Gaines at the forward positions. The second team found big Bill Luttrell and scrappy Frank Higdon at the guard positions. Lincoln Remine displayed the finest form of his career and drew much praise from the spectators for his handling of the ball when on the offensive. Walter Gaines, due to his brilliant performances and coolness under fire, was recognized as the outstanding player and most valuable man to his team. Gaines was also recognized as the outstanding player in the fourteenth district tournament four weeks ago.

SPORT HIGHLIGHTS

The metropolitan Basketball Writers Association voted Hank Luisetti of Stanford the "finest visiting player" to perform in New York this season. . . . Two Notre Dame players, Johnny Moir and Paul Nowak, were second and third. . . . Fourth was Tennessee's Gene Johnson, rated one of the finest little men to ever perform on the Madison Square Garden court. . . . In the finals of a North Carolina tournament at Raleigh, Smithfield defeated Raleigh, 166-7. . . . . Knute Rockne, recognized as the greatest football coach of all time, rated Marty Brill the greatest blocker that the game of football has ever produced. But Brill is remembered by football fans by his spectacular running attack against the powerful Pennsylvania gridders in 1930 when Notre Dame's glorious Ramblers completely trounced the Engineers, 80-20, before 80,000 wild and cheering spectators, at Franklin Field in Philadelphia. If you don't remember, Brill first attended the Pennsylvania school but changed his mind and entered the Irish school. . . . Did you know that Grover Cleveland Alexander won twenty-eight games his first year in the majors? He came to the majors in 1911. . . . and that Leo "Lefty" Moon, the well-liked southpaw, was one of the first to arrive at the Knoxville Smokies' training camp at Cordele, Georgia? . . . Coach Collins speaks highly of Elwood Powers, John Clark, and Bill "Patsy" Hunt. He believes they, along with Gaines, will make the Trojans another dangerous outfit next year.

Blues Battle Sardis Quintet In Tournament

West Tennessee High Winner of Consolation Tournament In Milan Last Week.

TEAM OPTIMISTIC

Boys Plan to Give Knoxville First State Championship—Will Leave Tuesday.

Knoxville high, East Tennessee's challenger for the state basketball championship, will face Sardis high of West Tennessee in the first round of the state tournament to be held at Milan, Tennessee, March 25-27. Sardis high is the third ranking team of the western half of the state, having defeated Rives in the finals of the consolation tournament last week.

Bristol, runners ups to the Trojans in the East Tennessee tournament, will face Rives high in the first game of the tournament Thursday. The teams include two middle representatives, two eastern representatives, and four from West Tennessee, host of the tourney.

Knoxville high, due to her very impressive record and string of victories, has been made favorite to win the crown. They are co-favorites with Milan, champions of the western half of the state.

Coach Collins stated that eight members in the regional tournament which include Bert Hodge, Walt Gaines, Lincoln Remine, Bill Luttrell, Frank Higdon, Elwood Powers, Doc Clark, and Bill Hunt would make the trip. They will also be accompanied by assistant-coach Buford Bible and Manager James Cross.

SENIOR Girl Reserves gave their annual style show and silver tea Wednesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. from 3:45 to 5:30 o'clock. Decorations were from Harb's Oriental Shop and the girls that served were dressed in Oriental costumes. The models stepped into a large frame to form a living picture, passed among the guests, and over a quaint little Japanese bridge.

Dorothy Seymour wore a Japanese wedding gown her brother brought to her from Japan in 1933. It is of heavy white silk with a brocaded dragon of scarlet and silver. The president, Rachael Patterson, wore a lovely blue evening gown. Beverly Fisher, vice-president and general chairman, modeled play and swim suits made of material in bright colors and striking figures from Honolulu.

Jane Adams and Joan Coile wore green three-piece suits, and Margaret Betty Gillespie, a yellow and brown print. Elois Owen looked most attractive in a red and green evening gown, and Amelia Pelligrenelli brought in the sporting season in a good looking black riding habit.

Other models were Helen Warwick, Martha Jean Osborne, Jane Steffner, Esther Alexander, Agnes Hufstedler, Julia Freels, Margaret Sharpe, Katherine Briscoe, Ruth Long, Josephine Coffin, Laura Mae West, Myrtle McWhorter, Mary Allison Frierson, Janice Smith, Elaine Mauney, Joyce Meyer, and Virginia Naff.

There were two mistresses of ceremony, Betty Jane Morrison and Thelma McGhee. Gertrude Meyers received the guests.

Stores which cooperated were Miller's, Turner-Douglas, House-Ragsdale, Athletic House, Elsie Baker, Bower's, Peggy Hale, Mangel's, Harb's Oriental Shop, and Woods, Taylor, and Cox.

IN a letter received this week by the Blue and White news editor, Superintendent Harry Clark offered his "belated expression of appreciation" for the K. H. S. edition of the Journal. Dr. Clark wrote that the paper "came out just before I left for New Orleans" and that he had "too many book agents in the office that afternoon" for him to write at the time.

TRI-T club celebrated its first anniversary with a party at Southern Dairies' club room last Friday night.

Barbara Newman, president, wore aqua net; Mary Louise Black, vice-president, had on an attractive blue satin; and Mary Lee Smith, secretary, looked sweet in pink crepe.

Ethel Whittlesey, treasurer, in a demure little printed silk, was the focus of several admirers, and Geraldine Akard, social chairman, wore a lovely peach taffeta.

A contest was held to decide which couple was the most accomplished dancers. Geraldine Akard and Ed Story were the winners.

OPEN FORUM used "Social Relations Between Girls and Boys", as the topic of its program at the last meeting.

Llewllyn Queener told "What I Like in a Girl", and Virginia Lewis gave a reading entitled, "Hurrah! I'll Soon Be Married".

Bob Starkey told the club "How to Entertain a Girl When Your Money is Low", Mable McNeese told of "My First Date", and Charles Martin, adviser of the club, answered several questions concerning his ideal girl.

The Big Six contest is to be held again this year. There are five phases that high school students may enter: extemporaneous speaking, declaration, oration, and two reading contests, humorous and dramatic.

Final tryouts for high school will be held Monday, March 29, and the actual contest will be held at the University of Tennessee some time in April.

ALL seniors are urged by Eugenia Franklin, chairman of the Point System, and Arthur Peterson, assistant, to check their extra-curricular activities record cards as soon as they can.

Since some former graduates have later discovered after their graduation that they were entitled to a certificate, a system of checking points has been worked out to eliminate this.

Two afternoons a week will be announced shortly as days for seniors to go to room 304 and check their cards.

EL Choclo club will give a backward dance at the home of Joan Coile Tuesday night, March 23. Members will bring dates and invite girls outside the club for stagettes.

—o—

WEREWOLF club, a group of U. T. and Central high school boys, will sponsor a dance at Whittle's Thursday night, March 25, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock. There will be five no-breaks and a special for members and their dates. Skeet Tallent will play. Admission is sixty-five cents in advance or seventy-five cents at the door.

—o—

TRIALGEO Society's skating party will be Saturday night, March 20, at Chilhowee Skating Rink. Admission will be twenty-five cents. Everyone is urged to attend.

MISS Emma Becton, adviser of the Blue and White, Ed Mitchell, editor, Martha King, associate editor, and Gaines Stuart, business manager, returned from Washington, New York, and the C. S. P. A. Convention last Sunday night. In Washington they visited all the points of interest as the Congressional Library, the White House, where they were admitted to private rooms, the Capitol, Folgar Library, Supreme Court, Senate, and House of Representatives. They also went to Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, Lincoln Memorial, and Washington Monument.

In New York they went out to the Statue of Liberty, rode the elevateds and subways, went up in the Empire State building, and were guests of the Fred Allen radio hour. They saw the current Broadway success "Boy Meets Girl", and Gaines heard Benny Goodman and his swing band at the Paramount Theatre.

Policewoman Allen Advises KHS Girls

At two special girls' chapels held on Thursday of last week and the past Tuesday, Mrs. Mary Allen, police matron of Knoxville, addressed the Knoxville high girls, bringing them advice and information to help them in daily living.

Mrs. Allen spoke of the urgent need of an educational and religious training. She urged girls not to quit school, to attend church regularly, and to take part in church activities. She stressed the importance of truthfulness and obedience to one's parents, and cited the commandment that reads "Honor thy father and mother".

Mrs. Allen urged the girls not to drink or smoke, to be feminine, and not to do anything that would lessen their attractiveness, either physically or spiritually.

"The girls today are just as sweet and lovely as the girls of my day," Mrs. Allen declared, "but the temptations are more and different."

Vocation Night Conducted Here

Well Informed Women and Men Conducted Classes— Held Wednesday Night.

Vocational Guidance night was held at the Knoxville high school Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. It was sponsored by the Y's men's club and the Vocational Guidance department of the Knoxville city school.

The general assembly was addressed briefly by Dean Fred C. Smith of the University of Tennessee, and then the meeting divided into twenty-two separate groups, each person going to that group in which he was most interested.

These classes were all taught or discussed by prominent women and men of the city who are well informed on the subject they led.

This session was held to enable the students and adults to learn more about that field of work in which they were interested in entering.

MORE ABOUT
BIG SIX

The girls' debating team, composed of Marianna Allen and Eula Pemberton, will debate on public utilities at Farragut high school today.

Both teams will enter the Big Six contest, an annual event conducted by the University of Tennessee, which will be held April 13 this year.

"Due to splendid improvement of the participants, we stand a good chance of winning first place," stated Mr. Martin.

Mr. Martin is seeking a scholarship from Northwestern University for one of the debaters it was learned last Wednesday. This scholarship will take care of full tuition. Fifty scholarships are given each year and they are awarded strictly on competitive basis.

"I see no reason why one of these scholarships should not be obtained for one of our young debaters. It would be of great help to our debating prospects in future years," said Martin.
