KHS Annual Is Hi-jacked

Blue and White Editors Kidnap Burke, Ruckart

Editors of the Blue and White staged a holdup of the Trojan material on its way to press Monday.

Frances Slaughter and Audrey DeVoe, B&W editors, armed to the teeth in a couple of jet fighters, swooped low over East 5th Avenue strafing guilty by-standers with bursts of jelly beans left over from Easter baskets. The purpose of this murderous attack was to kidnap the KHS Annual Editors, Carolyn Burk and Gordon Ruckart, who were carrying the Trojan material to press.

After snatching up their two victims the desperadoes took off for Ereswemos (the "h" is silent). The captives were released after handing over the annual papers which Mr. Ruckart keeps with him constantly in a three ton safe carried in his hip pocket.

It is believed that this robbery was the product of professional jealousy. The newspaper editors feel that if they make publication of the Annual impossible their final issue will be read by a few other people besides the usual two—Frances and Audrey.

Immediately after their release the two Trojan editors formed a posse of their staff and began the woman hunt. From facts uncovered recently the posse, led by head sheriff and chief horn tooter Proctoran Gamble, it is now believed that the culprits headed for some place.

The only clue obtained in this baffling case came to light last night when Jimmy Massengill, head of the Department of Shady Business, discovered a few pages of the Trojan's senior section in the midst of the RFC investigation in Washington. They were listed as exhibit "Z" and termed as underhanded communications in secret code.

Unofficially the following report from Arizona has just come in over the teletype, "In our midst are two new heresses. They came rolling into Phoenix in a whirl of heifer-dust this afternoon handing $1,000,000. bills to poor oil millionaires."

Reporter's Opinion

"It is my idea that Knox High's two errant students have sold the remaining pages of the KHS Annual to the Russians, falsely representing them as plans for America's new 'Q' Bomb," averred above reporter.

15 Seniors Win Scholarships

Fifteen KHS seniors have won scholarships to well known colleges throughout the country such as Caylor, Ole' Hit, Lyons View, Brushy Mountain State Academy, etc.

These brilliant honor students are Fred Spruiel, Richard Bagwell, E. M. Hickman, Sue Gray, Molly Roehl, Pat Byous, Laura Sue Smith, Bob Harrison, Ronald Perry, L. B. McClary, Harvey Sproul, Paul Sisk, Gerry Griffin, and Frank Stansberry.

"They will be given their awards sometime in the near future," stated Mrs. Eliza Wray.

Mr. Evans states that he sincerely hopes these students will make as good in college as they have here in school; he believes they will keep up their good leadership throughout the rest of their lives.

'Keep Faith Girls'

Girls, there is still time to get a date for the Senior Mixer, which will be held in the KHS lunchroom on the 6th of April. (Ed. Note—We sincerely hope. Any change of date will be announced in the B & W.) Go to the dating bureau in room 304.

If they are not satisfactory and are returned within two hours the rental fee will be refunded, explained Miss Helen Galbreath, adviser.

Besides being for students' use, the bureau is open to teachers for dates also.

Fierce 'Fessors Fight Friday

This report will be no surprise to most of the inmates at KHS, for the storm has been brewing for, lo, these many years. Finally, however, the threat of war that has hung so gloomily over the halls of our beloved school has BUSTED!

This could be any other day in Spring—4th period classes are all asleep and the only sound is the gnashing of teeth on the 214th Parallel, domain of "gorgeous" George P. Turley. Down the dark corridor and through the "Anything But Study Hall," over to the new part of the buildng you'll hear the tap-tapping of "Madman" Sanders' typewriter — probably making out his will as he prepares to leave his immaculate study.

"Yes, this could be any other spring day, judging from the outward appearance—but we on the inside know the difference. Tonight marks the end of a brilliant career—whose, we can't say, yet, but with the "Fight 'til Death" wrestling match tonight in the ring at the Lyric, one of our beloved mentors will pass from our sight. It has been ten years since Gorgeous has defended his title as heavy-weight champion of the "rasslin'" world, but he's in great shape from running up the steps five times a day and beating on his chin with the index finger of his right hand.

Why the Fightin'

If you're wondering what the reason for this fight is (I am, too,) well, it seems that both profs wanted to go to the same new school (no names mentioned) but the city officials, having heard of their terrible reputations as trouble-makers, said there wasn't a chance. They first decided to draw straws, but when Turley got the shortest one, Sanders went into a rage, kicking his heels and showing his teeth, and challenged his opponent to a duel.

Hence, the match tonight.

Police Discover KHS Statue Gone

The Knoxville Police Department informed the press that Bill Smith, a missing statue, is roaming around somewhere in the vicinity of Knoxville High School.

Mr. Smith, Knox High's soldier statue, has been missing since early Tuesday evening. He was last seen by Coach Buford Bible as he left school to go to a Y-Teen hen party. Coach Bible remarked on the statue's strange expression but thought it was only a delusion due to the fact that he (Coach Bible) drank more milk for lunch than usual.

Keith Interviews Soldier

Mr. Keith (Junior) worked late down at the Press Thursday night setting up the B & W. Upon closing up the shop and walking into the street, Mr. Keith encountered the slightly inebriated statue dancing with a street light and singing "The Soldiers' Chorus". Sensing something a bit unusual, "Junior" engaged this strange figure in conversation.

"It seems," said Mr. Keith, "that Bill feels mistreated. He asked me how I would feel with green paint behind my ears."

Mr. Keith stated that Bill promised to return to his position in front of the school some time Friday. Bill said he would never run away again if someone would only say "Hello" to him once in a while.

'Burgers, Dogs, and Cokes To Be Sold In Lunchroom

To secure funds to buy pigs is the purpose of the sale of hotdogs, hamburgers and Coca-Colas in the lunchroom, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

The pigs will be tended in the front yard pens by the Miss Dempster's Girl Scouts. The pigs will be slaughtered next winter by the Biology classes in the new schools as experiments. The meat will then be sold to the lunchroom, and the money gained in this sale will be used to buy more pigs.

Students are asked to cooperate by buying these delicacies in the lunchroom.

Pulchritudinous Ginny Parker Is Charming Miss Garlic of 1951

"Garlic Ginny" Parker

Original Suit Was Main Factor in Winning Contest

Virginia Parker, KHS Art Head, has just been chosen winner of the 10th annual "MISS GARLIC" Contest; the winning feature, as conceded by all judges, being her personally designed costume which was a strapless, backless, midriffless bathing suit concocted in "Virginia's own fertile brain, and being seen for the first time by the public at the contest.

Miss Parker, who is admired, loved, or revered by all who know her, was electrified when informed about winning the coveted award.

Many Articles in Prize

Virginia's prizes are an all-expense-paid trip up the Auditorium Fire-escape and down again without being called "on the carpet," a real leather tucker bag with a supply of garlic, a genuine Hawaiian hula skirt manufactured by the Student Council, and a screen test with GMG Lion's Tail Productions.

"Garlic Ginny"

Miss Parker, now known as "Garlic Ginny" to friends and acquaintances, has been entering and winning beauty contests all her life. She won her first contest in 1919 when she became known as "Miss Tuckaleechee" for having won the "Swim the Atlantic Ocean" contest. In this contest "Ginny" won with ease.

As "Ginny" grew older she entered contests of national fame until she had entered and won all world familiar contests except the "Miss Garlic". This contest is open only to art teachers who are at least 35 years of age and who have matriculated in "gay Patee". In entering this contest "GG" concluded, after deep thought, to cast all caution aside and enter in her personally designed suit—the now world renowned backless, strapless, midriffless suit. She is wearing the suit for all of her publicity photos (see picture).

Knoxville High is proud to have a teacher endowed with such talents on its faculty.

'Blood Hound' Hayhow Reports Case of 'Escaping Femme Fire Escape Caper'

Mrs. Elizabeth Wray, school registrar, was caught by Mr. H. H. Hayhow ascending the fire escape forbidden to all people of the fairer sex.

Mr. Hayhow led her into the office and requested that Mr. W. E. Evans and Mr. R. E. C. Love give their immediate attention to this unforgivable crime.

Mrs. Wray meekly stated that she was in a hurry and thought it was an excellent means of saving time; also she did not seem to recall any such rule in the school.

"Blood hound" Hayhow quickly put his two bits in by saying that being ignorant of the law does not excuse the offender.

After a long session, Mr. Evans and Mr. Love agreed that Mrs. Wray should be given a second chance as she had such a good record during her stay here at KHS only after the "Woman of Crime" had promised always to read the rules before doing any act which brings a question mark to her mind.

Russians Are Called Reds Because of Fire Engines

Most people have two eyes, so do dogs. Which reminds me 333 1/3 people ate lunch yesterday in the lunchroom. February has 28 days most of the time. There are four English books in the Lost and Found with Vernon Romine's name in them.

But, on the other hand, Phyllis Rutherford lost her hairbow the other day. Elephants have trunks just like alligators carry. You punch a button to turn on a light and Buford Bible has a pug nose.

Two times two is four, but, never-the-less, "nevertheless" was number one on the Hit Parade. Phyllis Rogers has blue ink in her fountain pen and Louis Sherritz gave Mrs. Payne a black eye. Now I am failing geometry and fire engines are always rushin' around; that's why they call Russians Reds!

NOTICE!

All seniors will be exempt from school on the dates of April 14 and 15 due to an unknown reason. Mr. W. E. Evans states, "Ask me no questions—I'll tell you no lies."

Take notice, for this will be the last and only chance to find the truth in this national publication.

Inmates Greet Old Pals As Faculty Hikes to Top

Easter Sunday, the Faculty Hiking Club held its annual Easter Egg hike to Brushy Mountain (Petros) where all the hikers renewed acquaintances with friends, relatives, and former pupils. The mangy 36 hiked the 2.2 miles to the top through a beautiful forest of cigar butts, swamp cabbage, skunk weed, empty Hadacol bottles, and rusty beer cans. On top, the new members were initiated. The neophytes were required to push, with their eyelashes, gaily colored white Easter eggs through Petros' many rock piles without breaking the eggs.

Your correspondent has uncovered the following top military secrets:

Sgt. Medley turned out for inspection attired in dress uniform complete with battle ribbons, decorations, and a neon sign which flashed "TILT" when a question was muffed.

When last seen Judy Rorex was building up her Company's morale in the armory by doing a "Sally Rand" style Hula-Hula dance.

Our Cadet Capt. Adj., Maude Mooney Burk, seems to have something in common with Jane Russell: Black hair, prominent nose, firm neck, and - - - a cultured little toe.

Footprints on Ceiling

By JoAnn Crawford

Since everything else in this paper is mixed up, this column will have to follow suit. Anything similar to those living or dead is purely coincidental.

It has been brought to Charles' attention by his wife, Betty Plummer, while on their honeymoon in Russia, that the Russians shouldn't be called "Reds"—their skin is the very same color that ours is!

At twelve o'clock, which is noon, a group of girls in the lunchroom started crying and wailing—a ghastly sound. When asked what was wrong we learned that the couple voted most likely to marry, Doris Galyon and Ray White, had broken up! Poor Doris, we're sending her a dozen white roses with our sympathy.

Uncle Sam's Done It Again

To the horror of Knoxville High School practically the whole basketball team has been drafted; Bill Hall was put in as a Captain due to his leadership ability, and Bob Fry, J. D. Byington, Barry McKinnon, Dewey Thomas, and Buddy Cruze are marching to a Cadence Count as Bill yells, "Jump, two, three, four!"

We surely are going to miss

Jimmy Walls, especially in Spanish fifth period, but we guess he just couldn't stand it any longer. Gosh, Jimmy, you didn't have to quit school—we're all your friends; (sob), please come back!

Dead?

We wish to pay our respects to the late JoAnn Rhegness, better known as "Cootie". She passed away yesterday afternoon after being run down by Barbara Crawford in her "hot rod". May she rest in peace.

While playing one of his favorite tunes on his favorite piano, Phillip Robinson broke his favorite finger and is now in his favorite hospital, Favorite's Delight. This is a new hospital recently erected on "Favorite Hill."

Because of this beautiful, sunny, Florida-like weather, all Knoxville's swimming pools have opened early. Whittles and Riverside were crowded this week with eager Knoxville High students. Among those who lay out of school to bathe in this arid weather, were Betty Mooney, Patsy Pettit, Doris Byars, "Hutchie" Henry, and Catherine Cook. Haven't you noticed their beautiful lusty tans! (and peroxidized hair).

WHAT'S WHAT

Makeup Mirror

Miss Makeup Mirror, for instance, is in the theatrical business working the dressing room where she is very popular with KHS actors.

Makeup stands 4 feet on her side (quite a trick if you can do it). Her face is rather hard to describe and it really depends upon the person looking at it as to what is seen.

Makeup's pet peeve is girls who smear powder and lipstick on her (boys are forgiven). The favorite pastime and hobby of Miss Mirror is watching members of the cast when they think they are being unobserved. She recalls once when Gloria Linkous made a quick change of costume unaware that Red Head Anderson was in the vicinity. As for whether Mr. Anderson tried to make his presence known or not Miss Mirror refuses to discuss. Another memory is of the time when Harvey Sproul spent 2 1/2 hours making himself pretty for his big scene with Jone

Vestal. The actor of whom she is most fond is Steve Shultz who has gained much wisdom under her watchful eye.

Front Hall Fountain

Our other subject this week is solid, 200 lb., F. H. Fountain. F. H.'s home town is Crane Company, Tennessee, where quite a few little squirts come from. When asked his age he said, "I'm as old as this school; but I have felt older ever since my esophagus got clogged with chewing gum that last time."

F. H., it seems, is a collector of "good" jokes and judging from his complete vocabulary he has heard some fine ones.

Since Mr. Turley's room is directly across from him, he says he is inclined to be partial to that faction in the everlasting Sanders-Turley feud.

His favorite pastime is squirting water in the faces of bespectacled students. His favorite song is "Drink of Me Only".

Lugs and Lassies Lignify Listeners

I had the good fortune to attend the KHS Faculty's Annual Benefit Concert at the Lyric Theatre Tuesday night. The audience of howling high-schoolers, fugacious friends, and raucous relatives, say this concert is the best the faculty has ever presented.

To open the performance, Mrs. Blanche Smyth played several selections on her lyre. Audience and critics were spellbound as the lovely young maiden with long blond silken tresses rendered "A Long-Haired Lackey's Lament," "Black Linoleum Blues," "I'm a Lonely Mama on the Leeway of Love," "Shuffling Down Shuffleboard Lane," and "Back Up and Push".

Futile Four from Flophouse Row
After the bravos and bravissimos had abated, the FUTILE

FOUR FROM FLOPHOUSE ROW—Gladys "Penny" Million, Frankie "Crooner" Mullendore, Gracie "Crawfish" MacDougall, and Fred "Oboe" DeRobertis appeared. Accompanied by Barnyard Burney and her undulating ukulele, the FFFFR's sang "I'm Just a Gilded Cookoo in a Chartreuse Cage," "Tumbling With a Turk from Tucson," "I'm a Red-Hot Mama With Rapid Reflexes," "Chair de Lunatic," and "She Was Just a Sky-Larking Skunk".

Luscious Lucille Lays 'Em Low
Luscious Lucille Evans and her hootin', howlin', hollarin' Hotlicks then titillated the audience. The Hotlicks, composed of "Goo-Goo Eyes" Gillenwaters and his zany xylophone; Henrietta "Woo-Woo" Wiegel and her palpitating piccolo; Buford "Honey-Bun" Bible and his blaringly blatant bassoon; and Lucille at her hum-drum drums, blared "Lousy Louie, Leave My Lulu Alone". When asked to describe their performance, "Goo-Goo Eyes" replied, "It was nothing." (And it was.)

The fifth member of the Hotlicks, Helen "Hot-Pucker" Galbreath, was unable to play her Tuba because of a slight case of misidentification. When last seen, "Hot-Pucker" was sceraming, "Let me out. Oh, please let me out. The Student Council Convention is only two weeks away, and we still have 63 beds to find."

Horse Racing Begins At KHS

By Ary Adams?

Wrestler Is Twin To James Walls

"'Gorgeous George' and I are identical twins!"

This was the startling statement slowly stammered by "Gorgeous James" Walls after it was discovered that, not only was he secretly married and had seven kids, but that he wrestles in prominent cities throughout the United States, and is scheduled to wrestle at an early date in the gigantic Chilhowee Sports Arena.

He refused to talk any more about his relationship to his brother, but wanted to talk more about his beautiful wife.

Famous Wife Appears

Many times his wife, Carolyn Burk (maiden name) who, strangely enough is twin sister to Mildred—present ladies' world champion—enters the arena as "Gorgeous" partner in his tag matches.

Says she, "I just couldn't let anyone mess up the golden curls of my itsy-bitsy (but slightly plump) baby-dumplin' little ol' suga'-footed husband."

In a more manly tone, "Gorgeous" ads, "She usually keeps, in a strategic place, a rolling pin in case of dire need. By the way she looks very sexy in a pair of red flannels."

"Gorgeous" and his wife spend their spare time attending a local high school.

Keep the Secret

"But please don't say anything about our marriage," whispered the "Mrs."

"Gorgeous" says that he regrets that they can't spend more of their time at their studies, but out of town engagements will take an increasing amount of their time.

The "gorgeous one" also announced that he and his wife are at present booked up for the next three months.

Outstanding cities in which their matches will be held are Kodak, Mascot, Happy Holler, and Bear-den.

Carolyn Crye is holding a newly organized class for athletic minded cadets. Her subject is: the necessity of having a well built body (classes now open for new students).

Of news to Hollywood fans: One of KHS's own boys, JAMES SIMPSON, has been signed by a Hollywood agent. The agent was attracted by Simpson's dimples and mild, sweet, gentle manners.

His first picture: "I Won't Be Crying When You Come Home Without My Ice Cream Cone . . ."

One of his fellow playmates, Hairy Speers, has already been in Hollywood two months. He is regarded as a child prodigy. Speers won an academy award for his first film, "I Got My Stroller After Poppa Got Off His Rocker . . ."

Here's something for the girls (if any read this column): Bill Downey. No, uh, you wouldn't want him. Here it is: A girl is either a hit or a miss. . . .

Eddie McMillan, manager of the basketball team, has a prediction: "I predict that the KHS Trojans will be State champs this year." . . .

Bob Williamson: "You know what Custer said when he seen the Indians a'comin'?"

David Moore: "No. What?"

Bob: "Here come the Indians." (Ha! Ha!)

McCawley Enters 1952 Olympics

Deems Discus Degrading

Dangerous Dwight McCawley, better known as "Mac", has announced his intentions of entering the shotput tournament of the Olympic games of 1952.

This statement has come as somewhat of a surprise to many of "Mac's" closer friends, since he has been practicing discus throwing for almost 10 years.

"The reason for this change is," says Dangerous Dwight, "that I have found the discus to be a quite degrading instrument. I worked with them for ten years, and now look what they've done."

The various "booky" joints around KHS will be pleased to know that, in stead of the usual track team, horse racing will be the principle spring sport.

Coach Sharp has decided that a little of the sport of kings will do much to put added life into Knoxville High. He is sure that it will promote greater interest in sports.

Is Sharp Sharp?—Baron Bible

Bow Tie Case Getting No Where

Recent reports have it that Buford Bible, KHS Coach, is to be called up before the Senate Crime Investigation Committee to testify as to why he received his bow tie from Selmer High's basketball coach.

The Baron

Bible is making hurried preparations for the investigation with his lawyer B. E. Sharp. Sharp is now studying Geometry so he can work all of the angles and keep Bible from getting the third degree.

Since the theorem "If two triangles have two sides of one equal to two sides of the other, and the third side of one is larger than the included angle of the other, the third side of the first will be larger than the third side of the second," has nothing whatsoever to do with the case; they aren't making much headway.

Sobbed Coach Bible, "I didn't mean to start anything when I accepted that doggoned bow tie. I just thought it would look so nice covering up my adam's apple. But I refuse to say anything else on grounds that it might incriminate me—and besides, if this thing goes any further my wife might find out what I really did while I was at Nashville."

He continued, "But just give my lawyer half-a-chance. Even though his interest was formerly predominantly on curves, he's doing a fine job on the angles."

Right now there is a great search being carried on for suitable jockeys for the KHS team. Only one has proved fitted for the position: "Pee Wee" Stansberry is trying hard to gain the extra weight needed to qualify, the minimum being 100 pounds.

Track Enlarged

The track at Evans-Collins field is being enlarged and a starting gate is being installed. Stables for competing horses will be built under the concrete stands.

The artist's conception of the new track is so marvelous that racing authorities are seriously thinking of changing the site of the Kentucky Derby to Knoxville.

Nationally famous horses (?) such as Beetlebaum, Fleabag, and Sloppy Joe are expected to appear in the opening race.

C.C.C. Speaks

To give you an idea of the type of horses you will be seeing, we bring you a direct quote from C. C. C. (Bill) Christenberry, famous horse racing expert. He says, "Any resemblance between these nags and race horses is purely accidental."

We will try to keep you posted on racing results throughout the season, and will pass on to you any tips we receive. (We're scared to try them ourselves!) Editor's note: In view of the popularity of this new sport at KHS, the Blue and White sports department will begin printing racing results and tips on likely winners. This bulletin will cost only $1.75 per copy.
