KHS Students In State Meet At U-T Today

Winners of District Contest to Seek Tennessee Championships.

Knoxville high school will be represented in six events at the State High School contest to be held at the University of Tennessee today.

All of the K. H. S. students competing in today's competition were winners in the district contest held on the U. T. campus last Saturday, during the High School Day activities. Today they compete with the winners of the other six districts of Tennessee.

Ed Mitchell, who has represented K. H. S. for three years in the district contest, will compete for state honors in the Original Oratory contest. His subject will be "Training Tomorrow's Criminals".

Stuart Maher will seek honors in the extemporaneous speaking event. His subject in the district contest was "The President's Proposal for the Supreme Court".

Maher and Mitchell have been making speeches together f o r

McGhee, Meyer Go To Memphis Convention

Leaving Wednesday morning, April 28, Thelma McGhee, news editor, and Gertrude Meyer, reporter, of the Blue and White will attend the Southwestern University press convention at Memphis, to be held on the campus of that school April 28 and April 30.

Six issues of the Blue and White have been entered including three current issues and three over six months old.

The delegates are paying most of their expenses. The two will return Sunday.

'The Bartered Bride' To Be Given Sunday

"The Bartered Bride," a comic opera, will be presented Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Bijou Theatre. It will be a benefit performance.

The cast is composed of members of the Civic Opera club and directed by Edward Hamilton. Many students and graduates of K. H. S. are included in the principal roles and the chorus.

Reserve seats are $1.00. The remainder of the first floor and the first three rows of the balcony are fifty cents, and the rest of the balcony is thirty-five cents.

Duggan, Broughton Winners Of Contest

Ruth Duggan and Len Broughton have been announced the K. H. S. winners of the League of Nations contest held April 9. Their papers will be judged as candidates for free trips to New York.

In New York another test will be given, and the winner there will receive a trip to Europe with all expenses paid.

The judges were teachers in the social science department. The students who took the examination will have charge of the radio program April 30 using as their theme "The History of the League of Nations".

To Preside Over Class Of '38A

Point System Rules To Hold

New Regulations Not To Be Effective Until Next Term, Rules Committee.

At a special meeting of several appointed faculty members for the purpose of revising the Point System rules, it was decided that the system would remain the same this term, but that there will be new rules to go into effect next term.

The discussion was brought about by the fact that the rule concerning the maximum number of points allowed to a student in accordance with his grades has not always been enforced.

Principal Evans has appointed Miss Edith Horton and J. A. Walker to see that the rules are rigidly enforced next term.

Among many suggestions offered was that by Major Moore who wishes R. O. T. C. points to be raised.

Those who attended were Elvin Bryant, Miss Helen Galbreath, Miss Emma Becton, C. S. Montgomery, O. E. Sams, E. H. Hamilton, Miss Nelle Henry, Miss Edith Horton, J. A. Walker, and B. A. Bible.

Principal Evans presided. A second meeting will be held within a few weeks.

New Science Class Will Give KHS Lead

Knoxville high will again take the lead in southern high schools as it adds its senior science class next term. Knoxville high will be the first school in the state to install such a class.

Many pupils who have had very little senior high science have been clamoring for one course in which they can learn a little of everything that is going on.

"This class will be the answer to their demands," according to C. A. Browning, head of the science department.

Ira Stineman and William Ragsdale will probably instruct the classes in senior science.

K H S Enters Play In State Contest

Wins First Place in District Over Nine Schools.

Out of the ten schools that competed, K. H. S. won first place in the district one-act play contest, held last Saturday at the Ossoli Circle club house. This play is now qualified to enter the state contest tomorrow with plays from the other six districts of Tennessee. The contest will be held at Ossoli starting at 8:30 a. m.

Five of the high schools gave their plays at Ossoli, while the other five gave their plays at Youngs high school. A winner was chosen from each of these two groups and the final was run-off Saturday afternoon at Ossoli. This was done so that the whole contest would be completed on the same day.

Since "Heritage", the play that K. H. S. entered, won first place out of the group of plays given at Ossoli, it had to be entered in the run-off with "Elmer", the play entered by Etowah high school which won first place out of the group given at Youngs.

After winning first place in this run-off, members of the cast of "Heritage" went to Ayres Hall at U-T to receive their awards, which were gold medals. The members of the cast of "Elmer", which won second place, received s i l v e r medals.

Betty Jane Morrison, Gertrude Meysr, John Roberts, C l y d e Carter, Thelma McGhee, and Vera Yon composed the cast of the winning play from K. H. S.

H. S. Orchestra Plays Before Rotary Club

The K. H. S. orchestra plays for the different civic clubs of Knoxville once each year. Tuesday it played for the Rotarians at the Farragut hotel. The following numbers were featured:

Babes in Toyland—Victor Herbert.
Ballet Music No. 2—Shubert.
Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life—Victor Herbert.
Lucia Di Lammermoor—Donzette.
A Frangesa!—L. M. Costa.

Betty Jane Morrison Given Star Role In Senior Play

Thelma McGhee, Bob Walker, John Roberts Awarded Second Leads.

Betty Jane Morrison has been given the lead in the senior class play, "Bridal Chorus". Second leads are Thelma McGhee as Georgia Davis, Bob Walker as J. R. Perry, and John Roberts as Ellis Bradley.

Alice Gray as Mrs. Kate Perry, Clyde Carter as Willie Gresham, Linda Robinson as C h a r l o t t e Wright, Vera Yon as Josephine Bennett, Beverly Fischer as Caroline Bell, Gaines Stuart as Stew Gibson, David Trotter as Bishop Rathbone, John Burkhart as Dave Gray, Charles Walrath as Charlie Wood, and Mack Yearwood as Dr. Scott compose the supporting cast.

Written by Roberta Winter, "Bridal Chorus" concerns the plans for the marriage of Martha Jane Perry, the leading lady. Many things come up to delay these plans and even upset them. All the while Martha Jane is perfectly miserable. But, to be sure, there is plenty of comedy that furnishes much laughter throughout the entire play.

Members of the cast are to secure playbooks from Miss Emma Becton sometime today.

There will be no cast meeting until the first rehearsal Monday, at 3:10 p. m. in the auditorium.

Hi-Y Has First Social Tonight

Dance Opens Series of Events —To Be At Holston Hills 8:30 to 12:30.

Beginning with the spring dance tonight the Senior Hi-Y will have a series of social events. The dance will be held at the Holston Hills Country club from 8:30 to 12:30 o'clock. The Knight's orchestra will play.

Guests will be received by presentation of invitations only. There will be five no-breaks and one special for members and dates.

The main event of the evening will be the modern interpretation of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", rendered by the Knoxville high school senior Hi-Y A Cappela quartet.

Thursday night, April 29, the annual Mother's night banquet will be held at the Y. M. C. A.

Friday night, April 30, the senior club will have a hay ride which will terminate at Big Ridge Park.

The final combined banquet is to be held at the Y. M. C. A. on May 16.

Ben St. Clair, senior Hi-Y president, will be in charge of all activities.

Banquet Honoring Betts To Be Held

Honoring the school's growth and H. J. Betts, principal, members of the night school faculty will have a banquet Friday, April 30, at six-thirty at the Hotel Farragut.

The general theme will be "Better Night Schools". J. B. McPherson, former Blue and White staff member, will be toastmaster.

All acts of the program will be by night school members; Miss Becton, who has charge of the program, is supervising the speeches in her public speaking class; a play, "Drama In Spite of Itself", written by members of O. E. Sams' dramatic class will be presented; and Edward H. Hamilton will direct the music.

The guest list includes Mayor James Elmore, City Manager George Dempster, members of the board of education, Principal W. E. Evans, representatives from the T. V. A., the University of Tennessee, and members of outstanding firms of Knoxville.

An exhibit of students' work will be placed on the wall.

Plans For Senior Class Announced

Plans for the senior class commencement exercises are nearing completion. Some of the dates have been definitely decided.

Final commencement exercises will be held Tuesday night, June 1. The Baccalaurate sermon will be Sunday night, May 30, 7:30 p. m. at the First Methodist Episcopal Church, 518 W. Clinch Avenue, delivered by Dr. J. H. Slutz.

Senior exams will be given Tuesday, May 25, and Wednesday, May 26. Regular exams will be given Thursday May 27 and Friday May 28. All exams will be over by Friday 28, and students will come the following Tuesday for reports.

Senior class chapel will be held Wednesday, May 26.

Paintings Displayed In Halls This Week

An art display giving a survey of American art from its beginning to today was displayed in the halls this week.

Of all the pictures, the most interesting were two water colors, "Maine Islands" by John Martin, and "Promenade", b y C h a r l e s Birchfield.

"Maine Islands" is an outstanding representative of the modern water color age. It is clear and interesting in impression, rather than in detailed form.

"Promenade" might be any main street of an American town a few years ago. Humor is found in the dogs following the pompous lady with the poodle.

It is interesting that the two paintings attracting the most attention are products of the modern school.

K. H. S. OUTSTANDING

K. H. S. must be congratulated on its great success in the competitive events of the High School Day program last Saturday.

The school proved especially outstanding in the events of public speaking, dramatics, athletics, and music (voice). The school should be proud of its victorious contestants.

K. H. S. was acclaimed as the unofficial winner of the entire day's activities. This was the most successful year in our history of competiting in the events.

Aside from the students who participated, special credit should go to Charles Martin, O. E. Sams, Edward Hamilton, and Coaches Jones and Collins who coached the winning competitors.

The school's excellent showing at the meet shows the ability of the students, and the efficiency of the instructors, when compared with other schools of this district.

THE CHILDREN TOIL ON

Recently the United States Supreme Court rejected the famous Child Labor Amendment on the grounds that the measure was unconstitutional.

As practically all other measures of major importance which become a subject of national interest, the Child Labor situation is receiving its share of political influence.

We feel that a measure as worthy as a law to keep young America from the sweat of toil should not be poisioned by political ballyhoo. This Child Labor question is not a matter of ordinary importance. A decision as to whether youth will become educated in schools of Knowledge or become educated in the schools of hard knocks while bending over a greasy, noisy machine of industry is not an every day question.

Many American people have failed to recognize the real significance of Child Labor Laws, and think of them as only another question for the Democrats, Republicans, the Supreme Court, and Congress to dicker over.

With thousands of able bodied men unemployed, and the children of these men toiling day in and day out to support the family while father sits at home doing nothing, there is evidence of the need for a change.

At the first sign of any obstruction of the education of America's youth, school boards, school officials and P. T. A. organizations all over the country usually leap immediately into action.

The rejection of the Child Labor Amendment is a distinc obstruction in the path of education for many children in America. It seems that promoting some kind of law which would put about twenty per cent of the American children back in schools would be a worthwhile crusade for such organizations to take up at this time.

Thus far, however, there is little evidence of their doing so. Perhaps the situation has never yet appeared to them in this light.

OPEN DOORS AT Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A.

Education tempered by the correct amount of recreation is a lasting one that does not fade with passing of school and college days. Unbroken study—of which we admit very little is found—with no diversion leaves the student with a vague sense of so many words and phrases utterly without meaning. And when we speak of this very essential recreation we mean one that is both wholesome and refreshing to the mind and the body.

At the present time, we want to express our appreciation to two organizations that are unselfishly attempting to serve high school students in the above mentioned capacity. At the doors of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. a hardy welcome is always found.

The boy's lobby of the Y. M. C. A. is always thickly populated from 3 o'clock until closing time. Here, free of charge, the boys play ping-pong, ke-ro-ka, checkers, chess and read any of the popular magazines they like. It makes no difference whether the individual is a member of the "Y" or not. In most cases he is not a member. For little or nothing as a down payment, a membership card is acquired with the remainder strung out over a period of months. Everyone is made to feel at home and, being among the best of associates, no better home could be had.

Mainly responsible for this prevading atmosphere is B. Frank Vincent, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C.A. To him we extend our vote of thanks.

The KHS Poll Of Opinion

SHOULD MAGAZINES BE PROHIBITED BY LAW FROM PUBLISHING WHISKEY ADVERTISEMENTS?

Miss Virginia Parker, art teacher in K. H. S.: No, I don't think whiskey advertisements should be prohibited because there are other advertisements on the same standard as whisky, and manufacturers should be allowed to advertise their product without the law dictating.

J. A. Walker, assistant principal of K. H. S.: Personally I would rather not see whiskey advertisements any place, but if they have to appear it should not appear before states which do have prohibition laws. Those that do, I think it is all right. Whiskey advertisements appear very attractive in magazines and thus tend to persuade the public thereby exerting the wrong type of influence.

Ed Story, 12B student: Yes, they should be prohibited. Magazines are placed before students and become an evil influence. In some cases, advertisements are misleading.

Marietta Armstrong: No, I don't think so because people who sell it legally have the right to advertise it. But personally I do not approve of it.

Fred Ford: I do not believe it should be carried any further. Check it if you can so the attractive advertisements will not be before adolescent America.

At The Theatres

Love, motive of practically every motion picture, is right up at the top for this week's theatre schedule.

Tyrone Power, a new idol of screen fans, and charming Loretta Young brought "Love is News" to the Tennessee Thursday. It will continue through Saturday.

Perry Mason, detective, returned to the Riviera screen Thursday and will play through today. Perry Mason, played as usual by Warren William faces an accusation of murder himself and on his wedding night at that. Claire Dodd and Winefred Shaw are also in the cast.

"Dimples" starring Shirley Temple, supported by Frank Morgan and Stepin Fetchit, is booked for Saturday only at the Booth. Morgan is Shirley's grandfather who keeps them both in trouble with his tendency to let other person's belongings stick to his fingers.

Trilly Says--

By Trilly the Trilobite

Say, last week-end was a humdinger for social functions. Friday night afforded a hay ride and two dances, and Saturday night gave us another hayride and a dance. Some stuff! !

The T. N. T. gave a dance Friday night at Holston Hills Country club, and a truly nice crowd was there. Among the slender figures I noticed MARGARET BETTY GILLESPIE, president and leader of the grand march, with ALVIN SMITH; RUTH LONG with JAY BOLIN; MARY ELEANOR ACUFF with C. S. NEEDHAM (Say, this is getting serious, I understand she has his ring.); ESTHER ALEXANDER with BILL KING; and MARY FRIERSON with the "LOVEJOY". (Fancy that!)

Along with the T. N. T. came the S. P. E. formal dance at which HELEN HUTCHISON was the proud guest of AL NICHOLS (Seems to me that I've seen their names together before!).

Then came Saturday night which brought forth much enjoyment to those who attended the DeMolay hayride and the Commerce ball. The hayride was a hugh success. Those two trucks were really full of students. JULIA EARLY was quite charming as hostess. Among the couples I saw BARBARA THOMAS with MARVIN SINK; BEVERLY FISCHER with JIMMY MIDDIESMAS; EUGENIA FRANKLIN with JAMES "BUTTER" BEAN; and HELEN CHAMBERLAIN, but excuse me I have forgotten her date's name, anyhow, he was cute.

The Commerce ball given at the U-T alumni memorial gym brought out quite a few high school students and ex-grads. Among them were JANE ADAMS with JIMMY LOVE (Say, they really make a cute couple); TUBBY WORD with HERBERT MAYS (Seems to me that I saw them at the T. N. T. dance together, too!); and LIB CHILDS with JACK ARMITAGE.

Easy Lessons on How to Graduate

1. You are now called a senior. Lazy along in the halls during school and rush around with a "busy look" out of school hours. Act your titleship!

Barbara Rule

2. It is now time to wonder what school is all about. (At least three weeks before school is out.)

3. Try to begin to decide what your term paper will be on.

4. Borrow about $7.00 from your Dad to cover all senior expenses.

5. Worry a while about what kind of cards you are going to have made. (At least three good weeks.)

6. Try to decide what your term paper will be on.

7. Worry about whether to send Aunt Sophie and cousin Ephie graduating announcements.

8. Try to decide on your term paper topic.

9. Shop all day (At least for a week) trying to decide what to get for "class-day outfit".

10. Wonder, (until you nearly go nuts) whether they're going to have the U-T gymnasium or the Country club for the dance.

11. Try to decide what to take for a term paper.

12. Get all hot and cold at graduation rehearsals.

13. Sleep and forget everything for about two days while waiting for commencement exercises.

14. Receive your diploma with as heavy a heart as possible and suppress that long-awaited for desire to yell.

15. Lastly, try to decide what to take FOR YOUR TERM PAPER!

Rain Prevents KHS-Everett Track Events

Trojans' Track Squad Journey to Chattanooga Saturday for McCallie Meet.

TEAM CONFIDENT

Squad Inspired by Crushing Victory Over Important East Tennessee Schools.

The Knoxville high school Trojans will journey to Chattanooga Saturday afternoon for a track meet with McCallie, reported to have one of the greatest teams in the history of the institution. The Knoxville-Everett meet, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, was postponed due to rain, which made the track unfit for the fast events.

Having lost the Tennessee Military Institute in the first meet of the year, the Trojans came back strong last Saturday afternoon to capture the annual high school day track championship at the University of Tennessee, taking the crown from Kingsport, winners in 1936.

Coach Sam Jones was undecided as to the number of candidates he would take to Chattanooga. A great number of men are running neck and neck in several events, causing a delay in the selection. The boys on the squad are confident of victory, having been inspired by their crushing victory last Saturday, in which the outstanding high schools of East Tennessee were entered.

Second Group Pays B. W. Subscription

J. A. Hoover's 10A group has completed all payments on its Blue and White subscriptions thus making it the second group in school to pay in full. A. L. Jobe's 11A group had previously paid all of its subscriptions.

There are eleven subscribers in Mr. Hoover's group and sixteen in Mr. Jobe's group.

All other subscribers are urged to follow the example of these two groups and complete their payments at the earliest possible date.

Trojan Athletes Show Supremacy In Annual Meet At Tennessee

By Fred Owens

Congratulations to the many Knoxville high school athletes for their outstanding achievements in the high school day at the University of Tennessee last Saturday. The Trojan trackmen, showing a complete reversal of form, won the East Tennessee track championship from Kingsport high and sent the Blue and White banner to the top of the list with a total of seven first places. Although no official totals were kept, it was easily seen that the Trojans had outscored their East Tennessee opponents with Kingsport, Johnson City, and Powell Valley finishing in that order.

Fred Owens

Too much credit cannot be given the swimming team. The Trojans gained every first place and were so effective that they won all but one second place also, that one going to McCallie in the 50 yard free style. In the 100 yard free style John Crews, showing his greatest form of the year, set a new record, his time being one minute and one second.

Jack Rodgers, ace junior netman of the city, added more glory to the Trojan cause by trimming scrappy Paul Block of Baylor, 6-2, 6-1, to capture the singles crown. Rodgers was lauded by tournament officials for his impressive play during the tournament.

SPORT SLANTS

This column wishes to apologize to Warren Demarcus for leaving his name out of the baseball write-up. DeMarcus was one of the mainstays of the team last year. . . . Great things are expected from the Trojan tracksters throughout the rest of the season. . . . Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, declares that young Bob Feller will win thirty games for the Cleveland Indians this year. Feller pitched in fourteen games last year, winning five and losing three. He faced 226 batters and struck out seventy-six. . . . The "Personality Kid" of the major leagues is Johnny Dickshot, who is fighting for an outfield job with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Dickshot, if you remember, was with the Little Rock Travelers two years ago. . . . The St. Louis Browns are the only team in either league that has never won a major league pennant, while the Detroit Tigers have the honor of being the only team that has never finished in eighth position in the majors.

FORMER TROJANS

Luke Foster, quarterback of a few years ago, is working in the Hamilton National Bank and Ralph Radcliffe is employed by C. M. McClung's. . . . Veo Yon and Jesse Hendricks of the 1936 eleven are now working side by side at the Coca-Cola bottling company. . . . James "Smiley" Martin is working with the National Cash Register Company and J. C. Hewgley is attending the University of Tennessee. . . . Nominations for the outstanding soft ball teams of the city this year go to the Booker-Davidson nine, composed of many former Trojan and Bobcat stars, and to the Royal Jewelers, composed of Knoxville's leading softball stars.

Folk Songs Heard By Upper Classmen

Yervant Topalian, Armenian tenor, sang several Armenian folk songs in upper class chapel yesterday. He was accompanied on the piano by Alice Jean Bounds. Mr. Topalian is a graduate of Maryville college.

A duet from "The Bartered Bride" was sung by Owen Tucker and James Allison.

Candidates for president and vice-president of Student Council were also presented.

Health Chats

By B. E. Sharp

Is physical education keeping pace? In order to accomplish our objectives in physical education we must find means to motovate boys and girls to want to improve in skills and attitudes. This is accomplished in major sports by competitive team games, but in individual competition only those expecting to win care to compete, and naturally so. This is the main reason that intra-mural activities have lagged behind in the South.

The solution for the lack of interest will be solved when all boys, regardless of size or age, will have the same chance to score in the same sports. This problem is accomplished by giving a series of simple tests and grade according to his classification index. These test scores are used with forms to work out his motor quotient (M. Q.) analogous to I. Q. in mental tests. We use these raw scores to figure his general motor ability quotient also, which enables coaches to determine whether a boy is approaching his capacity. However, the main asset of this plan is to give all boys equal chance in any competition. This stimulates the small boy to enter and do his best.

The general motor capacity tests and general motor ability tests are similar to the achievement and intelligence tests but have no correlation with them. These tests are general but correlate very highly with specific sports. They have been thoroughly validated and have been copyrighted.

This new system will be used to score the decathlon now under way and will be extended to all boys as soon as time permits.

The football players and candidates for football will start these tests next week.

One test of two boys doing the same events gave the 170-pound boy a score of 95.5 and a 110-pound boy a score of 97, but showed the large boy had reached 80 per cent of his capacity while the same boy had reached only 73.3 per cent.

Reverend E. Hopper Addresses Chapel

Reverend Eugene Hopper, rector of St. James Espiscopal church, spoke to the lower class chapel Tuesday, April 20.

Rev. Hopper gave Columbus, the Wright brothers, and the twelve desciples as examples of men who did seemingly impossible things.

"If you haven't tried to do the impossible, you have missed one of the greatest things in your life," he said.

Ed Story, Marshall Perry, Charlotte Colby, Nell Hall, and Frances Caldwell were introduced by former Student Council members as candidates for president and vice-president for next term.

Roberta McReynolds and Oren Tucker, leading soprano and tenor of "The Bartered Bride" to be given Sunday, gave a sketch from the opera.

NEWCOMERS SHINE

Bob Broome, Fritts, Hastings, and Ragain Show Ability In Speedy Workouts.

Knoxville high school's dream of a winning football team next season appears brighter after this week's hard practice sessions. Several new prospects have been taken under the keen and watchful eye of Coach Wilson Collins and are being groomed to take the positions that were left vacant due to graduation.

Assisting Coach Collins and Sam Jones during the spring sessions are Bill Luttrell, captain of the 1936 eleven, who is helping with the tackles and Veo Yon, dependable guard of last year, is giving the candidates for the guard positions several important pointers.

Newcomers to the team who bear watching are Bob Broome, giant 195 pounder, Jake Ragain, Joe Fritts, and Hugh Hastings.

Showing much promise among the experienced players is Elwood "Bubber" Bowers, backfield reserve of last year. Powers has developed fast and is expected to make the Trojans a very valuable player.

Several other players are showing up well in the drills and another great eleven is expected to carry the burden of one of the outstanding schedules that has ever been arranged for the Blue and White institution. The schedule calls for important contests with schools in Florida, Georgia and Ohio along with the outstanding high school elevens in the state.

7 K. H. S. Grads Make Honor Roll

Seven members of the K. H. S. alumni now enrolled in Carson-Newman college are honor students in their respective departments according to a report received recently by Principal W. E. Evans from C. E. Wright, the director of promotion at Carson-Newman.

The students and the departments they represent as honor students are:

Dorothy Wyatt, French, Spanish.

Helen Toledo Wilson, expression, physical education, Bible, Greek.

Maurine Williams, Spanish, education.

Lloyd E. Line Jr., chemistry, German, physical education.

Lois Fielden, Bible, expression, psychology, Spanish, Latin, English, physical education.

Roland Brewer, biology.

Juanita Beeler, education, English.

Doug Broome and Jesse Spangler sure do like to walk the halls.

Society and Clubs

By MARGARET PORTWOOD

T. N. T. had a dance last Friday night at Holston Hills. The members wore wristlets of gardenias trimmed in silver ribbon. The alumnae were invited to dance the special no-break after the grand march. The dance was really a good one, even though they were a little short of funds. Good luck, girls!

LATIN club held its regular meeting on Wednesday, April 14, at which Miss Helen Galbreath's Cicero class presented the play "Cupid and Psyche", written by Geraldine Akard and Eugenia Franklin, who took the play from an old legend and modernized it.

The following students took part: Eugenia Franklin, Ed Story, Marjorie Evans, Marianna Allen, Harriet Caldwell, Eula Pemberton, Marshall Perry, Bill Andrews, Geraldine Akard, Frances Fielden, Janette Neiman, Lucy Roundtree, Louise Sally, and Anne Abel.

Mary E. Robertson was in charge of the costumes which were quite elaborate. Virginia Bibb gave an interpretive dance.

—o—

HIKING club held a short meeting Tuesday afternoon to complete plans for its trip up LeConte, Saturday. The members have looked forward to this trip as the climax of their club hikes this year.

—o—

Hi-Y's will have a dance tonight at Holston Hills. There will be five no-breaks and one special for members and their dates. Knight's orchestra will play.

—o—

OPEN Forum had a rather heated discussion on the "Supreme Court Issue" at its regular meeting Monday afternoon. Kyle Shown opened the discussion upholding the affirmative, while Charles Martin was the only member to take the negative.

"The main opposition to the president's plan is the dictator propaganda. Simple reasoning does away with this excuse," declared Llewelyn Queener, well known member of the Forum.

Plans were also made for a skating party to be given tonight. All K. H. S. students are invited to attend.

—o—

KATONAH club held a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Agnes Hufstedler on Washington Pike.

Plans were made for a picnic supper at Tyson Park, April 30, with a theater party afterwards for the club members themselves. Plans were also discussed for a tea dance May 11, at the Andrew Johnson hotel.

—o—

JUNIOR Girl Reserves held a meeting on Monday, April 19, at the Y. W. C. A. They made final plans for their luncheon on Saturday, April 24, at 12:30 at the Terrace Tea Room. They will give a backward dance at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday, May 1, at 8:30.

Invitations will be sent.

—o—

HOME Economics club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Characters have been selected for the club's play, "The Ghost of a Freshman". After the business session, Miss Mary Lynch Chestnut led a discussion on "How to Plan a Bridge Party". Imogene England is a new member.

—o—

TRI-T members were entertained at luncheon last Saturday by Eleanor Riegel, with thirteen members attending.

After lunch the following new officers were elected: Barbara Reagan, president; Charlotte Beaman, vice-president; Geraldine Arkard, secretary; Ruth Campbell, treasurer; Ethel Whittlesey, social chairman; Mary Louise Black, informer.

New members are Muriel McDermott, Betty Jane Pickell, and Christine Harvey.

—o—

TRIALGEO presented a skit entitled "The Adventures of Mr. X" at the meeting last Thursday, Bill Householder taking the leading role. Others in the cast included C. F. Fielden, Hazel Hicks, Sam Fincannon, Barbara Ford, and Eugene White.

A game of mathematical anagrams was played and refreshments were served.

—o—

THESPIANS had a meeting at the home of Bill Browder Wednesday night of this week.

They made plans for their senior annual banquet, which will probably be held Wednesday, April 12.

—o—

RETAIL Selling club planned a picnic and skating party to be held at Chilhowee park, April 20, at their last meeting.

Miss Francis Disney, accompanied by Ruth Lyons, offered two song selections, "Moonlight and Shadows", and "Goodnight My Love". Elaine Montgomery recited "My Pa", and Evelyn DeArmand with Mary Francis Hodgsen presented a short one-act play.

There were 35 members present.

—o—

HONOR Society will hold its regular meeting next Thursday afternoon in Miss Henrietta Weigel's room.

All honor society members are urged to be present. President Hoskins of the University of Tennessee, will address the group.

—o—

MAD-HATTERS entertained last Saturday night with a dance at the home of Betty Sisk in Beverly Hills.

The club recently organized, elected Marie Robertson, president; Betty Sisk, vice-president; Virginia Powers, secretary; and Alice Brehm, treasurer.

—o—

THE Trialgeo Society presented its members with the first edition of the club's handbook Monday. The booklet is to be presented to all new members in the future so that they will have a ready copy of the club's constitution and aims.

The material was compiled by C. F. Fielden, president. Miss Gladys Million, club adviser, wrote the aims of the society, while George P. Turley, co-adviser of the club, and head of the K. H. S. mathematics department, contributed what the school expects of the society.

The handbook is dedicated to the mathematics society and to all students taking any form of mathematics.

The book is to be an annual project of the club. One thousand copies of this edition were printed. The club financed the project with skating parties held at the Chilhowee skating rink.

TURLEY IN ACTION

Johnson Recipient Of Scouting Award

Bob Johnson, Knoxville high school senior, was awarded one of the highest honors in scouting Tuesday night. With one exception, the rank of gold combination palm, which Bob received, is the very pinnacle of the Boy Scout realm.

In obtaining this honor Bob has received the respective ranking of Eagle Scout, bronze palm, gold palm, silver palm, and bronze combination palm. After becoming an Eagle Scout five merit badges are required for each award. Bob has forty-six merit badges now and plans to complete the remaining five soon to receive the silver combination palm.

The last five which he received were for rowing, canoeing, automobiling, signaling, and aviation.

Bob, an outstanding student, is treasurer of the senior class and vice-president of the senior Hi-Y. He was first string center on the football team last fall and was a member of the boxing team last year. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Faculty Picnic To Be On Holston Grounds

The faculty will have an all day picnic May 15, at the Holston Assembly Grounds in Gatlinburg.

The committee on time and place, Miss Anne Kent, Miss Henrietta Weigel, and Bill Smythe, decided that the Holston Grounds would be the central spot and hikes of different types would be conducted from there. There will be games of various sorts for those who do not desire to participate in the hikes.

Radio Programs Vary For Week

PTA President Speaks—English Department Gave Play on Monday.

Radio programs for this week were directed by the English department, the P. T. A., and the Open Forum.

Miss Elinor Brading supervised Monday's English program. A quartette composed of G. E. Francis, Louise Marshall, Janice Smith, and Herbert Turner sang "America the 'Beautiful" as the opening number of the broadcast. Marian Caldwell gave a reading.

A short play was given. The scene was the living room of the home of Mr. and Mrs John Lewis. The time is Friday evening in April. The cast is as follows: Jack Lewis, a high school student, played by G. W. Carroll; Mary Lewis, Jack's mother, by Harriette Cowart; John Lewis. Jack's father, by Robert Shirley; Margaret Foster and Harry Parks friends of Jack, played by Margaret Holmes and Harold Jenkins.

The program closed with another song by the quartette. Dub White announced for the broadcast.

Mrs Gordon Powers, head of the P. T. A., had Mrs. John Partridge, Legislative Board Chairman arrange Wednesday's program. The general theme was Citizenship. A skit was put on by the League of Women voters. The skit dealt with the new food and drug bill. The play was received from the National Headquarters in Washington, D. C. and worked over by a member of the league for local use.
