East High Adds Chapel to Perform Ceremonies

by "Hondo"

A new building has been added on the end of the west parking lot of East High School.

This building substitutes for Rossville, Greenback, and Tazewell. This saves the gas and time of the young people of East who get bitten by the "hitching-bug."

Mr. Gale Gardner has been ordained to perform marriage ceremonies for the past ten years, but until now has never had the privilege.

The price of the licences will be seventy-five cents and a dollar for the expense of the ceremony.

The chapel is open twenty-four hours a day and seven days a week. Miss Emily McLaurin is devoting her time taking blood tests, while Miss Guerrant Tatem and Professor Charles Browning are always at the chapel to act as witnesses.

Music will be presented by Miss Ora Dowell singing "That's Your Mistake" accompanied by Mr. I. E. Gillenwater.

A car will be waiting at the chapel door for your destination, chauffeured by Coach Clayton Hancock.

Each couple will be excused from school for two weeks for the honeymoon.

Students, this is the chance of your lifetime to be married within thirty minutes for one dollar and seventy-five cents without the burdensome details before the ceremony. Dig in and find a boy or girl, which ever it may be, and join the fad!!!

its prey. That's enough of her face. (It's too much. Let's get to her figure. (?) Man, (or otherwise) what a figure . . . one. (!)

I can't go on (I'd better or I'll get caught) it's getting sickening. More about this some other time. (If I live.)

Yikes, here she comes again. Go, feet, go! One of these days I'll tire of running and end it all. (You know, get caught.) See . . . you . . . later . . . I . . . hope.

Miss Capps Wins No. 1 Place In Kentucky Derby

Mr. Hancock Captures 2nd Place

by Jiggs C. Hefner

The flying colors of purple with red polka dots came through with victory again for Ethel Capps. This makes her tenth victory of the season. She is now top contender for riding more horses across the finish line than any other jockey.

Miss Capps entered the racing field as a twenty-year older and has been riding for nearly two decades. Over this period of time her record has been exceptionally good. Last year her trainer received twenty-five bids, some as high as twelve cents, for her splendid horsemanship.

Miss Capps became interested in racing strictly for money benefits. After deciding on this side-line vocation, she began to train for it by weight lifting exercises and track running. She did this to develop her fine figure. Miss Capps has an excellent pair of lungs for calling to the horse because of the many hog calling contests she entered as a child in a remote period.

Enough of history, and on to the races. All the horses and their riders lined up; the whistle blew, and they were with with almost a roar? Two entries were scratched when they slipped in the mud and their horses fell on them. Ethel took the lead after her well-trained horse bit the leading stallion. She retained the lead and charged on to victory.

Mr. Hancock's only comment on the race was, "My horse's tail got in front of my eyes, preventing me from seeing; that's why I ran around the track backwards."

Recreation Extended To Every Day Coach Bible Chosen As Democratic Nominee

by "Barrell" Cowden

ATTENTION ! ! Inmates of East High School—Warden, G. Lale Lardner has announced that the recreation period has been extended to every day.

Oh—there's a catch—the jukebox requires a slight fee of one Canadian penny, since good old American pennies are going out of style.

To hold the inmates attention, there will be a special feature each day. On Monday, Warden Lardner and Baron Bible will do a fast jitterbug with those up-to-date, jive-lovin' hepcats, namely Miss Neubert and Miss Tatem.

On Tuesday, Miss Ellis will give a dramatic reading from Howdy Doody. We should feel honored to have such a great dramatist as Miss Ellis for a member of our faculty.

For Wednesday's added attraction, Miss Elmore will give free samples of banana splits to all inmates.

In talking to the teachers about this extended recreation period, I learned that it was done because things were so dull around school that they felt the place needed "livening up." Don't you agree?

So everyone grab your pogo sticks and hop on over to the gym and join in the fun!

by Red Tolberts

Mr. Buford A. Bible, East High's Baron of Basketball, has been notified that it is he who is to bear the Democratic Banner in the coming presidential campaign.

It was not widely known that Mr. Bible was even campaigning. His nomination however, came as no shock to his vast following.

When asked for an explanation of his almost unanimous selection, the Baron simply replied, "Well, it's about time somebody besides me realized how smart I really am. Why, I can do anything. You know, people in America know I can solve all of their problems. It was natural for the convention to select me; I can't be beat."

Later Bible said, "Ike is a good man, but he doesn't stand a chance. He just doesn't have the supporters that I have."

In addition to coaching basketball, Mr. Bible is also the world's greatest expert on love, friends, books, math,—you name it.

Mr. Bible pointed to the 3,000 volumes containing the names of all

RAGS IN REVUE

By Shabby Samilton

Mr. Browning looks real catty in a red and white candy striped zoot suit. With this he wears a yellow sport shirt and lavender suede shoes.

This latest fad at East is girls' levis. Patsy Newman looks precious in her levis worn with an orange shirt borrowed from Verlin Webb.

Camellia Kirby couldn't find a pair of levis big enough to fit her so she borrowed hers from George Draper.

LOST—One Camellia Kirby ! ! !

Miss Capps bought her own levis and borrowed a football jersey from Mr. Reasonover.

Since the boys don't like to wear dress pants to school, and because of the fact that they are now compelled to wear a suit or sport coat to all classes, they have decided unanimously that they are going to wear their coats with their gym shorts. This will make a big hit with all members of the faculty, since they too decided it would be suitable.

Drag Strip Included In Improvements

By Melen Hason

SCREECH ! ! ! BANG ! ! ! PLOP ! ! ! Out of this mangled mound of metal, crawls the victorious "Speedo" Neubert, now secure in her title as "Queen of the Drag Strip!" She has again proved her versatility as an all-around teacher. (Right now she's wrapped all-around a telephone pole).

Meanwhile, back at the starting line we see "Beep-Beep" Buford Bible still trying to start his 1916 model Essex, with a stripped down chassis, and almost defunct power brakes (He's worn the soles off ten pair of shoes already! MAN, that's real power!)

Work has already begun on East High's new Drag Strip in the East side parking lot. This new amusement (?) will be ready for next year's inmates. Perhaps some of our better drivers may even graduate to bigger things, like the races at Alcatraz! Who knows? . . .

the lovers he has counseled (always successfully) and said, "Those votes alone will make me the winner by a landslide. I can't possibly lose; why a man would be a fool to vote against me."

Mountaineer's To Play Yankees

by George Cradic

On April 10, the East High Mountaineers will play the Brooklyn Yankees in an exhibition baseball game at Municipal Stadium.

You will see such stars as Yogi Campanella, Pee Wee Mantle, and of course that pitching sensation of the Yankees "Blackie Chevrolet," or maybe his name is Whitey Ford.

So if you want to see a good game, come out and support your world championship team (the Mountaineers of course). It's a small world isn't it.

David Walls Drops Sam Horne In Tiddlywinks

by Pichie Gooper

David Walls has just gained the World Championship from Sam Horne in a grueling game of tiddlywinks before a packed stadium at Evans-Collins. 28,000 fans were on hand to see David Walls flick four straight red disks into the bowl for an overwhelming 40 points, to bring his total to 146 points, thus beating Horne's output of 145.

David has been practicing the famous shot with his long nose and perfected it just in time to overtake Sam in the nation-wide tiddlywinks tournament. Each had to win 5,000 games before he could get to the finals.

MARBLE COACH

East Forms Marble Team

BASEBALL

by George Cradic

Baseball is a game which is very hard to understand.

A team is composed of three players; a pitcher, batters, and fielders. Their job is to make the game last as long as possible.

The pitcher has to wait five minutes between pitches and the batter has to hit with a broomstick. The fielders wear white cotton gloves to match their stockings.

Space will not permit further explanation so if you're interested in the game come out to see the Mountaineers.

TRACK

By Reed Holler Kitts

After last year's successful season, which saw 16 members of East's Track Team go to the Olympics, our team is confident of a great season this year.

Among East's Olympics winners was Bruce Teasley, who took the 100 yd. walk in the time of 8.7635 seconds. (This was a little slow for Bruce, but he was greatly hampered by a sprained toenail.)

Frank Flynn won the 880 yd. crawl in 1:56.8. Tom King was 17th. His time was 3:58.9.

Max Young threw the 30 lb. shotput 87 ft., but this was not listed as a record because of technicalities.

Mossy Creek Coach Gives Up Basketball For Marbles -- by B. Popa Hall

"Baron" B. B. Bible has decided to give up his minor position of athletic director and head basketball coach for a more prominent and satisfying job as head coach of the East High Marble team. Mr. Bible's comment on the change of jobs was as follows, "Marbles is a great game; and if there is a cow in Texas, I will be in the State Marble Tournament."

I inquired around and found that the "Baron" at one time was king of the

"taw twisters." Some eighty-five years ago you could stroll along the banks of the great Mossy Creek and find little Buford taking all of his playmates' favorite taws—he would keep them too.

Mr. Bible says that if he can teach Richie Hooper some of his old tricks, Richie will be his best "aggie puncher." The only trouble with this is that Richie has a bad habit of fudging over the line.

Professor "Acey Boy" Wilson To Direct Choir and Teach English

by Firley Sord

East High choir members have thrown away all of their former music in preparation for their new choral director, Mr. Acey Boy.

Mr. Boy has informed the school that he will bring his own selections for the choir to perform. When interviewed, Mr. Boy said he preferred the music of Bach and Beethoven (Sam Bach and Clyde Beethoven) for his choral groups.

The students are really "flipped" over the concert program, which has already been made out. Among those numbers on the program are "That's You Mistake, Mary Lou; and Smokey Joe's Cafe. The latter is a well known East Tennessee ballad.

Mr. Boy will also teach the senior English classes? The literature for the class will include "Downbeat" and "Dig" magazines. Everyone will be expected to take a strict grammar test to pass the course. Conjugation of the verb shook (shook, shooked, all shook) will be on the test. Be prepared, seniors.

School Board Decides 'No Vacation'

by The Two Unknowns

At the last meeting of the School Board, which met February 31, 1913, a ruling, which is just now going into effect, was passed.

This ruling states, "Students attending Public Schools will be deprived of all vacations starting the summer of 1956."

The seniors graduating this year are very lucky because this ruling does not affect them. The juniors, however, will have to go until August 31 before they are seniors. The same rule holds for the sophomores and freshmen.

The only complaint of the students was "We wish it had happened years ago."

"Our Beans Are Real Chili"

by Red Tolberts

Spring is here,
 The girls has riz.
 If I don't run,
 I'll get the biz.

Although this poem is an accurate picture-pant-pant-of my-pant-situation-pant-pant—at present, wheeee—I shall pause to (rest) give you—pant-pant-pant—a brief explanation of this epic poem by Homer . . . Homer Drickabat . . . that is.

First, to you who do not possess my indefinable charm (I am a bachelor . . . an eligible bachelor) . . . (any bachelor is eligible these days) . . . biz refers to "the business" (there is but one "the Business" . . . you know, dum-de-dum) . . . (No . . . not Dragnet? . . . Can't you read music?)

Now, on with my tale of woe. You see this is . . . ugh . . . leap year, and boy! are the girls leaping. In fact, it's so bad that last week a desperate 30 year old (not only was she ugly but she was slow) jumped an old gorilla, hog-tied him, and was halfway through the ceremony before she realized that his inhuman screams were inhuman.

You see, this dame is after me. (This is putting it mildly— She has everyone from Mike Hammer to Scotland Yard on my trail.) Now as you know (if you're human) . . . (some monkeys read this paper) . . . no man wants to get caught by a girl (a woman, yes, but not a girl especially by a girls like this.

So you can see what I'm up against, I'll describe her for you. (Describe—ah—to describe this dame, I'd have to be a genius.) First, her face. (You get the face first, if you start at the top. Ah . . . her face. (I should say . . . ugh . . . her face.) Whenever she looks at me (which is always) I am reminded of a hungry cat ready to pounce on
